THE MODERN STUDENT'S LIBRARY

EACH VOLUME EDITED BY A LEADING AMERICAN AUTHORITY

WILL D. HOWE, General Editor

This series is composed of such works as are conspicuous in the province of literature for their enduring influence. Every volume is recognized as essential to a liberal education and will tend to infuse into the life of the student a love for true literature and an appreciation of the qualities which cause it to endure.

THE ESSAYS OF ADDISON AND STEELE

Selected and edited, with an introduction, by Professor WILL D. HOWE, Head of the Department of English at Indiana University.

19th CENTURY LETTERS

Selected and edited, with an introduction, by BYRON JOHNSON REES, Professor of English at Williams College.

18th CENTURY POEMS

Edited, with an introduction, by ERNEST BERNBAUM, Professor of English at University of Illinois.

Among the comments from high educational sources called out by the first three volumes are these:

"They will prove, I am sure, a most important group of books. For the price, the volumes are truly remarkable so far as format is concerned. The stout binding and dignified stamping, the paper and the type, and the neat size make an appeal to the hand and the eye. I consider the series the most attractive of those that have been offered recently to modern student purchasers. That the volumes are not overburdened with notes and tiresome critical essays is, to me, a chief merit of the series. I have read the three introductions, and they seem to me to say just enough and no more.

"The editor, Professor Howe, and you, the creators, are to be congratulated on this fine beginning."

"I may say that you are rendering a great service, not only to colleges but to readers generally, in publishing cheap editions of Hardy's 'Return of the Native' and Meredith's 'Ordeal of Richard Feverel.'"

"Permit me to thank you for the copy of Hardy's 'The Return of the Native' which you sent me. I shall have the students in my course in the novel use the book next year. There are one hundred and fifty in the course at present."

THE HIBBERT JOURNAL

A QUARTERLY REVIEW OF RELIGION, THEOLOGY AND PHILOSOPHY

THE HIBBERT JOURNAL was founded in 1902, the first number being published in October of that year. Since that time there have contributed to its pages some of the foremost religious, ethical, scientific and philosophical thinkers and scholars of the English-speaking world. The British editorial board includes such distinguished men as Professor L. P. Jacks, editor-in-chief, Sir Oliver Lodge, Sir Edward Russell, James Drummond, Professor J. H. Muirhead, Canon T. K. Cheyne, and Professor Henry Jones. The members of the American editorial board, among whom are Professor Josiah Royce, Rev. R. Heber Newton, D.D., Professor A. C. M'Giffert, Professor Wm. Adams Brown, and Professor B. W. Bacon, D.D., are a sufficient guaranty that through their co-operation THE HIBBERT will be thoroughly representative of the best American scholarship.

SUBSCRIPTIONS

The annual subscription is $2.50 net. Single numbers, 75 cents postpaid. The four yearly issues are dated October, January, April, and July. New volumes begin with the October issue, but subscriptions can commence with any back number desired. Make remittances payable to the order of Sherman, French & Company. A copy for examination will be sent on request.

Titles and indexes to back volumes will be sent to subscribers without charge upon application. A booklet giving the tables of contents of early issues sent to anyone for the asking.

COMMUNICATIONS

Editorial correspondence should be sent to the Editor, Professor L. P. JACKS, Strete, Shotover, Oxford, England. Books for review go to the Sub-Editor, G. DAWES HICKS, 9 Cranmer Road, Cambridge, England. Subscriptions, advertising, and other business matters should be addressed to Sherman, French & Company.

Travel, Description and Adventure

ALDRICH, MILDRED, (Author of "A Hilltop on the Marne")

On the Edge of the War Zone

From the Battle of the Marne to the Coming of the Stars and Stripes

12mo. Portrait frontispiece in photogravure and other illustrations. Cloth, bound uniformly with the same author's "A Hilltop on the Marne" and "Told in a French Garden." Net, $1.25

MISS ALDRICH'S new book is the long-awaited continuation of "A Hilltop on the Marne." Like that charming volume it is a collection of letters written to a friend in America; the first is dated September 16, 1914, the last April 8, 1917. She tells what has happened from the day when the Germans were turned back almost at her very door to the never-to-be-forgotten moment when the news reached France that the United States had entered the war.

She had gone out to her quaint old French country-house in June, 1914, expecting that she had found a quiet haven where she could dwell in peace, with her books and writing, near the Paris that she loves so well. In less than three months the "miracle of the Marne" occurred within sight of her quiet hilltop.

Since then her experiences have been varied and interesting and, as they have been the experiences of the French people, her new book is essentially a portrayal — and a wonderful one — of France under the stress of war. You get vivid glimpses of the daily life of the people and their reaction to the war, how this or that family is affected by the departure or the return of son or husband, and how it seems to live month after month within sound of the guns booming forty miles away.

No longer is there any novelty about books that tell of life in the trenches; books about armies, battles and campaigns are common. There is, perhaps, no other book, however, that distills for the reader the whole spirit of France during three years of war; in this respect, among war books, "On the Edge of the War Zone" is unique.

BALDENSPERGER, PHILIP J.

The Immovable East: Studies of the People and Customs of Palestine

8vo. Cloth. With 24 full page illustrations and a map. Net, $2.00

THIS book is a particularly valuable addition to Palestinian literature, because it treats especially the life of the people and shows conclusively that, on account of their changelessness, the best aid to study of the Bible is to be found in the habits, customs, and thought of the Fellahin and Bedawin as we find them to-day. Mr. Baldensperger has for many years been known as an authority on the anthropology and folklore of Palestine.

"An invaluable record of the customs and habits of thought of a people who reflect in their family relations, their religious observances, and even in the turn of the common phrase upon their lips, a social order which goes back to the dawn of history as we find it depicted in the sacred writings of the Jews. A book of singular charm, the charm of unadorned veracity and of a sympathetic understanding of the conditions of existence in the hamlets of Syria." — London Times.

BARTLETT, ROBERT A., and RALPH T. HALE

✠†* The Last Voyage of the Karluk

Special holiday edition. 8vo. Cloth. Illustrated from charts and photographs. Handsomely boxed. Net, $2.50

THE Karluk was the flagship of Vilhjalmar Stefansson's Canadian Arctic Expedition of 1913–16 and was under the command of Captain Robert A. Bartlett, already famous as the master of Peary's ship, the Roosevelt, and as having reached a higher latitude (88° N.) than any other white man who ever lived, excepting only Peary himself.

In "The Last Voyage of the Karluk" is told the story of the ship's wonderful drift, of her sinking, of the life of her company in "Shipwreck Camp" many hundreds of miles out on the ice of the Arctic Ocean north of Bering Strait, of their journey to Wrangell Island, of Captain Bartlett's crossing to Siberia and his seven-hundred-mile walk with his young Eskimo companion to bring help to his marooned comrades — a story which Theodore Roosevelt says "demands the serious consideration of all who are interested in adventure and scientific work in the Far North. It is a very striking and interesting series of adventures."

"Told with much detail and in an interesting way." — A. L. A. Booklist.

"Arctic exploration narrative, having the same absorbing interest as Nansen's, Peary's, and Amundsen's. — Wisconsin Library Bulletin.

"One of the finest stories of life in the Arctic regions ever published. It is a swift, modestly told tale of heroic adventures, as attractive for youngsters as for the grown-ups to whom it is addressed." — The Independent.

"A volume that every lover of Arctic adventure must read."— The Outlook.

"Full of anecdote and adventure, nor are humor and fun wanting, and the good courage of the born explorer glows everywhere through its pages." — Chicago Evening Post.

"A wonderful tale." — New York Times.

BY VARIED HANDS

The Ireland of To-Day

8vo. Cloth. With illustrations and a map. Net, $3.00

A REVISED reprint of the Special Irish Number of the London Times, presenting a comprehensive picture of the present condition of Ireland, without any reference to politics or subjects of immediate controversy. Most people will be surprised to discover how much Ireland contains besides politics! The main heads under which the subject is treated are, "The Country and the People," "Ireland in the Past," "Irish Art and Literature," "The State of Education," "The People and the Land," "Irish Products, Industries and Manufactures," "Railway and Water Communications" and "Sports and Pastimes."

CERVESATO, ARNALDO

The Roman Campagna

8vo. Cloth. With 407 illustrations. Net, $5.00

TO most visitors to Rome the name "Roman Campagna" suggests only the plain immediately around the city, but Signor Cervesato uses it in its wider sense to include the whole of the old "Latina Tellus" (the Latin Land), a territory which extends for more than 120 miles along the shore of the Mediterranean, with a superficial area of 1,245 square miles, and which includes the dry plain around Rome, the forest and marshland along the coast, and the surrounding hills, the first homes of the Latin tribes.

The book deals with the many aspects of the great fawn-colored plain, with the white consular roads that cross it, with its wild horses and buffaloes, its lakes, its villages, its churches, its cemeteries, and its historical associations.

"It will illuminate many a journey to Rome, will recall the past, and stimulate an intelligent knowledge of the present."—Saturday Review (London).

"The book is one to be read with keen interest, and one to which the reader will turn again and again after the first reading for the pleasure he found in its illustrations."— Living Age (Boston).

D'OLLONE, VICOMTE

In Forbidden China

8vo. Cloth. With illustrations and a map. Net, $2.00

AN account of the French Exploration of 1906-1909, conducted by the author, into China, Thibet and Mongolia, to study the unconquered peoples of the highlands and western and northern borders of China — a people reputed to be inaccessible and murderous — the recital of a journey among strange people, amid scenery of wild beauty.

"It is the most important contribution that has ever been made to our knowledge of the racial sources of the Chinese, and of the enclavement of primitive survivals." — Nation.

EATON, WALTER PRICHARD

Barn Doors and Byways

8vo. Cloth. With pictures and decorations by Walter King Stone. Boxed. Net, $3.00

TO find a companion for this book one must go to the shelf of the books that are best loved, that are treasured, read over and over, pressed upon one's friends.

It tells of "Barn Doors," "Roads," "Rivers," "The Landscape that Flows," "Bird Environments," "The Harbor," "Wild Life in New York," "Washington Square — A Meditation," "In Old South County," "The Dismal Swamp," "A Berkshire Winter," "Roadside Gardens," "Night."

"His descriptions are graphic word-pictures and his fluency of expression is fascinating. Memories, long sleeping, revive, and childhood experiences, ambitions and affections are alive again, while we read with ever-growing interest these nature essays of real charm." — Literary Digest.

FRAZAR, M. D.

Practical European Guide: Preparation, Cost, Routes and Sightseeing

16mo. Cloth. Net, $1.00

FOR the man or woman planning a European tour, this concise guide book contains more practieal suggestions than any other one book published.

"The most helpful aid to travel that we have seen." — New York Sun.

In two volumes: Vol. I, England and Wales. Vol. II, Ireland and Scotland

16mo. Cloth. Each volume sold separately. Per volume, net, $1.00

INFORMATION and prices for steamers, railways, boats, automobiles, carriages, baggage, hotels, shops, books for reading, sight-seeing, golf, fishing, routes and prices for long or short journeys and most valuable literary data. By the use of this book in preparation, travel may be entirely arranged at home, with known cost to within a few dollars.

"Years of professional service have enabled the author to set down for the tourist just what is essential to his knowledge in the varying details of preparation, cost, routes and sight-seeing." — Boston Transcript.

"These guides are packed full of information useful to the traveller, arranged in a more accessible and compact form than is the case with most guides." — Review of Reviews.

GIBBS, PHILIP AND BERNARD GRANT

The Balkan War: Adventures of War with Cross and Crescent

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated from photographs. Map. Net, $1.20

MR. GIBBS, besides being a novelist of importance, was special correspondent of the London Graphic with the Bulgarian Army; Mr. Grant was special correspondent of the London Daily Mirror with the Turkish Army. Their book, therefore, which was the first book on the Balkan War to be published on either side of the Atlantic, covers the so-called "War of the Five Nations," from the viewpoints of both victors and vanquished, to the armistice of December 3rd, 1912.

"He will be dull indeed, who does not keep the book before him until every word has been read." — Outlook.

HALE, ALBERT

Practical Guide to Latin America

Including Mexico, Central America, the West Indies and South America. Preparation, Cost, Routes and Sightseeing.

16mo. Cloth. New and revised edition. With a map. Net, $1.25

THIS is the only book systematically to collect in one volume all the facts of travel to and through all the Latin-American countries. It has become the standard book on the subject.

The author is a well-known traveller, who has been a Special Compiler for the Pan American Union and United States Commercial Attaché in the Embassy at Buenos Ayres. "As the Bureau of the American Republics," says the Bulletin of that Bureau, "feels a certain degree of responsibility in the matter it hopes that the public will uphold its verdict of praise for this 'Practical Guide.' "

"For a guide-book for the traveller," says the New York Evening Post, in its Reader's Guide department, in response to many inquiries, "Albert Hale's 'Practical Guide to Latin America' has taken its place as the standard work."

JAMES, LIONEL

With the Conquered Turk: The Story of a Latter-day Adventurer

8vo. Cloth. With maps and illustrations from photographs and drawings. Net, $2.50

MAJOR LIONEL JAMES, Special Correspondent of the London Times with the Turkish Army in the Balkan War, author of "On the Heels of de Wet," etc., tells of the adventures of the English war correspondents with the Turks, "a book," says the Nation, "rich in nicknames, personal banter and light philosophy."

KNOWLES, JOSEPH

Alone in the Wilderness

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated from drawings on birch bark, made by the author in the woods with burnt sticks from his fires, together with photographs taken before and after his experiences. Net, $1.25

IN the belief that nature will always provide for her own, the author, a Boston artist, undertook to test his theory by going into an uninhabited part of the Maine woods and living alone for two months the life of a primitive man. Reaching the edge of civilization, he stripped himself of clothing, and without gun, knife, or implements of any kind, he stepped into the wilds one August day, to battle for his existence, depending on the woods themselves to supply his every want. Two months later he came out on the Canadian border, warmly — but strangely — clad, and in a better physical condition than when he entered.

"'Alone in the Wilderness' makes remarkably interesting reading. The author appears to be an ardent lover of nature, and his experiment was to prove that nature is man's good friend that never betrays him. It certainly should teach one who gets lost in the woods how to get out and how to sustain himself until he does get out. The book describes an experiment that gives us much valuable knowledge." — Boston Transcript.

LAWTON, LANCELOT

The Empires of the Far East

8vo. Cloth. Boxed. Two volumes. Per set, net, $10.00

THIS is a study, by an English journalist and publicist, of Japan and her colonial possessions, of China and Manchuria, and of the political questions of Eastern Asia and the Pacific.

"More attention is given to Japan than to any other country because Japan is the only country in the Far East which is rated one of the world's powers, and because the Japanese are the dominating people in the Orient, directly concerned in every important policical, economical and social movement in their part of the world. . . . Next to Japan in the allotment of the author's space comes China. Of China's future he speaks with marked hopefulness; he says that, although it may be her lot to pass through tribulation, she is destined to emerge a strong and enlightened power, to take her place in the forefront of civilization." — New York Times.

"As a student of international relations, Mr. Lawton's ability is of the first order. Indeed there is hardly a topic discussed in the two volumes of which America can afford to be ignorant." — Literary Digest.

"Upon the whole this is a book about Japan, and as such it is of almost encyclopedic pretensions. In the fulness and freshness of its information we know of no other that can be compared with it. A book nearly indispensable for students." — New York Sun.

MATHEWS, JOHN L.

The Log of the "Easy Way"

8vo. Cloth. Illustrated from photographs by the author. Net, $1.50

THE chronicle of a honeymoon journey in a "shanty-boat" drifting down the Illinois and Mississippi to New Orleans. Besides being charming reading the book gives a first-hand picture of river life. It has been particularly popular with motor-boat enthusiasts.

PACKARD, WINTHROP

⑤ Florida Trails

8vo. Cloth. Illustrated. Boxed. Net, $3.00

"ATTRACTIVE nature sketches made from Jacksonville to Key West during a winter in Florida. Forty-one attractive half-tone plates." — New York State Library — Best Books.

"To those who are going South, or wish to know something of the natural beauties of this semi-tropical State, Mr. Packard's book is to be recommended." — Nation.

✠ Literary Pilgrimages of a Naturalist

8vo. Cloth. Illustrated. Net, $2.00

ESSAYS, from a naturalist's standpoint, descriptive of the surroundings or haunts of Whittier, Emerson, Hawthorne, Celia Thaxter, Thoreau, Webster, Aldrich, and others.

"Entertainingly, even charmingly written, and prettily illustrated from photographs." — A. L. A. Booklist.

✠ The Year-with-Nature Series

Small 12mo. Cloth. With pen-and-ink illustrations by Charles Copeland. Sold separately. Per volume, net, 1.00

Woodland Paths (Spring)

Wild Pastures (Summer)

Wood Wanderings (Autumn)

Wildwood Ways (Winter)

"GRACEFUL essays by a genuine nature-lover," says the A. L. A. Booklist.

White Mountain Trails

8vo. Cloth. With 45 illustrations from photographs. Handsomely boxed. Net, $3.00

NEVER was enthusiasm for mountain lands so keen as it is to-day. "Seeing America First" has rewarded many a lover of our wonderful country with vistas of noble peaks and lovely valleys.

As a permanent reminder of your own visit to the White Mountains or as an appropriate gift to your enthusiastic friend who loves them, Mr. Packard's beautiful volume will be the natural selection. For, as the Outlook remarks, "it follows the mountains from Chocorua in the south up to the tip of Mount Washington in the north; each region is described from the viewpoint of a nature lover and a mountain lover. There are many photographs, and the publishers have given worthy physical form to a book which will delight a large number of readers."

SOANE, E. B.

To Mesopotamia and Kurdistan in Disguise

8vo. Cloth. With illustrations and a map. Net, $4.00

IN this book the author gives a most graphic and interesting account of a really remarkable journey from Beyrut via Diabekr, Mosul and Kurdistan to Bagdad. Taking the character of, and disguised as, a native of Shiraz returning home from travelling in Europe, Mr. Soane succeeded so well that nowhere was his disguise suspected or his real nationality discovered — a dangerous feat which many people who know Persia and Kurdistan have in the past believed to be impossible. In this, however, Mr. Soane, owing to his exceptional knowledge of local language and dialect, succeeded.

"The book is filled with entertaining anecdotes of the journey, stories that illuminate racial character, and throw light upon manners and customs. They throw light, too, upon the trail of the Turk over vassal lands and upon the sort of regard in which he is held by those vassals." — New York Times.

STODDARD, CHARLES WARREN

The Island of Tranquil Delights

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.25

A CLASSIC in American literature, stories of the South Seas, full of charming word-pictures and exquisite touches which tell of dream-life in fairyland, by the author of "South Sea Idylls."

"Beneath the spell of Mr. Stoddard's magic pen, one is transported to the sapphire seas of Tahiti, one sees the glow of its tropical sunsets, wanders beneath its dropping palms, mingles with its nude and laughing natives." — Chicago Herald.

TODD, MABEL LOOMIS

✠ Tripoli the Mysterious

8vo. Cloth. Profusely illustrated. Net, $2.00

THE book describes the disorder of the narrow, oriental streets, goes into the history of Barbary, with special reference to Tripoli's relations with the United States, gives animated pictures of the life of the Pasha, of the consulates, the markets, mosques, and the other resorts of the people, and among other things, describes several kinds of oriental weddings.

"A pleasant account of the author's acquaintance with Tripoli through various visits, imparting a great deal of the country's unique atmosphere." —A. L. A. Booklist.

WAVELL, A. J. B., F. R. G. S.

A Modern Pilgrim in Mecca and a Siege in Sanaa

8vo. Cloth. With map, portrait and other illustrations. Net, $3.00

THIS is the record of two journeys, one a pilgrimage to Mecca in 1908-9 when the author disguised himself as a faithful Mohammedan from Zanzibar, the second in 1911, when Mr. Wavell undertook what proved to be a still more difficult and dangerous feat — that of penetrating to the utterly unknown southwest corner of Arabia, called the Yemen, where he came upon a real war that is still going on between the Turks and Arabs, and about which the world knows nothing, though in 1911 alone the killed and wounded almost equalled those of the Boer War. In a remote city named Sanaa, then fiercely besieged by the Arabs, the author was virtually held prisoner for many months, until at last he made a desperate attempt to escape from the city, was recaptured, beaten, imprisoned and put on trial for his life by the Turkish authorities, finally escaping death by the favor of an enlightened official.

The author went to the front early in the Great War and was one of the first to fall.

"A successful pilgrimage to, and a safe return from, Mecca, combine to mark out the English visitor not only as a Hadji, but also as one worthy of being remembered together with certain other names not so numerous as to exhaust the fingers of one hand." — London Times.

"A story of some of the most daring personal exploits of our time and as full of information as of incidents." — Chicago Herald.

WHITMAN, WALT

Diary in Canada

Edited with an Introductory Note by WILLIAM SLOANE KENNEDY
8vo. Boards. Japan vellum back. Net, $2.50

THE diary was written in a chunky, homemade note-book, which Whitman carried in his pocket during his memorable trip over Lake Erie and Lake Ontario, down the St. Lawrence and up the Saguenay, in the summer of 1886, referred to in only a couple of pages in "Specimen Days." It has the autobiographic charm of all of Whitman's lighter work, shows him as a tourist and by supplying a missing chapter in his experience, rounds out the story of his life.

WHITTEN, WILFRED

A Londoner's London

12mo. Cloth. 24 illustrations by Frank L. Emanuel. Net, $2.00

"THE London of these pages," says the author in his preface, written appropriately enough from The Cock Tavern, Fleet Street, "is not the measureless town of guide books: that London on which even Horace Walpole began a book, only to faint and fail when he had written a few sheets; that London, which, still earlier, had been called a county covered with houses, a description which has passed from metaphor to fact. The Londoner's true London is smaller. It is the sum of his own tracks in the maze, the town in which, by hap, he has most often eaten his bread and thought his thoughts."

"A volume which commends itself almost equally to those who know London, to those who are planning to visit it and to those who must know it only through books." — Living Age.

WRIGHT, H. C. SEPPINGS

Two Years under the Crescent

8vo. Cloth. Illustrated. Net, $3.00

THE book traces the whole course of the events of the Turko-Italian and the Balkan Wars.

Mr. Seppings Wright was with the Turkish forces in Tripoli as the correspondent of the Central News Agency and in the Balkan War as artist-correspondent for the Illustrated London News. He covered the Russo-Japanese War in a volume entitled "With Togo."

"He gives us the atmosphere of the Arab camp in a way which must stir the reader's interest in desert life and in those hardy desert warriors." — London Chronicle.

BAKER, C. H. COLLINS

Lely and the Stuart Portrait Painters: A Study of English Portraiture before and after Van Dyck

Two volumes. Large Crown 4to. With 240 illustrations, of which eight are in color and the others in collotype. Of the edition of 375 numbered copies (350 only for sale), printed on special rag paper, for the Medici Society, of London, 50 are reserved for the United States. Half-levant. Per set, net, $60.00

THOUGH many notable painters worked in England during the two centuries which separate Holbein from Hogarth, history had passed them by. Van Dyck, it is true, had been thoroughly studied, and the miniaturists somewhat less thoroughly; but our critical knowledge of the rest of this long and important sequence of artists had made but little advance since the days of Horace Walpole.

Starting with the first years of the seventeenth century, this work traces the course of painting in England through the whole of the Stuart period and ends only with the reign of George II. With the single exception of Van Dyck, intentionally omitted as already studied, every notable portrait painter of this long epoch is carefully studied, beginning with Marc Gheraedts and Paul von Somer and ending with Sir Godfrey Kneller and Michael Dahl, a period, roughly, from 1603 to 1723. Chronological lists of authentic works are given in each case, and the appendices contain all that is known of numerous painters hitherto unrecognized.

More than a hundred collections, including the finest private galleries of England, have, by the courtesy of their owners, been made available for study.

CESARE, O. E.

✠One Hundred Cartoons by Cesare

4to. Boards. Net, $3.00

EDITION DE LUXE, limited to 105 copies, printed on Japan Vellum, numbered, and signed by the artist. Net, $7.50

BRILLIANT and powerful interpretations of our times by the artist whose change from the New York Sun to the New York Evening Post gave the latter newspaper opportunity to congratulate itself on its good fortune, when for the first time in its history it decided to add a cartoonist to its regular staff, in being able to announce that it had obtained the services of the ablest cartoonist in America, a cartoonist whose work measured up to the highest standards of technique.

Whether dealing with politics or war, social subjects, humorous situations, portraits, Cesare is always an artist; he is known as such throughout this country, while his work is reprinted in European periodicals more often than that of any other American cartoonist.

His drawings have been characterized as expressing "the point of view that seeks not merely pleasantness or decorativeness or the suggestion of a sympathetic anecdote, but rather the sincere representation of life as seen by men of character, humor and insight."

His work satisfies to the utmost the definition of the difference — so often not clearly understood — between the cartoon and the caricature: the caricature merely makes you laugh, the cartoon makes you think.

The majority of the drawings in the present volume were suggested by the Great War. The preservation in permanent form of such cartoons, for instance, as that on the sinking of the Lusitania — the most famous American pictorial expression of that great tragedy — or that on the death of Lord Kitchener or those on Mr. Wilson's first Secretary of State, to mention only a few, will be appreciated by the thousands of Cesare enthusiasts.

"Every American interested in the art of the cartoon cannot but find this collection of more than temporary interest. Aside from a splendid technique, Cesare is possessed of a poetic fervor, imagination and a keen feeling for beauty. Many of these are drawings of a very noble order, qualified by a sentiment that is not mawkish. Because of his power as much as his fine restraint, Cesare may be said to be an aristocrat among American cartoonists." — Dial.

"This book is one of the rare ones of drawings by artists published in America and it is of drawings by a rare artist among Americans. The one hundred drawings in the book are reproduced exceptionally well." — Arts and Decoration.

CRAM, RALPH ADAMS

⑧ Church Building: A Study of the Principles of Architecture in their Relation to the Church

New enlarged edition. 8vo. Cloth. Profusely illustrated.

Net, $3.00

A STANDARD volume, by one of the leading American architects — the head of the department of architecture in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology — showing the application of the principles of art to every phase of ecclesiastical architecture. Successive chapters treat of the country chapel, the village church, the city church, and the cathedral, with further chapters on the church and its fittings, chapels, baptisteries and sacristies, decorations, stained glass, the altar and the artist crafts. Examples of good and of bad church building are shown, including numerous Old World churches and many of later American design.

FFOULKES, CHARLES

The Armourer and His Craft

Large 4to. Buckram. Gilt top. With 69 diagrams in the text and 32 full page illustrations. Net, $15.00

THIS comprehensive and richly illustrated work is the first to deal with the making of armour and the methods of the makers, as distinguished from books on the history of armour. The armour with which the author is concerned is that of the world at large, though English armourers receive special attention. As a result of the publication of the book, the author has been appointed keeper of the armour in the Tower of London.

"A curiously interesting book dealing exhaustively with the making and the use of armour, supplemented with a glossary of words, a list of armourers, and with what is not the least interesting section of it, a series of short biographies of notable armourers." — The Bookman (London).

FLITCH, J. E. CRAWFORD

The National Gallery

Small 12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Net, 75 cents

A HANDY volume condensing into a pocket-sized book information in regard to exactly what the student and traveller should know and see in The National Gallery in London. Its arrangement follows that of the Museum itself, taking the pictures up in the order of National Schools.

The list of chapters: I. The Formation of the Collection; II. The Central Italian Schools; III. The North Italian Schools; IV. The Dutch School; V. The Flemish and German Schools; VI. The Spanish School; VII. The French School; VIII. The British School; Index.

"A modern and reasonable tone prevails throughout the book. The reader will become richer in knowledge of the world's art." — Chicago Herald.

HALE, PHILIP L.

Jan Vermeer of Delft

4to. With reproductions in color, in photogravure and in half tone of all of Vermeer's known works, together with examples of the work of some of his contemporaries. Boxed. Library buckram. Net, $10.00
Half-levant. Net, $20.00

THIS is the first book in the English language treating of Jan Vermeer of Delft and his exquisite art. Mr. Hale, who is a son of the late Dr. Edward Everett Hale, is himself an artist with a high place among American painters, and he brings to his task a lifetime's devotion to the study of Vermeer and his work.

Vermeer, who was born in Delft in 1632 and died there in 1675, is held by artists generally as not only the greatest Dutch painter but also as the most accomplished painter of all time. Highly esteemed in his own day, he was somehow forgotten after his death and his pictures were attributed to Vermeer of Haarlem, to Vermeer of Utrecht, to Pieter de Hooch and others, so that it was not until a time comparatively recent that through the instrumentality of the French connoisseur Thoré his real identity was discovered. Since that time he has come into his own. Altogether some thirty-seven pictures are now with certainty assigned to Vermeer of Delft, of which eight are in the United States, all but one in private hands.

"A solid and satisfying work, solid, because of its discriminative and exhaustive inquiry regarding the technical aspects of the great Dutch painter's art; satisfactory, because of its literary excellence and sympathetic interpretatations. It is a book to be placed on the same shelf with Sir Joshua Reynolds's 'Discourses,' Fromentin's 'Holland Painters,' and the 'Velasquez' of R. A. M. Stevenson. The definitive study."— JAMES HUNEKER, in the New York Sun.

"The most elaborate stylistic analysis ever applied to any artist." — Nation.

RICHARDS, E. E.

Small 12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Net, 75 cents

A SMALL volume for the pocket, to outline for the student and prospective traveller exactly what he ought to see in the Louvre. It gives a history of the palace itself and a brief discussion of its contents.

The list of chapters: I. The Palace of the Louvre; II. The Museum of the Louvre; III. The Paintings; IV. The Greek and Roman Sculptures; V. Mediaeval, Rennaissance and Modern Sculpture; VI. The Egyptian and Asiatic Antiquities; VII. The Antique Paintings, Potteries, Bronzes and Ornaments; VIII. The Ivories, Enamels, Furniture and Faience; IX. The Musée de Marine, the Musée Chinoise, the Collection Grandidier, and the Chalcographie.

"A guide far excelling in interest and literary quality those ordinarily on sale." — Scotsman.

ment, thought and mystery in art. A notable and unique work. Of the 106 beautiful illustrations in half-tone and photogravure, sixty-seven reproduce Rodin's work." — A. L. A. Booklist.

"In this book, which I am pretending to review, M. Gsell appears as Rodin's Boswell and reports very intelligently a number of remarkable practical observations made by Rodin. They are practical even when they deal with the most mystical recesses of art. For Rodin, like all great workmen who can express themselves in words, is very straight and simple, and disposed to be useful to those who listen to them, and not to waste their time. He knows what is important and what is not and what can be taught and what cannot." — GEORGE BERNARD SHAW in the New York Times.

"An excellent translation. It is one of the rare books on art which set forth the ideas of a great mind, and therefore add to the store of the world's literature on this subject a contribution of permanent value." — Boston Transcript.

"It is well worth having since its enjoyment will not be limited to only those knowing art."—Wisconsin Library Bulletin.

RUTTER, FRANK

The Wallace Collection

Small 12mo. Cloth. Net, 75 cents

A HANDBOOK which aims at presenting in a popular form the results of the most recent researches into the history of some of the principal art treasures in the Wallace Collection, researches which have made possible the identification of many purchases and the correction of certain attributions.

The author is the Curator of the Leeds City Art Gallery, "and his book," says the Bookman (London), "is likely to become the most popular of all guides to the glorious palace of art in the West of London. It is an introduction to the great arts of beauty, written out of an experience of a lifetime. It gives its readers new points of view in the appreciation of the masters of art. It is, in short, an education in art, as well as a guide-book, possessing a literary value of its own, independent of the wealth of information it imparts."

The list of chapters: I. Introductory; II. The Formation of the Collection; III. The Italian Schools of Painting; IV. The Master-Painters of the Seventeenth Century; V. Dutch Genre Paintings and Landscapes; VI. Eighteenth-Century Paintings in France and England; VII. Modern French Paintings; VIII. Bronzes and Sculpture; IX. French Furniture; X. Porcelain; XI. The Armoury; Index.

Leonardo da Vinci: The Florentine Years of Leonardo and Verrocchio

Large 4to. With 277 illustrations, many of them in tint.
Library buckram. Net, $12.00

IT was not until recently that the manuscripts of Leonardo da Vinci became an object of research and study. One reason for this was the difficulty they presented through being written from right to left. The glimpses that the investigator obtained, brief as they were, showed the great artist as one of the most richly endowed human beings that ever lived. Slowly the mass of ascriptions has been reduced, and picture after picture attributed to the master has been proved to be spurious. In the Uffizi Gallery, for instance, of 42 drawings bearing Leonardo's name Dr. Thiis finds only seven genuine. Forgers, copyists, pupils, imitators — all have contributed to swell the stream of Leonardo's reputed pictures. Dr. Thiis has devoted many years to the study of the work of the artist, his master, Verrocchio, and his contemporaries, with the result that he writes of the Florentine Period with the authority of thorough knowledge. He has enriched his text with nearly 300 illustrations, a large number of them being in double tints so as more nearly to resemble the originals.

"Dr. Thiis's great work has many claims on the student and amateur. . . . It is inexhaustibly suggestive and instructive." — New York Evening Post.

"It is not too much to speak of it as a definitive book upon its subject for it is difficult to see in what way it could be improved upon." — Town and Country.

"A deeply interesting monograph. The reproductions, especially of the numerous drawings, are irreproachable." — International Studio.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

ARCHER, WILLIAM

✠Play-Making: A Manual of Craftsmanship

8vo. Cloth. Net, $2.00

"A BOOK of practical suggestion for the student of play-writing," says the A. L. A. Booklist, "the work of perhaps the ablest English dramatic critic. The principles underlying play construction are fully discussed and illustrated for the most part from plays now to be seen, from Shakespeare and Ibsen to Clyde Fitch and Brieux. Considered by several American students of the drama the best work dealing with the modern stage."

"I make bold to say," says Brander Matthews, Professor of Dramatic Literature in Columbia University, "that Mr. Archer's is the best book that has yet been written in our language, or in any other, on the art and science of play-making.

"He tells the ardent aspirant how to choose his themes; how to master the difficult art of exposition — that is, how to make his first act clear; how to arouse curiosity for what is to follow; how to hang up the interrogation mark of expectancy; how to combine, as he goes on, tension and suspension; how to preserve probability and to achieve logic of construction; how to attain climax and to avoid anti-climax; and how to bring his play to a close.

"Mr. Archer's book is an invaluable and an inspiring manual."

> "This book has long been desired, and there is no man in the world better equipped to write it. Students of the drama may derive from this treatise a sane reckoning of where the truth of dramatic art lies. Further, it is admirably what its title claims for it, and should be of genuine value to the playwright. Not often may we find a subject so well and comprehensively discussed." — Bookman.
> "It is, moreover, as suggestive to the play-goer as to the play-maker." —Boston Transcript.
> "Every minister who does not remember his homiletics should read this book. It would cheer him by seeing the difficulties of his profession reappearing on a stage instead of in a pulpit. How interest is to be aroused and held, how anti-climaxes are to be avoided or utilized, the part that chance and logic and suspense play in a play — these all are adequately dealt with, and will give the minister many a useful suggestion." — Record of Christian Work.

The list of chapters:

Book I: Prologue. I. Introductory; II. The Choice of a Theme; III. Dramatic and Undramatic; IV. The Routine of Composition; V. Dramatis Personae.

ARCHER, WILLIAM (Continued)

Book II: The Beginning. VI. The Point of Attack — Shakespeare and Ibsen; VII. Exposition: Its End and Its Means; VIII. The First Act; IX. "Curiosity" and "Interest;" X. Foreshadowing, not Forestalling.

Book III: The Middle. XI. Tension and its Suspension; XII. Preparation: The Finger Post; XIII. The Obligatory Scene; XIV. The Peripety; XV. Probability, Chance and Coincidence; XVI. Logic; XVII. Keeping a Secret.

Book IV: The End. XVIII. Climax and Anti-climax; XIX. Conversion; XX. Blind-Alley Themes and Others; XXI. The Full Close.

Book V: Epilogue. XXII. Character and Psychology; XXIII. Dialogue and Details.

FLETCHER, ALICE C.

Indian Story and Song from North America

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.25

THE standard work on the subject, containing the music and native words of thirty Indian songs, harmonized from the native melodies of a number of different tribes of North America, together with translations of the stories which are thus told in rhythm and melody. The principles underlying the Indian music, as far as they have been deduced, are also given, together with general observations on this hitherto neglected subject.

"A book which is certain to open many minds to the beauties of the aboriginal nature, beclouded by much prejudice and ignorance." — Washington Star.

Detailed descriptions of the Beacon Biographies Series arranged by authors

BRADY, CYRUS TOWNSEND

⑨ Stephen Decatur

24mo. Cloth. With a photogravure frontispiece from a portrait by Sully. Net. 60 cents

STEPHEN DECATUR was the most conspicuous figure in the naval history of the United States for the hundred years between Paul Jones and Farragut. Unlike most of the early naval captains, whose fame rests on a single battle, Decatur was a hero in at least three of our early wars. He represented, too, those qualities which we consider peculiarly American. The present biography not only gives a view of the man as he appeared to his contemporaries, but also exhibits, in some measure, the national life and habit of thought and action during the time in which he lived.

BARNES, JAMES

⑨ David G. Farragut

24mo. Cloth. With a photogravure frontispiece from a photograph taken in 1865, by Bogardus, New York. Net, 60 cents

"THE book must take its place as the best short sketch of Farragut's life yet written. Indeed, the historian of the future will have a difficult matter before him if he expects to improve on this commendable piece of work." — National Gazette.

BURROUGHS, JOHN

④⑥ John James Audubon

24mo. Cloth. With a photogravure frontispiece from a painting by George P. A. Healy, London, 1838, owned by the Boston Society of Natural History. Net, 60 cents

A VOLUME which possesses double charm in its subject and in its author. No more picturesque life can be found among the pioneers of America than that of the great ornithologist. A brief sketch of his life has long been desired. And it would be difficult to find an author better fitted to inspire interest, or to give a more appreciative estimate of Audubon's contribution to science and to America. It is widely used for schools; for example, it has been recommended for purchase for all school libraries by the Rural School Education Extension department of the New York State College of Agriculture at Cornell University.

BURTON, RICHARD

⑦ John Greenleaf Whittier

24mo. Cloth. With a photogravure frontispiece after a crayon portrait by Charles A. Barry. Net, 60 cents

THE aim of the biographer has been to tell straightforwardly the quiet but attractive story of Whittier's life. He has sought to give its salient events in such a manner that the essential characteristics of the man might be brought out, and his qualities as an author thereby explained. Such estimates of Whittier's poetry have been given as shall make plain his development of character, and explain his position in American literature.

CARPENTER, GEORGE RICE

Henry W. Longfellow

24mo. Cloth. With a photogravure frontispiece from an engraving, by J. A. J. Wilcox, of a crayon portrait by Lawrence in 1854. Net, 60 cents

THE previous narratives of Longfellow's life have been written by his immediate contemporaries, who have told us of the poet as they knew him in the fifties and sixties. The aim of this volume, by the late professor of English in Columbia University, has been to judge the poet and his career from the viewpoint of the later time which judges his poems as they live after him.

CHAMBERLIN, JOSEPH EDGAR

John Brown

24mo. Cloth. With a photogravure frontispiece from a photograph of a daguerreotype which is supposed to have been taken in Kansas in 1856. Net, 60 cents

"IF the young American were to be given one book and one only by which to form a faithful idea of John Brown, this is by all odds the one which ought to be read. He tells the story simply, vividly, with a sympathy sincere and unmistakable, yet not obtrusive. The volume in its brief compass is a wonderfully perfect example of the art of the biographer." — Boston Journal.

"A model of brief biography, at once straightforward and picturesque." — The Critic.

CHESNUTT, CHARLES W.

Frederick Douglass

24mo. Cloth. With a photogravure frontispiece from a photograph by J. H. Kent, Rochester, New York, one of the last taken of Mr. Douglass. Net, 60 cents THOROUGHLY in sympathy with every step of Douglass's upward career, Mr. Chesnutt presents the main episodes of his life with a great deal of warmth and ardor and perfect understanding. The story of his wonderful career could not be better told in this brief way than by Mr. Chesnutt, whose racial sympathies help him to see and feel most deeply the inmost thoughts of the great colored orator." — Boston Herald.

"Mr. Chesnutt probably has come nearer to the real man than any one who has described him." — Literary News.

CLYMER, W. B. SHUBRICK

James Fenimore Cooper

24mo. Cloth. With a photogravure frontispiece after an engraving of a daguerreotype taken by Brady in 1850. Net, 60 cents

A SINCERE and admirable life of the earliest American novelist still popularly read to-day — for Charles Brockden Brown is, of course, a name that means little to twentieth century readers — and an intensely interesting life was Cooper's. His expulsion from Yale College in 1805, his adventures when a midshipman in the navy, his lasting contributions to the literature of the English language, and the many lawsuits for libel which he himself conducted so successfully against the newspapers are all events which influenced him as a man. He had great strength of character, and consequently made many enemies, who criticised him severely and unjustly. Irving, on reading "The Pathfinder," said of him, "They may say what they will of Cooper: the man who wrote this book is not only a great man, but a good man."

COPELAND, CHARLES TOWNSEND

Edwin Booth

24mo. Cloth. With a photogravure frontispiece from a copy of a photograph taken in 1890 by Mr. Ignatius Grossmann, Booth's son-in-law. Net, 60 cents

"THE reader's mind is kept in vital touch with the real formative influences that shaped the life and career of Edwin Booth. Inheritance, native traits, self-training, struggle with poverty, contact with coarse and brutal as well as with refined audiences, domestic bereavements, conflagration and bankruptcy, heroic struggle to pay off a mountain-load of debt, ever-deepening conceptions of dramatic art, the 'tediousness of final constant success,' — of all these nothing is overlooked, but all so condensed and interlocked as to lead up to and justify the final summary, 'He was a great actor, a good Christian, a brave and much tried man.' " — Boston Herald.

ELLIOTT, SARAH BARNWELL

Sam Houston

24mo. Cloth. With a photogravure frontispiece from a photograph by Rockwood. Net, 60 cents

THE life of Sam Houston is the history of Texas from 1832 up to the beginning of the Civil War, when he refused to follow the State into secession. "This volume is an excellent specimen of the short biography. Within the space of one hundred and fifty pages the author gives a clear idea of the achievements of one of the most meteoric of American leaders."— Buffalo Express.

FIELDS, MRS. JAMES T.

Nathaniel Hawthorne

24mo. Cloth. With a photogravure frontispiece from a photograph taken about 1862 by J. W. Black, Boston. Net, 60 cents

"AMONG the best of the biographies, Mrs. Fields has presented a miniature portrait of Hawthorne which is as striking a likeness as many on larger canvases." — Chicago Tribune.

FORD, WORTHINGTON C.

✠ George Washington

24mo. Cloth. With a photogravure frontispiece from a photograph of Houdon's bust of Washington. Net, 60 cents

THIS volume sets forth the leading events of Washington's life and their influence upon his career. His youth, his public service, the development of his strength under responsibility, his leadership as general and president, and his private life are all given concisely and interestingly.

"An excellent book for persons wishing a small, compact biography." — A. L. A. Booklist.

GOULD, ALICE BACHE

Louis Agassiz

24mo. Cloth. With a photogravure frontispiece from a photograph representing Agassiz in middle life, taken by A. Sonrel (exact date unknown). Net, 60 cents

A GRAPHIC account of the intensely interesting life and work of one of the foremost figures in American scientific history. The biography is full of characteristic touches and of deep human interest, for one is brought into close contact with the delightful personality of the man as well as into an adequate knowledge of his great scientific work.

HALE, EDWARD EVERETT, Jr.

James Russell Lowell

24mo. Cloth. With a photogravure frontispiece from a photograph taken during the summer of 1891 by Pach Brothers, Cambridge. Net, 60 cents

MR. HALE'S critical judgment is keen and sound, and is combined with a sympathetic knowledge of the personality of his subject which leads him to say in his preface that it has been his aim "to seize those characteristics and qualities which must endure, and which will make him a necessity to those who live after him." "It is doubtful if any one else could have so entertainingly combined impressions at first and second hand."—New York Times.

HAPGOOD, NORMAN

Daniel Webster

24mo. Cloth. With a photogravure frontispiece from a daguerreotype taken April 29, 1850, by Josiah J. Hawes, Boston. Net, 60 cents

MR. HAPGOOD writes vigorously and yet impartially, presenting the life of Webster as it is revealed in the light of time. He traces all the public and private influences and acts which went to the shaping of Webster's great career, and is likewise faithful in his chronicle of the subsequent events which brought disappointment and bitterness.

"A subtle interpretation of the development of his powers to a climax, and of the moral retrogression that dimmed his later achievements."—Life.

HOVEY, CARL

Stonewall Jackson

24mo. With a photogravure frontispiece from a photograph taken in February, 1862, by Routzan, of Winchester. Net, 60 cents

Edgar Allan Poe

24mo. Cloth. With a photogravure frontispiece from a photograph of a daguerreotype taken in Lowell, Massachusetts, in November, 1848. Net, 60 cents

IN addition to being a clear, brief life of Poe, distinguishing the known from the unknown, and attempting to explain the characteristics of an extraordinary temperament, this volume embodies valid conclusions from unpublished evidence relating to two years of Poe's life that have been in almost total obscurity.

MERWIN, HENRY CHILDS

Aaron Burr

24mo. Cloth. With a photogravure frontispiece from a photograph of the painting by Gilbert Stuart, in the possession of the New Jersey Historical Society. Net, 60 cents

A BIOGRAPHY which clearly sets forth the diverse elements in Burr's strange personality.

"This volume fully sustains the high reputation which the series of brief biographies to which it belongs has earned from the reading public." — Chicago Advance.

PLATT, ISAAC HULL

Walt Whitman

24mo. Cloth. With a photogravure frontispiece from a photograph taken by Sarony in 1879. Net, 60 cents

A BRIEF biography of the poet's life and a careful study of his work.

PERRY, THOMAS SERGEANT

John Fiske

24mo. Cloth. With a photogravure frontispiece from a photogravure copyrighted by Lea Brothers & Company for their work, "A History of All Nations," to which Mr. Fiske contributed. Net, 60 cents

AN intimate biography, by a lifelong friend, of an interesting and in many ways unique personality among American philosophers and historians, and the only life of him that has been published. His breadth of learning, absolute candor and independence of judgment, and fidelity to scientific facts are all shown to be essential factors "in the part he took in unfolding modern thought to his fellow-countrymen." The intellectual development and maturity of the man are admirably outlined.

SANBORN, FRANK B.

Ralph Waldo Emerson

24mo. Cloth. With a photogravure frontispiece from a sketch made by Rowse, the crayon artist, in 1858. Net, 60 cents

A BRIEF, succinct life of Emerson by one who knew him intimately.

SCHOULER, JAMES

Alexander Hamilton

24mo. Cloth. With a photogravure frontispiece from a Copley print, by Curtis and Cameron, of the painting by John Trumbull, in the possession of the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston. Net, 60 cents

"AN admirable book, full of spirit and enthusiasm, as all good biographies are, and also full of discriminating criticism, as but few good biographies are. No career of our Revolutionary epoch has the same brilliancy as Hamilton's. Born in a little island in the Caribbean Sea, this 'waif of greatness' was at nineteen a commander in the Revolutionary Army; at twenty-three the close friend of Washington; at thirty the chief author of the 'Federalist' essays; at thirty-two Secretary of the Treasury; and for the next five years, under Washington, the dominant personality in the political life in America." — The Outlook.

SEDGWICK, ELLERY

Thomas Paine

24mo. Cloth. With a photogravure frontispiece from a photograph of the portrait of Thomas Paine which hangs in Independence Hall. Net, 60 cents

"PAINE'S story is told in a thoroughly clear, taking, and succinct way. The style is crisp, laconic, and unfettered. There is no attempt to exalt or even to defend. The really significant things in Paine's life and acts, and their bearing upon and connection with events, are seen with good penetration." — Boston Transcript.

SEDGWICK, HENRY D., Jr.

Father Hecker

24mo. Cloth. With a photogravure frontispiece from a photograph loaned by Mrs. George V. Hecker of a painting by Father Hecker's niece, Mrs. J. Albert Locke. Net, 60 cents

"ALL too little is known of Father Hecker, the strange mystic and man of affairs, who so strongly influenced the great church of which he finally became a member. One of his works was the founding of the Paulist Fathers. No one can intelligently understand the great movements which are now going on in the Catholic Church without first understanding something about Father Hecker's work and the influence which, even after his death, his memory is inspiring." — Chicago Herald.

SWIFT, LINDSAY

✠Benjamin Franklin

24mo. Cloth. With a photogravure frontispiece from a small bronze medal in possession of the Boston Public Library. Net, 60 cents

THIS story of Benjamin Franklin, is, in the words of the author, "a series of impressions" of the career of the most wonderful American. It gives in brief space an enthusiastic account of his personality and his achievements, based on years of study of the man and his writings.

"This enthusiastic and very readable 'series of impressions' is an admirable brief summary of the main events of Franklin's life and epitome of his services." — A. L. A. Booklist.

"Although his little book is written in a simple style, he has managed to put into its straightforward sentences much of his own feeling." — New York Times.

TRENT, WILLIAM P.

Robert E. Lee

24mo. Cloth. With a photogravure frontispiece from a photograph by Homeier and Clark, Richmond, of a portrait by William G. Browne, now in the possession of the Westmoreland Club, Richmond. Net, 60 cents

"THE author has revealed with what we believe unprecedented success the charm, the beauty and the nobility, as well as the power, of General Lee's character and personality, and shown us that his claim to the title of having been one of the greatest Americans rests on the fact that he was one of our finest men." — Boston Herald.

TROWBRIDGE, JOHN

Samuel F. B. Morse

24mo. Cloth. With a photogravure frontispiece from an engraving, by W. G. Jackman, of a photograph by Brady, taken when Morse was forty-five years old. Net, 60 cents

BEGINNING as a very poor artist, Morse was forty years of age before he turned his attention to the study of electricity with his consequent invention of the telegraph. The difficulties which he overcame in securing the adoption of the telegraph make the story a true business romance which Professor Trowbridge has adequately brought out in his clear-cut biography.

WATSON, THOMAS E.

Thomas Jefferson

24mo. Cloth. With a photogravure frontispiece from an original crayon drawing made by St. Memin in 1805, now owned by John C. Bancroft, Esq., of Boston. Net, 60 cents

"FARMER, scientist, architect, inventor, scholar, lawyer, statesman, and philosopher, he is interesting from every point of view, — one of the few men whom the greed for gold never soiled; one of the few who, from first to last, worked for country and for fellow-man. I have had no space for his speculative opinions, for his political theories, for his daring suggestions in science, mechanical arts, education and state socialism. It has been my purpose to steer clear of the controversial and to follow the plain road of fact." — From the Author's Preface.

WHITLOCK, BRAND

Abraham Lincoln

④24mo. Cloth. With a photogravure frontispiece from a photograph made by S. M. Fassett of Chicago in 1859. Net, 60 cents

 Also published in a larger and illustrated edition, corrected and printed from new plates. 12mo. Cloth. 210 pages. Net, $1.00

"MR. WHITLOCK'S book," says Miss Ida M. Tarbell, "is far and away the best brief account of Lincoln that I have ever read. It is sufficiently comprehensive, and it is sympathetic and intelligent. He seems to me to have mastered his material very well and to have compressed an immense amount of the real feeling and flavor of Lincoln into comparatively few pages. I am constantly being asked for an interesting short life of Lincoln, and this is the first time that I have come across one that I take entire satisfaction in recommending."

WISTER, OWEN

Ulysses S. Grant

24mo. Cloth. With a photogravure frontispiece from a photograph taken in 1865 by H. F. Warren and now in the collection of the Bostonian Society in Boston. Net, 50 cents

"THIS is a most admirable biography," says Henry Cabot Lodge. "Within the space allotted to him, Mr. Wister has given a most striking picture of the man himself. It required much art to draw on such a limited canvas so vivid a portrait. All the essential features are there, thrown into high relief, and it will give to many who have not the time to read larger works an opportunity to comprehend the character and qualities of the great soldier of the Civil War."

"It seems to me the very best short biography which has ever been written of any prominent American," says Theodore Roosevelt. "A masterpiece of eloquent condensation, without the slightest sacrifice of historical perspective. It is noble in manner and noble in matter."

ATTERIDGE, A. HILLIARD

Famous Modern Battles

8vo. Cloth. With thirty battle plans by the author. Net, $2.00

ONE of the most popular works of history is Sir Edward S. Creasy's "The Fifteen Decisive Battles of the World," which still stands unrivaled in its field. In one respect, however, for the twentieth-century reader, Creasy's book is lacking: it ends with the Battle of Waterloo. In the century that intervened between that famous victory and the outbreak of the European War, many momentous battles were fought of more interest to the present-day generation than many of the decisive battles of antiquity described by Creasy.

Captain Atteridge's book admirably fills this great gap. The battles of which it treats are:

I. The Battle of the Alma, September 20, 1854; II. Solferino, June 24, 1859; III. Chancellorsville, May 1 and 2, 1863; IV. Gettysburg, July 1-3, 1863; V. Sadowa, July 3, 1866; VI. Rezonville and Gravelotte, August 16 and 18, 1870; VII. Sedan, September 1, 1870; VIII. The Great Assault on Plevna, September 11, 1877; IX. Tel-el-Kebir, September 13, 1882; X. Adowa, March 1, 1896; XI. The Battle before Santiago (El Caney and San Juan), July 1, 1898; XII. Omdurman, September 2, 1898; XIII. Paardeberg, February 18, 1900; XIV. Mukden, February 20-March 9, 1905; XV. Lule Burgas, October 29-31, 1912.

"A book that is worthy to be set beside Creasy." — Cincinnati Enquirer.

"A very thrilling account of fifteen modern battles, free both from over-coloring and from military technicalities which might bewilder a layman." Literary Digest.

BAILIE, WILLIAM

Josiah Warren

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Net, $1.00

PROBABLY few people realize that the founder and original teacher of Philosophical Anarchism belonged to the famous Warren family of Boston and was born in that city in 1798. His services in the cause of liberty were recognized by John Stuart Mill, who embodied many of Warren's teachings in his own writings. This is the first biography of Josiah Warren.

BANFIELD, FRANK

John Wesley

24mo. Cloth. Photogravure frontispiece. Net, 50 cents

"I HAVE said it was the best short life of Wesley I have ever read. I will go farther and say it is one of the best brief biographies of any man I have ever read — clear, concise, consistent and most competently written." — Review of Reviews.

BICKNELL, EDWARD

Territorial Acquisitions of the United States: An Historical Review

24mo. Boards. Net, 50 cents

A BOOK which gives in detail and without prejudice the story of the growth of the United States through its acquisitions of territory; a new and revised edition. The book has been adopted for the public schools in New York and elsewhere.

"A little volume crammed with exactly the information many interested in the political development of the country are searching through libraries for." — Western Christian Advocate.

DIXON, W. SCARTH

Hunting in the Olden Days

4to. Buckram. With 90 illustrations from original photographs and old prints and paintings. Net, $10.00

AN exhaustive and scholarly, and at the same time entertaining, work which gives, apart from its great sporting interest, a remarkable picture of English social life, with a unique collection of illustrations from private collections, including reproductions of many old and rare prints.

FULLER, LOÏE

Fifteen Years of a Dancer's Life. With an Introduction by Anatole France

8vo. Cloth. Profusely illustrated from photographs. Net, $2.50

A PICTURESQUE, anecdotal and entertaining narrative of the dramatic events in the life of the American girl who became one of the most famous dancers in the world. It shows the author in a charming light, not only as a serious artist but as the beloved and respected friend of the great artists and authors of France. For, in addition to being a great dancer, Miss Fuller possesses a fine personality and a keen mind.

As M. Anatole France says of her in the introduction which he has contributed to the volume:

"She is marvellously intelligent. But she has a still more marvellous soul. Rich in all natural gifts, she would have made a great scholar. I have heard her discourse most comprehensively of astronomy, chemistry and physiology. But that is of slight consequence. Above all she is an artist."

GRETTON, R. H.

A Modern History of the English People: Volume I, 1880–1898. Volume II, 1898–1910

8vo. Per set, two volumes, net, $6.00

A MAN of affairs is most keenly interested in the personalities and events of his own day. His first curiosity about the history of the past is in the form of questionings about what immediately led up to the present. What chain of events brought about this or that present-day political or social situation? When did this or that tendency in business begin? What has been the past career of this public man — how did he reach his present point of view?

The beginning of any historical reading, therefore, might well be the history of the generation and the times just past, without a knowledge of which it is obviously impossible for anyone to be a competent judge of the affairs, political, social, and commercial, of his own day.

Mr. Gretton has approached his subject from this standpoint. He has written a history peculiarly expressive of all that the word "modern" implies. The modern student of affairs no longer restricts his interests to the Court, politics, and society. He is interested as well in science, technology, commerce, music, the theatre, art. The modern newspaper and magazine reflect this variety of interests and provide for it; here for the first time a formal history also reflects it and provides for it.

"This is a brilliant book. There is not a dull page in it; the author lives over again these thirty years in a spirit of vivacity and with a freshness of touch and comment which carries the reader along; and there are pages which belong to literature." — London Times.

"It would be hard to find a more vivid picture of England than is given in these two moderate-sized volumes." — Living Age.

LEGGE, EDWARD

King Edward in His True Colors

8vo. Cloth. Illustrated from photographs. Net, $4.00

"EDWARD LEGGE'S survey of the life of Edward VII furnishes a very good and much needed antidote to the disparaging biography of the king written for the 'Dictionary of the National Biography' by Sir Sidney Lee." — New York Times.

More About King Edward

8vo. Cloth. Illustrated from photographs. Net, $4.00

"'MY son may reign, but my grandson never will!' With these words, said to have been uttered by the late King on his death-bed, Mr. Legge opens the first chapter of 'More About King Edward.' Considering the fact that Mr. Legge has already written a book about England's beloved sovereign, it seems marvellous that he should find so much material for a new volume, but this one will, in my opinion, have a wide appeal in our own country, where King Edward was highly esteemed for his good sense, his sportsmanlike qualities and his friendly attitude toward Americans." — JAMES L. FORD in the New York Herald.

"There is not a dull page in the book. It is full of touches which reveal the character of a king, witty, debonair and wise, whose equal in statesmanship and strength of character the author claims can only be found in the person of Queen Elizabeth." — Literary Digest.

McCARTHY, JUSTIN and MRS. CAMPBELL PRAED

Our Book of Memories

8vo. Cloth. With portraits and views. Net, $4.00

"THERE is hardly a page in Mr. Justin McCarthy's collected letters which is not vivid and tense with contemporary history. We have in this volume a record of both the political history and the secret springs of that history during the eighties and nineties of the past century. Of course much of the book is occupied with the events arising out of the Gladstone Home Rule Bills, and through it the figures of Gladstone, Parnell, Morley and many members of the Irish parties move. We have a feeling, in turning over page after page, of a final summing up of this particular history, for, as is well known, Mr. McCarthy was made leader of the Irish party in succession to Parnell. But the most delightful figure of all is that of Mr. McCarthy himself."—The Outlook.

"MILES" (pseudonym)

The Campaign of Gettysburg

8vo. Cloth. With 3 colored maps. Net, $2.00

A BOOK carefully written from original sources by an English army officer who preserves his identity under the pseudonym of "Miles." Critical students of the Civil War declare on all sides that this is one of the best presentations of the Gettysburg campaign ever published, if not the best, and its importance for the general reader who is looking for an impartial, accurate, and distinctly readable book on the subject can hardly be estimated too highly.

"This book is a model of what a military history should be — clear, precise and accurate in matters of detail." — Journal of the Royal United Service Institution.

MILLS, CHARLES E. and LOUIS A. HOLMAN

Scenes from the Life of Benjamin Franklin

4to. Boards. Illustrated. Net, $2.00

REPRODUCTIONS of the ten paintings by Charles E. Mills in the Franklin Union, Boston, with text, historical and explanatory, by Louis A. Holman. The paintings which form the subject of this volume constitute the frieze in the entrance hall of the Franklin Union, in Franklin's native town, Boston. They are of remarkable historical accuracy, the result of six years' careful research on the part of the painter, and Mr. Holman's descriptive and explanatory text is admirably informative.

Not a little interest is added to the book by the account of the way in which the Franklin Union came into being as the result of the growth of a fund of a thousand pounds, left to Boston by Benjamin Franklin one hundred years before.

MOORS, H. J.

With Stevenson in Samoa

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated from photographs, with a photogravure frontispiece. Net, $1.50

MR. MOORS, who is well known from Stevenson's frequent references to him in the "Vailima Letters," is an American merchant, who was the first man Stevenson met in Samoa. The Stevenson party stayed at his house, and afterwards it was Mr. Moors who had the most to do with the building of Vailima. In his book Mr. Moors gives many glimpses of Stevenson's life in Samoa.

PARKER, DAVID B.

✠A Chautauqua Boy in '61 and Afterward

Edited by TORRENCE PARKER

With an Introduction by ALBERT BUSHNELL HART

8vo. Cloth. Illustrated from rare photographs and documents. Net, $3.00

"AS superintendent of the mails and dispatch bearer of the Army of the Potomac, the author saw the men and methods of the war from an unusual angle. His reminiscences of this period and of his experiences as chief United States marshal for Virginia and as chief of the United States postal service inspectors (1876-83) are enlivened with many anecdotes of famous men and add valuable footnotes to political history."—A.L.A. Booklist.

RYAN, W. P.

✠The Pope's Green Island

8vo. Cloth. Net, $2.00

"A SPIRITED and remarkably candid discussion of economic, social, political and ecclesiastical conditions in Ireland, as encountered by the author, whose journalistic work has been denounced by the orthodox Irish clergy as tending to Modernism. It gives a coherent picture of the men and forces concerned in Ireland's regeneration, as well as a vivid idea of the activities of the Gaelic League and of the influence of Catholicism."—A. L. A. Booklist.

"A remarkable picture of the Ireland of to-day. Excellent reading from the first page to the last."—Spectator.

SINCLAIR, WILLIAM A.

The Aftermath of Slavery

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.50

A VALUABLE book on the negro in America since the Civil War.

VIZETELLY, ERNEST A.

Republican France: 1870–1912. Her Presidents, Statesmen, Policy, Vicissitudes and Social Life

8vo. Cloth. Illustrated from portraits, including a photogravure frontispiece. Net, $4.00

THE author of this history of forty-two years of the French Republic, although an Englishman, was a resident of France at the time the republic was proclaimed, and incidentally is the official translator of the works of Emile Zola. "I have tried," he says, to show the nation rising from the depths of disaster . . . to show the republican idea — limited, at first, to a portion of the population, — spreading gradually through the country, and developing into something far beyond what some of the most prominent founders of the regime would have thought either likely or advisable."

"The author is fair in statement, careful about his facts, not giving them as such when he is not sure, his diction is simple and he is in sympathy with his subject. So his book makes intensely interesting reading; and it is the best history of the Third Republic from its foundation to the present with which we are acquainted." — Boston Transcript.

"It has throughout the effect of a volume of memoirs. Its history is that of the camera, not the brush. The book runs on a pretty even keel between the Scylla of incompatibility of temperament — as between him who writes and them he writes of — and the Charybdis of a treacherously enthusiastic sympathy." — New York Sun.

WAUGH, ARTHUR

Robert Browning

24mo. Cloth. Photogravure frontispiece. Net, 50 cents

"A WONDERFUL piece of characterization — clear, distinct, and true. Mr. Waugh has written the best short life of the great poet." — Review of Reviews.

WHITMAN, WALT

The Wound Dresser

12mo. Cloth. With portraits of Whitman and his mother, and a facsimile of the manuscript. Net, $1.50

A SERIES of letters written by Walt Whitman to his mother from the hospitals in Washington during the War of the Rebellion.

"Surely no more vivid picture has ever been painted of the army hospital than we see in these letters. If you know a man who says that war is ever to be welcomed, ask him to read this book. War is hell, and here are the proofs." — Boston Journal.

WINDHAM, WILLIAM

Windham Papers, The

8vo. Cloth. Two volumes. With two portraits in photogravure and 32 other illustrations. Boxed. Net, $10.00

Being the Life and Correspondence of the Rt. Hon. William Windham (1750–1810), a member of Pitt's first cabinet and the ministry of "all the talents," including hitherto unpublished letters from George III, the Dukes of York and Gloucester, Pitt, Fox, Burke, Canning, Lords Minto, Castlereagh, Grenville, Nelson and Malone, Doctor Johnson, Cobbett, Doctor Burney, etc. With an introduction by the Rt. Hon. the EARL of ROSEBERY, K. G., K. T.

ALTHOUGH more than a hundred years have passed since his death, no biography has appeared of William Windham, whom Lord Rosebery describes as "the finest English gentleman of his own or perhaps any age." This is the more strange inasmuch as he has been the subject of more panegyrics than any other man of his time. Friends and foes alike honored and loved him, and both have eagerly sung his praises. He was the intimate of Johnson, Burke and Fox, and the political associate of Pitt, the Duke of Portland and Lord Grenville. He was a favorite with the king and the beloved of Malone. Jeffrey had a good word for him. Brougham could not speak too highly of him, and Fanny Burney exhausted her superlatives in describing him. Years later Macaulay summed up the general opinion of Windham's contemporaries and of succeeding generations by calling him "high-souled Windham."

"William Windham is one of the few English statesmen of the late eighteenth century whose life should appeal to American readers, for his first appearance as a public speaker was at a meeting called to raise a subscription toward the cost of the American War, a project which he stoutly opposed. His other claims on the notice of the general reader include the fact that he was at Eton with Fox, was the intimate friend and pupil of Burke, and had such close relations with Dr. Johnson that he was one of the few who watched by his bedside to the last." — Boston Transcript.

"'The Windham Papers' throw new light on the relations between England and France during the French Revolution." — American Historical Review.

BOOKS RELATING TO BUSINESS

ALLEN, MRS. IDA C. BAILEY

Mrs. Allen's Cook Book

Large 12mo. With memorandum pages for favorite recipes and envelope pockets for clippings. Illustrated. Completely indexed.

Net, $2.00

THE Westfield Pure Food Movement has had more than a million and a half dollars spent during the past two or three years to establish its standards of pure food. It has never had a cook book. This is it.

Professor Lewis B. Allyn, the chemist of the Westfield Pure Food Movement, in his Introduction to the volume, says:

"Mrs. Allen has expressed in popular terms a simple, workable outline of food combination, well adapted to the needs of the housewife. If her book is carefully followed, the dietary of the average family will be much improved, cost decreased and a general gain in health experienced."

Mrs. Allen is the editor of the "Housewives' Forum" Department in The Pictorial Review, and by her writings there, as well as in The Ladies' Home Journal, The Country Gentleman, The Delineator, Good Housekeeping, etc., and by her extensive tours under the auspices of the Westfield Pure Food Movement and on the Chautauqua circuit, she has become the most noted home economics expert in the United States.

"Mrs. Allen's Cook Book" emphasizes efficiency in cookery, and gives approved short-cut methods for making a great many dishes which most cook books represent as unnecessarily intricate. In this way economy is emphasized and the housewife is able to save time and money now wasted in experiments. As a preparation for the art of cookery, Mrs. Allen offers her reader simplified information on the every day chemistry of foods, a subject which, ordinarily appearing technical and difficult, is made fascinating by her treatment of it.

Besides many hundred tested recipes, the book contains chapters on how to plan seasonable meals, the feeding of children, casserole and fireless cooking, the equipment and arrangement of the kitchen, correct service for home and company meals, etc. Each chapter is prefaced by a little talk on the subject to be treated, bringing out the "short-cut" and economical way of preparation.

In every case the suitability of certain foods for various meals is made clear. The recipes are given in the simplest possible way and the duration of cooking is noted as well as the oven temperature.

The author shows how to use foods to get the full value from them. As the saying is, "Any one can save money, but it takes a wise man—or woman—to spend money economically." The use of "Mrs. Allen's Cook Book" will insure getting your money's worth.

AUDSLEY, GEORGE A. and BERTHOLD AUDSLEY

✠Amateur Joinery in the Home

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated with twenty-two full page plates. Net, $1.00

WITH this little handbook, the amateur cabinet-maker will find it a comparatively simple matter to mortise, mitre, halve, groove and dovetail the various parts of a bookcase, Dutch plate-rack, work-table, plant-stand, music-roll cabinet, hall table, settee, arm-chair, baby's chair, library table, medicine cabinet, tea-table, dress-tree and smoker's chair, which he undertakes to make himself.

"Great contribution to the art of making artistic artisans." — Journal of Education.

Artistic and Decorative Stencilling

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated with twenty-seven full page plates. Net, $1.00

A DESIRE to restore the ancient and beautiful art of stencilling to its proper place in the decorative arts led the authors of "Artistic and Decorative Stencilling" to write this concise manual. One of the most interesting features of the book is the generous tribute paidby the authors to Japanese artists, the world's greatest masters of stencilling.

"Whoever inspires an artisan to become an artist and trains him to create the ideal from the real is scarcely less serviceable to his fellow men than he who makes the mechanical artistic, as has been done by the Audsleys in making stencilling artistic and decorative." — Journal of Education.

The Art of Polychromatic and Decorative Turning

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated with twenty-two full page plates. Net, $1.00

A FASCINATING book, dealing with what is a practically new and certainly the most beautiful branch of the wood-turner's art.

"Very beautiful and highly decorative work, such as is illustrated in our plates," the authors write, "can be readily executed on the simplest lathe used for wood-turning, supplemented by a few keen-cutting brace-bits."

Lecturer on Foreign Trade in New York University; Foreign and Export Editor, Leslie's Weekly

Selling Latin America: A Problem in International Salesmanship — What to Sell and How to Sell It.

12mo. Cloth. With 4 maps and 19 illustrations. Net, $2.00

MR. AUGHINBAUGH has lived and sold goods for eighteen years in the countries of Latin America. He knows these countries as a man knows his own town. He knows the people, their habits, their characteristics, and their commercial practices. He knows what they will buy, what they will not buy; how to sell to them, how to finance the transaction, how to ship, bill, and collect. He tells in "Selling Latin America," country by country, all the essential and fundamental things without a knowledge of which successful trading in the countries to the south of us is impracticable and impossible—methods of doing business, the salesman and the customer, custom-houses and tariffs, trade-marks, finance and credits, packing and shipping, advertising, reciprocity, health precautions.

"Selling Latin America," is in the Selected List of 200 Books on Advertising, Merchandising and Selling, distributed by the Library Division, Educational Committee, Advertising Club of New York.

"The very fact that it is by W. E. Aughinbaugh should be a sufficient reason for its being authoritative and dependable, for he certainly has had an unusual experience in studying the business conditions of those countries." — JOHN BARRETT, Director General, Pan American Union, Washington.

"A very useful book, full of just the information about South and Central American countries that I want and that everyone seeking Latin American trade should regard as indispensable." — E. F. SWEET, Assistant Secretary of Commerce, Washington.

"I have purchased and read 'SELLING LATIN AMERICA.' I want to take this opportunity of expressing my appreciation of that piece of work. It is the most understandable presentation of the much mixed subject of Latin American trade that I have read." — DONALD FROTHINGHAM, Manager Foreign Trade Department, American Express Company, New York.

"I have read 'SELLING LATIN AMERICA' with very great interest and advantage. It is a clear and lucid presentation of conditions, manifestly made by a very close observer and student of the same, who had come closely in contact with the matters described. It is a very valuable contribution to the literature upon that subject, presented at a very opportune time." — A. BARTON HEPBURN, Chairman of the Board, The Chase National Bank, New York.

BOOS, WILLIAM F., M. D.

At the Fountain-head: Five Stories on the Origin of Life, for Parents and Teachers

Small 12mo. Boards. Net, 60 cents

THE author is a leading Boston physician who has made a special study of sex hygiene, and he has prepared the stories in response to a genuine demand for adequate yet delicate methods of explaining to children the facts of life.

BOOS, WILLIAM F., M. D. (Continued)

The stories not only answer the questions of the inquiring child satisfactorily and completely, but also establish in the child's mind that confidence which comes from understanding — an indispensable quality in the basis of the child's mental and moral development.

In a foreword the author gives suggestions regarding the use of the stories.

President Emeritus Charles W. Eliot of Harvard University, Honorary President of the American Federation for Sex Hygiene, says: "'At the Fountain-head' will be useful to parents and teachers who have decided to give information on sex hygiene to the children in their charge. The interest in its subject is keen and widespread among thoughtful people."

✠† Modern Swimming. An Illustrated Manual

12mo. Cloth. With 40 illustrations by A. A. Jansson. Net, $1.00

THE author by a new and simple method teaches the novice explicitly how to swim and his chapters on all the new strokes appeal to expert swimmers as well. There are also chapters on rescue, resuscitation, and common sense advice to patrons of summer resorts.

"A practical manual by an experienced and successful instructor in swimming." — Review of Reviews.

"Few of the new branches in high school and college have been so suddenly accepted and so surprisingly popular as swimming. In some colleges and universities no student physically sound can graduate who cannot swim, and it is wellnigh universally accepted that every child above the age of five, as well as every adult, should be as much at home in the water as on land." — Journal of Education.

"Good manual, giving directions for floating in various positions, for acquiring the different strokes, for diving, and for resuscitating, and an excellent list of 'don'ts.' Helpful illustrations." — Wisconsin Library Bulletin.

CRAM, WILLIAM EVERETT

⑥⑩ Little Beasts of Field and Wood

12mo. Cloth. With 24 illustrations by the author. Net, $1.00

"A RECORD of the author's personal observations of the life of small wild creatures. He goes minutely into their habits, their food, their manner of obtaining it, their houses, and the like. He tells a thousand interesting things about these little beasts, which the casual observer does not see or know, and which makes them of much greater interest. There could be hardly anything better calculated to train a child's power of observation, and to inspire him with a healthy and intelligent interest in natural life." — The Advance.

Adopted, with its companion volume, as supplementary reading in many states.

CRAM, WILLIAM EVERETT (Continued)

✠ More Little Beasts of Field and Wood

12mo. Cloth. With 30 illustrations by the author. Net, $1.00

"A CHARMINGLY instructive book for children. It is the history of the small wild animals of the fields and woods, the wildcats, woodchucks, squirrels, chipmunks, moles, bats, raccoons and many others. It is entertainingly written and the pictures add a great deal to the value of the book. It will give to children a fuller knowledge of the wonderful little beasts, so many of which live near at hand, and it will give them a more sympathetic understanding and a higher sense of their duty toward all small creatures." — Boston Herald.

"Mr. Cram offers much delightful information on the ways of the woodland folk, and he tells it in a way which makes the boy want to go out and find out for himself." — Journal of Education.

"Graphic and interesting sketches of the characteristics and habits of wild animals." — A. L. A. Booklist.

DALCROZE, EMILE JAQUES-

The Eurhythmics of Emile Jaques-Dalcroze

With an introductory chapter by Professor M. E. Sadler, C. B., LL.D. (Columbia), Vice Chancellor of the University of Leeds

8vo. Cloth. Illustrated from photographs. Net, $1.00

THE main features of Eurhythmics, the system devised by Monsieur Jaques-Dalcroze which has so captured the attention of educators, are two. Its primary object is to create by the help of rhythm a rapid and regular current of communication between brain and body; by developing the pupil's attention and will power and by eliminating all but the most essential muscular movements, so that an automatic technique, as it were, is created, the whole physical system is to be firmly, swiftly and almost unconsciously controlled by the brain in response to the dictates of musical rhythm. The second stage consists of interpreting musical rhythms and eventually complete compositions by a language of gesture and bodily movement, ordinary music being in this way given plastic expression.

"All who are interested in education should read this book. To teachers of music in particular, it will prove of real value. . . . It is a great advance upon most of the existing methods of musical teaching. . . . it might be introduced into our schools with benefit to the next generation." — Westminister Gazette (London).

"Many people besides those specially interested in teaching will find these principles suggestive and stimulating." — New York Times.

GILMAN, CHARLOTTE PERKINS (STETSON)

Concerning Children

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.00

ORIGINAL and helpful essays looking towards the better understanding of children and their more sensible and healthy development. Notable for the soundness of its philosophy, its charm of style, and the piquancy of its wit.

"Every parent ought to read this book." — The Outlook.

HANNIGAN, FRANCIS J.

The Standard Index of Short Stories, 1900-1914

Large 4to. Library buckram. Net, $10.00

MR. Hannigan has been for years in charge of the periodical department of the Boston Public Library, and from practical experience has learned the enormous need that exists for an index of the short stories in the modern American magazine. Hundreds, thousands, of calls each year have come to him for the location of this, that or the other story. His "Standard Index of Short Stories, 1900-1914" is the outgrowth of a private index which he has been making for his own use for some years, and offers one of those rare instances of a book that has grown from a genuine, unforced demand.

The book contains a complete index of all of the short stories published in twenty-four magazines from 1900 to 1914 inclusive, the years since 1914 being covered already in the bibliographical sections of Mr. Edward J. O'Brien's "The Best Short Stories of 1915," etc. Mr. Hannigan gives the titles and authors' names in alphabetical arrangement, the names of the magazines—volume, page number and year—pseudonyms and dates of authors.

The magazines indexed are American Magazine, Atlantic Monthly, Century Magazine, Collier's Weekly, Cosmopolitan, Current Literature, Current Opinion, Delineator, Everybody's Magazine, Forum, Frank Leslie's Monthly, Harper's Bazar, Harper's Monthly, Harper's Weekly, Hearst's, Ladies' Home Journal, Lippincott's, McClure's, Metropolitan, Munsey's, Outlook, New England Magazine, Saturday Evening Post, Scribner's Magazine.

As there is nothing published that covers the same period, it is a reference work that is indispensable to librarians, magazine editors, college teachers, authors and other literary workers.

OSBORNE, WILLIAM HAMILTON (Author of "The Boomerang," etc.)

How To Make Your Will

Small 12mo. Boards. Net, 50 cents

WHEN there is no will, the law of the state steps in and, without reference to your unspoken wishes or the needs of those whom you may have left behind, determines exactly how what you leave shall be apportioned. The law is inflexible and applies the same methods to all cases. The wise and proper thing to do is to make a will and the less you have to leave the more essential it is that you do make a will, in order that as little as possible of your estate may be diverted from your heirs by the expenses incident to court procedure.

In the belief that the great mass of the public did not realize these things or understand how simple it is to make a will, Mr. William Hamilton Osborne, who is eminent alike as a novelist and as a lawyer, wrote a brief and very readable article for a popular magazine. The particular copy of the magazine containing the article was called for again and again. Now he has expanded his original article into a little book with the title "How to Make Your Will."

He demonstrates the necessity in clear and unmistakable language, gives the correct forms, and cites cases of rare interest to show the advisability—and the simplicity—of action. He also discusses the matter of who shall be your executor, and takes up the advantages of trust companies for that purpose. Altogether his book is a well-rounded and really interesting treatment of the subject.

PRICE, OVERTON W.

①⑥⑧⑪⑫The Land We Live In

With an Introduction by GIFFORD PINCHOT

8vo. Cloth. With 136 illustrations from photographs. Net, $1.50

"INTERESTING, authoritative discussion of our forests, lands, waters, minerals, and wild life, pointing out the necessity of preserving them and how the reader may cooperate. Both its information and 136 unusual fine photographs will attract readers of all ages." — New York State Library — Best Books.

Mr. Pinchot, in a statement given out when the United States entered the war against Germany, said: "There is no better book on Conservation than Overton Price's The Land We Live In. It is a direct and authoritative statement, written in a simple, accurate, and interesting way. Every American who reads it, old or young, will know what his country's resources really are, how they are used and abused, how they ought to be used and conserved, and how vitally necessary it is at this time above all others to make 'the land we live in' do its full share in the great task of winning this war of civilization against barbarism, democracy against tyranny, right against wrong.

"We must make our land produce more food than it has ever produced before. In the fulfillment of this great task, the patriotism that counts is the patriotism that is founded on intelligent understanding of the whole country and of its resources. The Land We Live In is the best means I know to get such understanding."

"An admirable book, both in matter and manner. We earnestly commend it to the reading of every one, old or young." — Outlook.

"Here is a book that should be placed in the hands of every person young or old." — Literary Digest.

WILSON, FRANK R.

The Federal Farm Loan Act and How It Works

With an Introduction by Herbert Quick, a member of the Federal Farm Loan Board

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.50

THE Federal Farm Loan Act, adopted in June, 1916, and signed by President Wilson shortly after, creates a comprehensive, cooperative banking system to lend money to farmers and prospective farmers for purposes of land purchase, farm development, and the refunding of indebtedness.

The system consists of two main divisions: a money-assembling agency, through which the accumulations and savings of the country are gathered in, and a money-lending agency, through which this money is distributed for agricultural uses.

The Farm Loan Act, in brief, pools the farm mortgages of the nation, issues a collateral trust security against these pooled mortgages, and sells these securities in the open market.

The present volume is the first to appear on the subject since the passage of this act. The author is the head of the Bureau of Information of the Federal Farm Loan Board and Mr. Herbert Quick, who writes the introduction to the volume, is a member of the Board itself. Mr. Wilson's book takes up in great detail the organization, management, powers and limitations of national farm loan associations, tells how farmers may form a national farm loan association, discusses how loans under the Farm Loan Act are designed to be helpful to the borrower, explains in detail the Farm Loan Act from the point of view of the investor, shows the effect of the act on farm tenantry, its social and economic effects, — in brief gives the farmer, investor and general public exactly what they must know to take advantage of this vital new force in the economic life of the nation.

WELFARE SERIES

Edited by RALPH TRACY HALE

A SERIES dealing with the problem of human well-being in varied fields. The volumes in the series are uniform in style of binding, differing in price according to the number of pages, illustrations, etc.

Additions to the Welfare Series will be made from time to time.

DAVIS, PHILIP, assisted by GRACE KROLL

Street-Land: Its Little People and Big Problems

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Net, $1.35

WHAT shall we do with the children whose only place for play is the city street? Mr. Davis, who is the director of the Civic Service House, in Boston, was for five years Supervisor of Licensed Minors for the Boston School Board. He has observed closely, conscientiously and sympathetically, and handles this vital question from every angle. The subjects of employment of minors as street vendors, public playgrounds, amusements of the street, boys' clubs, theatres and "movies," and many other important phases of child life in street-land are dealt with, carefully and concretely.

> "With sympathetic carefulness, Mr. Davis studies a problem becoming more and more difficult, as the cities of our republic grow larger. As one witnesses the increasing lawlessness of the children in the street, comes over and over again the question: 'What can be done to keep them off the street?' This question — one of vast national significance — Mr. Davis answers. His book cannot but stimulate the movement to provide a safer and more attractive environment for city children. It makes a valuable addition to the Welfare Series of volumes, dealing primarily with to-day's problems of human well-being, each written from a different standpoint, and each authoritative upon its particular subject." — Boston Transcript.

The Field of Social Service

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Net, $1.50

A SERIES of papers, each by a specialist, presenting in popular form the field of social work, without undue emphasis on "charitable" work in its narrower sense and with abundant suggestions of ways in which persons of means, time and talent, and resourceful organizations of the community, can have a share in the work.

One of the objects of this book is to answer the universal question of the volunteer social worker: "Just what can I do in social work and how shall I go about it?"

This book is widely used as a text book for social service.

"Here we have, brought into the compass of a single volume of about 400 pages, the best thought of the day concerning current types and fields of social service. Scarcely an avenue of beneficent effort has been overlooked.

"Community problems — housing, fire prevention, recreation, immigration and industrialism — are here elaborately stated and intelligently discussed by experts; and so are child labor, educational agencies, prison reform and sanitation.

"Social problems; community questions; aspects of child life: remedial agencies — under these main heads the scheme of informative discussion is presented and carried out. Thus the book is made a textbook and mentor for volunteers in the unending tasks of social service.

"It is these volunteer workers to whom the volume directly and potentially appeals. For all such high souls, this social service manual and counselor will prove a firm and helpful friend." — Philadelphia North American.

"If anybody is asking what he can do in social work and how he shall go about it he will find his answer in this volume." — New York Times.

"The book will be useful in accomplishing the purpose of its editors and contributors to explain to the potential allies in a community what the social workers are doing." — The Survey.

HAWES, JOHN B., 2nd, M. D.

✠†Consumption: What it is and what to do about it

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. New Edition, revised and enlarged. Net, 75 cents

A SUCCINCT account of tuberculosis, particularly pulmonary tuberculosis or consumption, with special consideration of the fact that it is first of all a human problem. The author, an Instructor in Medicine in the Harvard Medical School, is an eminent specialist in the disease and holds various important posts in connection with its treatment, such as director of the tuberculosis department of the Massachusetts General Hospital, Secretary of the Massachusetts Tuberculosis Commission, Secretary of the tuberculosis section of the Massachusetts Medical Society, etc. His book is designed especially for laymen, and will prove of the greatest value to everyone who wants to know the very latest thought on the practical as well as the medical treatment of consumption. It is a volume which encourages the patient to cooperate with the physician in the procedure of treatment by showing him how to help himself.

"Inexpensive little book written from the patient's standpoint. Besides simple descriptions of the disease and sensible directions as to prevention and care, it gives information on various sanatoria and consumptive resorts, with details as to transportation and living costs, and discusses after-occupation, marriage and other topics. — A. L. A. Booklist.

"Differs from Otis' 'Great White Plague' in being written more from the standpoint of the patient than that of public health. Discusses the problems that arise with regard to local vs. sanatorium treatment, marriage, the financial question, and after-occupation, as well as the more familiar matters of diet, contagion, etc." — Wisconsin Library Bulletin.

"Practical discussions of the problems of paying bills, whether consumptives should marry, consumptive parents and children; suggestions of how consumptives may show consideration for others, sick and well, — all are so frankly and convincingly presented that a reader cannot but accept the challenge of the final chapter. That is, be cheery, 'talk happiness,' be of good courage to the utmost power of your will. And, in this most vital matter of all, the author succeeds in making you want to hope, and really believe you can." — Survey.

"This book ought to meet a most general need. We shall make every effort to draw it to the attention of our nurses and nursing organizations." — American Red Cross Town and Country Nursing Service.

"I consider Dr. Hawes' book one of the best of its kind which I have read, not only because of its practicability and sound advice to the patient, but because of its value in helping to establish the right sort of relation between the physician and patient. It is a book, too, which should be of the utmost assistance to social workers, public health nurses, and all others who come into close contact with the class of people who most need this kind of advice and instruction." — Allan J. McLaughlin, M. D., Commissioner Massachusetts State Department of Health.

"The book is admirable. It covers the field of practical advice for patients who cannot go far away from home — a field that is not filled by other books. The directions in reference to health resorts are very valuable, as are those regarding sanatoria, and they are practical. Dr. Hawes writes for a class of patients who must consider expense and time of absence from occupation, or who, for various reasons, cannot change their occupation or residence permanently, and he gives them valuable encouragement. I shall be glad to recommend the book to patients who come under my observation." — Dr. Edward R. Baldwin, Saranac Lake, N. Y.

✠†*One More Chance: An Experiment in Human Salvage

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.50

HUMAN documents from the experiences of a probation officer in the successful application of the probation system to the problems of men and women who without it would have been permanently lost to useful citizenship. "One More Chance" belongs on the same shelf as Harold Begbie's "Twice Born Men."

"The true stories told in 'One More Chance' are more interesting than the majority of the plots used in fiction. The one who has written it has a fine gift of characterization which makes live men of the examples and officials who dealt with them." — New York Sun.

"The accounts of individual criminals, with their confessions and their subsequent careers, are some of the most vivid stories ever written. And they are true; nothing is changed except the names of the offenders. As a living document of human endeavor and failure and success it will be found of absorbing interest." — Boston Transcript.

"A very valuable book on the probation system. It is very concise in the fact that it deals in a very concrete way with the problem of the probation officer. When I give my course again on Criminology and Penology I plan to require this book.

"I wish to congratulate you on the splendid Welfare Series. This makes the second book in that series that I have found useful for my work here. The other is Davis's 'The Field of Social Service,' which I am using for the text in my course entitled 'Methods of Social Service.'" — J. L. GILLIN, Secretary, Department of General Information and Welfare, University of Wisconsin.

BRANDEIS, LOUIS D.

Business — A Profession

With a Foreword by ERNEST POOLE

8vo. Cloth. Portrait in photogravure. Net, $2.00

FEW Americans in recent years have profoundly affected so many of their fellow citizens from so many different angles as has Mr. Louis D. Brandeis, who had already won national fame as "The People's Lawyer" before he was made Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. Unhampered by selfish interests or desires, Mr. Brandeis has solved in a new way problems that have puzzled men and bred distrust and discontent for decades. These problems in the last analysis have been found to be involved in the conduct of business, and Mr. Brandeis has been successful in dealing with them because he has dealt with business as based on what he calls "the inexorable law of arithmetic" on the one hand, and humanity on the other.

"Business — A Profession" is a collection of his most important public utterances on the subjects with which he has been most conspicuously identified. It offers his fellow citizens a unique opportunity to understand the mind and heart of one of the most interesting of Americans.

"Business — A Profession" is in the Selected List of 200 Books on Advertising, Merchandising and Selling, distributed by the Library Division, Educational Committee, Advertising Club of New York.

"'Business — A Profession' does not merely give opinions. It gives facts and draws conclusions.

"In the essay which gives the volume its name Mr. Brandeis asserts that business is becoming a profession. It no longer means getting the best of the other fellow. There are some interesting facts in connection with the insurance business which everyone should know." — St. Louis Post Dispatch.

"In these addresses and articles there is a uniform philosophy of life and practice of equity, with standards raised just above but not out of reach of the average citizen.

"Real success in business, it is urged, 'is to be found in achievements comparable with those of the artist or the scientist, of the inventor or the statesman. The joys sought in the profession of business must be like their joys, and not the mere vulgar satisfaction experienced in the acquisition of money.'

"From this high platform of business artistry Mr. Brandeis consistently and persistently proclaims the truth as he sees and apprehends it." — Philadelphia North American.

CARLETON, WILLIAM

✠③⑧ One Way Out: A Middle-Class New-Englander Emigrates to America

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.25

IN this remarkable narrative a man tells simply but with dynamic power, how at thirty-eight he lost his position in the office of a big corporation; how he learned that the special training of his own office was of no value in getting him a position in any other office; how at thirty-eight he was already "too old" to get such a position as he had found easily enough at eighteen; how he and his wife and boy, in their trim little suburban home, were actually confronted with the fundamental problem of how to exist; how he met and solved that problem in a way unexpected and dramatic, though to him and his wonderful wife, Ruth, obvious and natural, by "emigrating" to America; and how in all their struggle they found their lives enriched and inspired by the old adventurous, pioneer spirit of their forefathers. Few books have had so vital a place in the lives of the men and women who have read it.

"A really notable brief for democrary that everybody ought to read." — Nation.

"Of extreme interest because of its detailed study of actual conditions and of value for its suggestiveness." — A. L. A. Booklist.

✠③ New Lives for Old

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.25

"THE author of 'One Way Out' buys a farm and encounters in the New England country village conditions which set him to thinking and working along new lines. His original methods and enthusiasm awaken the dead village and through co-operation, friendly rivalry and expert advice the land which had been only furnishing a miserable existence to its shiftless owners becomes a source of good living and steady income." — A. L. A. Booklist.

"Will do more good than all the general articles and books that can be written or speeches that can be made," says Professor John Lee Coulter, Expert Special Agent in charge of the Division of Agriculture of the Census Bureau.

The Red Geranium, together with The Case of Mathews and My Son

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.35

IN "The Red Geranium" Mr. Carleton tells how a woman suddenly bereft of her husband wins a competence for herself and her family through her courageous use of her one talent, an ability to make plants grow, a talent first brought home to her by Carleton's observing her skill at fostering a pitiful little tenement-house geranium.

In "My Son," which won a remarkable success as a serial in The Country Gentleman, he tells, with a significant contrast in "The Case of Mathews", how a young man, in this case his own boy, Dick, can win success by thinking for himself. Dick decided to marry and buy a farm in Brewster. The big problem in Brewster was the pure milk problem, and Dick tackled that, sanely and without faddishness. He proved that practical, horse-sense treatment of the big problem is not inconsistent with ideals, and that both bring business success.

The book is a valuable contribution to the solution of "the milk question."

The human appeal of the book is vital.

DEMING, SEYMOUR

A Message to the Middle Class

12mo. Cloth. Net, 75 cents

AN appeal for sanity and logical thinking on the part of the great body of those who are included neither in the class of capital nor in that of labor.

"Whether you mean well and have your doubts, or whether you are quite confident that Providence must carry all the responsibility for prevailing social and economic conditions, you should read Seymour Deming's little book, 'A Message to the Middle Class.' It may disturb your complacence, it may challenge your Americanism, it may clear up some uncertainties, it may strengthen your resolution. It will take but an hour or two, and is worth while. — Independent.

"A scholarly-brotherly attempt intellectually to bridge the gap of misunderstanding between the actively muddle-headed radicals and the statically muddle-headed conservatives of the nation, interesting to all watchers of the social creative-evolution drama." — Life.

From Doomsday to Kingdom Come

12mo. Cloth. Net, 75 cents

A PRESENTATION of the meaning of the developments of the past quarter-century in the world's progress, with special reference to the United States; a real interpretation of the bearing of the Great War on the present and the future of mankind. The author's pungent and epigrammatic style makes everything he says stimulating.

"He continues preaching the strongest, straightest and truest Socialist Gospel. We hereby advise every Socialist that we can reach to supply himself with Deming's books. They are vast arsenals from which to draw information and argument and, if we mistake not, will become a part of the permanent literature of the world, for in addition to knowledge Deming is a past master of literary style and diction." — JOSHUA WANHOPE in New York Call.

The Pillar of Fire: A Profane Baccalaureate

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.00

THE author addresses a hypothetical graduating class for the purpose of opening their eyes to certain things which baccalaureate sermons habitually omit.

"A pillar of flaming rhetoric, surely. The writer is a man, who, seated among his sable-stoled fellows, was welcomed into 'the fellowship of educated men,' in solemn if trite academic ritual which even to this novice on the threshold of reality seemed a bit out of keeping. Now, after a post-graduate course in the University of Things-as-They-Are, he presents the baccalaureate which he would like to have heard and which, he is convinced, he was entitled to hear.

"What is a university but the treasure-house of the stored radicalism of the ages! If not to break rules, to shatter precedents, carve new paths, dare uncharted seas, and upset the existing order, then what in the name of revolution is education?

"Reduced to definite terms, what the author desires is an educational system designed to learn what is wrong with the world, and the remedy; what poverty is, why it exists, how it may be eliminated. He would have our universities deal concretely with the high cost of living, with industrial injustice; he would have them emphasize the glory of self-sacrifice, and inspire the passion for service to mankind. But even under the present system the author recommends the sending of boys to college. The student is adjured to remember that he is receiving class culture at the expense of the laboring classes." — New York Evening Post.

GILMAN, CHARLOTTE PERKINS (STETSON)

Women and Economics

A STUDY OF THE ECONOMIC RELATION BETWEEN MEN AND WOMEN AS A FACTOR IN SOCIAL EVOLUTION

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.50

THE fact that this book has gone through many editions in America and Great Britain, and that it has also been translated into Dutch, German, Italian, French and Russian, proves that it expresses in a striking way its analysis and explanation of woman's position in modern society and its remedial plans for the future.

WICKS, PEMBROKE

The Truth about Home Rule

With an Introduction by SIR EDWARD CARSON

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated with portraits. Net, $1.25

A VOLUME written especially for American readers to set forth the Unionist or Conservative side of the Irish Home Rule Question. It is a valuable presentation of British politics in general, as they existed in the years just preceding the outbreak of the European War, and in the light of subsequent events is of unusual historical interest, because it shows in detail the matters that were absorbing the attention of the British public while the imminence of a great national peril was yet unguessed.

BELLES-LETTRES AND HUMOR

BUTLER, ELLIS PARKER

Perkins of Portland

Small 12mo. Cloth. With illustrations in tint. Net, $1.00

IN this volume the author of the famous "Pigs is Pigs" depicts the exploits of an advertising genius. Perkins is a sincere believer in the psychology of advertising — as is shown, for instance, by his famous line about Murdock's Soap: "Murdock's Soap is pure soap; if you don't believe it, bite it" — and his cases will give keen delight to every man interested in advertising,— and to everyone interested in human nature.

DUNNE, FINLEY PETER

Mr. Dooley in Peace and War
Mr. Dooley in the Hearts of His Countrymen

12mo. Cloth. Each, net, $1.20

TWO volumes that have never lost their hold on the affections of the American public.

HENRY, M. S., Translator

Aucassin and Nicolette

16mo. Half Holland paper boards. Postpaid, 75 cents

THIS translation is from the little-varying French texts of H. Suchier, Gaston Paris, and F. W. Bourdillon, the verse translation put in rhyme by Edward W. Thomson. This mediaeval classic is here for the first time presented without suppression or modification. Critics like Walter Pater and George Saintsbury have agreed to call the work a little masterpiece, and the translators have fully caught the spirit of the delicate, mirthful, and passionate original.

LORIMER, GEORGE HORACE

Letters from a Self-Made Merchant to His Son

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Postpaid, $1.50

ONE of the greatest successes of our generation.

"There has been nothing since the wisdom of Franklin that is to be placed in the same class as this common-sense book." — St. Louis Globe Democrat.

"For dry, caustic humor, pithy common sense, and good advice, relieved by excellent stories capitally told, we have not lately read anything that nearly equals these letters." — Punch (London).

PEARSON, EDMUND LESTER

The Librarian at Play

Small 12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.25

A SERIES of entertaining essays dealing with books and library work. They have been widely praised by librarians as diverting and pungent commentaries on the work of the library.

The table of contents: The Interest Gauge; The Gardener's Guide; Vanishing Favorites; By Telephone; A Literary Meet; "The Desert Island Test"; The Conversation Room; The Literary Zoo; Their Just Reward; The Crowded Hour; To a Small Library Patron; By-Ways and Hedges; Mulch; A Bookman's Armory.

"They bring out certain foibles of human nature as a librarian sees them. Their humor is delightful. If you wish to woo a chuckle read 'The Interest Gauge' and 'The Crowded Hour.'" — Review of Reviews.

PLATT, ISAAC HULL

Bacon Cryptograms in Shakespeare and Other Studies

12mo. Paper boards. Net, $1.00

A VOLUME containing an account of certain cryptograms which in the opinion of the author indicate that Francis Bacon was in some way concerned in the authorship or publication of the poems and plays known as Shakespeare's.

Religion, Philosophy, and Psychical Research

CARRINGTON, HEREWARD

The Coming Science

12mo. Cloth. Net, $2.00

THE aim of this popular book on psychical research is threefold: (1) To form an introduction to the study of the subject; (2) to approach the baffling questions from the standpoint of physical science; (3) to summarize the various explanatory theories that have been advanced from time to time to explain the facts of psychical research. After reading it, the inquirer may feel that he has progressed a long way in their comprehension.

"The great importance of the book lies in its pointing out that materialism must ultimately triumph, if no facts can be brought forward to prove it erroneous, and this would mean the destruction of the religious consciousness of the age. It is of prime importance, therefore, that the 'average reader,' if there is such a thing, should be properly introduced to the problems of 'The Coming Science,'" — Boston Transcript.

The Physical Phenomena of Spiritualism

Large 12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Net, $2.50

AN immense amount of fraud has been perpetrated on credulous investigators of psychic phenomena. With rare skill and tact Mr. Carrington, who has had many years of experience, shows exactly how the tricks are done.

"The author of this interesting book has shown the detailed feats, as table-turning, slate-reading, rope-tying, spirit-photography, mind-reading, and so on." — Chicago Evening Post.

DAVIS, CHARLES H. STANLEY

Greek and Roman Stoicism and Some of Its Disciples

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.50

THIS volume, by the author of "A History of Egypt" and the editor and commentator of "The Egyptian Book of the Dead," is not only a history of stoicism, but of all Greek and Roman philosophies from the earliest times to the birth of Christianity.

"Dr. Davis has sketched in detail the Greek religion and philosophy that preceded the foundation of this school, and his exposition of its doctrines is clear and illuminating. Equally lucid are his description of its later development and his sketches of the three great disciples, — Epictetus, Seneca, and Marcus Aurelius." — Boston Transcript.

DOLE, CHARLES F.

The Coming Religion

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.25

"A TIMELY book which analyzes the influences and forces that are shaping the religious thought of the thinking people of to-day. Most important of all is the stress that is laid upon the gospel of brotherhood and service and its new application to our fermenting social order." —Indianapolis News.

HYSLOP, JAMES H.

Borderland of Psychical Research

12mo. Cloth. Net, $2.00

THIS is a kind of introductory volume covering those points in normal and abnormal Psychology that are vital for the student of Psychical Research to know in order that he may judge the abnormal and supernormal intelligently, such topics as Normal Sense-Perception, Interpreting and Associating Functions of the Mind, Memory, Dissociation and Oblivescence, Illusions, Hallucinations, Pseudo-Spiritistic Phenomena, Subconscious Action and Secondary Personality, Mind and Body, Hypnotism and Therapeutics.

Problems of Philosophy

8vo. Cloth. Net, $5.00

THIS is Professor Hyslop's greatest contribution to the science of pure reasoning. His philosophy is altogether antagonistic to agnosticism. He has demonstrated, as he believes, that the independent existence of matter, space, time, the soul and God may finally be proved. In particular he repudiates the aristocratic and transcendental philosophy of Kant and Hegel and their followers, and substitutes a simple, systematic and easily intelligible scheme which combines the scientific methods of Comte and Herbert Spencer in a unique endeavor to create the first complete critique since Kant.

Science and a Future Life

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.50

THIS important volume is an exhaustive summary of the scientific investigation of psychic phenomena. It is perhaps the author's most widely read work.

"The book is one of the most important in its particular branch of literature that have ever yet been given to the public. It is the work of a clear-headed scientist who has arrived at his conclusions only after years of the most searching investigations, and who has as one of its results presented a more satisfactory argument in favor of a future life than has been wrought out by any theologian for the last century. It should have a multitude of readers."— Boston Transcript.

"No longer may the sleeper lull himself again to dreamland with the gentle murmurs of 'fraud.'"— Atlantic Monthly.

Psychical Research and the Resurrection

12mo. Cloth. Net, $2.00

THIS volume may be considered a sequel to Professor Hyslop's "Science and a Future Life."

"It is cause for scientific rejoicing that Professor Hyslop has put forth this book." — Journal of Education.

"The book is delightfully written and will prove of absorbing interest to the many people now studying psychology." — St. Paul Dispatch.

LODGE, SIR OLIVER, AND OTHERS

The Proofs of Life After Death

A Symposium by Sir Oliver Lodge, Sir William Crookes, James H. Hyslop, Alfred Russell Wallace and others. Edited by Robert J. Thompson.

8vo. Cloth. Net, $2.00

SEEKING for comfort in a great sorrow, the editor obtained personal statements of opinion as to a future life from some of the world's most eminent scientific men and thinkers.

"I am, for all personal purposes," says Sir Oliver Lodge (the author of "Raymond") in his contribution to the volume, "convinced of the persistence of human existence beyond bodily death.

"Meanwhile what are we to do? To inquire, to criticise, to discover, but also to live — to live this life here and now: aided thereto, it may be, by a laboriously acquired certainty that it is only an interlude in a more splendid drama."

PATTEN, HELEN P., Editor

Intimations of Immortality: An Anthology

Large 12mo. Paper boards, Japan vellum back. Net, $2.00

FROM the great mass of material dealing with the question of immortality, the editor has culled brief but salient comments of the great and learned of old and modern times. It is of particular service to clergymen.

"Those who have occasion to speak upon the subject of immortality can hardly afford to be without it." — The Commoner.

SCHINZ, ALBERT

Anti-Pragmatism: An Examination into the Respective Rights of Intellectual Aristocracy and Social Democracy

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.50

PUBLISHED in French as well as in English, Professor Schinz's book has commanded attention throughout the world of philosophical thought, both in America and in Europe.

"The chief concern of Professor Schinz is to lay bare the social milieu out of which Pragmatism has grown, and his conclusions touch the problem of aristocrary and democracy. His criticism of American life from this point of view is extraordinarily keen." — Nation.

POETRY

BRAITHWAITE, WILLIAM STANLEY

The Poetic Year for 1916: A Critical Anthology

Large 12mo. Printed on special deckle-edge rag paper and bound in boards, with cloth back. Net, $2.00

HERE is a book that is actually "something new under the sun" and, furthermore, "fills a long-felt want." Any lover of poetry, any student of contemporary literature, who desires to form an intelligent estimate of recent poetry, or to make an acquaintance with any individual poet of our time sufficiently definite to give him the requisite knowledge for an intelligent discussion, will find the book indispensable.

The method of the book is not the least of its virtues. A friendly discussion takes place among a group of four friends, including Mr. Braithwaite himself, who provides the guiding hand. They are fortunate in their surroundings, Laurel Farm among the foothills of the White Mountains; often their discussions take place in a delightful grove surrounded by all the beauties of nature. In such a setting they engage in many an illuminating verbal tournament over the merits of free verse, the poetic tendencies of our day, the work of this, that or the other poet, supporting their several contentions by liberal quotation.

By this lively treatment, so surprisingly different from the usual method of critical writing, the reader forms a personal impression, as human as it is well-founded, of the poetry of Bliss Carman, Walter de la Mare, Lizette Woodworth Reese, John Masefield, Edwin Arlington Robinson, Edgar Lee Masters, Louis Untermeyer, Amelia Josephine Burr, Amy Lowell, Ruth Comfort Mitchell, James Oppenheim, James Stephens, Josephine Preston Peabody, Alan Seeger, Robert W. Service, Sir Rabindranath Tagore, William Butler Yeats, Louis Ledoux, and many others — nearly seventy in all.

The anthologies published during the year are also discussed, among them Mr. Braithwaite's own "Anthology of Magazine Verse for 1916," an annual which, now in its fifth year, has done more, perhaps, than any other publication to stimulate respectful interest in poetic accomplishment.

"The Poetic Year for 1916" will be welcomed by librarians and will be found especially useful for women's clubs.

BRAITHWAITE, WILLIAM STANLEY, Editor

Anthology of Magazine Verse for 1917

Large 12mo. Printed on special deckle-edged rag paper and bound in boards, with cloth back. Net, $2.00

THIS, the fifth annual volume in Mr. Braithwaite's series of anthologies of magazine verse, is a volume of exceptional interest because, in the editor's opinion, the poetical accomplishment of 1917 has been from every point of view remarkable.

Besides an Introduction on the poetry of the year, and the best magazine verse, the volume contains important lists of books and articles on poetry and an index of great value.

The Book of Elizabethan Verse. With an Introduction by Thomas Wentworth Higginson

Small 12mo. Cloth. Net, $2.50
Limp Morocco, full gilt edges. Net, $3.50

IN this standard anthology, Mr. Braithwaite has done for the greatest period of English poetry what long had been left undone, and on the model of completeness which Stedman established in his "Victorian Anthology" for the Age of Tennyson. He includes 117 authors, with more than 750 selections.

BURGESS, GELETT

A Gage of Youth: Lyrics from the Lark and Other Verses

16mo. Antique leather, blindtooled. Net, $1.00

A COLLECTION of unique verses which attracted hearty admiration when first published in The Lark, together with a number of previously unpublished poems.

"The wide range of Mr. Burgess's versatility, from the ridiculous to the sincerest poetry, has never been so well illustrated as by this little volume. As a humorist he is delightful, but his collection also proves that he may be taken seriously and still win praise."

CARMAN, BLISS

April Airs

16mo. Paper boards. Net, $1.00
Limp leather. Net, $1.75

A VOLUME of lyrics that is part of the permanent achievement of American poetry.

"One of the most refreshing volumes of verse. Mr. Carman has a compelling vision." — Boston Advertiser.

CARMAN, BLISS (Continued)

By The Aurelian Wall and Other Elegies

16mo. Cloth. Cover design by G. H. Hallowell. Net, $1.00

AMONG the elegies contained in this volume is the beautiful and much admired threnody for Robert Louis Stevenson, — "A Sea-mark."

"As a maker of ballads, imaginative and full of haunting memory, Mr. Carman is easily the master among his contemporaries." — The Critic.

Echoes from Vagabondia

16mo. Paper boards. Net, $1.00
Limp leather. Net, $1.75

"ALMOST all book lovers in this country treasure on their shelves the three books of vagabond poems which Bliss Carman and Richard Hovey wrote together. Mine, I confess, have been kept close to my hand that I might be at any moment reminded of roads that were not pavements and of joys that were not urban. If I felt any fear in opening this new volume that the old lyric delight had passed from Carman this apprehension was quickly dispelled. He never seemed more spontaneous, never younger — nor older — nor more satisfying. No affectation has crept in to mar his perfect lucidity of style.

"He has preserved that as religiously as he has his joy in nature and in freedom, and his verse flows to its old-time happy rhythm." — Chicago Tribune.

Low Tide on Grand-Pre: A Book of Lyrics; together with Ballads of Lost Haven: A Book of the Sea

12mo. Strathmore Japan Boards. Net, $1.50

MR. CARMAN'S two earliest books contain much of the work which gained him his most appreciative recognition from the critics, and many of these poems are worthy to endure with the best poetry of his generation. They are here presented in one volume.

" 'Ballads of Lost Haven' is a hundred pages of salt sea without a trace of Kipling, and yet having a sea-flavor as unmistakable as his, and with a finer touch, — with less of repetition, less of mere technicality, and a more varied human interest." — The Nation.

A Winter Holiday

16mo. Paper boards. Cover design in silver by T. B. Meteyard. Net, 75 cents

"OF the seven poems making up the collection, five directly reflect the warm, many-colored experiences of the Bahamas. The two other pieces, 'December in Scituate' and 'Winter at Tortoise Shell,' depict in sharp contrast, yet with equal charm, New England winter scenes indoors and out. They show that this poet's remarkable gift for nature-description is as much in evidence when dealing with winter's monochromes as when moved by all the vibrancy and bloom of the full summer tide." — RICHARD BURTON, in The Saturday Evening Post.

CARMAN, BLISS, AND RICHARD HOVEY

Songs from Vagabondia

16mo. Paper boards. Cover and end papers designed by T. B. Meteyard. Net, $1.00

"A BOOK full of the rapture of the open air and the open road' of the wayside tavern bench, the April weather, and the 'manly love of comrades.' The charm and interest of the book consist in the real, frank jollity of mood and manner, the gypsy freedom, the intimate, natural happiness of these marching, drinking, fighting, and loving songs. They proclaim a blithe, sane and hearty Bohemianism in the opening lines." — London Athenaeum.

"Between the close covers of this narrow book there are some fifty-odd pages of good verse that Bobby Burns would have shouted at his plough to see and Elia Lamb would have praised in immortal essays." — New York Times.

"The authors of the small joint volume called 'Songs from Vagabondia' have an unmistakable right to the name of poet. These little snatches have the spirit of a gypsy Omar Khayyam. They have always careless verve, and often careless felicity; they are masculine and rough, as roving songs should be. You have the whole spirit of the book in such an unforgettable little lyric as 'In the House of Idiedaily,' " — FRANCIS THOMPSON, in Merry England.

More Songs from Vagabondia

16mo. Paper boards. Cover and end papers designed by T. B. Meteyard. Net, $1.00

"HOW long is it since another volume appeared so packed with high spirits and good humor? Certainly not since the original 'Songs from Vagabondia' came out. The poetry fairly bubbles over, — even over into the inside of the covers, where some verses are enshrined in drawings. It is a book that makes the reader young again." — Buffalo Express.

"Hail to the poets! Good poets! Real poets! . . . They are the free, untrammelled songs of men who sing because their hearts are full of music and they have their own way of singing, too." — New York Times.

"The pulsing of warm, youthful blood, the joy of living and comradeship are enclosed between the covers of 'More Songs from Vagabondia.' The poems are full of exuberant vitality, with a fine and energetic rhythm." — The Argonaut.

CARMAN, BLISS, AND RICHARD HOVEY (Continued)

Last Songs from Vagabondia

16mo. Paper boards. Cover and end papers designed by T. B. Meteyard. Net, $1.00

THIS third collection makes a fitting close to the fresh and exhilarating poetry of the two preceding volumes of the series. It contains, in addition to verses set aside for this purpose by both authors prior to Mr. Hovey's death, certain later poems by Mr. Carman, reminiscent of his friend and fellow-vagabond.

"All the qualities of the earlier Vagabondia lays are embodied in these 'Last Songs,' — the riches of Vagabondia — love and youth and comradeship — and the glamour of the great world unexplored — nor is the joy in living absent, only softened to a soberer tone. Both Mr. Carman and Mr. Hovey have perfect command of the lyric form, both the power to imprison in richly colored verse a complete expression of the wander-spirit." — Boston Transcript.

"One finds in this volume the breadth of view, the spontaneous joy, the unexpected outlook, and the felicity of touch which betray the true poet." — The Outlook.

CARR, ROBERT V.

✠Cowboy Lyrics: Roundup Edition

12mo. Cloth. Frontispiece. Net, $1.25

"THESE poems present the cowboy more truthfully than we find him in the mass of western stories and show that the author has been a part of the life of which he sings. His pictures of the western country are reminiscent of 'The Virginian' and will interest readers far from the cowboy's trail." — A. L. A. Booklist.

"The vital difference between the cowboy songs of Robert Carr and the majority of the western lyrics is that these songs so veritably breathe the winds of the prairies, and the far vast places, the camp fires and the cattle ranging, the beauty and the wonder combined with the sadness and the hardships. They possess the reticence which is the seal of truth." — Boston Transcript.

CAVALCANTI, GUIDO

The Sonnets and Ballate of Guido Cavalcanti: Rendered into English Verse by Ezra Pound; With an Introduction by the Translator

8vo. Paper boards. Japan Vellum back. Net, $2.00

"EZRA POUND has done a service to literature by introducing to the English-reading public so admirable and so neglected a poet as Dante's contemporary, referred to in the 'Purgatorio':

'Thus hath one Guido from the other reft
The glory of the tongue.'

CAWEIN, MADISON

Complete Poetical Works. With an Introduction by Edmund Gosse

8vo. Five volumes. Buckram. Limited edition de luxe. Illustrated with photogravure reproductions of paintings by Eric Pape.
Sold only in sets. Carriage additional. Per set, net, $15.00

A DEFINITIVE edition of all of Madison Cawein's poems written before 1907.

"To acknowledge unfamiliarity with the poetry of Madison Cawein is to acknowledge a woeful ignorance of contemporary American literature." — Theodore Roosevelt.

The Giant and the Star

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.00

CHARMING poems for children, written primarily for the poet's own little son; as tender a collection as exists in literature.

The Poet, the Fool and the Faeries

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.50

A VOLUME of poems inspired by the poet's love of nature, yet having in them the human touch which gives them their wide appeal.

"A book like 'The Poet, the Fool, and the Faeries,' with its haunting music, its rich and vivid pictures, its passionate sympathy with nature, can be written only by a true poet." — Literary Digest.

COLUM, PADRAIC and EDWARD J. O'BRIEN, Editors

✠ Poems of the Irish Revolutionary Brotherhood

16mo. Paper boards. Illustrated, net, $1.00

A COLLECTION of the principal poems, mostly of a patriotic nature, by Thomas MacDonagh, P. H. Pearse (Padraic MacPiarais), Joseph Mary Plunkett and Sir Roger Casement, leaders of the Irish insurrection of 1916, all four of whom were executed, with a biographical and historical introduction by Padraic Colum.

"These verses come to readers fragrant not of the lamp, but of swords and blood, of age-long yearnings and battle, however brief; of rebellion, of prison, of death. . . . They are more Irish than Yeats and Hyde and Mangan ever were, and they pale in their fierce unity even the passionate native faith of so Celtic a poet as Lionel Johnson, whose 'Ways of War' is used as a prologue to the book." — Philadelphia Evening Ledger.

"The martyr bards will live forever in the affections of the Irish people and Ireland will honor their memory. Mr. Colum knew all the poets intimately and his account of their careers, aims and ideals is authentic and sympathetic." — The Gaelic American.

CLAUSON, J. EARL

The Dog's Book of Verse

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.00

AN anthology of the best and most popular poems about man's faithful friend (and, it might be added, woman's favorite pet), selected and arranged in a way that makes the volume of rare interest and value to every lover of dogs — and who is not?

"He is hard to suit who isn't pleased with such a book as this."— Springfield Republican.

DAY, HOLMAN

Up in Maine: Stories of Yankee Life told in Verse

12mo. Cloth. Six illustrations. Net, $1.00

FEW books of verse have won popular favor so quickly as this volume. It is a rare combination of wit, humor, sense, and homely pathos.

"Reading the book, one feels as though he had Maine in the phonograph." — The New York Sun.

"James Russell Lowell would have welcomed this delicious adjunct to 'The Biglow Papers.' " — The Outlook.

"So fresh, so vigorous, and so full of manly feeling that they sweep away all criticism." — The Nation.

Pine Tree Ballads: Rhymed Stories of Unplaned Human Nature up in Maine

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Net, $1.00

"IT is impossible to think of any person or class of people in America that these epical lyrics, these laughter-fetching, tear-provoking ballads will fail to please." — Chicago Herald.

Kin O'Ktaadn: Verse Stories of the Plain Folk Who are Keeping Bright the Old Home Fires Up in Maine.

12mo. Cloth. With frontispiece portrait, and with six illustrative decorations by Amy Rand. Net, $1.00

THE half-hundred poems, grouped in appropriate sections, are woven together into a consistent and harmonious unity by a thread of prose comment and chat, thus giving such a picture of the lights and shadows of homely Yankee life as has never before been printed.

Note:—The three volumes listed above are bound uniformly.

FICKE, ARTHUR DAVISON

The Happy Princess and Other Poems

12mo. Cloth. Postpaid, $1.00

"POETRY of a high order, characterized by delicate imagery and fancifulness." — San Francisco Chronicle.

GILMAN, CHARLOTTE PERKINS (STETSON)

In This Our World

16mo. Cloth. With portrait frontispiece of the author in photogravure. Net, $1.25

WILLIAM DEAN HOWELLS has called this verse the best civic satire which America has produced since "The Biglow Papers."

HEREDIA, JOSE MARIA DE

The Trophies

Translated by FRANK SEWALL

8vo. Edition limited to 750 copies on hand-made paper, with decorations and initial letters by Bertram Grosvenor Goodhue. Net, $2.50

AN English version of the remarkable sonnets which in 1893 won for Cuba's great poet, Heredia, his admission to the French Academy, and which have alone sufficed to place him among the most eminent of the French poets of any age.

"Notable for its literal grace and beauty. It was no small feat to transform these two salient marks of Heredia's verse into another language They show that the best French verse, like the best French prose, is matchless in modern literature." — Boston Journal.

HOWE, M. A. DEWOLFE, Editor

The Memory of Lincoln

Small 12mo. Cloth. With a portrait of Lincoln in photogravure. Net, 50 cents

"THERE have been Lincoln anthologies before, but none so high in quality as this of Mr. Howe. It presents the best that has been written, in poetry, upon Lincoln." — Buffalo Express.

HYSLOP, JAMES H.

Poems and Translations

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.25

THOSE who know the author only as a former professor of logic and ethics at Columbia University and as the leader of psychical research in America will be surprised to find him here in a new rôle.

"The poems are characterized by insight, spirituality and the calm philosophy of a life that is turned away from the forces of materialism toward the eternal verities." — Review of Reviews.

JESSUP, ALEXANDER

The Charm of Youth

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.00

A VOLUME of poems of lyric beauty, charm and suggestive thought.

KIRK, WILLIAM F.

The Norsk Nightingale: Being the Lyrics of a "Lumberyack"

16mo. Paper boards. Illustrated. Net, 75 cents

THE poems in this perennially popular volume include pictures of the "Lumberyack's" workaday life and of his joys, his loves, and his sorrows. In addition to his lyrical expression of his own experiences, the "Norsk Nightingale" recites his versions of many of the romantic tales of history, and translates into his own vernacular, often with amazing results, many of the great poems of English and American literature.

MAYNADIER, EMILY W., Editor

The Way of Childhood

16mo. Paper boards. Net, 75 cents

A COLLECTION of poems of well-known poets about children, not for them, illustrating the varying influences of childhood.

O'BRIEN, EDWARD J.

White Fountains

16mo. Boards. Net, $1.00

"WHITE FOUNTAINS" includes two odes entitled "Flesh" and "Flower" in free Gregorian rhythms, and a selection of lyrics, reprinted from Scribner's Magazine, The Poetry Review, The Smart Set, The Little Review and other periodicals, including "Irish," "The Piping Mountainy Man," "The Shepherd Boy," and others.

O'BRIEN, EDWARD J. (Continued)

"The passion for spiritual expression," says William Stanley Braithwaite, "is the chief note in this collection. The two odes, 'Flesh' and 'Flower,' are unlike anything in our present verse. The lyrics are exquisitely turned in mood and melody. 'White Fountains' will help us to maintain our reverence for both art and life."

"Life seems a gladsome thing as he writes of it. There are intimate nature touches, a glorification of the beauty in nature and its revelation of divinity. They are poems which attract for the singing quality of their music, for their conscious imagery of beauty and for the impelling quality of the poet's imagination." — Boston Transcript.

POUND, EZRA

Provença: Being Poems Selected from Personae, Exultations and Canzoniere

Small 12mo. Boards. Net, $1.00

THE poems of "a naive yet sophisticated mystic, with a dash of Rossetti, a good bit of Browning and a trifle of Kipling in him. In his poetry there is not a dull line. There are many forcible ones, many of extraordinary beauty, and a few of that curious Keatsian magic that if not felt at once by the reader can be neither explained nor communicated. Mr. Pound has a fine and original genius." — New York Times.

The Lover's Rubaiyat

16mo. Boards. Net, 75 cents

THIS "book for sweethearts and unforgetting folk who would gather joy's wind-strewn petals to fashion again the rose" is an entirely novel setting of certain of the lesser known quatrains of Omar in the form of a splendid Persian love poem, having all the coherence and the atmosphere of the work of a single translator, although in reality it is the blended work of ten different hands. Beautifully printed in two colors, with decorations and ornamental cover.

SHAKESPEARE, WILLIAM

TABB, JOHN B.

Child Verse

Small 12mo. Cloth. With cover design, end papers and title page by Bertram Grosvenor Goodhue. Net, $1.00

LITTLE poems full of fancy and sweetness; for grown people as well as for children.

"We let the verses speak for themselves. We do not know how to explain their simple charm, — the rare faculty of writing down, and yet preserving, that brightness and quick turn that make a child turn his candid eyes on the reader with comprehension and approval. It is here, nevertheless, hidden somewhere, a fairy elf that rings its tiny, musical bells, unseen, but heard." — Baltimore Sun.

WHITMAN, WALT

Selections from the Prose and Poetry of Walt Whitman (Edited by Oscar Lovell Triggs)

12mo. Cloth. Frontispiece portrait of Whitman. Net, $1.25

IN his choice of poems the editor's effort was to preserve, in the character and arrangement of the pieces selected, the general scheme which governed Whitman's last revision of "Leaves of Grass." It was a difficult and delicate task, but one which was essential to any really useful selection of Whitman's poetry, and it has been accomplished in a way that will satisfy every student of Whitman. The book is recommended to any one who desires a general knowledge of Whitman's writings without perusing his entire work.

✠†Told in a French Garden: August, 1914

12mo. Cloth. With a portrait frontispiece in photogravure from a sketch of the author by Pierre-Emile Cornillier. Net, $1.25

AUGUST, 1914 — ominous date! — finds a group of delightful Americans enjoying a house-party in a quaint country place not many miles outside of Paris, a place not unlike that which forms the scene of the author's earlier book, the widely read "A Hilltop on the Marne." There are the Lawyer, the Critic, the Youngster, the Divorcée, the Violinist, the Trained Nurse, the Doctor, the Sculptor, the Journalist — all devoted friends and all, of course, unaware of the impending crisis.

War! — and discussion, too heated to be borne in friendly fashion! So war becomes the one topic that is taboo and, at the suggestion of one of the party, they fall to telling stories. Each one tells a tale as the company gathers in the garden after dinner in the bright August twilight, and the war is kept its distance. The stories are capital — read them and see! — and all the time, as the days go by, the war comes nearer and nearer, until —

A unique volume, the expression of a charming personality.

ALDRICH, MILDRED (Continued)

"There is a balance, a ripeness of mind, a serene knowledge of human nature, a certain rich feminine quality to Miss Aldrich's work that makes one want more of it."—New York Times.

BARTLEY, NALBRO

Paradise Auction

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Net, $1.50

"LIFE is a paradise auction," says Sara Heath — "Darly," as the others call her — "with every one of us bidding for happiness at any cost. We each strive to bid the highest, the fastest, the cheapest, but we all want to buy paradise, not earn it."

BARTLEY, NALBRO (Continued)

The search for happiness of a group of people who had come to young manhood and womanhood after a childhood spent in joyous play together forms the underlying theme of this absorbing story.

"Paradise Auction" is a novel of the best type and introduces an American novelist whose brilliant promise as a writer of short stories it amply fulfills.

Some opinions of readers:

"A fine, strong and beautiful story. The ideal element which 'Darly' supplies is the hidden power in the novel and lifts the whole story far above the ordinary rank. There is plenty of warm human interest and real fun in it."

"It is one of the best novels I have ever read. I can't think of any novelist with whom I can compare Nalbro Bartley or any novel with which I can compare 'Paradise Auction', but as I read it I found myself having such diverse mental and emotional reactions as these: I recalled delightful memories of Louisa M. Alcott, on the one hand, and, on the other, I declared to myself that Mrs. Wharton, in 'The House of Mirth,' had written nothing more entertaining."

"This is an absolutely satisfying novel — a big thing in every sense of the word."

"Paradise Auction," is well worth reading." — New York Times.

"Paradise Auction," impresses us as an uncommonly fine story of American life. Hearts beat strongly in its pages." — Boston Herald.

BENNETT, ARNOLD (Author of "The Old Wives' Tale," etc.)

The Ghost: A Modern Fantasy

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.20

THE author of "The Old Wives' Tale" here tells a story that shows not only his versatility but also his consummate artistry in the creation of character and his exacting feeling for the right word.

In addition, he depicts a unique situation, developing an unhackneyed plot with rapid movement and unexpected turns which satisfy the reader's craving for the unusual and delight his sense of literary art.

The world of the opera forms the setting of the story and in its diverse elements the reader finds gradually developing the tempestuous love story of a brilliant and beautiful singer.

BILBRO, MATHILDE

✠The Middle Pasture

12mo. Cloth. With illustrations in color and black and white by Christine T. Curtiss and Frances Porter Pratt. Net, $1.25

"THE MIDDLE PASTURE" is a book for the whole family, old and young.

It is the story of the Crawfords, two families that dwell on either side of the middle pasture in the little town of Pine Grove, Alabama. The Crawfords and their many friends all have their problems, to be sure, but the problems are normal — like your own — and these pleasant people are all so interested in one another that life means happiness to them.

Beatrice Crawford tells the story and she is a delightful creature, a harum-scarum tomboy, whose anxiety for the happy outcome of the love affairs of half Pine Grove keeps her constantly in a state of palpitation. A most amazing series of surprises for the Crawfords keeps the reader's interest a-tiptoe, the while he chuckles over the many unexpected phrases and situations.

It is an exceptionally good book to read aloud — a wholesome, happy, mirth-provoking book for the whole family.

Miss Bilbro has a wide following throughout the country on account of the great popularity of the music which she has composed for children.

"There are all kinds of childish pranks and adventures, invariably natural and instinct with the true spirit of childhood and related just as such a child would relate them. A thoroughly enjoyable story."— New York Tribune.

"The author maintains the child's personality and psychology admirably, without overdoing it and without depriving her of the very active intelligence which children have, and which most grown-up people deny them when they write about them or talk in front of them. This book is a good story about decent, lovable human beings told with directness and simplicity." — Independent.

BROWN, GEORGE ROTHWELL

My Country. A Story of America To-day

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated by Chase Emerson. Net, $1.35

HOW would you feel, if you had been brought to this country from Germany as a little boy, twenty odd years ago, had gone through years of hard work in the United States Navy until you had made yourself internationally famous as a naval strategist — how would you feel, when everything in the spring of 1917 was tending towards hostilities between the land of your birth and the land of your adoption? Would it add to your difficulties to know that your twin brother was an officer in the German navy? Would it make you happier to realize that the girl you loved was somewhere in Germany?

This is Lieutenant-Commander Billy Hartmann's situation and the story that Mr. Brown tells so engagingly is the story of how he works out the greatest problem in American life to-day.

It is a thrilling story, too, with the elements of love, intrigue, secret missions, spies and detectives, secret service men, interned German sailors, the submarine, the wireless, problems of allegiance, the dramatic powers of a fascinating widow who is a secret agent without knowing it — yet, through it all, runs the deeper note of "What is my country?"

"My Country" is the first novel to come out of our war with Germany,—a story of dual nationality, of torn hearts and triumphant patriotism. It is a significant book as well as an absorbing story.

"Teems with adventure and a deep sense of patriotism." — Washington Post.

"A story that takes the measure of 'Kultur' — a masterly exposure of German deviltry. It would be well to have it read by every American."— New York Tribune.

"A stirring story it is, so much adventure, good fighting and intrigue are packed into 'My Country.'" — Boston Post.

"The first American novel of our war. It is filled with intrigue, love, romance and war secrets." — New York Herald.

"Its atmosphere is filled with the German intrigue that amazed us during three years. It sets them forth in a manner that is as believable as it is sensational. Our eyes have already been opened to the almost incredible truth of German deeds, and they will remain wide open through the reading of every page of 'My Country.' It merely remains for Mr. Brown to write two novels yearly to become the Phillips Oppenheim of America. — Boston Transcript.

BURGESS, GELETT

Vivette: or, The Memoirs of the Romance Association

Small 12mo. Cloth. Postpaid, $1.25

SETTING forth the diverting adventures of one Richard Redforth in the very pleasant City of Millamours; how he took Service in the Association; how he met and wooed the gay Vivette; how they sped their Honeymoon and played the Town; how they spread a mad Banquet; of them that came thereto, and the Tales they told; of the Exploits of the principal Characters, and especially of the Disappearance of Vivette.

"Mr. Burgess displays infinite zest, and exhaustless resources of invention, and hurries his readers breathlessly along, from one astonishing and audacious situation to another, till the book is flung down at finis with a chuckle of appreciative laughter." — The Literary News.

DICKSON, HARRIS

The House of Luck

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated by E. M. Ashe. Net, $1.35

ROUND an almost-forgotten but highly dramatic episode of the Lower Mississippi of the 'thirties, Mr. Dickson (already with "She That Hesitates," "The Black Wolf's Breed," "Old Reliable," etc., the winner of a reputation for stories that are stories) has woven a novel that, with its startling revelations of human ingenuity, its brilliant display of the rare qualities of supreme courage, the splendid sweep of its narrative, captures the reader's attention at the very outset and holds it utterly.

The title is derived from the strange house by the river bank, around which most of the action centers and to which the hidden strings of the mysterious "speculators" all come back.

"Dickson is a great story-teller ; he always has a story to tell and he knows how to tell it." — Cincinnati Times-Star.

"Written with skill and feeling, Mr. Dickson's work has been of the kind that makes the reader want more, and the present volume is no exception." —Dial.

ENGLAND, GEORGE ALLAN

The Alibi

12mo. Cloth. With frontispiece in color by Modest Stein

Net, $1.25

ONE of the biggest mystery stories in years. It tells how Slayton, cashier of a metropolitan bank, planned and executed the clever "frame-up" that sent an innocent man to Sing Sing; how the man in prison lived, suffered and escaped; how he became again suspected of a great crime. The love of Enid Chamberlain for Arthur Mansfield and her unfailing faith make this novel a great romance as well as a vital portrayal of conditions.

"The story is interesting and worked out with ingenuity. The book is clever as well as timely." — New York Times.

"A powerful argument against conviction upon circumstantial evidence." — Spokane Chronicle.

Darkness and Dawn

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Net, $1.35

"ALLAN STERN, a civil engineer, and Beatrice Kendrick, his stenographer, rouse up one morning after a thousand years of insensibility which have been to them as only a day. They find themselves alone up in the Metropolitan Building, while far down below them lie the ruins of proud Manhattan, now tenanted by wild beasts. How the two start up a new civilization, incidentally settling their own love affairs, Mr. England will tell you in about seven hundred busy, buoyant pages; and he will point you out a new Utopia of free men, of fettered forces of nature, where in this new day labor reaps its full reward." — EDWIN MARKHAM, in Hearst's Magazine.

"The book is as unique as it is big, both in size and idea — a veritable tour de force of imagination and invention. An appealing and absorbing story." — New York Times.

FLANDRAU, CHARLES MACOMB

Harvard Episodes

12mo. Cloth. Net, 50 cents

EVERY college man, past and present, will find delight in reading 'Harvard Episodes' . . . gracefully and entertainingly told, breathing the healthy university life of an American lad, with it fads and its foibles, its traditions and its pleasures and pastimes." Hartford Telegram.

GERSTENBERG, ALICE

Unquenched Fire

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.25

A STUDY of temperament as it lures an impulsive Chicago girl out of her conventional social set into the hardships of stage life and capriciously dictates terms of success.

"There are remarkable flashes of insight and many revelations of clear understanding of human nature." — New York Times.

GILMAN, CHARLOTTE PERKINS (STETSON)

The Yellow Wall Paper

Small 12mo. Cloth. Net, 50 cents

"A CONCEIT fantastical enough to have emanated from the brain of Edgar Poe. It is written with remarkable vividness, as if the writer has experienced something very like that which she describes. The story has a purely literary justification but is none the worse for teaching a lesson which some husbands and parents would do well to heed." — The Christian Register.

GILMAN, DOROTHY FOSTER

✠The Bloom of Youth

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.25

"FULLNESS of characterization, wide range of subject and excellence of workmanship are notable in this novel of Radcliffe College and Boston society. She has caught and made visible to others that impalpable spirit of college youth, bringing out in sharp contrast the triumphs, the ideals, the disappointments and the residuum of fine things which survive to make up the spirit of modern American youth as it steps forth from the threshold of the American college." — Boston Transcript.

GLASPELL, SUSAN (Author of "The Glory of the Conquered," etc.)

Fidelity

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.35

"FIDELITY" is one of the most brillant American novels, and Ruth Holland is a character that will linger long in the memory.

The theme — the devotion of a young girl to the lover whose urgent need of her makes her loyalty to him self-sacrifice of a peculiarly poignant kind — is one that has seldom if ever been treated by an American novelist, and Miss Glaspell's remarkable skill in portraying the appealing situations which circumstances inevitably bring about is masterly.

"Brimming with life and love of living, faithful to her ideal of love and strong enough to preserve her fidelity even against herself, Ruth Holland is a character not soon to be forgotten." — Boston Transcript.

"It rings true from cover to cover, and this fact accounts in no small measure for its absorbing interest. The story is a big and real contribution to American novels." — New York Times.

"Miss Glaspell has written a powerful and significant book." — New York Evening Post.

" 'Fidelity' is a novel of distinguished merit." — Boston Herald.

GRAY, PHOEBE

The Golden Lamp

12mo. Cloth. With frontispiece in full color by Blanche Greer. Net, $1.35

ONE night the Binfords found on their doorstep a clothes-basket containing two baby boys. To the foot of one was attached a brass lamp. How the mystery of the babies was solved makes a story involving the rehabilitation of the saloon-ridden city of Bassford through the courage and generosity of Margaret Lake, and Margaret's own romance with Doctor Teddy.

"The story of men and women who are very human and exceedingly lovable." — Boston Transcript.

"A story brimful of humor, pathos, romance, mystery and suspense. There is a high spiritual quality in the book." — Boston Globe.

⑤Little Sir Galahad

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Net, $1.35

THE story of a little invalid boy who, by his serenity and triumphant faith, not only finds his way to robust young manhood, but casts about him a beautiful influence for good; of a staunch and loyal little girl, who grows to a winsome and beautiful womanhood — a pretty, charming romance and an ideal love; of a man redeemed from the degradation of intemperance; and of a brilliant financier who awakens to his own shortcomings, and makes a tremendous sacrifice to help meet the greatest need ever known in the history of the world.

"Nothing finer than he has ever appeared in fiction. His faith is glorious and his real appreciation of what it meant to be a Galahad Knight most touching. He saw that the Holy Grail is still to be sought in this world and still to be achieved, and that it is exemplified in noble purpose and right living. The story sets forth the very essence of faith in God, love of men and sound living." — Wilmington Every Evening.

HALLET, RICHARD MATTHEWS

The Lady Aft

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Net $1.35

ONCE in a while a new writer of power and originality appears on the horizon. It is a rare privilege to be among the first to recognize him, as it was to discover such writers, for instance, as Jack London or Joseph Conrad. Mr. Hallet belongs to this select company.

In "The Lady Aft" he tells a tempestuous story of the life of a "stiff" — a green hand — in the forecastle of a sailing vessel of the present day, a story that stimulates and surprises the reader's imagination while it thrills and compels his unforced enthusiasm.

"At last a writer worthy to be mentioned in the same breath with Joseph Conrad as an interpreter of the sailor and the sea. The author of 'The Lady Aft' is boldly individual. To those who prize that quality Mr. Hallet should be the most precious discovery in American fiction of recent years." — Boston Herald.

"The sweep of the sea and rush of winds, the flap of the frightened canvas and creaking of taut lines, the very roll and pitch of the old hooker is in the book. Indeed, Mr. Hallet knows the sea, knows the seaman and knows how to write." — Los Angeles Times.

† Trial by Fire

12mo. Cloth. With frontispiece by O. E. Cesare. Net, $1.25

A VIVID novel, portraying life on a Great Lakes ore boat, and, like all the author's work, distinguished by a penetrative interpretation of the philosophy of life itself. A book for the most rigidly discriminating reader.

"There is something distinctly American in this story about life on the Yuly Yinks, one of the ore-boats plying on the Great Lakes, probably because they themselves are so uniquely American. The book is notable for its vivid pictures and characterizations of the men who 'get the steam.'" — New York Times.

"'Trial by Fire' is a worthy companion of Ernest Poole's 'The Harbor.'" — New York Call.

"A gripping story." — Wisconsin Library Bulletin.

HARRIS, CREDO

Sunlight Patch

12mo. Cloth. Frontispiece in color by George W. Gage. Net, $1.35

A NOVEL of Kentucky written as only a Kentuckian can write about his own State. It is the story of Dale Dawson, of Sunlight Patch, an unawakened giant whose one idea is to get an education. The development of Dale's character, the growth of a better, more unselfish nature within him, forms the theme of the book, which is full of exciting and interesting incidents and lightened by frequent touches of genuine humor.

"An unusually fine novel; it has the rare human interest which springs from fidelity to life." — Rochester Post-Express.

HARRISON, HENRY SYDNOR (Author of "Queed," etc.)

Captivating Mary Carstairs

12mo. Cloth. With a frontispiece by R. M. Crosby. Net, $1.35

A FINE story of gay young love.

"The author is to be congratulated, for he has handled the plot with consummate skill and has drawn his characters with the deft, sure touch of a master. Mary Carstairs certainly is captivating — the author works out the love scenes with surprising daintiness and good sense. 'Captivating Mary Carstairs' has all the elements to insure popularity, but it has additional merit, making it a book which is really worth while." — Rochester Union and Advertiser.

HILL, MARION

Georgette; or, The Lure of Crooning Water

12mo. Cloth. Frontispiece in color by Arthur Hutchins. Net, $1.25

THE story of Georgette Verlaine, a very charming woman who is compelled temporarily to give up her stage career and go up into the Delaware Water Gap country of the State of New York to recuperate. Her physician sends her to the farm of one Horace Dornblazer who has a devoted wife and three delightful children. The story deals with the exciting and delicious situation that arises out of the introduction of so scintillating and worldly a personality into the midst of surroundings of the utmost simplicity.

✠The Van Haavens

12mo. Cloth. With four illustrations and wrapper in full color by H. R. Ballinger. Net, $1.35

THIS might be called the story of a family. The elder Van Haavens would have spoken of THE FAMILY — and would have allowed modern life to engulf them even while they resented its encroachments. On the shoulders of young Willoughby Van Haaven fell all the burden of sustaining The Family in its struggle with the world, and the story of his fight is inspiring.

"A varied and interesting tale, fresh and original. In conception and manner indeed out of the conventional lines, it seems to indicate that the author greatly enjoyed the writing of it."—New York Times.

"A very comprehensive study of an American family. The author is eminently successful and his observation and understanding of his characters deserve high praise."—Boston Transcript.

ex machina to Chris, and Claude, and Dan, and Fortescue, and all the other men and women, young and old, who step blithely forth to meet us from the mellow pages of this delightful novel.

"A delightful piece of writing. There are not many modern stories told with such cleverness. The millionaires seem human — which is unusual since stories of their lives are generally written by those who know least about them from a personal standpoint — and the artists are excessively human as well as realistic. The pleasing fashion in which the book is written gives it fine flavor. It leaves you with a good taste in your mouth." — Philadelphia Inquirer.

JOHNSON, FANNY KEMBLE

✠†The Beloved Son

12mo. Cloth. With a frontispiece and a wrapper in full color by George W. Gage. Net, $1.35

AS a novel of real people, as a love idyl, and above all as a portrayal of the beautiful relation of father to son, the book is distinguished. It has in it qualities that ought to give it a permanent place in American letters.

"The story is very largely concerned with the delightful relations between an American father and his son. There is interwoven with it a lovely thread of romance." — Boston Advertiser.

"The charm and delicacy of this book recall the days of Barrie's 'Sentimental Tommy'. One must look beyond narrative and plot to understand it; must, indeed, comprehend those finer things of the spirit to appreciate what the author has really done with such rare skill. To the appreciative, discriminating reader the book is to be recommended."—Lowell Courier-Citizen.

"It is ably written and is worth reading." — A. L. A. Booklist.

Toya the Unlike

Small 12mo. Cloth. With frontispiece in color by Arthur Hutchins. Net, $1.00

A DAUGHTER of a Japanese mother and an American father, Toya finds New York a puzzle, and when love comes, she shows how "unlike" she is, how unexpectedly Japanese and how even more unexpectedly American.

"A romance as fragrant and pretty as a Japanese cherry grove in bloom." Philadelphia Press.

KINGSLEY, FLORENCE MORSE

Wilhelmina Changes Her Mind

Small 12mo. Cloth. Illustrated by Robert A. Graef. Net, $1.00

"ANY reader already familiar with the quality of the work of the author of 'The Transfiguration of Miss Philura,' 'The Singular Miss Smith,' etc., will take up this book with lively expectations of pleasure to come. Nor will he be disappointed; Wilhelmina changes her mind with equal speed and unexpectedness, and the results of her countless changes of purpose constitute an entertaining volume." — Boston Transcript.

KIRKLAND, WINIFRED

The Christmas Bishop

Small 12mo. Cloth. Illustrated by Louise G. Morrison. Net, $1.00

THE story of a great-hearted Episcopal bishop and how his influence made itself felt on a certain Christmas.

"The book has the distinction that comes from a noble personality that is at once strong and fine."—New York Times.

LANCASTER, HEWES

Marie of Arcady

12mo. Cloth. Frontispiece by Rose O'Neill. Postpaid, $1.25

A CHARMING and dramatic story of the 'Cajan people, who are the descendents of the Acadians, the exiles of the "Evangeline" legend, and dwell on the shore of a bayou near the lower Mississippi, remote from the world and the century.

✠The One and the Other

Small 12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.00

THEY were twin brothers and they were given names — real names—which were never used, for from the time they could creep they were known only as L'Un and L'Autre. It is L'Un who assumes the position of head of the family.

LANCASTER, HEWES (Continued)

"A simple and appealing story. The Louisiana bayou-country atmosphere has been well preserved, and the Acadian patois is well handled." — A. L. A. Booklist.

"There is real charm and geniune human nature in this little story. It deserves for its simplicity and truth a wide reading." — Outlook.

"A work of art, even better than the author's previous book, 'Marie of Arcady,' which is saying much." — San Francisco Argonaut.

LORIMER, GEORGE HORACE

Letters from a Self-Made Merchant to His Son

MACBETH, MADGE

Kleath

12mo. Cloth. With illustrations in color and black and white by George W. Gage. Net, $1.35

A GLOWING STORY of Dawson City and life in the Klondike in the days of the rush for gold — a story that is distinctly different because the climax of the interest comes in the working out of a situation which would have been amazingly and emotionally big in any environment but which came, and could come, to its full flower only in such primitive and untrammeled conditions as existed in the Yukon region when the rush was at its height.

Christopher Kleath comes to Dawson to work on the new paper. There is mystery about him. He pays no attention to the wiles of the women who flock to Tim Meadows' saloon. In fact only Tim's daughter attracts him — and the wife of Dawson's physician is jealous, because the stranger fascinates her. The big scene of the story is an absolutely novel situation, dramatic to the last degree, and the reader closes the book with a feeling of having been in the presence of the very forces of nature herself, working inexorably on men and women in the grip of circumstance.

"A splendid story for those who like thrill and aetion, the doings of rugged men living under primitive conditions, strong in their hates and equally strong in their loves." — Boston Globe.

MacCONNELL, SARAH WARDER

Why, Theodora!

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated by Frank Godwin. Net, $1.25

"THE best kind of light fiction. It is written with an evident delight in its own charming heroine. The style is free, surprising and self-effacing. — New Republic.

MOFFETT, CLEVELAND

The Mysterious Card

Small 12mo. Cloth. Net, 25 cents

"THIS story created a great amount of interest and speculation, perhaps more than any short story of the decade."—Boston Transcript.

✠The Best Short Stories of 1915 and the Yearbook of the American Short Story

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.50

THE twenty short stories in this volume are those selected by Mr. O'Brien as the best that were written by American authors and published in forty-six American magazines during the year 1915. His survey of the whole field formed the basis of his critical article published, as an annual estimate of the output, in the Boston Evening Transcript, an article which attracted wide discussion. This article is the basis of the Introduction to the volume and there is added a complete list of the distinctive short stories published in the American magazines during 1915 as well as during 1914, the first year in which Mr. O'Brien made his analytical study.

It is a volume of unique interest in American literature.

"From every point of view — from that of the actual probabilities of reading enjoyment to be derived from it by all sorts of readers; from that of the vivid and varied, but always valid, concernment with life that it maintains; from that of technical literary interest in American letters, and from that of sheer aesthetic response to artistic quality — it warrants an emphatic and unconditional recommendation to all." — Life.

"A collection of such wide range and diverse style as to represent almost every type of deservedly popular magazine story. It needs no vote to determine the worth of the collection as a whole — good tales, varied, well-told, new, are sure of popular approval." — The Independent.

"The volume is indispensable to every student of American fiction, and will furnish each successive year a critical and historical survey of the art such as does not exist in any other form." — Boston Transcript.

"The American reader may well place it beside Mr. Braithwaite's similar anthology of verse and feel rather well fortified against the attacks of transatlantic critics." — Chicago Evening Post.

✠[13] The Best Short Stories of 1916 and the Yearbook of the American Short Story

12mo. Cloth. Gilt top. 472 pages. Net, $1.50

THIS is the second of Mr. O'Brien's annual volumes on the year's short stories. These volumes present the only authoritative survey of the short story, and the present volume is based on the reading of the short stories published during 1916 in seventy American periodicals.

All of these stories are classified in a very complete index of authors and titles, and the literary value of each story is indicated, with bibliographical notes. The volume includes also a list of all books of short stories published during 1916, a Roll of Honor of the best one hundred and ten American stories, a Necrology and a critical analysis of the fifty best American short stories. These chapters are based on Mr. O'Brien's annual articles on the American short story in The Boston Transcript and The Bookman.

The greater part of the volume is occupied by the text of the twenty stories which Mr. O'Brien finds to be the best by American authors published in American magazines during the year.

The A. L. A. Booklist places "The Best Short Stories of 1916" in its "Small Library List."

FIFTY AMERICAN SHORT STORIES OF 1916: A CRITICAL SUMMARY.

NECROLOGY FOR 1916.

MAGAZINE AVERAGES FOR 1916.

INDEX OF SHORT STORIES FOR 1916.

"A volume that it is a pleasant duty to commend, alike for the wide variety and consistent quality of the entertainment its twenty tales offer to any lover of the short-story form; for the practical educative value of its author's sane, sound and uniquely applied and demonstrated criticism; and for the incalculable influence that its annual appearance and discriminating awards are coming to have upon American letters. Mr. O'Brien's work is a labor of love deserving of the widest recognition and support.—J. B. KERFOOT, in Life.

"Authors, editors, librarians, teachers of English, teachers of short story writing and others find it indispensable. Many colleges have adopted the book as a regular feature of their courses in English and short-story writing." — Philadelphia Ledger.

O'HIGGINS, HARVEY J.

Old Clinkers

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated by Martin Justice. Postpaid, $1.50

A THRILLING story of the fire-fighters, a companion volume to the same author's "The Smoke-Eaters."

O'SULLIVAN, VINCENT

The Good Girl

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.50

A NOVEL of permanent literary significance which, says Edward Garnett, in the Atlantic Monthly, "entitles its author to a place among the first twenty American novelists."

"It is a work of genius in every sense of that work," says John Cowper Powys, in his One Hundred Best Books, "and it produces on the mind that curious sense of completness and finality which only such works produce."

Mr. O'Sullivan's short stories in such magazines as Scribner's, Century, etc., have gained him a rapidly growing circle of readers who are eager to read everything that he writes.

"It is not too much to say that 'The Good Girl' is one of the twenty best books by living American novelists." — New York Evening Post.

" 'The Good Girl' is a very candid effort, in which brilliance of portraiture nowise interferes with strong narrative interest." — Boston Herald.

"Its exceptional interest and quality are hereby commended to lovers of good fiction." — J. B. KERFOOT, in Life.

Sentiment

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Net, $1.50

MR. O'SULLIVAN'S understanding of people is penetrating, but it is so warm-hearted that it has nothing of the cynicism so often associated with the interpreter of human nature. His portrayal of his characters, therefore, is exceedingly diverting and he tells his story with a whimsicality, as well as a sincerity, that make it a great delight to read.

"Sentiment" will still further strengthen and confirm its author's standing as a novelist. Arnold Bennett burst upon the American reading public as an English novelist of power and genius whom it was a distinction and also a delight to know. Vincent O'Sullivan, by his recent return from twenty years in England, bids fair to have the same experience, and his rapidly growing circle of American admirers can take to themselves the added joy that he is an American.

PHILLIPS, MARY E.

Tommy Tregennis

12mo. Cloth. Printed on special deckle-edge paper. Net, $1.20

A CHARMING picture of life in a little Cornish fishing village presenting as its figure of chief interest a mischievous youngster by the name of Tommy Tregennis. It is one of those rare books that appeal to readers of all ages.

"Child psychology is so elusive and fleeting a thing that only occasionally is it captured and successfully imprisoned. By reason of its rarity it is all the more valued, and we cherish books whose standards are those of 'Emmy Lou' and 'Wee MacGreegor.' 'Tommy Tregennis' is fully capable of acquiring entrance to this advanced society." — Boston Transcript.

PIER, ARTHUR STANWOOD

The Pedagogues: A Story of the Harvard Summer School

12mo. Cloth. Net, 50 cents

"THE best story of the sort I have read in many a day," says the reviewer for The Criterion. "The best drawn characters are those of Gorch, a school principal of Peru, Ohio, and Gorch's sweetheart, a joyously vulgar, cocky, unscrupulous girl, from that same town of Peru. A bright, graceful story, charmingly and wittily written."

ROOF, KATHARINE METCALF

The Stranger at the Hearth

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.35

THE subject might be said to be New York City — now — to-day — and the great throngs of people of alien races that immigration has brought to our shores. Not how the alien can be Americanized but how the city that is called the American metropolis is being affected by the alien — de-Americanized, if we may adopt the idea of one of Miss Roof's characters — this is the standpoint from which Miss Roof views the substance of her story.

The story concerns a charming American woman who, after a ten year's absence, returns to visit New York, accompanied by her husband, a fascinating Italian nobleman.

"Fresh in spirit, unhackneyed in its directness, and worth reading as a representation of American life". — Boston Transcript.

SHEDD, GEORGE C.

The Incorrigible Dukane

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Net, $1.25

THE story of a rich man's son who has been a good deal of a ne'er-do-well, and what he does when thrown on his own resources.

With John Barrymore in the title-role, "The Incorrigible Dukane" has been made into a moving-picture and has won an enviable success.

SHEDD GEORGE C. (Continued)

The Isle of Strife

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated by Stanley L. Wood. Net, $1.25

ON a quiet little island off the coast of Maine a young man in accidental possession of the plan of a European fortification becomes thereby involved in the most amazing adventures with German secret agents and incidentally becomes the centre of an absorbing romance.

"Capitally told, a vivid romance that holds our interest to the end." — San Francisco Argonaut.

"Never did a book live up to its title more accurately." — McClure's Magazine.

SHELDON, CHARLES M.

Of One Blood

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.25

THE theme of this remarkable novel by the famous author of "In His Steps" is the brotherhood of man.

"A watchword of peace for days of strife." — Congregationalist.

"He knows how to strike the note of elemental human feeling. He can, also, and frequently does in these pages, write with eloquence and persuasive force. It will make a strong appeal to young men." — New York Times.

"It has a sincerity that cannot be ignored." — New York Evening Post.

"A strong story. It is a book that will arouse dissent, but will be difficult to answer." — Chicago Advance.

SIDGWICK, ETHEL

✠Hatchways

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.40

"IT is gladdening that the one recent novel which contains the clearest glimpse of serene and timeless beauty should be also among the most local and realistic. Hatchways is.....an unpretentious social comedy of eight or nine unforgettable people, introduced to us at a country estate which gives its name to the book. Hatchways is one expression of its mistress, Mrs. Ernestine Redgate: like her, it is coolness and quietude, taste and beauty, a haven of all the perfections. To tired people, the very thought of Hatchways was peace. The other, more intangible, expression of Ernestine is her silent and effortless smoothing out of many tangles in the lives of people who will never realize what she has done for them.

"Hatchways has received the stupid official frown of the London Athenaeum for having nothing to do with the war. It has, everything. To begin with, Miss Sidwick shows us the best of England and the best of France flashing out like released lightning to accept each other, in the time before the war. But there is a greater thing, which can be expressed only by saying that the book swallowed the war, gulped it down, got outside of it without a thought of evasion. This is why every chapter has the tremulous and noble beauty of a face which, having once known and conquered the uttermost of sorrow, can thereafter smile — and wait.

"Even the principled student of letters will at some time or other incontinently risk himself in prophecy; and at least one student is predicting that the twenty-first century will hear pens scratching (if there are any left then) in honor of this novelist's centenary, as the present year hears them in honor of Jane Austen's. One hopes it will be as late as possible in the twenty-first century."—Atlantic Monthly.

A Lady of Leisure

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.35

A BRILLIANTLY written novel of English upper class life, the story of a charming, clever girl endowed with all that wealth and social position can give her, who, to gratify a whim, enters a dressmaking business with a worthy but bromidic and tasteless lady who has an establishment at Battersea. Among those who are closely associated with this "work for choice" lady of leisure are her parents, whose domestic relations are in a measure responsible for her choice of a profession, a clergyman, his second wife and their respective children by previous marriages, a gardener named Vane Peacock, who is a handsome creature with a mysterious past and the son of a baronet—all characters who have stepped from life into the pages of Miss Sidgwick's book. The story is told with rare appreciation of values and with exceptional literary finish.

"Brilliant conversation, delicate and allusive treatment of love situations and wit mark the tale." —Outlook.

Duke Jones

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.35

"A CONTINUATION of 'A Lady of Leisure.' It carries on the story of Violet Ashwin and Charles Shovell after their marriage. Violet and Charles, while on their honeymoon down in Cornwall, make friends with Marmaduke Jones, an unimposing little man who attracted these two bright and whimsical young people by his very insignificance. Charles said that Jones had been born without an aura and believed that he had discovered in him the proverbial 'man in the street.' But Jones, unimportant as he is, proves to be made of heroic stuff and rises nobly to the occasion that gives him his opportunity to show his loyalty and devotion to these two friends. The affairs of the three become interwoven with those of Violet's beautiful and erring cousin, Lisette. Violet's mother, Lady Ashwin, is also an important figure in the story." — Book Review Digest.

"It is full of interest and of subtlety, and finely written." — London Spectator.

"Miss Ethel Sidgwick has written another novel of quality. All of Miss Sidgwick's well-known characteristics are here — the design, the delicate creation, the vivacity and the humane charm. The story indeed, as a mere feat in holding the reader's attention, is noteworthy. And, while not without subtlety, it is a tale for all readers, and not for the mere literary. A very fine novel — one of the finest in recent years." — Springfield Republican.

✠The Accolade

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.35

"THIS novel belongs to the group that already includes 'A Lady of Leisure" and 'Duke Jones.' In it Miss Sidgwick continues her study of the Ingestre family, devoting herself this time to the main branch and to young John Ingestre, the heir. Young John inherits a love for the stage and a talent for acting from his grandmother. Cut short in a career in which he might have found scope for his abilities and an outlet for his tempestuous humors, and forced into an uncongenial marriage, he is, at the opening of this story, ready for an outbreak. It comes in his love for beautiful Helena Falkland, much younger than he, but congenial and sympathetic to his moods as his perfectly balanced Ursula could never be. In her handling of the forces that restrain him, the author exercises her characteristically delicate skill." — Book Review Digest.

"Miss Sidgwick is one of the supreme English novelists of today. . . . The artistic triumph of 'The Accolade' is an honor to English fiction. Not only in John Ingestre does Miss Sidgwick triumph, but in every character in the story. It is a fine achievement."—WILLIAM STANLEY BRAITHWAITE, in the Boston Transcript.

"Many sided and luminous, it cannot fail to leave with its readers an abiding impression, a sense, too, of having been ennobled by its companionship." — New York Times.

"To readers of fine fiction, a novel by Miss Sidgwick is always a notable literary event. She has established herself as an artist in finished character-drawing, in delicate design and creation and in sympathetic comedy. 'The Accolade' is a book that will stand with the permanent volumes of English fiction, as will this author's other work." — Chicago Evening Post.

"Discriminating investors will derive from their outlay of time and money a thoroughly adequate return in their enjoyment of this writer's deftness and delicacy, both of perception and treatment." — Life.

"She is the first and thus far the only English woman novelist of a younger generation (artistically at least) who, with each new laudable performance, continues to give new promise as well. In her books plot and character are inextricably interwoven, a firm whole of interaction and reaction." — New York Tribune.

✠Herself

12mo. Cloth. Frontispiece in color by Carton Moorepark. Net, $1.35

A STORY that is primarily a study of Irish character. Harriett Clench is the daughter of a clan, the Clenches, who originated somewhere "West of West" in Ireland. The Clenches as a clan are hot, impulsive, impractical and lovable. Harriet differs from them in that she is practical, and her father Brian and her cousin Pat, known universally as "Kathleen's son," are typical of the clan at its improvident best. Harriet is left, consequently, to face the world unaided. She does so in a French girls' school and as a private secretary in an English provincial neighborhood where her Irish independence and charm are misunderstood. The man of the story is Geoffry Horn, an Englishman, who first comes into the Clench family history by befriending Patrick in Paris.

"A charmingly written story." — A. L. A. Booklist.

"The charm of the book is in its quiet quaint flavor, its new and unlabored twang of style in the best sense of the word." — The Nation.

✠Promise

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.35

A STORY which follows the development of a child genius. The child of promise is Antoine Edgell, half English and half French. His musical genius and the artistic temperament the boy inherits from his French mother, but together with his brilliance and ability there is in him a level-headedness and a consistency of purpose which must have been an inheritance from his father, the practical engineer. For through all the phases of his development, while those in whose care he is are trying to shape his career, the boy holds persistently his own individuality and follows out his own purposes. As in other books by the author, this one is rich in vivid characterization.

"An unusual story. The life of a young musical genius, half French and half English, is portrayed during his childhood and schooldays, and the theme consists in proving the futility of the influence either of environment or personality in controlling his artistic impulse." — A. L. A. Booklist.

"It would be hard to find in recent fiction anywhere a more complete, life-like and brilliant characterization than this." — New York Times.

"Miss Sidgwick has entered the field of fiction to become a commanding figure."— New York Sun.

Succession: A Comedy of the Generations

A Continuation of "Promise"

12 mo. Cloth. Net, $1.50

MISS SIDGWICK continues in "Succession" what she began in 'Promise', the history of the boy violinist of genius, Antoine Edgell, half French and half English, from the time he returns to France to live with his old grandfather the composer, his uncle and his elder brother until he is taken away again by his British father "for his health's sake" on a trip to America. It takes him therefore through a vital period of his triumphant career, from his debut in London to his success in Paris and Munich; reintroduces most of the characters in "Promise" and adds many new ones, drawn with equal brillance. The temperament of the musician and the genius is the theme; the psychological analysis is subtly subordinated to the humanities of the principal characters; and the conclusion is a triumph for the younger generation. The novel, as a work of art, is of course quite complete in itself.

"She appears to us to possess that true imaginative gift, as distinguished from the mere power of vivid reporting, which is the necessary qualification for continuing to produce work of permanent value in fiction." — London Times.

" 'Succession' is a finished literary performance which, regarded from many points of view, is remarkable. We express our admiration for the rare skill with which a succession of three generations of a gifted family, viewed merely in their physical relationship one to another, or in their artistic inheritance, is handled. The boy, left by his English father under contract to the great French virtuoso, his grandfather, escapes and achieves succcess with comparative ease, but the torture which a highly strung temperament can suffer at the hands of his best and dearest makes a study of poignant interest. The technical quality of the dialogue and the restrained yet profound emotional interest show the artistry of the writer." — London Athenaeum.

"It places Miss Sidgwick unmistakably among the leading novelists of the day." — London Morning Post.

"A novel that leaves one remembering a chain of scenes vividly impressed, and a good dozen of characters profoundly imagined and beautifully drawn." — Manchester Guardian.

"In the person of this young woman a new figure of unusually brilliant power has arisen in English fiction. She is the first woman novelist of the new period — the period of Wells, Galsworthy, Bennett, Merrick and Walpole — to accomplish as they have accomplished the conquest of the American public and critics. Miss Sidgwick comes of distinguished family connections in the English literary world. 'Succession' is indeed a tremendous piece of work. It is not only one of the big novels of the year, but also a permanent contribution to English fiction." — Boston Transcript.

"Ethel Sidgwick is the world's next great woman novelist. I'm confident that within ten years the critical perspective will show her on this pinnacle. Since George Eliot and the Brontés, I can think of no woman who has focused art and life so intensely into novel writing." — MARGARET C. ANDERSON, in The Little Review (Chicago).

✠Le Gentleman

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.25

THE "gentleman" of the story is Alexander Fergusson, a Scotsman with an Oxford education who comes to Paris for a needed rest and to be near Meysie Lampeter, the English girl to whom he is engaged. The title is given him in half derision by a young French girl who in her study of English literature has reached Tennyson's "Idyls" and who finds in him the ideal of an English gentleman there exemplified in King Arthur. In the bohemian society to which Meysie's friends belong and in the intimacy into which he finds himself drawn with Gilberte, Alexander is called on to live up to that ideal, just as Gilberte is required to be true to her own ideals of family duty.

"The atmosphere of the Latin Quarter is convincing and the story is exceedingly well done." — A. L. A. Booklist.

"The detail of the story is fresh and delightful." — Nation.

SNAITH, J. C.

Broke of Covenden

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.35

THE STORY of an English country family. This wonderful novel, first published in 1904, has sturdily outlived many a "best-seller" and to-day its place is secure among the really great works of English fiction.

"From the first moment Mr. Snaith makes your attention his willing slave you read with that rare vacillation which urges you to hurry forward for the story and to linger for the detail." — Atlantic Monthly.

STEELE, L. M.

Dr. Nick

12mo. Cloth. Frontispiece in color by Ronald Anderson. Net, $1.40

DOCTOR RIDEAU was a wonderful man, half priest, half healer, beloved of all the poor in the neighborhood of his hospital — especially the mothers. So it was not strange, when the little Russian boy, Nikon, arrived in America to find that his father had been killed that morning and that the authorities wanted to send him back to Russia, that Doctor Rideau should recognize the beauty of his spirit as coming from a great love and should also note the wonder of his hands. Doctor Rideau took Nikon into the hospital and there he grew up and became a doctor.

Meanwhile Naida was growing up. Her girlhood, like Nikon's boyhood, was spent among scenes where life was deeply involved with struggle, yet like Nikon she had her imagination and she clothed her world with happiness.

So when, at the beginning of the story, Nikon and Naida meet, they have learned to know what life means to them.

Their story is the story of what they come to mean to each other.

"There is every evidence of real genius in this absorbing story, with its wonderful beginning and innumerable passages that arrest attention." —Boston Globe.

"'Dr. Nick' makes a distinct claim on our attention. No New York novel of recent date has surpassed 'Dr. Nick' in original and creative character work, and no fervent believer in individualism has come nearer to fitting the figment of his dreams into the fabric of actual life."—J. B. KERFOOT, in Life.

"A remarkable book, worthy of much more than a casual reading of the thoughts expressed, and containing at least one vital character which will not be readily forgotten." — New York Times.

STEPHENS, JAMES (Author of "The Crock of Gold," etc.)

✠Mary, Mary

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.20

HERE is a novel by the author of "The Crock of Gold" and "Here Are Ladies" which might almost be said to establish a new "style" in the art of fiction, a rare privilege to observe in any contemporary literature. Mr. Stephens tells the story of the development of a young girl's nature from childish dreamland to the coming of love, — not a new theme, to be sure, but as handled by this great Irish author a vivid and poignantly appealing progress. His method is infinite tenderness; its result unforgettable. And he has a fine humor that combines the pathos of passing childhood with the ebullient joy of eager young womanhood.

The title of the book in England is "The Charwoman's Daughter." Mr. Stephens won the Polignac Prize, 1913.

"A charming story full of delicacy and humorous insight, which relates the growing up of 'Mary Makebelieve,' the dreamy, imaginative little daughter of an Irish charwoman." — A. L. A. Booklist.

"One of the most exquisite books we have read in years." — New York Times.

"It is a very long time indeed since we read such a human, satisfying book." — Punch.

"Is goodness a common commodity of life, like air? Certainly, we take pure air and goodness pretty much for granted. Generally we awaken to their full value only when they are thinned or poisoned by some other element. So it comes about that through evil one learns about goodness. This simple truth has been explained by JAMES STEPHENS in one of his matchless Irish novels.

> Humanity is timid and lazy, a believer in golden means and subterfuges and compromises, loath to address itself to any combat until its frontiers are virtually overrun and its cities and granaries and places of refuge are in jeopardy from those gloomy marauders. In that wide struggle which we call Progress, evil is always the aggressor and the vanquished, and it is right that this should be so, for without its onslaughts and depredations humanity might fall to a fat slumber upon its corn sacks and die snoring; or, alternat vely, lacking these valorous alarms and excursions, it might become self-satisfied and formularized, and be crushed to death by the mere du l density of virtue.

It is hard to read goodness into the Great War or to apply EMERSON's doctrine of compensations to it—though perhaps our sons and grandsons will be equal to that task. But JAMES STEPHENS hadn't world history in mind when he wrote "Mary, Mary," and perhaps that is why "Mary, Mary" makes such good reading in war time."—Editorial in Collier's Weekly of June 23, 1917.

STEVENSON, BURTON E. (Author of "The Holladay Case," "The Mystery of the Boule Cabinet, etc.)

A King in Babylon

12mo. Cloth. With illustrations in color and in black and white by W. H. D. Koerner. Net, $1.50

DO you ever long for a story that will give you the same keen enjoyment that was yours when you used to yield in glad surrender to the spell of some master story-teller, to read on and on in delighted anticipation, until at the end you drew a long breath and rushed out to tell your next friend that you had discovered a great story?

Well, here you have it!

No mere account of the story can give you much of an idea of its power. It is a tale that is new — the story of an American motion picture company and the things that befall them as they film a great picture in the romantic setting of a lovely Egyptian oasis.

Warren Creel, the "movie" director, to save his employer from disaster, works out a picture-play from Henley's poem:

"When I was a king in Babylon and you were a Christian slave."

The atmosphere is steeped in mystery and the development of the plot will satisfy the most intense craving for excitement. The amazing possibilities of the modern art of the motion picture, against the background of forty centuries, make a story that is the finest thing that Mr. Stevenson has ever done.

"FINE stories of professional baseball players, picturing the crisis of each one's life." — A. L. A. Booklist.

Inside the Ropes.

12mo. Cloth. With illustrations by Arthur Hutchins. Net, $1.25

A COLLECTION of stories of the prize-ring, emphasizing the human element of the pugilist rather than prize-fighting itself.

"Reading 'Inside the Ropes' will prove an eminently humanizing occupation. There are eleven stories in the book, and most of them show the fastest kind of foot work. Moreover, though you may high-browishly be inclined to set them down as lightweights, you'll find there isn't one of them that hasn't 'got a punch.' And if you can read 'The Leadville Blacksmith' and get away without a laugh, you had better have an osteopath see your funny bone. And when you've read them yourselves and got the uplift that's coming to you from them, be sure you recommend them to some of the super-civilized folk whom we'll now call back to the meeting. They'd do them a world of good." — J. B. KERFOOT, in Life.

The Lucky Seventh

12mo. Cloth. With a frontispiece by Hibbard V. B. Kline. Net, $1.25

NINE stories of baseball players, each told with Mr. Van Loan's characteristic humor and humanity.

"Mr. Van Loan knows the inside of baseball and the lives of those who make the sport popular. Better still he knows how to tell a story." — Boston Transcript.

"You can't fool a baseball player on a baseball story," says Ty Cobb. " 'The Lucky Seventh' is a hit."

VAN SCHAICK, GEORGE

A Top-Floor Idyl

12mo. Cloth. With illustrations by Chase Emerson. Net, $1.50

IN his new book Mr. Van Schaick tells a charming story of a young mother and her blessed baby, of David, the diffident bachelor novelist who is her neighbor on the top floor of an old-fashioned New York boarding-house, of a "strong-minded" but gentle-souled woman painter, and of a young physician with ideas of his own about human nature.

The story is idyllic in sentiment but none the less dramatic in its big moments — and the readers of the author's "Sweetapple Cove," "The Son of the Otter," and "The Girl at Big Loon Post" know what to expect in his treatment of the simple fundamentals of the human drama.

"A Top-Floor Idyl" is more like "Sweetapple Cove" in style and sentiment than any other book the author has written since the publication of that popular story.

✠The Girl at Big Loon Post

12mo. Cloth With a frontispiece in color and three other illustrations in black and white by I. D Sisson. Net, $1.35

A DEEPLY moving story of the great north woods, of life and love at a Hudson's Bay trading-post, of chicanery and intrigue, of bravery and devotion.

The author knows his country and few writers can compete with him as a story-teller in his chosen field. Like his previous books, the new novel is marked by an unaffected sincerity, which adds zest to the reader's pleasure.

Listed by the A. L. A. Booklist in the Small Library List.

"Those who have read that fine story 'The Son of the Otter' will expect something good from the pen of its author. In 'The Girl at Big Loon Post' he gives us a vivid picture of a Hudson's Bay trading-post in which the noble and the vile sides of human nature are revealed. The story is as full of exciting episodes as any of Dumas' romances." — Rochester Post-Express.

†The Son of the Otter

12mo. Cloth. With a frontispiece in color by George W. Gage. Net, $1.25

THE scenes of "The Son of the Otter" are laid in a country little traversed in fiction. One gets a vivid picture of the great trackless wastes of the Canadian fur country — its long, bitterly cold days, and nights full of strange terror. The love of Ahteck, the big trapper, a man of primitive instincts and large virtues, for little Mititesh, is full of wild beauty and romance.

There is a spaciousness and breadth in Mr. Van Schaick's style which gives whatever he writes a strong emotional appeal. From cover to cover one is held spellbound as the plot unfolds, and one lays the book down with a sigh of regret that there is not more to follow.

"Mr. Van Schaick has done something new. He has written a story of the great North in which the characters, not only in semblance but in spirit, are human beings. Drawn simply and boldly, without any heroics, the figure of Ahteck is extraordinarily impressive. The style is plain and direct, with the restraint that gives evidence of reserve power." — Nation.

" 'The Son of the Otter' must not be thought of for an instant as 'another of those Canadian stories.' It is different and better, a romance, truly enough, but not of southern civilization transplanted in the north. It is of the north itself, and the hero is an Indian, as is his well-beloved, and they are real and simple souls, not so greatly different after all from people in more clement climates. The idyl is carried through the yellow forests to summer and the terrible white cold of winter's darkness, and always it bears the air of romantic truth." — Chicago Daily News.

"The novel is of high order and literary merit, ranking with the Canadian stories of Sir Gilbert Parker." — Baltimore Sun.

"A refreshing romance . . . vigorously told." — Wisconsin Library Bulletin.

®Sweetapple Cove

12mo. Cloth. Frontispiece in full color by George W. Gage. Net, $1.35

WHEN John Grant decides to leave the promising practice which he has begun to call his own in New York, and voluntarily go where life is harder and a man must prove himself a man as well as a physician, he goes "home" to Newfoundland. Quite by chance he chooses to settle in Sweetapple Cove, where a brave parson and his brave wife have been ministering to the physical as well as to the spiritual ills of the fisher-folk, to whom life is a constant struggle with death. To the Cove in search of the excellent salmon-fishing of which he has heard comes Walter Jelliffe, in his yacht Snowbird, accompanied by his daughter, Helen. Jelliffe breaks his leg and is laid by for weeks with Grant as his physician — and then the story begins! It is a rare story of heroism, of the out-of-doors in calm and storm, of true love — a story told with a transparent sincerity that gives the author at once a place among the writers of real literature.

"A book admirably conceived and well done. It has freshness and vitality, excellent pictures of island life and a fine, noble spirit throughout." — New York Tribune.

"A wholesome, thrilling story, full of the winds of the sea, of unaffected sentiment and of the bravery of simple, unaffected folk is something to be marked, as the saying goes, with a white stone. So let there be a white stone at once for 'Sweetapple Cove', to signalize it as a delightful story, well worth reading." — Springfield Republican.

WALLACE, EDGAR

The Clue of the Twisted Candle

12mo. Cloth. Frontispiece in color by I. D. Sisson. Net, $1.25

THERE is action a-plenty in this exciting story of the skill of Kara, the Greek, — educated at Yale and notable in London society for his unlimited purse — in weaving a net about his friends and acquaintances, and especially about one whose life is so strangely bound up with his own.

There are only a few genuinely unusual detective stories in the world; this seems likely to be added to their number. And the particular reader will appreciate the way in which the story is told.

"A decidedly clever, well-worked-out detective story."—Outlook.

Kate Plus 10

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Net, $1.35

THERE is something mysterious, something inviting, in the very name of "Kate Plus 10!"

Who is Kate? And who — or what — are the 10?

Michael Pretherston knows and because he is a real detective he keeps his own counsel. He gets a lot of fun out of his job, too, and is such a neat and skilful workman that even the men who are trying to beat him have to acknowledge that he is a good sport. And when he carries his good sportsmanship too far for his own safety, and the girl's — but let Mr. Wallace tell it.

And Mr. Wallace does tell it delightfully. The mystery is intense throughout, the ingenuity of the detective is absorbing, and the whole story is told with a charm, a quiet humor and a skill at the depicting of human nature that make every chapter a real pleasure to read.

WASON, ROBERT ALEXANDER

And Then Came Jean

12mo. Cloth. Frontispiece in color. Net, $1.35

"THE spirit of the book is so contagiously human that the reader frankly wants every one he knows to share in its charm. For there is another prophet among the Hoosiers, Robert Alexander Wason, who recalls the early glamour of Booth Tarkington, and who in this last book, the successor of many, is just as sunny, wholesome, and human as ever.

"Jean is a nice 'heroine' and that decidedly, for she is quite beyond the plane of the ordinary girl, who might be analyzed as interesting as Henry Ham himself, but she furnishes a bright thread of romance, and the reaction of her influence on Henry Ham is the real point. And so Henry Ham finally grows up, out of foolish, youthful bravado into sure and quiet purpose — and there is nothing more to do but close the book. But one does so with a heart warmed by the humanness of it, inspired by the fineness of it, moved to mirth by the humor of it."—Chicago Tribune.

✠Friar Tuck

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated by Stanley L. Wood. Net, $1.35

HAPPY HAWKINS tells the story; and it is the story of the Reverend John Carmichael, renamed Friar Tuck by Eugene, "the betting barber of Boggs", because of the facility with which he divested a desperado of a club which had been aimed at his own person. Happy and his friends had never heard of Friar Tuck up to this time, but the way Eugene said it suggested that the name was complimentary, so it stuck to the Rev. John Carmichael ever after. The story — a yarn that follows many pleasant by-ways, — tells how Friar Tuck lived among his people of the cowboy country and was one of them, how he adjusted their quarrels and their love affairs, and fought with and for them when occasion required. It tells, too, of the story back in Friar Tuck's own life, and in returning Janet Morris to him gives him the reward he deserves.

"The story contains plenty of excitement, some fun and much human nature." — A. L. A. Booklist.

Happy Hawkins

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated by Howard Giles. Postpaid, $1.50

"ONE opens 'Happy Hawkins' expecting the usual ranch and cowboy novel. Abundant, in truth, are ranch and cowboy, guns, gambling dens — but they all stand for something better and larger than 'effects.' Happy Hawkins tells his own story in undiluted western language. His story is so good and he tells it with such a fine capacity for knowing how to do it that every page does, indeed, hold the interest in a grip that is at first surprise, then admiration, and at last positive affection. The most dialect-weary reader must own that here the dialect is an indispensable charm; and those who stop the ears when American humor is mentioned need have no fear — for here is the thing in its best estate. Melodrama there is, but far more of daily human nature. In an occasional flaming color, there is revealed less of the theatrical than of the eternal boyish. The question is: has any novel of the West as good as this been written since 'The Virginian'?" — Nation.

Happy Hawkins in the Panhandle

LIKE "Friar Tuck" this is a companion volume to "Happy Hawkins." The story is told by Happy himself, and concerns the time when he left the Diamond Dot ranch in Wyoming, went down into Texas and became foreman of the Lion Head ranch. He tells an absorbingly interesting yarn, filled with episode and excitement, with a surprising and ennobling love-story, and the humor for which his name has become synonymous.

"Happy Hawkins is easily the boss of the rollicking, adventurous, cowboy heroes of the year. An admirable open-air story." — Portland (Oregon) Telegram.

"This is another story of the engaging cowboy who has already figured in several stories of ranch life. It is full of humor."—San Francisco Chronicle.

The Knight-Errant

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated by Hanson Booth. Net, $1.25

THE story of a rich young man who sets forth to "amount to something" for his lady's sake and of the adventures that befall him from New York to San Francisco and the phases of life that he learns to know. Mr. Wason's humor flashes everywhere.

"The story is well written and dramatic; the range of emotion runs deep." — Christian Science Monitor.

③ Harmony Hall

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated by Robert Edwards. Net, $1.25

MISS HARMONY HALL is a very delightful young girl, the oldest of three sisters. When illness and misfortune come to the family, Harmony, with a cheerful heart and a right good will, takes her place as bread-winner. She knows how to do one thing well, and wisely choosing to do that thing, applies for a position as "hired help" to an eccentric Miss Mallory. Overjoyed to find a girl who does not ask to be looked upon as a "companion," an "assistant" or a "maid," Miss Mallory engages her at once, and there begins a relationship which proves a valuable experience to both mistress and helper. A hopeful, wholesome story which girls will like.

The book has been adopted for supplementary reading by the Reading Circles of a number of States.

The Dog and the Child and the Ancient Sailor Man

12mo. Cloth. With a frontispiece by Arthur Hutchins. Net, $1.00

THE author of "Happy Hawkins" is at his best when he is dealing with dogs and horses. In "The Dog and the Child and the Ancient Sailor Man," he has given us a dog that will live. The "Child" is a youngster who is being brought up by rule, by a mother who has one idea and a father who is indulgently, though in his inmost heart skeptically, acquiescent. What happens when a Great Dane is introduced into the scheme of things is amazing to the mother, but the accidental interruption to her rule of life brought about by the appearance of the Ancient Sailor Man caps the climax.

"A deliciously humorous story." — Boston Herald.

"Any one who is fond of dogs, and of children, and of fine old men with young hearts will find it a thing of delight from its first page to its last." — Chicago Inter-Ocean.

"'The dog' will find his place among the many beloved dogs of fiction, Rab, Patrasche, Bob, Son of Battle, and the rest." — Boston Post.

WELLS, H. G. (Author of "Mr. Britling Sees It Through", etc.)

✠ Floor Games

4to. Cloth. Illustrated. Net, $1.00

"DESCRIBES and illustrates games which Mr. Wells plays with his two sons. They appeal both to the intelligence and the imagination and are based largely on the use of boards and planks of varying sizes, helped out with blocks, toy soldiers and animals, etc. Though printed in large type, attractively illustrated and bound in the style of a child's book, it is intended to be suggestive to 'other fathers and mothers and to uncles and such-like tributary sub-species of humanity.'" — A. L. A. Booklist.

"Let all fathers buy this book and see how an author has played with his own sons; read it, first for its agreeable manner and then for the suggestions. 'The jolliest indoor games for boys and girls demand a floor,' says Mr. Wells, 'and the home that has no floor upon which games may be played falls so far short of happiness.' 'One may build cities on a floor, erect hills across dictionaries, and run engines into the realms of other rooms!'" — Literary Digest.

"A GAME for boys from twelve years of age to one hundred and fifty," says Mr. Wells, "and for that more intelligent sort of girls who like boys' games and books." With an appendix of special rules showing how a kriegspiel of educational value for the training of army officers may be developed out of the amusing methods of "Little Wars."

Mr. Wells has developed his game so that the country over which the campaign is to be fought is laid out in any desired manner, with the aid of branches of shrubs as trees, with cardboard bridges, rocks, chalked-out rivers, streams and fords, cardboard forts, barracks, houses, and what not; there are employed leaden infantrymen and cavalrymen, and guns to hit the toy soldiers.

There are strict rules governing the combat. Before a battle begins, the country is divided by the drawing of a curtain across it for a short time, so that the general of each opposing army may dispose of his forces without the enemy's being aware of that disposition. Then the curtains are drawn back and the action begins.

All moves of men and guns are timed. An infantryman moves not more than a foot at a time, a cavalryman not more than two feet, and a gun, according to whether cavalry or infantry are with it, from one to two feet.

"We welcome it as a novel activity, and one that could be put to more than an imaginative test. Military strategy and tactics require keen wit and acute analytical powers. Many a nursery floor will be turned into a battlefield once the code of warfare as worked out by Mr. Wells is mastered. We can imagine Napoleon feasting an such a diversion."—Literary Digest.

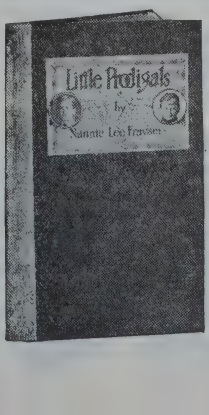
The accomplished author, at one time editor of the Arena, and now president of the Free Press Defense League, etc., has revised his "How England Averted a Revolution of Force," which is now published under the new title of "Righting the People's Wrongs." It is a social and historical document of unusual interest and value, and directly applicable to conditions which exist here and now in our own country.

FRAYSER, NANNIE LEE

Little Prodigals



Decorated boards. Price, postpaid, 35c.

Miss Frayser's work as a teacher is well known throughout the whole Bible School world. When she speaks or writes, she commands attention because of her sympathy and insight. Teachers who read "Little Prodigals" will feel obligated to the author for renewed zeal and inspiration.

"Two simple stories from her own experience as a teacher of 'difficult' boys—stories of the power of sympathy to tame and uplift. Out of this little bit of an earnest life many a discouraged teacher will find a more excellent way and a new resolve."—Sunday School Times.

KERSHNER, FREDERICK D.

The Religion of Christ

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

A thoughtful analysis of fundamental Christianity. Evangelist Geo. L. Snively says: "This is one of the most instructive and devotionally helpful and thought-inciting books I have ever read."

The Angel O' Deadman

Cloth, 12mo, illustrated. Decorated cover, colored frontispiece. Price, postpaid, $1.50.

A romance of the Rockies, graphically picturing the drink demon in a mining-camp and the miraculous change which came about through the Angel O' Deadman. A big love story, true to life; full of tense situations; portrays deep emotions, and will hold the reader spellbound from cover to cover.

The Moan of the Tiber

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, 60c.

A realistic story based on facts, showing up the terrible conditions which exist in the Houses of the Good Shepherd. Decorated cover and wrapper.

PITTMAN, J. C. FERDINAND

Bible Texts Illustrated

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.50.

This voluminous collection of illustrative material represents an entirely new idea in works of this kind. The author has gathered his great array of anecdotes with the constant purpose in mind of definitely enforcing Scripture truths. The material has been arranged by numbers under subject headings placed in the book in alphabetical order. This simple plan enables the reader to get at just the illustration he needs in the easiest and quickest way. A cross-reference index completes a very usable and original illustrative aid.

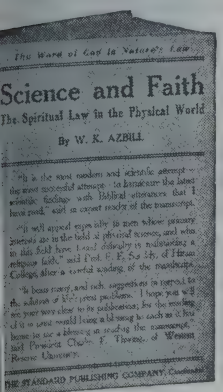
ILL, W. K.

ience and Faith

The Spiritual Law in the Physical World.

loth, 8vo, illustrated. Price, postpaid, $1.50.



The author of this work was equipped by experience as minister, educator and missionary for a broad and varied view of the relations of science and religion. His scientific studies in particular led him to examination of the most recent discoveries in the realm of nature. He has kept his mind open to the progress of thought in all matters affecting our knowledge of the world. Questions such as that of the ether of space, of matter and electricity, of the nature of gravitation and the ultimate causes of planetary motion, of the essence of life, as well as its terrestrial functions and higher possibilities, have claimed his careful attention, and he has not shrunk from considering the most radical theories advanced regarding them. Among these stand the assumption here is an almighty life (inclusive, of course, of a mind) in the world, and that it alone can serve as the ground for solution of its facts and phenomena. Mechanistic theories of the universe such as that of Prof. Jacques Loeb according to him, inconsistent with the very results the scientific sphere reached by their advocates.—The Student.

AYNE, MARY ADDAMS

luegrass and Wattle; or, The Man from Australia

Illustrated, decorated cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, 2

A novel that deals, with unusual vigor and power, with the religious unbelief of the day and its cure. The hero—with the glowing confidence and sublime faith of youth—enters the university with high ideals and undaunted purposes. Here his faith is chilled by the sophistries of the New Theology. The plot is an account of his wanderings in the mazes of this form of infidelity, and his final redemption.

"The charm of its unsullied love story, its unique plot, playful humor, its Christian breadth of view and its skillful portrayal of social and religious conditions, ake his book a captivating piece of literature."—Cynthiana em- at.

Crestlands

A Centennia. Story of Cane Ridge.

Illustrated, cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.25.

A wholesome story of pioneer days in Kentucky. With consummate skill this talented writer has woven into the narrative a romance of unusual charm and beauty. The book gives, with photographic accuracy, the customs and manners, the hardships and sacrifices of frontier life. It is a story that will sustain interest and awaken in the reader all that is true and good, for it is a direct challenge to practice that which is worth while.

BENTLEY, W. P.

Illustrious Chinese Christians

A Brief Treatise on the Customs, Superstitions and Religions of the Chinese People.

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

A stimulating and thought-provoking treatise on the efficiency of the gospel in China. It is very doubtful whether or not there is any record of devotion or self-sacrifice in either profane or sacred history that this fascinating series of twenty-two Chinese biographies will not parallel. The persecutions and martyrdom which these Chinese converts suffered will inspire real missionary enthusiasm and create apostolic activity in any community where this book is circulated.

BOOK, W. H.

Columbus Tabernacle Sermons, Vol. I.

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

The gospel is always attractive when presented by W. H. Book. It is a message that never fails to quicken into action the reader's mind and heart. This author's well-known powers of oratory, his profound grasp of the teachings of Jesus and his apostles, his fearlessness in condemning wrong and error, his virile, forceful style and his unique personality, are well preserved in every line. These sermons were not written in a study, but were stenographically reported as the burning words were uttered by this master preacher, under the inspiration of the great audience which flocks to hear him every week.

Columbus Tabernacle Sermons, Vol. II.

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

A companion volume to the author's first book of sermons. Reported in the same way and published because of the unusual demand the first volume created.

"I pronounce W. H. Book's second 'Tabernacle Sermons' the strongest and most Scriptural our people have ever produced. The second book follows logically in order, being directed to the church-member, and treats of great spiritual themes that build the church up and feed the flock. It should be in every minister's library who aspires to be a preacher with power."—D. R. Dungan.

The Indiana Pulpit

Edited by W. H. Book.

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

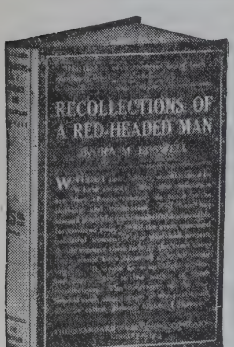
This series of twenty-two practical sermons, each discourse being the best one preached by as many leading Indiana preachers, presents vital Christianity in a most attractive way. The author has condensed, with unusual discrimination and taste, the message of such widely known preachers as Z. T. Sweeney, James Small, T. J. Legg, etc. A photograph and brief biography of each contributor precedes every chapter.

"'The Indiana Pulpit' will be especially helpful to young preachers. The topics are varied and the discourses are from men of learning and experience. It will make each one who reads it better, and it will strengthen the faith of all who carefully peruse its pages."—George A. Miller.

BOSWELL, IRA M.

The Recollections of a Red-headed Man

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, 75c.



Here is something new under the sun—a really humorous work. Not since the publishing of Bill Nye's famous "History of the United States" has there appeared a book containing more spontaneous wit and homely philosophy. Its laughable anecdotes and quaint humor make it a book that will be read over and over again with an ever-increasing delight.

I thank you for the loan of the MS., "Recollections of a Red-headed Man." I read it, and I must say that I am indebted to you for one of the most enjoyable afternoons I have ever spent. It is better than "Mark Twain" or "Bill Nye."—B. M. Crabtree.

It helps folks to appreciate that they live in a world of humor. It is splendidly written, and is one of the best aids for digestion I have found.—P. H. Welshimer, Canton, O.

BOTELER, MATTIE M.

Joe Binder's Wild Westing

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

Few books can claim superiority to this one in its sure appeal to the average boy. It deals with the things that boys are deeply interested in, such as Indians and buffalo hunting. With characteristic charm this gifted author tells the experiences of three boys who felt they must save the country by killing off all the Indians and buffaloes. The story of the rise and fall of their ambitions will teach the boy many valuable lessons while thoroughly entertaining him.

Like as We Are

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00

A charming narrative of the fishing regions of the Northeast. Seldom has a story of unswerving devotion to high principle and sublime self-sacrifice been told with greater power. The hero—a gifted young man—resolutely turns his back upon the avenues that tend to wealth and luxury to use his exceptional talent in converting an out-of-the-way fishing-camp. This story embodies the high ideals and noble purposes so necessary to hold up before the youth of this pleasure-loving and materialistic age.

The Evolution of Juliet

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

In this delightful story the reader will find a positive solution to one of the great questions of the day. The heroine —an unsophisticated orphan country girl—goes into the city to carve out her future. Miss Boteler tells the history of the evolution of her ideals and her complete redemption from the snares that beset her way. It demonstrates, as few stories have ever done better, the redeeming power of Christianity. The transformation of this simple country girl into a noble Christian woman, in the face of the forces of evil, can not fail to prove an absorbing story which will warn and direct as well as entertain its youthful readers.

Shut In

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00

This realistic recital of the victorious conquest of the Cross over the world and its allurements is told with genuine charm and graphic power. The transformation of Phyllis Ensign from a social butterfly into a self-sacrificing Christian worker will enlist the sympathies and compel attention to the very last. The laws governing social redemption and individual salvation are clearly set forth—making this story one of more than usual merit and interest.

The Conversion of Brian O'Dillon

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

A heart-searching story of regeneration. Dealing, as it does, with life's deepest emotions, it is a tale that is heart-touching in its appeal. It presents a masterly analysis of human error and its remedy. It is an unusual human-interest narrative that will meet the largest demands of the reader's intellect and heart. Seldom has New Testament Christianity been so well set forth in the form of fiction.

BRINEY, J. B.

Instrumental Music in Christian Worship

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

This book is a review and refutation of "Instrumental Music in the Worship," by M. C. Kurfees. The author demonstrates a Scripture warrant for the use of instrumental music in Christian worship. That the apostles attended and participated in the musical part of the temple services in which instruments were used, thus giving it their sanction, is clearly shown. Quotations of leading authorities prove beyond refutation that psallo, as used in the New Testament, authorizes the use of an instrument.

"Instrumental music in the worship is a subject that I have examined carefully from both standpoints. I must say your work upon this theme is the strongest, greatest and most complete vindication of the affirmative side I have ever s Jas. A. Stevens, Burnet, Tex.

Plea to Restore the Apostolic Church

h, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

A strong appeal for the complete restoration of the apostolic church—its message, its organization, its ordinances, its fruits and its life. In this logical and forceful presentation, the underlying principles of the work undertaken by the church of the first century are presented and vigorously defended as the only permanent solution of the religious problems of the church life of to-day. The book is written with a clearness and a conviction that should win over the most skeptical reader.

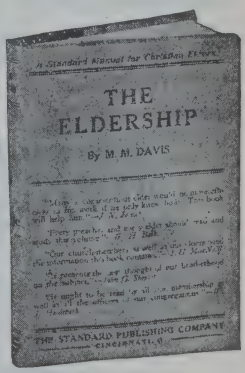
First Principles

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

A popular examination of the gospel as related to the salvation of the individual and a vindication of the gospel as the only redemptive power known. God's purposes and plans regarding man as revealed in the light of the transcendent personality and transforming message of Jesus Christ are fully set forth with the clearness and directness which characterize the work of this gifted writer. The purpose of this "first book" of Christian theology is to supply to the honest seeker the information necessary to intelligently grasp the great truth that Jesus is the Christ and the Bible is the sole guide of faith and practice. "The greatest evangelistic book that has been issued in years."—Carolina Evangelist.

The Eldership

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, 75c.



A systematic study of the office of the eldership from the standpoint of the New Testament; a practical discussion of the duties, qualifications and authority of those Scripturally qualified to hold this life office. As it is vital to the existence of any organization to have well-equipped and efficient officers, so it is very necessary for that great institution, called into existence to conduct the King's business, to have well-trained men to conduct its affairs. This standard manual furnishes just the needed practical and comprehensive teaching for the proper training of men for this important task.

How to Be Saved

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.10; paper, postpaid, 60c.

A standard text-book on the subject of salvation. It is the second volume in the first year's course of the Phillips Bible Institute Series of Efficiency Text-books for Bible Schools and Churches. The author's well-known reverence for the authority of the Bible and his profound knowledge of its contents, together with his own painful experience in groping through the dense fog of human opinion into the sunlight of God's revealed truth, prepares him to be a safe guide and sympathetic writer on this all-important question.

How the Disciples Began and Grew

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.10; paper, postpaid, 60c.

This is the first volume in the second year's course of the Phillips Bible Institute Series of Efficiency Text-books for Bible Schools and Churches. Important facts of church history recited by one who knows. A great scholar, a great preacher, a great writer, tells the truth about the triumphs of the New Testament church during the last one hundred years.

The Restoration Movement of the Nineteenth Century

Cloth, illustrated, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.10.

A brief, though comprehensive, history of the greatest religious movement of the nineteenth century, with an outline of the conditions that called it into existence. The one great object of the book—to identify this movement with the primitive church—has been well and faithfully performed. The author here displays the wonderful grasp of the subject that has won for him the high place he holds in the councils of this movement. It is written especially for popular information, making it an admirable treatise to place in the hands of our religious neighbors.

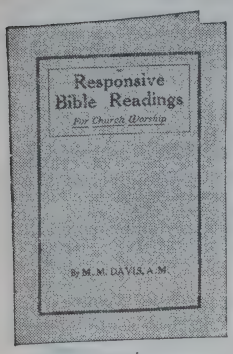
Responsive Bible Readings for Church Worship



Manila, 12mo. Price, 15c. per copy, postpaid; per 100, $12.00, carriage extra.

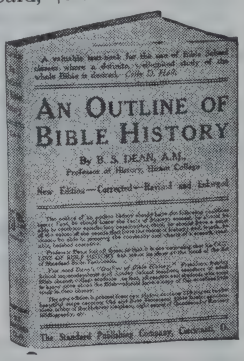
This new book of congregational responsive reading contains all that is desirable and good in the way of select Bible readings for your church. It was compiled to meet the growing demand for responsive Bible reading in the church service. It is printed in good, bold type, and the congregational part of the reading is printed in heavy, bold-faced type. Thousands of churches will welcome the publication of this handy-sized book of nearly one hundred pages, which contains over seventy pages of choice selections of Bible readings, topically arranged, and sixteen orders of exercises for use in the Bible school and devotional meetings as well as in the regular services of the church.

DEAN, PROF. B. S.

An Outline of Bible History

New and revised edition. Twelve colored maps.

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.



A compact and thoroughly reliable text-book for Sunday School teachers and advanced pupils and Bible students generally. It contains the facts you want to know presented in a clear and entertaining style that holds the interest and impresses them upon the mind. In addition to the very complete historical treatment of the entire Bible, chronologically arranged, the book contains a valuable series of twelve beautifully colored and accurate maps, systematic tables and a most helpful Bibliography. Professor Dean's work covers the entire Bible, and so can be used with each Sunday School lesson year in and year out. It should be on the study-table of every superintendent, teacher and Bible student and worker.

DE MOSS, DR. JAS. A.

From Patmos to the Holy City; or, The Ages Foretold

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

A clear and concise presentation of the prophecies of the Apocalypse in the light of recent history. It contains valuable charts relating the symbols to the epochs of the time of fulfillment. This work practically reduces the prophecies of Revelation to a science. Its interpretations of the symbols are so manifestly clear as to be self-evident. One has to read but a very few pages to be fully convinced that the author is no novice, but one whose careful study and sane judgment make him a reliable guide to the elucidation of prophetic mysteries.

A Look Through the Lens of Prophecy

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

A keen analysis of the visions of Daniel, together with valuable charts relating the prophecies to the time of their fulfillment. The work is a complete vindication of Daniel as a prophet of Jehovah and of the accuracy of his prophecies. This book conclusively proves the correctness of Biblical prophecy by supplying indisputable evidence of the complete co-ordination of the prophecies of Daniel and Revelation. It can hardly fail to increase reverence for the Bible as the word of God and faith in it as revealing man's purposes and destiny.

DUNGAN, D. R.

On the Rock (Thirty-third edition)

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.25.

The one story that more clearly than any other defines the lines of the Restoration movement. It is the realistic tale of a young couple whose domestic happiness is threatened with disaster because of serious differences over religious views. In developing the plot, the author answers the various objections commonly put forth against the Restoration movement, with Biblical quotations. The story ends in the restoration of domestic peace by a mutual agreement to decide the differences with a "Thus saith the Lord." It is the classic of the Restoration movement literature.

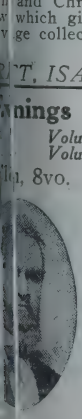
h, 8vo. Price, per volume, postpaid, $1.00.



This notable work is a consecutive series of historical, devotional and doctrinal studies of the entire Bible. Beginning with Genesis, this gifted writer gradually unfolds to the reader, in his lucid, graceful, persuasive and inimitable style, the dealings and purposes of God with man as recorded in the Bible. Under the guidance of this master hand, the Bible becomes a united and carefully planned and executed book, although written in different ages and by different men. For deep spiritual insight, sympathetic understanding and practical application, this series of Biblical studies equals. It is a work that every preacher, Sunday cher and adult pupil should have near at hand for reference in their work.

Cloth, 16mo. Price, postpaid, 75c.

A practical guide for the development of the spiritual life. The problems that inevitably confront the new convert are here carefully considered in the light of the New Testament and the rich and varied experience of the author. Christian life is revealed in its full significance and purpose in a way to encourage persistent effort and to stir into action the high resolutions newly awakened. It is just the advice and encouragement necessary to stimulate the convert to walk in the new life with confidence and hope. It should be placed in the hands of every young Christian for instruction, inspiration and help.

Bible Readings

In two volumes. Cloth, 12mo. Price, per volume, postpaid, $1.50; paper, 50c.

Scriptural selections grouped about questions that present themselves to every thinking person. There is no comment whatever. This great writer had a firm conviction that the Bible, when properly studied, was its own best interpreter. This work proves the wisdom and correctness of that conviction. In grouping the Scriptures in this way, Mr. Errett has rendered a most valuable service to all who wish to study the teachings of the Scriptures on topics of vital interest to Christian growth and world conquest. No real Bible student can afford to be without this work.

First Principles

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, 50c.; paper, 15c.

A popular presentation of the fundamental principles of Christianity and their relation to salvation. In these discussions Mr. Errett goes right to the heart of these principles, revealing their beauties and explaining their divine philosophy. For the busy man who has not the time to read an elaborate treatise on this subject, this work will be of particular value. Every Christian believer should have this book in his library to lend to friends who are indifferent to the gospel and its appeal.

FAIRHURST, PROF. ALFRED

Organic Evolution Considered

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.50.

A popular work on one of the greatest of all questions—evolution. Professor Fairhurst has written one of the strongest arguments for man as a special creation. His book is a veritable searchlight on evolution. Every argument is so stated as to be readily understood by even those who are not versed in scientific phraseology. It is one of the few truly scientific works which successfully meet the issue between science and religion, and leave the reader with a renewed and re-established faith in the Bible as the word of God.

FARIS, JOHN T.

The Mother Heart

Decorated boards, small quarto. Price, postpaid, 50c.

How It Was Done in Harmony

An Adult Bible-class Story.

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, 75c.

Harmony is not an actual town, neither has any one Bible class done all the things credited to the Fishermen's Class, but everywhere there are towns in which transformations may be wrought through the Adult Bible Class which do not seem possible of accomplishment through any other agency.

The story will lead readers to see the possibilities of the organized Bible class, and will inspire them to make more of the classes already in existence or to organize new classes for the accomplishment of specific tasks.

FARIS, LILLIE A.

HAYDEN, W. L.

Church Polity

Cloth, 8vo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

A standard work on the organization and regulation of the church as mapped out by Jesus and his apostles. It outlines in detail the Scriptural qualifications and duties of evangelists, elders, deacons and all other officers. It gives a full discussion of the work and authority of each and the New Testament order of government and procedure. It is therefore a guide-book to success and progress in conducting the King's business, and should be carefully read by every church worker in every community. It is a series of twenty lessons, the study of which will equip any one to be prepared to render his church the highest service.

HAYNES, N. S.

Jesus as a Controversialist

Boards, 16mo. Price, postpaid, 60c.

A keen and searching analysis of the methods employed by Jesus in the propagation of the gospel. Many people have looked upon him as a visionary dreamer, an insipid æsthetic, an effeminate utopian. This book is a sure antidote to such erroneous beliefs. It conclusively proves Jesus to be the most virile, aggressive and practical of men. It reveals, as has seldom been done, his moral grandeur, mental poise and intellectual integrity. It sheds a flood of light upon the principles and practices that have made the world regard him as the greatest of all teachers and leaders. The work is especially valuable to the preacher and Sunday School teacher in presenting phases of the Christ-character in an entirely new and forceful way.

HAYNES, W. A.

Beautiful Word Pictures

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

The first volume in "The Busy Man's Commentary on the Bible." It is a popular treatment of the Epistle to the Ephesians, prepared especially for the busy student. It condenses and interprets the message of this New Testament book, relating it to every-day life. The reader is not troubled with a variety of theories and opinions of men, but is given, in a most compact and practical form, the very essence of the book. It is a fresh interpretation of this message of the apostle Paul in the light of Paul's time and customs and the then existing conditions of the church at that place. It is a most stimulating piece of exegetical writing, and should be in the library of every Bible student.

The Glories of the Inner Sanctuary

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.50.

The second volume of "The Busy Man's Commentary on the Bible." This exposition of the Epistle to the Hebrews is written with the keen insight and practical suggestiveness that immediately brought the first volume of the series into such wide popularity. The Old Testament customs, laws and rites referred to in this Epistle are explained and related to the gospel with such clearness that Hebrews becomes a book with a much larger and more practical meaning. This work embodies the sane and careful scholarship, rare discrimination and sympathetic approach that make a commentary really great.

HUNKEY, JOHN

How I Became a Non-Catholic

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.25.

This book weighs Roman Catholic teaching in the balances. It is not the usual sensational narrative of priestly lust nor a realistic portrayal of the ambitions and baneful influences of this great politico-ecclesiastic machine. It treats solely of Romish theology. The author, an ex-Catholic, clearly reveals the utter lack of foundation for the teachings of Rome, either in reason or revelation. His work is an arsenal of facts that fully meet the arguments of those defending these childish superstitions. It is doubtful if any other book on the subject proves more conclusively that Catholicism is built upon the shifting sands of error and ignorance.

JACKSON, JAMES WILLIAM

A Lost Letter

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, 75c.

An inspiring and intensely realistic story that will commend itself to every genuine boy. It relates the adventures of an ambitious lad who, by pure grit and good sense, fought his way through innumerable difficulties to success. The plot involves a deep-laid conspiracy by his enemies to deprive him of his rightful inheritance. This results in many exciting incidents and hairbreadth escapes. By dauntless courage and the aid of a faithful friend the young hero finally comes into possession of his own. No better book for boys has come from the press in a long while. It should be in every Sunday School library.

JONES, MABEL CRONISE

In Days of Old When Knights Were Bold

Illustrated. Decorated cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

A story for boys and girls about the court of King Arthur. In those happy, legendary days men and women were true to the pledges they made and the principles for which they stood. No sacrifice or hardship was too great or severe for them to endure to accomplish the good they set out to do. The reading of this fascinating story will inspire to renewed devotion to duty and a longing to be true and more steadfast. This wholesome tale will find a ready welcome in homes where the truest and best in literature is wanted for the young people.

Dolly's College Experiences

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

Not in recent years have we had a more acceptable contribution to our juvenile literature. The author has written a clever, fascinating story. Everybody will enjoy reading this book. It was written primarily for young people—especially for girls. It is as clean and sparkling as a brook, and as wholesome as sunshine. Dolly and her college chums are splendid company—bright, vivacious, resourceful, and, best of all, true. We recommend this book for your daughter.

The lesson of the abolition of snobs, the establishment of truth, the folly of bad company and the reward of true labor are so adroitly concealed and so fetchingly told that the girl, without knowing it, will absorb the lesson and profit by it.—Grace Boteler Sanders.

Six of Them

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, 75c.

A winning and thoroughly entertaining story of six happy girls, who, with the wise counsel of an invalid father, faced unflinchingly the problems of obtaining a livelihood and an education. The relation of their difficulties and sorrows and disappointments will search the heart of the girl reader and awaken into action all her best impulses. The pluck and perseverance they displayed, ultimately crowned by the realization of their supreme ambitions, will hold the attention of every reader. Its high moral tone makes it a book that should be placed in the hands of every growing girl to inculcate perseverance, cheerfulness and high moral ideals.

Rome's Fool, and Other Stories

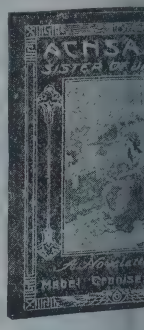
Achsah, the Sister of Jairus

A Story of Palestine



Decorated cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, 50c.

This tale of the Jew and the Roman, of human love and hate, of the land where the Master lived and the city of his choice, pulsates with real life, and unconsciously, but surely, envelopes the reader in the atmosphere of the time "when Jesus was among men." The reader is led to see that nothing can withstand the Christ power. In him all are made one—there is neither Jew nor Gentile. If you wish to live over again, in a most vivid and heart-touching way, the "old, old story," get and read this delightful story of Palestine.

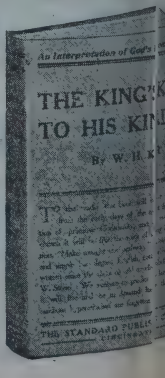
KERR, W. H.

The King's Keys to His Kingdo

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.



An unusually fresh and stimulating interpretation of God's redeeming grace. This book is a masterly presentation of the questions pertaining to salvation. The argument reveals the principles underlying the conditions made by Heaven for the salvation of the individual. The idea that these conditions were arbitrarily fixed finds here a complete refutation. For clearness, precision and simple but elegant English, nothing excelling it has appeared since the days of the Campbells. It is pre-eminently the book to be read by those who desire an intelligent foundation for their faith and who wish to be able to defend it against every form of attack.

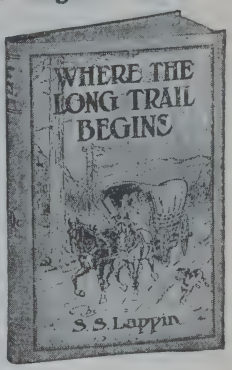
Where the Long Trail Begins

Cloth, 12mo. Price, post- paid, 60c.



No other book that we have published has won such instant response in the hearts of the people as this little idyl of human life in the Middle West. It loosens the fountains of feeling with the magic of homely narrative. It is a type of book that should introduce a new era in our literature. "'Where the Long Trail Begins' is also 'where a little classic begins.' There is a heart-throb in every page. In this human document there is the spell of the past, the strength of the present and the lure of the future. Tender pathos, Christian sentiment and heavenly aspiration make it a story well worth while."—Prof. E. W. McDiarmid.

The Training of the Church

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, 50c.; paper, 30c.

A text-book, for popular use, on Christian doctrine and evidences, church polity and Christian service. In a logical and practical arrangement the author has grouped a great amount of condensed information and practical suggestions. In the preparation of this series of lessons in Christian beliefs and personal efficiency, Mr. Lappin has drawn from a wide and varied experience in a successful ministry the facts and methods necessary to indoctrinate the church, to enlist its membership in intelligent co-operation and equip them as trained workers. Its use as a text-book in every church would produce what every pastor so heartily longs for, a thoroughly trained membership.

LAWSON, H. GILCHRIST

Did Jesus Command Immersion?

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.25.

This work defines and defends New Testament baptism. It is, without question, the most exhaustive study of the word "baptize" in print. The author's purpose is not to stir up controversy, but to help unite all Christians with regard to the true meaning and purpose of baptism. In the preparation of this great work all the leading dictionaries, encyclopedias, Greek lexicons, Greek commentaries, etc., of all Christian bodies were thoroughly examined and constantly used. This book furnishes indisputable evidence from the highest authorities that "baptism" always means immersion, and that immersion alone will satisfy the requirements of all religious bodies. No other book published quotes so many authorities.

LINTON, LULU

More than Coronets

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, 75c.

A delightful series of short stories for the young. Each one combines, in this author's inimitable way, the qualities so necessary to hold the attention. Mrs. Linton always writes with a freshness and charm that immediately win the sympathies of youthful readers. This collection of stories represents Mrs. Linton at her very best. With a rare skill she inculcates in each story those lofty ideals and high resolves that make her stories such a power in influencing the young reader. This book should be put into the hands of every growing person in your community because its shafts of practical Christian teaching will be carried straight to the heart of the reader with the feather edge of its fascinating stories.

LORD, J. A.

On the Lord's Day

Cloth, 8vo. Price, postpaid, $1.25.

A manual for the regular observance of the New Testament ordinances. A series of fifty-two eloquent sermons, twenty-six masterly outlines, fifty-two studies on "Thoughts for the Lord's Supper," baptismal formula, social hints, orders of exercises, forms of benediction, etc., which, altogether, make this work an indispensable handbook for elders, deacons and active Christian workers. One of the great problems of rural Christianity is the question of keeping the interest in the work alive among members who are isolated. This manual solves the problem.

LOWBER, J. W., Sc.D., Ph.D.

The Highest Culture and Christianity

New Edition of "Cultura."

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $2.00.

An enlarged and thoroughly revised edition of the book "Cultura," now published under a new title. It is seldom that one finds life's profoundest issues treated with more scholarly insight or rarer literary charm. The writer's own successful struggles with present-day materialistic thought, together with his intellectual vigor and keen spiritual discernment, make it possible for him to point out the sure way of escape to all who are ensnared in the meshes of the plausible philosophies of our time. This work will be especially helpful to those who are called upon to meet the questionings of self-sufficient students and radical thinkers. To such it will be an almost inexhaustible source of argument and information.

Struggles and Triumphs of the Truth

Cloth, 8vo. Price, postpaid, $2.00.

A guide-book and practical introduction to history, philosophy, and skepticism. Pre-eminently fitted by natural endowment and wide research for such a work, this noted author proves conclusively the superiority of Christianity over intellectualism and philosophical speculation. His work is a history of the struggle of the Christ ideal with the various influences combating it from within and without, and its complete victory over them all. It is a most conspicuous piece of argumentative writing. In these days of loose thinking and intellectual confusion, when men are crying, "Lo here! and lo there!" this book will pilot the reader through the mazes of doubt into the harbor of spiritual quietude and assurance.

Macrocosmus

Cloth, 8vo. Price, postpaid, $1.50.

The gifted author has produced a book which will be a guide to the solution of the greatest problems of philosophy, science, theology, sociology and politics. His work is a fresh, vigorous treatment of man and his place in the physical, social, religious and moral worlds. It is a thesaurus of information on the questions of life that inevitably present themselves for solution to every thinking man. It is really a treatment of the universe as seen through the eye of Christian faith in the light of Christian teaching. The author establishes the fact that Jesus is the true interpreter of God, and that it must be through him that man will find the key to the secrets of the universe. Every thinking Christian should have this book. It will establish his faith, and equip him to fully meet the arguments of unbelievers.

The Devil in Modern Society

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

A searchlight on the various social evils of the day. In trenchant and unequivocal phraseology the author meets the issues raised. Dr. Lowber has long been a leader in, and a student of, social reform. He is sane and scientific in his treatment of such matters as the dance, the drink evil, the sex problem, the theater, profanity, gambling, speculation, etc. The book is already in its eighth thousand.

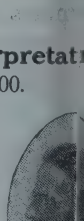
Principles of Literary Interpretat

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.



While this book is admirably adapted for a college text-book, it is also especially valuable to all who seek to perfect themselves in English literature by home study. The principles are so clearly enunciated, the illustrations so admirably chosen, that no earnest mind can fail to enter into its purpose and receive its benefits. "The author believes that the 'Bible contains the best poetry in the world,' and we are sure that he makes his thesis good. The work is replete with quotations representing the gems of universal literature, all of them fittingly illustrating the themes under discussion."—F. D. Kershner.

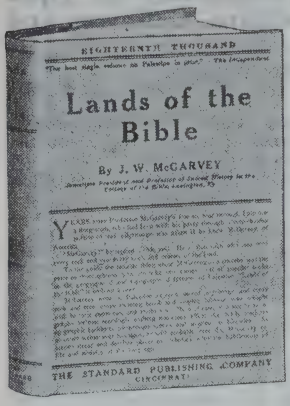
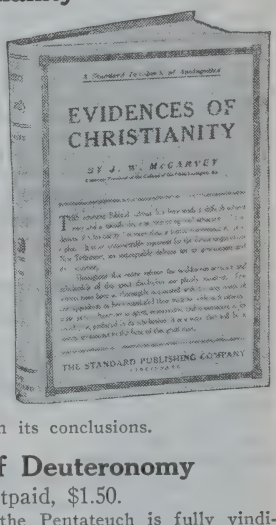
Lands of the Bible



Illustrated, cloth, 8vo. Price, postpaid, $2.00.

An exhaustive guide-book to the geography, topography and social customs of Palestine. President McGarvey went to Palestine as on a holy pilgrimage. To him every rock and tree, every running brook and sloping hillside were fraught with sacred memories and traditions. With painstaking care he traveled over the country with tape-line and measuring-rod in order to secure the most accurate information—information which is so necessary to a full appreciation of the Bible as its own best evidence of divine authorship and its own best interpreter. He has classified and arranged and presented all this in that graphic, clear-cut and forceful style for which he was famous. This great work is especially valuable to superintendents, Sunday School teachers and adult pupils, for it can be used in the preparation of every Sunday School lesson.

Evidences of Christianity



Cloth, 8vo. Price, postpaid, $1.50.

A standard text-book of apologetics. This notable work is much more than a formal statement of principles; it is an unanswerable argument for the divine origin of our New Testament and an impregnable defense for its genuineness and its inspiration. Few writers have been so thoroughly acquainted with the arguments of the opposition, or have marshaled their material with such consummate skill. This work should be in the hands of every believer in the Bible, to fortify his faith in it and to defend it against every form of infidelity. It is reverent in spirit, profound in scholarship and constructive in its conclusions.

The Authorship of Deuteronomy

Cloth, 8vo. Price, postpaid, $1.50.

The Mosaic authorship of the Pentateuch is fully vindicated in this work. Bible critics all agree that the issue finally rests with the Book of Deuteronomy. Combating the boastful claims and "assured results" of the destructive conclusions reached by modern infidelity, President McGarvey not only proves that Moses may have written the book, but that he alone could possibly have written it, and at the dictation of Jehovah. All lovers of the Bible ought to thoroughly digest this work, both for their own peace and that they may be able to point out the errors of those who oppose it.

McGARVEY, J. W., and PENDLETON, P. Y.

The Fourfold Gospel

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.65.

A harmony of the four Gospels, so arranged as to form a complete chronological life of Christ, divided into titled sections and subdivisions, with comments interjected in the text. In preparing this work, there has been no sparing of time, labor or expense. The American Revised Version has been used, and the author, in collaboration with P. Y. Pendleton, has carefully avoided all conceits, quibblings and useless refinements, and has studied to present only that which is useful, helpful and practical. It has not been the aim to produce a commentary for the textual critic, the theologian or the professor, but a plain and simple guide-book for everyday readers of God's word.

Standard Bible Commentary on Thessalonians, Corinthians, Galatians and Romans

Cloth, 8vo. Price, postpaid, $1.65.

A companion volume to "The Fourfold Gospel." The original method of treatment in that standard harmony has been employed in preparing this volume. The commentators have kept fully in mind the needs of the busy Bible student. They have produced in this work a most practical and helpful exposition for the use of all readers of God's word.

Biblical Criticism

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.25.

In this series of short essays on modern criticism, this eminent Biblical scholar has prepared a remarkable defense of the Bible. The clear thinking and keen analysis that are so characteristic of all Mr. McGarvey's writings are here found in their highest form. His inexorable logic tears off the mask of learning from the utterances of the enemies of the Bible, reveals their sophistries and upholds the integrity of the Scriptures in a most able way. Nowhere has this noted author employed his wit, sarcasm and Biblical knowledge so effectively as in this book. It should be in the household of every believer for constant reference.

Sermons

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.25.

The great sermons of a great preacher. They are models of homiletic effort, strong, able and instructive. They deal with practical, vital themes which can not fail to interest every Bible reader. With crystal clearness, President McGarvey discusses the teachings of Jesus and his apostles. His profound sympathy with their message, his childlike faith and his keenly analytic mind made him one of the foremost preachers of his day. This volume happily preserves all these qualities for the use of future generations. Every preacher will gain invaluable inspiration from this master of pulpit oratory.

MEDBURY, CHAS. S.

From Eden to the Jordan

Cloth, 16mo. Price, postpaid, 50c.; paper, postpaid, 30c.

A series of lessons on the Pentateuch. This is the third book in the first year of the Advanced Teacher Training Course. (Twenty lessons.) A text-book that is both suitable and readable. The teacher-student feels that he is actually journeying through Bible lands and mingling with Bible people, so realistic is the author's style. The idea of this course of studies is to take up intensively the work treated extensively in Herbert Moninger's book, "Training for Service."

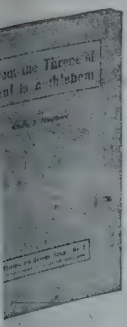
rom the Throne of Saul to Bethlehem



Cloth, 16mo. Price, postpaid, 50c.; paper, postpaid, 30c.

The second book in the second year of the Advanced Teacher Training Course. (Twenty lessons.) The author of these three volumes is one of America's best preachers. In this last book he is at his best as he gathers for the teacher the rays of revelation focusing upon Calvary. Throughout the three books the teacher's training is trained Christward.

These three books, "From Eden to the Jordan," "From Jordan to the Throne of Saul" and "From the Throne of Saul to Bethlehem," make a splendid outline study of the sweep of Old Testament history, the student's attention being always directed to the coming of the Christ.

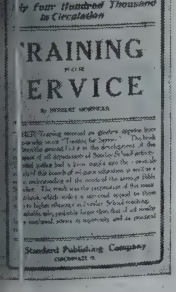
New edition. Revised and edited by Nannie Lee Frayser



Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, 50c.; paper, postpaid, 30c.

The first-year text-book in the Standard Teacher Training Course. Teacher Training received its greatest impetus from the man who wrote "Training for Service." The book itself has been the greatest factor in the development of this most important of all departments of Sunday School activity. The lamented author had a keen insight into the essentials and methods of this branch of religious education, as well as a sympathetic understanding of the needs of the average Bible School worker. The result was the preparation of this unsurpassed text-book, which makes a universal appeal to those who

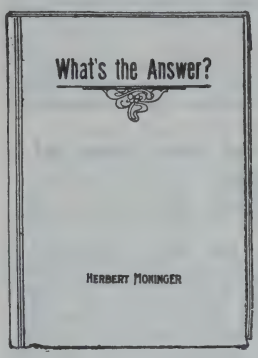
Bible Drills

Cloth, 16mo. Price, postpaid, 40c.; paper, postpaid, 25c.

An almost indispensable book for teachers and superintendents and Bible students. It contains over 750 carefully selected questions and answers covering the important points of the entire Bible. It can be used for Bible-drill contest, general supplemental work and school exercises, and all the activities of the Sunday School and class. These questions show the practical insight into Bible truths and broad sympathy with the individual Bible student that has made Mr. Moninger the most popular writer on these themes. It is a book that every teacher and superintendent should have and use each week in their work. It is good fifty-two weeks in every year.

What's the Answer?

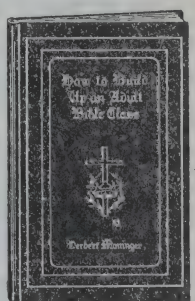


Cloth, 16mo. Price, postpaid, 25c.; paper, postpaid, 10c.

A unique way of acquiring many of the facts of the Bible. There are twenty-six questions. Here is one of them:

"How many books did the major prophets write?" Alfred asked his Bible School teacher. The teacher replied: "If to the number of the books of the Law in the Old Testament you add the number of books in the New Testament written by Peter; multiply that by the number of books written by Luke; multiply that by the number of letters in the name of the great river in Egypt; subtract the number of letters in the name of the river near Babylon; subtract the number of letters in the name of the city of Chaldea from which Abraham was called, and divide by the first chapter in Acts that contains a record of Paul's conversion, you will have the number of books written by the major prophets. Answer, 5.

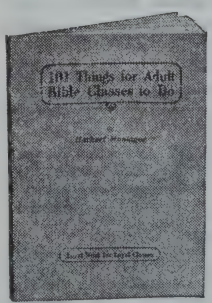
How to Build Up an Adult Bible Class



Cloth, 16mo. Price, postpaid, 25c.; limp, postpaid, 15c.

A manual of successful methods and plans for organizing and building up adult Sunday School classes. In preparing this practical handbook of instruction, Mr. Moninger wrote to over three hundred of the most successful teachers in the country for their best plans. Every adult-class teacher and every superintendent will find herein a mass of original and practical helps and hints. This little manual will be of incalculable value to all workers in the Sunday School who are endeavoring to build the Sunday School into the institution that it deserves to be in this day of grand Sunday School possibilities.

101 Things for Adult Bible Classes to Do



Cloth, 16mo. Price, postpaid, 50c.; paper, postpaid, 30c.

The author puts into this volume the same practical suggestiveness that has made his "Training for Service" the most helpful and most popular Teacher Training manual published. The author tells all about plans for the work of the class, the appointment of committees and plans for each member of the committee, the methods which will win back the absentees and the ways of making prospects permanent members of the class. No phase of adult-class activity is overlooked. If your class is to be successful in the largest degree, be sure to place this book in the hands of every member.

Its purpose is to tell what Adult Bible classes may do, with suggestions as to when and how these things may be done.

The Adult Bible Class in Training for Service

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, 50c.

This is the Bible part, or first six chapters, of "Training for Service," to which have been added ten maps on Old Testament history, a chart on the parables of Christ, a chart on the miracles of Christ, and some other helpful material. It makes a most valuable supplementary, elementary and preparatory study text-book on the Bible. It gives the student a thorough basis for Bible study, will arouse and increase his interest, and be an indispensable aid to the teacher. This work should be taken up by every adult class to promote Bible study and interest in classwork.

Preparatory Bible Training Course

Boards, 16mo. Price, postpaid, 25c.

A carefully prepared series of studies on the great facts of the Bible for the younger pupils of from eight to fifteen. It contains Memory Maps, Outlines of Old and New Testament History, Handwork, and Questions and Answers to each and every lesson. The great facts of the Bible are boiled down to pointed questions and concise answers, laying a sure and broad foundation for future Bible study. Every Intermediate department should use this book each Sunday for drill purposes, memory exercises and supplementary study.

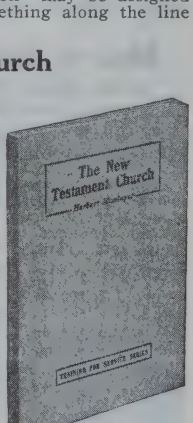
Cloth, 16mo. Price, postpaid, each volume, 60c.; paper, 35c.

In these books, which cover the Gospel according to Matthew, are 550 concise questions and answers; 560 topics for research and discussion; 284 great truths based upon the Scripture, with illustrations to clinch these truths. Furthermore, it has 452 brief and brilliant expressions from more than 150 writers. To add spice to the study, an average of two blackboard outlines is placed in each chapter. These books may be used as text-books or as a help in preparing any Bible lesson based upon the Gospel according to Matthew. "Searching Questions and Concise Answers" may be used on the plan of the old-fashioned spelling-bee. The "Topics for Research and Discussion" may be assigned one week in advance and handled something along the line of the convention round-table.

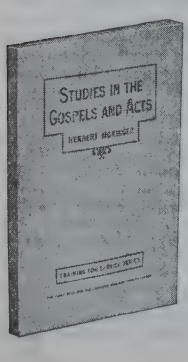
The New Testament Church

Cloth, 16mo. Price, postpaid, 50c.; paper, 30c.



The third book in the second year of the Advanced Teacher Training Course for adult Bible classes, etc. It deals with the apostolic beginnings of the church, treating at length the New Testament instances of conversion, baptism, the Lord's Supper, names, and many other themes of vital importance in the restoration of New Testament Christianity. This information is all set forth clearly in text-book form. It is a most valuable work for the teaching of the New Testament plea to the young. The twenty lessons contained in this book make an admirable course for those who desire a simple and easy way to get at New Testament history, as the book is designed for the express purpose of giving students definite ideas of early New Testament times.

Studies in the Gospels and Acts



Cloth, 16mo. Price, postpaid, 50c.; paper, 30c.

Prepared especially for the third text for union classes in the second year of the Advanced Teacher Training Course. It thoroughly analyzes and systematizes the four Gospels and the Book of Acts. It points out the characteristics of each Gospel, why it was written, with a review lesson on each Gospel, studies in church history, miracles, missionary journeys of the apostle Paul, how to handle the Bible in winning souls and rapid-fire drills and replies. This little text-book will make it easy for the student to master the contents of the Gospels and the Acts of the Apostles. Members of denominations working towards an advanced teacher-training diploma should use this book rather than "The New Testament Church."

Probably not since the New Testament itself was written has the Christian world had so primitively pure a presentation of the teachings of Jesus. The author has succeeded in divorcing himself completely from every man-made addition to or interpretation of the gospel message as set forth by the Christ himself. The method pursued is so original that it comes with the force of the revelation of a new religion. Comparing unalloyed Christianity with all other religious beliefs, he shows that Christ alone promised forgiveness of sin and eternal life. This new edition contains a graphic biographical sketch of the distinguished author by his son; the author's tribute to his life-long friend, A. Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, 85c.

A story of pioneer days in the Western Reserve of Ohio. Jessie Brown Pounds is one of the chief contributors to our story literature, and in nothing has her pen done better service than in the production of "Rachel Sylvestre: A Story of the Pioneers." It is located in that "Cradle of the Restoration," "The Western Reserve," and it depicts the trials of those who espoused the unpopular cause in the earlier years of the nineteenth century. It is a true tale, clothed in the garb of fiction, and expresses the very soul of the Reformatory movement. The hours that are spent in making the acquaintance of "Rachel Sylvestre" will add to the mental and spiritual stature of the reader.

Norman McDonald

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, 85c.

A story of grit and grace. Left an orphan when a mere child, the hero takes up the struggle for existence with that definiteness of aim and firmness of purpose which are essential to all who struggle for a worthy place in life.

The Iron-clad Pledge

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

A pioneer tale of the Christian Endeavor movement. A story of this great young people's society which had much to do, in the earlier days of that organization, to enlarge and give it character.

Roderick Wayne

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, 85c.

A stirring story of Christian conquest. A splendid companion volume for "Norman McDonald." A story of a true Christian life, full of character and purpose.

A Popular Idol

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, 75c.

The story of a young country preacher who is called to the pastorate of a rich city church, where, through a remarkable brilliancy of mind and a pleasing personality, he becomes the popular idol of the hour. His manner of awakening to a sense of his own responsibility and to the golden opportunities he has wasted, the reader can better appreciate by a careful perusal of the book.

A Woman's Doing, and Other Stories

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, 85c.

A fascinating and inspiring story, and one that recommends itself to all who like to see books that build character in the hands of young readers.

REID, ORVILLE S.

Cartaphilus; or, The Wandering Jew
Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

A masterly argument for the triumph of the church, for the reclaiming of Israel, and the great part the United States is to have in this work, as foretold in prophecy. Mr. Reid outlines our national life and ideals, our religious experiences, and conclusively proves that they were unmistakably prophesied by Israel's great seers and foretold in the Revelation of St. John at Patmos. The facts he here sets forth will prove most interesting and instructive to every reader and be a great incentive to larger efforts.

REWARD CARDS

The pictures are printed in beautiful monotone tint. Size of cards, 5⅛x3⅜ inches.

RICHARDSON, ROBT.

Memoirs of Alexander Campbell
Two volumes in one

Cloth, 8vo. Price, postpaid, $2.25.

The author of this biography of the great man of the Restoration movement was fully qualified by an intimate association with Alexander Campbell to do full justice to his subject. He has produced a splendid piece of biographical writing, and shown excellent taste in his selection of the most characteristic utterances of Mr. Campbell, which, combined with the life, make a most fitting memorial volume.

ROGERS, JAMES R.

Cane Ridge Meeting-house, the Birthplace of a Faith
Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

An interesting historical narrative, having its inception in the very foundations of the Christian Church.

"The author was well equipped for the work he undertook, for he was not only in possession of all the historical facts in relation to his subject, but he was also in possession of many reliable and interesting traditions that have come down from those early times. The book contains the autobiography of Barton W. Stone, in which is given a graphic description of the great meeting held at Cane Ridge in 1801, in which Mr. Stone was the chief actor."—*J. B. The Emphasized New Testament Cloth, square 8vo. Price (was $2.00), po $1.50.

A new translation, adjusted to the Westcott Text. The author says in his Preface: "This wo third edition. The book has been so thoroughly re as to be practically a new work." Signed J. B. R., Oct. 1, 1897. The work is throughout character scrupulous care and general excellence. It is an ex literal translation; the drift, point and emphasis original—the very feeling of the Greek—being clea cernible in English. Familiar passages thus appear and often picturesque form; the text is displayed page in a manner that shows at a glance narrati speech. Section headings assist the eye, and the acc ing indications of parallel passages in the other invite comparison therewith. Quotations from t Testament are printed in italics, and a valuable intro note on the interpretation of the Bible precedes t Gospel. The only authorized edition.

The Emphasized Old Testament
Cloth, square 8vo. Probable price, singl ume, $4.00; in three separate volumes, per v $1.50.

Studies in the Epistle to the Hel
Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00.

A new, emphasized translation, with critical and ex notes.

"The title of this little book modestly indicates its and quality. 'Studies in' rather than a 'commenta and 'studies' rather than oracular pronouncements. the author in the use of that word 'studies' has ac described his book, and has employed the finest word for all dealing with Scripture. It is at once sain scholarly, reverent and bold. It is a rich, if brief bution to the exposition of one of the most fascinatin of the New Testament."—G. Campbell Morgan.

It is doubtful if any modern writer has so successfully employed the shafts of wit and logic and keen research in exposing this medieval politico-religious body to the limelight of public judgment.

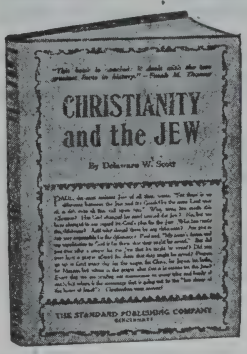
Christianity and the Jew



Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, 75c.

In the preface to this volume, Frank M. Thomas makes this strong statement: "This book is epochal; it deals with the two greatest facts in history."

"This book will set our old friend, the Jew, in a new light before the average Gentile. It is a strongly written book, setting forth in part the great debt which Christianity owes to Judaism. It breathes a true Christian spirit. The author wonders why the church is making such great preparation for the conversion of the Chinese, the Japanese, the Indian, and other races and nationalities, and is doing so little for the conversion of the Jews, who gave us Christ and the apostles and the Bible itself. The plea is an appealing one."—United Presbyterian.

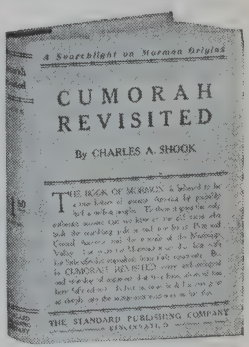
SHOOK, CHAS. A.

Cumorah Revisited

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.50.



A searchlight on Mormon origins. The Book of Mormon is believed to be a true history of ancient America by probably half a million people. To them it gives the only authentic account that we have of the old races who built the crumbling palaces and temples of Peru and Central America, and the mounds of the Mississippi Valley. For years the Mormons made this claim with but little effective opposition from their opponents. But in "Cumorah Revisited" every archæological and ethnological argument that they have advanced has been fully refuted. In fact, no other book has ever gone so deeply into the antiquarian evidences as has this. It completely refutes their claims and shows to what extent they have systematically played upon the credulity of a gullible public and to what extent this sect has gone in the way of willful deception in order to mislead the world. This is a vital and important book.

The True Origin of the Book of Mormon

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.25.

A false revelation exposed. What is the Book of Mormon? Two answers have been given to this question. The Mormons claim that it is the inspired history of the ancient inhabitants of North and South America, translated by Joseph Smith through the power of God. The Gentiles declare that it is nothing more than the manuscript found by Solomon Spaulding, revamped by Smith and his colleagues, Rigdon and Cowdery. In "The True Origin of the Book of Mormon," Mr. Shook maintains the latter view with an array of evidence that is both startling and unanswerable. This book is the most comprehensive and conclusive contribution that has ever been made to the literature on the subject.

The True Origin of Mormon Polygamy

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.35.

A social evil revealed. Who introduced polygamy into the Mormon Church? This question has been discussed for years, and the Mormon people give two different answers. The Brighamites, with headquarters at Salt Lake City, Utah, say that it was Joseph Smith, and that he had a revelation enjoining it July 12, 1843. The Josephites, with headquarters at Lamoni, Ia., deny this, and declare that it was introduced by Brigham Young or some one else. Mr. Shook, in "The True Origin of Mormon Polygamy," proves conclusively that polygamy originated with Joseph Smith, and that he was guilty of other practices which also plainly nullify his claim to being a prophet of God.

The "Millennial Harbinger" Condensed

Cloth. Bound in two large octavo volumes. Price, per vol., prepaid, $3.00.

Being a condensation of the forty volumes of the "Millennial Harbinger" to two volumes of 600 pages each, embracing the parts of permanent value, arranged topically and chronologically.

No work has come from our press in years that will exceed in value the reprint of the great "Harbinger." It breathes the spirit of the leaders of our movement; it is instinct with the enthusiasm of devotion to the great plea for Christian union by a return to the church of the New Testament.

UPDIKE, J. V.

Sermons

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.25.

A series of plain, pointed, practical sermons, convincing and uplifting. They should have a place in the study of every preacher who is concerned about winning souls to Christ. The younger preachers should place themselves under the influence of this great gospel pleader. His discourses are sermons of the heart as well as the head. Numerous portraits and a biographical sketch of the author included in the volume.

HIMER, P. H.

ible School Vision

, 16mo. Price, postpaid, 50c.; paper, 30c.

The first book in the first year of the Advanced Course of the Standard Teacher Training Series of Text-books. A guide-book to Sunday School efficiency. The author is the world's great-est Sunday School builder. He is known throughout the country as the builder and superintendent of the largest Sunday School in the world, at Canton, O. It has an enrollment of between five and six thousand, and the average attendance for the first six months of 1914 was over three thousand. Mr. Welshimer conveys to the reader in vivid style his vision of the ideal Sunday School, much of which he has worked out in the real life of his marvelous organiza-tion at Canton. No other instruction for superintendents, teachers, officers classes has ever carried such weight of successful xperience back of it as does this volume.

WILKIN, STANLEY E.

The Loyal Attendance System

Paper, 12mo. Price, postpaid, 10c.

Presents practical methods for persuading church-members to attend church regularly. Suited to the needs of every congregation. Forty-nine pages, with illustrations and full explanations.

WILLIAMS, JOHN AUGUSTUS

Life of Elder John Smith

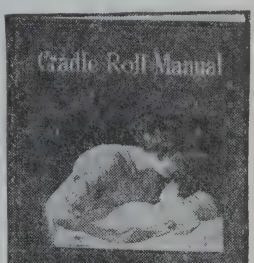
Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.00; paper, post-paid, 60c.

A biography that is a romance of religious experiences. "Raccoon" John Smith was the Peter Cartwright of the Restoration, and an humble, powerful, fearless man of God, with strong convictions and gigantic faith. It presents a graphic account of a period in the history of the early days of the Reformation in Kentucky. This narrative of great self-sacrifice and devotion has seldom been equaled. His wonderful personality, his utter fearlessness and his wide knowledge of the Scriptures and of the great issues of life are among the great heritages of the Restoration movement.

WILLIAMS, KATHERINE

Cradle Roll Manual

Decorated cloth, 16mo. Price, postpaid, 35c.



This manual is the most complete work of its kind published, and is the product of the ripe experience of the superintendent of what is probably the largest Cradle Roll department in the world. The author has given in a full, accurate and practical way the wisdom born of six years of untiring effort and success. A thorough discussion in detail of the value of the Cradle Roll, the superintendent and her duties, how to organize a Cradle Roll, the care of the Cradle Roll and program for Promotion Day completely exhaust the subject and leave little else to be said. A necessity in every fully equipped Sunday School worker's library.

WILSON, L. C.

A Great Cloud of Witnesses

Cloth, 16mo. Price, postpaid, 50c.

A brief treatise in which it is proven by commentators and writers of encyclopedias; by the writers of Greek lexicons; by presidents and professors of the highest institutions of learning, and by the most eminent Greek and Hebrew scholars, that the apostles of Jesus Christ, and the primitive church, by her ministers, taught the identical doctrine that is taught by the church of Christ of to-day; viz., that the immersion in water of penitent believers is for the remission of sins.

Twentieth Century Sermons and Addresses

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.50.

A series of forty-three practical and doctrinal discourses by some of our representative men and women, with introduction by J. A. Lord. Such names as F. D. Power, A. M. Haggard, C. C. Smith, J. B. Briney, L. C. Wilson, Helen E. Moses, Anna Robinson Atwater, Lura V. Thompson, and others equally as well known, bespeak the excellence and worth of these addresses.

The History of Sprinkling. Fifth edition.

Cloth, 16mo. Price, postpaid, 60c.

An unanswerable argument in favor of the New Testament teaching on the subject of immersion, with introduction by J. H. Painter.

ZOLLARS, E. V., A.M., LL.D.

The King of Kings

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.25.

Defenders of the truth that "Jesus is the Christ" will welcome this bold, original work. The argument for the divinity of our Lord is so presented that it will reach and quicken into life the slumbering faith of men. The time-worn speculations on this great theme are replaced by a new and an inspiring discussion. It is a work that will stimulate the mind and stir the reader into action.

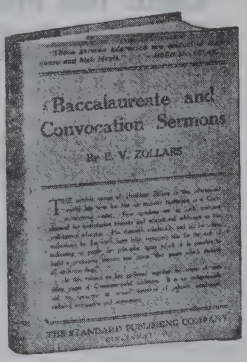
The Word of Truth

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.25.

An able defense of the Mosaic authorship of the Pentateuch. It is the aim of this volume to present in simple form a general knowledge of the books of the Pentateuch, and of the critical questions connected therewith, without going into the latter subject in a minute way. One of the most popular books on the subject. Just the volume for class use.

Baccalaureate and Convocation Sermons

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.25.



The notable career of President Zollars in the educational world won for him an enviable reputation as a Commencement orator. His thorough scholarship and his boundless enthusiasm for his work fully equipped him for the task of indicating to youth the principles upon which it is possible to build a permanent success.

The author has gathered in this volume the cream of over thirty years of Commencement addresses. It is an indispensable aid to speakers at annual exercises of schools, academies, colleges, seminaries and universities.

The Commission Executed

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.25.

A study of New Testament conversions and other evangelistic topics. "It is one of the best volumes of evangelistic sermons that it has been the writer's privilege to examine. The press has put forth no better volume on first principles than this. I wish it might be in the library of every preacher in America."—E. E. Snoddy.

The Abrahamic Prophecies Fulfilled

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.25.

A preliminary view of Bible geography, history and typology to assist in general Bible study. This book is not a Bible geography in any exhaustive sense, yet it deals in a broad way with the Bible world; its physical aspects, such as its mountains, plains, rivers, cities. It is not a Bible history in any systematic sense, yet it points out typical characters of certain cities, buildings and incidents, and gives valuable data on the manners and customs of the Bible people.

The Great Salvation

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.25.

A popular discussion of first principles. A thorough examination of the fundamental principles of Christianity. The plan of salvation is set forth in a way that will strongly appeal to the head and the heart. First principles are set forth here according to the New Testament order.

Hebrew Prophecy

Cloth, 12mo. Price, postpaid, $1.25.

A popular work on this ever-fascinating subject.

The book treats of the character and work of the Hebrew prophets; the gradual unfolding of prophecy; its nature; its kind, variety, source, symbolism, ethnic range, qualities; prophecy in type; its poetic form.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF
E. STEIGER & CO.

ESTABLISHED 1864 — 49 MURRAY STREET — P. O. BOX 1905

NEW YORK

Importations of foreign books and periodicals are, in consequence of conditions, which have arisen in the course of the last two or three years, subject to more or less delay, if at all feasible. Our representatives in London and Paris and other book centers in Entente and neutral countries are, in spite of difficulties, filling our orders with all possible promptness.

While our erstwhile well assorted stock of German books, covering all subjects from belle-lettres to languages, arts, sciences etc. has been depleted, we still have a considerable stock on hand, and booksellers can therefore send us their orders for imported publications with the assurance of the promptest service and lowest prices which circumstances admit of. In view of the depletion of our German stock, however, it would be advisable in ordering to give not only the title actually desired, but also a second or third choice in the event of the first being out of stock, or merely to give the kind of book wanted without specifying any particular title. All prices are subject to change without notice.

Import orders are accepted only subject to delay and possible loss in transit at purchaser's risk, and are not subject to cancellation. Prices to subscriptions to periodicals in particular are subject to change without notice. Quotations upon request.

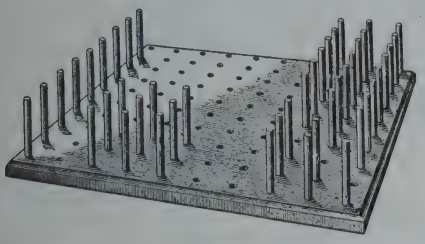
Steiger's Kindergarten Material.

Unsurpassed in quality, reasonable in price. Supplied on contract to Boards of Education of New York, Philadelphia, St. Louis etc. etc. for decades past.

Catalogs gratis upon request.

Peg Boards or Busy Work Tiles.



An occupation for younger children in the home, the kindergarten and the primary school.

The tile is a well finished square board, with holes drilled at regular intervals for holding pegs of various colors.

The pegging of lines, angles and geometrical forms, the arranging of the colors in the various combinations, and the invention of new forms and combinations give much pleasure, while affording the means of instruction to the little ones in the kindergarten and at home. In connecting and primary grades peg-boards are utilized in various ways, particularly in teaching arithmetic.

For kindergarten and school use, the boards are put up without pegs (Nos. 1732 and 1735 a) and the pegs are in boxes of 100 or 1000 each, assorted in six colors. For use in families one board with an assortment of pegs is put up in a paper box, making it complete. (Nos. 1732 a, 1733 a, 1734 a, 1735.)

1732. 1 Peg-board, 6×6 inches, with 100 holes arranged $^1/_2$ inch apart in the form of a square, without pegs. $0.25

1732 a. 1 ditto, in a box, with pegs. $0.35

1735. 1 Enlarged peg-board, 10×10 inches, with 100 holes $^3/_{16}$ inches in diameter, arranged 1 inch apart in the form of a square, with 100 pegs 2 inches long, in six colors. $0.50

1735 a. 1 ditto, without pegs. $0.35

1735 b. 100 Pegs for enlarged peg-boards, 2 inches long, $^3/_{16}$ inch in diameter, assorted in 6 colors. $0.15

STEIGER'S KINDERGARTEN BOXES FOR THE NURSERY.

Packages containing a generous supply of properly made kindergarten material for one child, with directions for use, at $0.25 to $0.50 per package (absolutely net, no discount whatever). These packages are very reasonable in price and can easily be sold at a profit of 50% by booksellers and stationers.

Mat-Weaving.

This occupation, popular among little boys as well as girls, while entertaining, affords instruction in the elements of arithmetic. It promotes accuracy, neatness and generosity, some of the articles capable of being made from mats, such as napkin-rings, needle-books, sachet-bags, cornucopias etc., making acceptable little presents for relatives and friends. It stimulates the inventive faculties and develops the sense of color harmony in the child.

No. 743. This envelope, while exceedingly reasonable in price, contains a cardboard mat with wooden strips already inserted to teach the child how the weaving is done, a patented steel weaving-needle of simple pattern, some twenty weaving-mats with the requisite fringes and a few fancy silver and gold mats, as well as illustrated instructions explaining the use of the needle and material. net $0.25 (including postage). No discount.

Chain-Making and Bead-Stringing.

No. 795. A box containing 200 strips of colored kindergarten paper for making chains, 200 straws, 54 wooden beads, 200 paper disks and squares and 6 laces for stringing. net $0.50 (including postage). No discount.

This assortment of kindergarten material provides entertaining and instructive amusement for children of four to seven years of age. The ends of the first strip are pasted together, each successive strip is past thru the preceding one and its ends joined in similar manner, forming a chain which, when draped as a garland over picture-frames, curtains etc. forms an attractive decoration.

The laces past thru the straws and paper disks or squares alternately, the paper being punctured in the center by the tab at the end of the lace, form equally attractive festoons, a fit ornament in the nursery.

Stringing the wooden beads in a systematic manner with due regard for the variety in form and color, the assortment comprising red, orange, yellow, green, blue and violet spheres, cylinders and cubes, affords not only any amount of entertainment, but, as the materials described above tend to develop the power of observation in the little ones by teaching them to discriminate between the several colors as well as the properties of the various forms, Frœbel's principles of learning by doing and learning while playing are practiced in these occupations.

Card-Sewing.

No. 385 h. This attractive box of easy sewing cards with blunt-pointed needles and worsted, as well as a perforating pad and needle affords instructive amusement to boys as well as girls. The perforated cards without printed designs give the little ones opportunity to develop their inventive faculty by devising an endless variety of designs. net $0.50 (including postage). No discount.

Crayon Work and Painting.

Frœbellian drawing and its sequel occupation, painting, develop neatness and precision. They also teach the elements of arithmetic, harmony in colors and design, besides giving the child opportunity to exercise his desire to express the impression which objects and scenes have made on his mind. In att activeness to the child this occupation is second to none.

No. 469. This box contains designs showing a short course in Frœbellian drawing, a copious supply of drawing paper ruled on both sides in quarter-inch squares, two quires of superior drawing and water-color paper, half a dozen long colored crayons and water-color paints with brushes. net $0.50 (including postage). No discount.

By BENJAMIN F. ALBAUGH

This volume is arranged to meet the needs of the beginner or amateur, especially for those who have limited areas that are available for the purpose.

Few realize the wonderful possibilities of a small piece of ground when cultivated to the limit of its capacity.

A list of items grown by the author on four square rods of ground in the rear of his dwelling place:

30 doz. Green Onions
1 bushel Dry Onions
15 doz. Beets
22 doz. Radishes
200 heads of Fine Celery
25 Choice Eggplant Fruits
25 Fine Squashes
50 messes Lettuce
20 messes Endive
10 messes of Green Beans
8 doz. Sugar Corn
25 heads Finest Cauliflower

THE GARDENETTE: OR CITY BACK YARD GARDENING BY THE SANDWICH SYSTEM. Part I. Vegetable Garden. Part II. Flower Garden.

This volume is arranged to meet the needs of the beginner or amateur, especially for those who have limited areas that are available for the purpose.

Few realize the wonderful possibilities of a small piece of ground when cultivated to the limit of its capacity.

The Sandwich System herein described is not an idle theory, but a solid successful fact, the result of years of careful, painstaking experiment, and highly successful efforts in practical vegetable and flower gardening.

New York Sun: "This book will rouse the ambition of the city agriculturist. It is much more effective and practical than 'Back-to-the-Farm' Sermons."

Montreal Daily Mail: "It is one of the most complete treatises on the growing of vegetables and flower gardens yet issued for the beginner, and the information is so classified that anyone can become successful if they follow the instructions given."

The book contains thirty-two full-page illustrations, photographic examples of the author's experiments. Illustrated cover jacket. Handsomely bound .....Net $1 25

THE TRUTH ABOUT THE THEATER

Precisely what the title indicates—facts as they are, plain and unmistakable without veneer of any sort. It goes directly to the heart of the whole matter. Behind the writer of it—who is one of the best known theatrical men in New York—are long years of experience. He recites what he knows, what he has seen, and his quiet, calm, authoritative account of conditions as they are is without adornment, excuse or exaggeration. It is intended to be helpful to those who want the facts, and for them it will prove of immeasurable value.

"The Truth about the Theater," in brief, lifts the curtain on the American stage. It leaves no phase of the subject untouched. To those who are ambitious to serve the theater, either as players or as playwrights, or, again, in some managerial capacity, the book is invaluable. To those, too, who would know more about the theater that they may come to some fair estimate of the worth of the innumerable theories nowadays advanced, the book will again prove its value.

CAMP FIRES IN THE YUKON.

In this book the author, an explorer, a hunter of big game, and a lover of the Great Out-of-Doors, takes the reader from the shut-in life of the cities to the mighty wilderness of Alaska and The Yukon.

Hunters of big game will revel in this journey to the greatest range of big game on the continent; lovers of animal life will find keen interest in observing and studying with Mr. Auer the habits of the wild life of the far North, while the reader who loves the Open Places of God's Great Nature will be dominated by the intimate contact with the Majesty, Might, and Beauty of the Wilderness of Alaska and The Yukon.

We are given a liberal supply of that practical and useful information that we need in venturing into the Silent Places, interesting alike to those who roam the untrodden trails and to those who remain at home; we are told much that we should know about the romantic and Golden North, and all in a simple, unpretentious style that comes from contact with bigness.

The remarkable and numerous photographs with which Mr. Auer illustrates his work bring us very close to the great heart of the far-off Northern Wilderness.

Deseret Evening News: "He gives liberally of that useful and practical information needed by those who venture into the silent places, and he does it in so friendly a manner as to interest not only such as may themselves roam the untrodden solitudes, but also such as follow the trails in imagination from the peacefulness of their own fireside. The book is remarkably illustrated, both as to the number and the artistic beauty of the pictures, which further help to bring the reader very close to the heart of the far-off field."

BOYLE, Hon. James.

THE MINIMUM WAGE AND SYNDICALISM.

Two great subjects which have suddenly precipitated themselves upon public opinion. There is a marked lack of popular information regarding them. While there is no existing relation between the two, they are both phases of the one overwhelming and disturbing problem of the times—the world-wide unrest and discontent with economic and social conditions. The keynote of this book is an impartial exposition rather than an argument.

As an acknowledged authority on International Socialism, Mr. Boyle is peculiarly qualified to expound the mysteries of that startling and new revolutionary cult which has made such amazing progress among the "proletariat" of Europe and America, called SYNDICALISM.

CAWEIN, Madison.

THE REPUBLIC. A LITTLE BOOK OF HOMESPUN VERSE.

Mr. Cawein's latest volume of Poems was written with a purpose. In it he makes a plea for plain living and high thinking. In the second part of his little volume, which is appropriately named "In Homespun," he gives us something different from anything he has done heretofore. They are little messages of love and hope and cheer. Homely and refreshing as a drink from the old spring, in them a flavor of the soil of Good-will to God and man; and content, no matter what our lot in life.

Our Dean of American Letters, William Dean Howells, says of Mr. Cawein: "He has the gift, in a measure surpassed by no poet, of touching some smallest or commonest thing in nature, and making it live from the manifold associations in which we have our being, and glow thereafter with an inextinguishable beauty."

Review of Reviews: "Mr. Cawein's nature poetry is a vessel brimming with the Elixir of Youth in which our faded roses of remembrance renew once more their pristine freshness and perfume."

MINIONS OF THE MOON.

A Little Book of Song and Story.

In this new book of Poems Mr. Cawein has given us something entirely different from anything ever attempted before in American Verse. He speaks with authority of his American faery. They are the articulate elements which interpret for him the beauty of the world, symbols if you please with which she addresses the soul.

Mr. Cawein has long been sure of his following among those whose judgment really counts and for whom poetry to be real poetry must be a deep interpretation of Nature and the Soul of Man.

Boston Transcript: "It is Mr. Cawein's landscape feeling for nature which constitutes the most abiding contribution of his art to American poetry. In 'Minions of the Moon' we have been given a work of delicate beauty which communicates pleasure, and for this we are duly grateful."

THE YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK.

The World's Greatest Wonderland. America's only Geyser Land.

An entirely new and revised edition with new plates and new illustrations of this remarkable classic of The Yellowstone. Ever since its discovery, more than forty years ago, the Yellowstone Park has grown in popular interest. Its natural wonders surpass anything to be found in like compass elsewhere in the world.

To these attractions have been added others in the form of wonderful mountain roads built by the Government, and a system of hotels and camping facilities which make traveling through the Park a delight quite apart from its scenic interest.

The 1915 edition of The Yellowstone is the most comprehensive book on the Park ever published. It gives a complete history of that region, as well as a full scientific description of its natural wonders. It is also an admirable Guide Book.

Bulletin of American Geographical Society: "There is practically nothing relating to the Park of interest to intelligent readers that is not treated in this volume."

Ready's Mirror: "Gen. Chittenden possesses the art of making even dry statistics bloom, and his book, supplied as it is with a splendid index and a map to delight, is replete with human interest."

Toronto Saturday Night: "Gen. Chittenden is naturally in a position to write with authority on the development of this wonderful natural treasure-house of the American people."

SKETCHES OF GREAT PAINTERS.

"Sketches of Great Painters" treats in a biographical and critical way of fifteen great painters. Among these are the pre-eminent old masters, Leonardo, Raphael, Michael Angelo, Titian, Velasquez, Rembrandt, and Rubens; then there are Murillo, Van Dyck, and Reynolds, and the modern Millet, Corot, Turner, Whistler, and Rosa Bonheur.

This book is in no sense a formal history of art, nor does it attempt that thoroughness which is sometimes akin to boredom. But no one can read these "Sketches" now graphically presenting the life and personality of the painter, and then again entertainingly describing one of his masterpieces, without absorbing much valuable information about those great masters of painting, whose art has quickened our appreciation of beauty.

The Bellman: "Here we have a book which performs the inestimable service of bringing that enlightenment which stimulates appreciation and enjoyment of great masters, this time in the field of pictorial art. . . . Pleasantly untechnical, and graphic as well as accurate, it is especially a book for laymen. . . . Illustrated with Reproductions so excellent as to merit being taken out and framed."

CONTEMPORARY FRENCH DRAMATISTS.

In "Contemporary French Dramatists" Mr. Barrett H. Clark, author of "The Continental Drama of Today," "The British and American Drama of Today," translator of "Four Plays of the Free Theater," and of various plays of Donnay, Hervieu, Lemaitre, Sardou, Lavedan, etc., has contributed the first collection of studies on the modern French theater. Mr. Clark takes up the chief dramatists of France beginning with the Théâtre Libre: Curel, Brieux, Hervieu, Lemaître, Lavedan, Donnay, Porto-Riche, Rostand, Bataille, Bernstein, Capus, Flers, and Caillavet. The book contains numerous quotations from the chief representative plays of each dramatist, a separate chapter on "Characteristics" and the most complete bibliography to be found anywhere.

This book gives a study of contemporary drama in France which has been more neglected than any other European country.

Independent, New York: "Almost indispensable to the student of the theater."

Boston Transcript: "Mr. Clark's method of analyzing the works of the Playwrights selected is simple and helpful. . . . As a manual for reference or story, 'Contemporary French Dramatists,' with its added bibliographical material, will serve well its purpose."

FOUR PLAYS OF THE FREE THEATER: "THE FOSSILS," "THE SERENADE," "FRANCOISE' LUCK," "THE DUPE."

Authorized Translation—With an Introduction by Barrett H. Clark, and Preface by Brieux of the French Academy.

CONTENTS

Preface.....Brieux
Antoine and the Free Theatre, Barrett H. Clark
The Fossils.—A Play in Four Acts, Francois de Curel
The Serenade.—A Burgeois Study in Three Acts.....Jean Jullien
Francoise' Luck.—A Comedy in One Act, Georges de Porto-Riche
The Dupe.—A Comedy in Five Acts, Georges Ancey

Brieux says: "Antoine . . . it was who for the first time introduced to the public a large number of dramatists hitherto unknown, many of whom it is certain would otherwise never have had a hearing. He was the first to bring Ibsen to France, and François de Curel into international renown. Antoine showed us greater and finer possibilities in staging. . . . He reduced the number of stage conventions, he encouraged and successfully produced the works of new authors, and taught the general public to look for and appreciate dramatic work of better quality and nobler inspiration than that to which it had as a rule been accustomed."

Brander Matthews says: "The book is welcome to all students of the modern stage. It contains the fullest account of the activities of Antoine's Free Theater to be found anywhere—even in French."

EATON, WALTER PRICHARD
PLAYS AND PLAYERS—Leaves from a Critic's Scrapbook. Preface by Barrett H. Clark.

A new volume of criticisms of plays and papers on acting, playmaking, and other dramatic problems, by Walter Prichard Eaton, dramatic critic and author of "The American Stage of To-day," "At the New Theater and Others," "Idyl of the Twin Fires," etc. The new volume begins with plays produced as far back as 1910, and brings the record down to the current year. One section is devoted to American plays, one to foreign plays acted on our stage, one to various revivals of Shakespeare. These sections form a record of the important activities of the American theater for the past six years, and constitute about half of the volume. The remainder of the book is given over to various discussions of the actor's art, of play construction, of the new stagecraft, of new movements in our theater, such as the Washington Square Players, and several lighter essays in the satiric vein which characterized the author's work when he was the dramatic critic of the New York Sun. Unlike most volumes of criticisms, this one is illustrated, the pictures of the productions described in the text furnishing an additional historical record. At a time when the drama is regaining its lost position of literary dignity, it is particularly fitting that dignified and intelligent criticism and discussion should also find accompanying publication.

Outlook: "There is meat here for all who are concerned with the development of the American stage."

FORAKER, Joseph Benson.
NOTES OF A BUSY LIFE.

In two volumes Mr. Foraker has sketched his experience of three years in the Union Army, three years on the Bench, four years as Governor of Ohio, and twelve years in the Senate of the United States.

He deals with many political and public events of great importance and, incidentally, with many national characters whom he met in connection therewith.

He quotes letters from Presidents Hayes, Harrison, McKinley, Taft, and Roosevelt, and from Senators Sherman and Hanna, Secretary Hay, and other distinguished Americans, which have never before been published.

He covers the Spanish-American War, the Panama Canal, and many other important subjects, closing with comments on modern developments in political methods and practices, having special reference to the Initiative, Referendum, Recall, and Primary system of making nominations, all of special interest at this time when these methods are being tested by practical experience.

The book will prove of special interest to all students of our political history, whether they are public officials or only public spirited Americans interested in the preservation of our Institutions.

Philadelphia North American: "It is primarily compact of documentary evidence, reinforced by contemporary comment."

Outlook: "To the reader these two volumes introduce a character worth knowing; a man of ability, independence, courage, and combativeness."

Louisville Courier Journal: "The entire work will prove instructive. The most valuable contribution to history is that portion which relates to the author's career in the Senate of the United States."

MacMILLAN, Mary.
SHORT PLAYS.

To fill a long-felt want. All have been successfully presented. Suitable for Women's Clubs, Girls' Schools, etc. While elaborate enough for big presentation, they may be given very simply.

Review of Reviews: "Mary MacMillan offers 'Short Plays,' a collection of pleasant one- to three-act plays for women's clubs, girls' schools, and home parlor production. Some are pure comedies, others gentle satires on women's faults and foibles. 'The Futurists,' a skit on a woman's club in the year 1882, is highly amusing. 'Entr' Act' is a charming trifle that brings two quarreling lovers together through a ridiculous private theatrical. 'The Ring' carries us gracefuliy back to the days of Shakespeare; and 'The Shadowed Star,' the best of the collection, is a Christmas Eve tragedy. The Star is shadowed by our thoughtless inhumanity to those who serve us and our forgetfulness of the needy. The Old Woman, gone daft, who babbles in a kind of mongrel Kiltartan, of the Shepherds, the Blessed Babe, of the Fairies, rowan berries, roses and dancing, while her daughter dies on Christmas Eve, is a splendid characterization."

MacMILLAN, MARY
MORE SHORT PLAYS.

Plays that act well may read well. Miss MacMillan's plays are good reading. Nor is literary excellence a detriment to dramatic performance. They were put on the stage before they were put into print. They differ slightly from those in the former volume. Two of them, "The Pioneers," a story of the settlement of the Ohio Valley, and "Honey," a little mountain girl cotton-mill worker, are longer. The other six, "In Mendelesia," Parts I and II, "The Dryad," "The Dress Rehearsal of Hamlet," "At the Church," and "His Second Girl," contain the spirit of humor, something of subtlety, and something of fantasy.

THE LITTLE GOLDEN FOUNTAIN AND OTHER POEMS.

Some of these poems have appeared in "Poet Lore," "The Boston Transcript," "The International," "The Masses," "Midland," "The Club Woman's Magazine," "Men and Women," "The Smart Set," etc.

Some of them have been set to music by Louis Victor Saar, Wintter Watts, Sidney Durst, and others.

In form they run the gamut from the conventional French forms, the triolet, roundel, ballade, vilanelle, the Italian rispetti, the sonnet, blank verse, the more ordinary rhyme schemes, to the poet's own individual expression of free verse. In thought they vary, too, being concerned with philosophy, nature, description, religion, love, though love holds the dominance, as it does with poets.

SCHNITZLER, ARTHUR

COMEDIES OF WORDS AND OTHER PLAYS. Translated by Pierre Loving.

The contents are: "The Hour of Recognition," "Great Scenes," "The Festival of Bacchus," "His Helpmate," "Literature."

In his "Comedies of Words," Arthur Schnitzler, the great Austrian dramatist, has penetrated to newer and profounder regions of human psychology. According to Schnitzler, the keenly compelling problems of earth are: The adjustment of a man to one woman; a woman to one man; the children to their parents; the artist to life; the individual to his most cherished beliefs; and how can we accomplish this adjustment when, try as we please, there is a destiny which sweeps our little plans away like helpless chessmen from the board? Since the creation of Anatol, that delightful toy philosopher, so popular in almost every theater of the world, the great physician-dramatist has pushed on both as world-dramatist and reconnoiterer beyond the misty frontiers of man's conscious existence. He has attempted in an artistic way to get beneath what Freud calls the "Psychic Censor" which edits all our suppressed desires. Reading Schnitzler is like going to school to Life itself!

SEX PROBLEMS OF MAN IN HEALTH AND DISEASE.

This volume by Dr. Moses Scholtz, an expert on venereal diseases, is an entirely new departure in the literature of sex hygiene. It is the first attempt to present to the general public in a thoroughly scientific comprehensive way all the facts of the sex life of a man. A youth struggling for purity in his manhood will find powerful support and encouragement from a scientific viewpoint.

An unfortunate victim of venereal disease will be greatly enlightened and benefited by the wealth of information of a practical character. Next to the instinct of self-preservation, sex is the most powerful and dominating factor of human life. Its proper interpretation and control bring to man happiness and a fully developed healthy life. Its ignorance or abuse spell ruin in a destruction of body and soul.

HOW TO GROW 100 BUSHELS OF CORN PER ACRE ON WORN SOIL.

This volume, as the title suggests, will prove of inestimable value, and if its teachings are followed by the farmers throughout the country, it will revolutionize the art of farming and make it a most profitable business. As one man says: "You make conservation of the soil plain and practical. You present a difficult problem in such a good, common-sense way."

Boston Transcript: "The author is a determined enemy of the soil robber. . . . To the possessor of worn-out land Mr. Smith offers the fruits of long experience, and he has certainly accomplished wonders. He treats exhaustively of soil, drainage, organic matter, ventilation, soil covering, etc. . . . His chapter of 'Don't Forgets' is a rich garden of agricultural epigrams, and not the least forceful warns the farmer: 'Don't forget that the soil-robber is the highwayman of agriculture.'"

The book deals with every phase and feature of the farm.

Practical Farmer, Philadelphia: "In these days of intensive farming, lots of brains must be used in connection with brawn, and this work is exceptionally well fitted to give great assistance. It treats of farming as a business, and the practical farmer can get much help from it. PLAYS AND PLAYERS

LEAVES FROM A CRITIC'S SCRAPBOOK

By WALTER PRICHARD EATON

PREFACE BY BARRETT H. CLARK

A NEW volume of criticisms of plays and papers on acting, play-making, and other dramatic problems, by Walter Prichard Eaton, dramatic critic, and author of "The American Stage of To-Day," "At the New Theater and Others," "Idyl of the Twin Fires," etc. The new volume begins with plays produced as far back as 1910, and brings the record down to the current year. One section is devoted to American plays, one to foreign plays acted on our stage, one to various revivals of Shakespeare. These sections form a record of the important activities of the American theater for the past six years, and constitute about half of the volume. The remainder of the book is given over to various discussions of the actor's art, of play construction, of the new stagecraft, of new movements in our theater, such as the Washington Square Players, and several lighter essays in the satiric vein which characterized the author's work when he was the dramatic critic of the New York Sun. Unlike most volumes of criticisms, this one is illustrated, the pictures of the productions described in the text furnishing an additional historical record. At a time when the drama is regaining its lost position of literary dignity it is particularly fitting that dignified and intelligent criticism and discussion should also find accompanying publication.

Detroit Free Press: This is one of the most interesting and also valuable books on the modern drama that we have encountered in that period popularly referred to as "a dog's age." Mr. Eaton is a competent and well-esteemed critic. The book is a record of the activities of the American stage since 1910 down to the present. Mr. Eaton succinctly restores the play to the memory, revisualizes the actors, and puts the kernel of it into a nutshell for us to ponder over and by which to correct our impressions.

443–449 FOURTH AVENUE, NEW YORK CITY

Books published since the catalogue of 1916 are indicated by an asterisk (*).

Books recommended by the American Library Association are indicated by a dagger (†).

Out of print books are listed only in the index by titles, pages 40–54.

Most volumes are listed under the names of their authors. Wherever a book belongs to a series which is better known than the authors of particular volumes, such as "Masterpieces in Color," "Painters' Series," etc., it is listed only under the series title.

In several instances books in well-known series, formerly listed under their authors, are now listed under the series. In such cases the authors' names appear properly indexed, but under them reference is made to the series.

Anonymous books are listed under their titles.

An index by titles is given at the end of the catalogue.

GRAHAM, R. B. Cunninghame

"In his way the author stands alone. He has invented a new manner — that of telling stories by word painting. His crash and subtlety of language are splendid. He has a mind as fine and bold as an Arab, or one of those horses he depicts so wonderfully scenting the breeze on the pampas. He is the Goya of letters, with all the color, rhythm, rush and spate of expression of the Spanish painter, drawing bulls and horses, women and strange types with the same inimitable bravura and precision."— English Review.

WILLIAMS, Geo. A. and Clara A.

The glue books are not only popular with children, but are also being recognized more and more by kindergarten teachers and educators as valuable training. They give the children something pleasant to do which unconsciously educates fingers and eyes. Each large oblong 4to, boards, illus. in colors. .....net $1.00
THE DOLLS' PLAYHOUSE. This book is made on a similar principle to the "Children's Store," with three covers that fold out and stand up. The Dolls' Playhouse is cut out, pasted together and set up. Illustrated in colors.
THE STORYBOOK OF SILHOUETTES. In this book the background is white and the pictures to be cut out are printed on black paper. In this way silhouettes may be constructed by the children.
THE AIRSHIPS THAT GLUE BUILT. Makes the child familiar with all the types of air craft which have interested the world. Illustrated in color.
THE SHIPS THAT GLUE SAILED. The background shows sea and harbor, on which are to be pasted all kinds of boats and ships.

THE DOLL'S HOUSE THAT GLUE BUILT. The background shows rooms of a doll's house, on which doll's furniture is to be pasted.

PUZZLE PICTURES OF FARMYARD FRIENDS. Leaves printed with mixed pieces of domestic animals are to be cut up and pasted together in their right relation.

THE CHILDREN'S STORE. The board covers unfold into a three-sided interior, which will stand by itself, showing a butcher's shop, a grocery store and a dry-goods store. Various articles of merchandise, clerks and shoppers are to be pasted in their proper places. Toy money is included.

THE PINWHEEL BOOK. Contains sheets to cut out and fold into pinwheels and other paper toys.

THE PUZZLE PICTURES OF ANIMALS TO CUT AND GLUE. A clever combination of the "cut out" book and the picture puzzle idea.
Leaves printed with mixed pieces of animals are to be cut up and pasted together in their right relation.

THE GAMES THAT GLUE PLAYED. A "cut out book," in which children are to be pasted on outdoor backgrounds, playing their favorite games, such as hop-scotch, etc.

THE FARM THAT GLUE MADE. All the animals and familiar utensils of the farm are here represented, for the children to cut and paste on appropriate backgrounds.

THE CHILDREN'S THEATRE. Rip Van Winkle. A "cut out" book of this popular play, with text explaining the action. Figures and smaller parts of scenery are to be cut out and pasted on backgrounds showing the various scenes. Full directions are included.

THE ARK THAT GLUE BUILT. In this "cut-out" book are figures from Noah's Ark, to be cut and pasted on scenes, representing this episode of Bible history.

THE RAILWAY THAT GLUE BUILT. A "cut-out" book, in which figures and objects are cut out and pasted on backgrounds, the finished pictures showing the train at the terminal, the way-stations, the tunnel and other places on the route.

THE FUN THAT GLUE MADE. "Cut-outs" in which one pastes on a background of field or fireside colored pictures of children at play.

THE STORIES THAT GLUE TOLD. In this book figures from well-known stories are to be cut out and pasted on the background.

THE HOUSE THAT GLUE BUILT. Pictures in full color.

OTHER BOOKS

THE TREASURE TRUNK OF DOLLIES. A box of sheets to be cut up into many kinds of paper dolls.

THE MAGIC BOOK. Like the Surprise Book, parts of pictures are to be cut out to reveal the picture beneath.

THE BETTIJAK BOOK. Another book about Jack and Betty, in the same series as the "Magic Book" and "The Surprise Book."

THE SUM OF FEMININE ACHIEVEMENT

By Dr. W. A. Newman Dorland, Editor of The Chicago Gynaecological Society, and Secretary of the Illinois Society of the Order of Founders and Patriots of America

The book contains a minute, complete and fascinating account of the work accomplished by the women of the world. Mrs. Florence G. Tuttle, the New York novelist, writes: "I am amazed at the valuable amount of information that has been collected in this book. The author proves that woman's genius, in spite of obstacles, has flowered in every field in all time. . . . As a source of reference, alone, the book is invaluable. I marvel at the amount of research it represents."

The most valuable part of the book is an alphabetical appendix, most comprehensive in scope, of the great women of history, including those living at the present time, with an account of the life work of each.

In THE SUM OF FEMININE ACHIEVEMENT the author summarizes a thousand books in one.

THE RIDDLES OF HAMLET AND THE NEWEST ANSWERS

By Simon Augustine Blackmore, S. J., Professor of Philosophy and Literature, Campion College

A new and tremendously illuminating interpretation of Hamlet from the Catholic standpoint. Of Professor Blackmore's critical originality and fine insight into the real significance of the tragedies of Shakespeare the New York Times writes: "He shows not only the critic's insight, but the historian's vision. . . . His criticism will be of considerable assistance to those readers whose appreciation of the greatest plays in our language is as yet formal rather than genuine."

This book will interest both Catholics and non-Catholics. Whether you do or do not agree with Professor Blackmore's interpretation, you will see Hamlet in an entirely new light.

IN STRATFORD AND THE PLAYS

By Horace Spencer Fiske, Author of the "Ballad of Manila Bay and other verses," "Chicago in Picture and Poetry," "Provincial Types in American Fiction," etc., etc.

In stratford and the plays contains sixteen sonnets, previously published in various forms, which have already attracted high praise from leading poets and critics. The sonnets on famous characters in the plays celebrate some especially dramatic or pathetic moment in the development of each. Two of the sonnets are dedicated to Sothern and Marlowe, and to Sir Johnston Forbes-Robertson, as a slight recognition of their distinguished Shaksperean interpretations and their personal appreciation and courtesy.

The letter from a former mayor of Stratford to the author is republished from the Century Magazine because of its historical and literary interest and the fact that before the publication of the sonnet on "Today for Me, Tomorrow Death for You" the incident connected with it, of opening the charnel house at Trinity Church, Stratford, and finding the skull marked with the Latin inscription, was pronounced incredible by several American Shaksperean scholars.

The unique and notable illustrations, one for each sonnet, are chiefly of great actors and actresses in the various character parts referred to in the sonnets. Some of the illustrations were found by the author in Stratford and London, and some were generously given him by the actors and actresses themselves.

This book is a work of art in every way. The handsome illustrations alone are each worth many times the price of the book. These illustrations and the text are printed in brown ink on India tint paper, and the beautiful effect is enhanced by a dark blue binding with a cover design stamped in gold.

A splendid gift book.

The University Series

I. THE POETS OF THE FUTURE

A YEARLY ANTHOLOGY OF THE BEST LYRIC POETRY WRITTEN BY AMERICAN COLLEGE UNDERGRADUATES, EDITED BY HENRY T. SCHNITTKIND, WITH AN INTRODUCTION BY WILLIAM S. BRAITHWAITE

The Review of Reviews says:

"There is a freshness about the whole collection that is beautiful. By all means, let us have more of these college Anthologies."

Prof. J. W. Cunliffe, Associate Director of the School of Journalism at Columbia University, says:

One's first impression in running over the American collection is the general high level of workmanship; the next, the variety of theme and treatment."

William Stanley Braithwaite writes of the book:

"I think this Anthology will have a deep interest for readers unassociated with academic life, for in the poetry world it may well serve as the yearly Spring of Song."

Vol. I, 1915-1916; Vol. II, 1916-1917

Each volume 12 mo., cloth, $1.50 net; leather, $3.00 net.

II. THE SHORT STORY IN THE COLLEGE

A SELECTION OF THE BEST SHORT STORIES WRITTEN BY COLLEGE STUDENTS, WITH AN INTRODUCTION BY EDWARD J. O'BRIEN

IN INSTITUTING the above series, the publishers hope to encourage young authors of talent, and to preserve in permanent form the best work of college men and women whose literary inspiration is as yet ideal, before the authors have yet learned that literature, in order to be successful, must be made to order,— like soap or shirts or lard. These books reveal to us the literary masters of the future in the making.

PHILOSOPHICAL MEDITATIONS

By Haywood J. Pearce, President of Brenau College

This book contains seven essays in which President Pearce elaborates the ideal toward which every American University should strive:

"To find satisfaction in being rather than in seeming; to find joy in doing rather than in dreaming; to be prepared for service thereby earning the right to be served; to be pure in heart, vigorous in mind, discreet in action; to love deeply, fear nothing, hate never; to enjoy that freedom which comes from knowledge of the "Truth;" to be modestly conscious of the limitations of human knowledge and serenely confident of the limitless reaches of human endeavor."

President Pearce, as many will recall, has recently translated his splendid ideal into action by donating his entire college to the State of Georgia.

ACROSS THE YEARS

TRANSLATIONS FROM THE LATIN LYRIC POETS

By Charles E. Bennett, Professor of Latin at Amherst College

In these translations Professor Bennett has proven himself to be an iconoclast. He has shattered our picture in which the ancient poets have been represented as stiff, tin-soldier-like figures whose talk sounds like a lecture in rhetoric. Instead, he shows us human beings who talk, sing, and yes, cuss like us. These translations, or rather adaptations, enable us to hold out our hand across the centuries, and to clasp the warm hand of our deathless fellowmen.

THE PASSING SINGER

By Samuel H. Marcus

These poems, by one of America's younger singers who died just when his genius was beginning to expand, are marked by depth, sincerity, and warmth. They are the product of a heart that knew sorrow face to face and a mind that could transform this sorrow into melodious loveliness.

THE CLASSICAL INFLUENCE IN ENGLISH LITERATURE IN THE 19TH CENTURY AND OTHER ESSAYS

By William Chislett, Jr., Ph. D.

The essays in this book, covering a wide field of authors and subjects, flow like a limpid river and bear the reader amidst delightful scenes and cooling breezes all the way from the classical sources down to the literature of the last century. For lucidity of expression, beauty of style and soundness of criticism, you will find that the book has few equals. Among the subjects so charmingly treated are: "The New Hellenism of Oscar Wilde," "The Platonic Love of Walter Pater," "The Influence of William Blake on William Butler Yeats." "The Work of Robert Bridges," "The Influence of Nonnus on Elizabeth Barrett Browning," etc., etc.

12 mo., cloth, $1.50 net.

THE RETURN OF ODYSSEUS

By Marion Mills Miller, Litt. D., Editor of "The Classics-Greek and Latin," Vols. I-XV, etc., etc.

In this poetic drama Dr. Miller, well known for his splendid modern interpretations of the spirit of the Classics, has reproduced the beautiful atmosphere of the Greek tragedies. Written in the form of those ancient tragedies, the dialogue and the lyrical passages are as fresh and spontaneous as the gushing of a spring in the forest. Vividness, motion and color characterize this play. There is only one other drama written by a living poet which in our opinion resembles in any way "The Return of Odysseus," and that is, the "Prometheus" of Robert Bridges.

GIUSEPPE

A fairy tale of the present day

By Henry T. Schnittkind

"This story is so full of poetry of the purest gold and evinces such rich imagination and human sympathy that I wish I could put a copy into the hands of every child."—Professor Vida D. Scudder.

THE PLAYS OF WILLIAM S. GILBERT

A STUDY IN SOCIAL SATIRE

By Isaac Goldberg, Ph. D.

In this book Dr. Goldberg has so entered into the spirit of Gilbert's humor that an evening spent in reading any portion of it will repay you a thousand times. Written in a breezy style, it will recall to the older generation all the rollicking fun, the subtle irony, the grotesquely rich imagination of the great Victorian Aristophanes, and it will introduce to the new generation those beautiful comic operas that are real art, so different from the trashy musical comedies of the present day.

The Stratford 25-cent Universal Classical Library

THIS library is a new venture in the publishing history of the United States. It is going to be a collection of the best literature of the world, published at a price which will make these classics accessible to all lovers of literature, however slender their means. These books will be uniformly printed in 10-point type on heavy paper of octavo size, and bound in hard, flexible boards. The price of each volume is 25 cents.

First Volume Off The Press

Vol. I LAZARUS, by Leonid Andreyev, and THE GENTLEMAN FROM SAN FRANCISCO, by Ivan Bunin, Translated from the Russian by A. Yarmolinsky.

These stories are considered by a leading Russian critic to be the best Russian stories of the present generation.

In Preparation

Vol. II DE PROFUNDIS, by Przybishevsky, author of HOMO SAPIENS, ETC. Translated by Luba Wies and Wm. Cohen.

Vol. III THE MOSTELLARIA OF PLAUTUS, being the most rollicking comedy of the most rollicking of all Latin playwrights, Metrical translation by Henry T. Schnittkind.

Vol. IV TALES FROM TCHEKHOF.

Vol. V RUSSIAN TALES OF THE PRESENT WAR.

THE NEW CONVERT

By Sergei Stepniak (Kravchinsky)

A PLAY OF THE RUSSIAN REVOLUTION, IN 4 ACTS, TRANSLATED BY THOMAS B. EYGES, WITH AN INTRODUCTION BY PRINCE PETER KROPOTKIN

Stepniak occupies one of the foremost places among the heroes that the Russian Revolutionary movement has produced. An artillery officer in the Russian army at twenty, he later became disgusted with the barbarity of the Russian government and devoted himself to the cause of the Nihilists.

In this play Stepniak depicts the real Revolutionist,—not the blood-thirsty, bewhiskered, bomb-throwing ruffian as he is generally pictured to be, but the gentle, sensitive, humanly loving and suffering friend of the down-trodden people.

This play is not a problem play or a closet-drama, but a wide-awake readable, actable piece that at the end leaves you reluctant to close the book.

"The New Convert is among the best of recent Russian translations."—Boston Advertiser.

"There is much beauty in the play, a warm sympathy pervades the whole and that big simplicity which emanates from all of Russia's great men."—Thomas Seltzer in the N. Y. Call.

ANGLO-GERMAN RIVALRY AS A CAUSE OF THE GREAT WAR

By Oscar A. Marti

The following extract from the vision of the late Tolstoi, written in 1910, is the keynote of Mr. Marti's book, the title of which is self-explanatory: "I see floating upon the surface of the sea of human fate, the huge silhouette of a nude woman. She is in her beauty, her poise, her smiles, her jewels — a super-Venus. Nations rush madly after her, each eager to attract her especially. But she . . . flirts with all. In her hair ornaments of diamonds and rubies is engraved her name 'Commercialism!' . . . Much destruction follows in her wake . . . and the flame of war that the beautiful courtesan carries from city to city and from country to country."

LIGHTS AT DAWN

By Aristides E. Phoutrides, Instructor of the Classics at Harvard University

In these poems Dr. Phoutrides combines the calm, classical beauty of the ancient Greek lyrists and the facility of expression of the modern American poets. A deep, sincere patriotism is the alpha and omega of these poems.

Here is what critics say of the book:

Prof. Clifford H. Moore, Harvard:—

"Certainly Dr. Phoutrides has the poetic gift."

Prof. Herbert Weir Smyth, Harvard:—

"This poet possesses, to a very high degree, the merit of a lofty poetic purpose, great deftness of craftsmanship, and an acute sense of beauty."

Dr. Demos, in the Greek National Herald:—

"Any reader who feels deeply will find some ray to take as his own from these 'Lights at Dawn.' "

MY LAST FRIEND, DOG DICK

By Edmondo De Amicis

TRANSLATED BY J. G. LISTA, EDITED BY MARY E. BURT

A remarkable book is this,—both as to authorship and translation. Told in the form of a story, it is a psychological study of a dog. If you have any doubts as to whether the lower animals have souls, read this masterpiece of De Amicis. It will be truly a revelation.

De Amicis has been called the Italian Shakespeare.

Mary E. Burt has been editor of many well-known educational works, including "Poems Every Child Should Know," John Burroughs' "Birds and Bees," "Prose Every Child Should Know," etc., etc.

Fred S. Whitman, of the Wall Street Journal, says "My Last Friend" is the greatest book of the year.

THE KINDERGARTEN IN JAPAN

ITS EFFECT UPON THE PHYSICAL MENTAL AND MORAL TRAITS OF JAPANESE SCHOOL CHILDREN

By Tsunekichi Mizuno, B. A. Hiroshima Higher Normal School, Japan.

This book outlines the status of the Kindergarten in different countries and more especially in Japan. In the last part of the book there is the record of a careful investigation, "The effect of the kindergarten training upon the physical, mental, and moral traits of Japanese school children." This investigation was conducted among the kindergartens of a number of cities in Japan, and the results bring to light some very salient facts. This book contains many valuable suggestions for parents and educators.

If some earnest readers of the book will conduct similar investigations in this country and compare their results it should be a great contribution not only to the educational field but also to human civilization.

Get this book. It will repay you to make a careful study of its contents.

A DRAMATIZATION OF THE BOOK OF JOB

WITH MUSICAL ACCOMPANIMENT

By James S. Stevens, Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences of the University of Maine

In this dramatization the text of the Book of Job is used with certain omissions and rearrangements. The costume and stage settings are carefully described and there is an illustration showing the principal character. Music, based on certain passages in the book, has been arranged and this constitutes a prominent feature. The drama may be produced by a Young Peoples' Society, College Club, Sunday-school, or any similar organization. In addition to the text the book contains notes and brief articles on subjects relating to the dramatization. The whole work is a serious attempt to popularize one of the finest pieces of literature in existence.

CHRIST TRIUMPHANT AND CHRISTIAN IDEAL

By P. C. Schilling, D. D.

At a time like this, when so many speak of Christianity and so few practice it, these essays on Christianity will inspire and refresh you. Dr. Schilling, well known to many through his chautauqua lectures, is in the words of J. F. THE MIGHTY WAR GOD AND THE ANGEL LOVE

A TRAGEDY IN FIVE ACTS

By John Tyler Williams

"War," in the words of the author of this tragedy, "is the continuance of diplomacy after reason has reached its limit."

War is here painted in all its naked ugliness,—not so much as a thing of horror, but as a loathesome thing. There's power in this play, and music, and above all a wealth of imagination and a depth of sincerity characteristic of all those books written not for the sake of publication, but because it was inevitable that they should be written.

HOW TO MAKE YOUR MARK IN LIFE

By E. Elliot Durant

An eloquent and inspiring little book on success and how to attain it. The author sets down a number of rules whereby the young man may be guided, and he illustrates these rules by means of pertinent and highly interesting anecdotes.

This book is not a book of sermons, but a fascinating store-house of little stories about the famous, showing how and why they rose into fame. Having finished the book, you will not only resolve, but act anew.

TO THE DOGMATIST

By Fred D. Wentzel

Mr. Wentzel is a poet whose work first attracted public attention through the college anthology. His poetry is that of the searcher, the skeptic who sees in this world much that needs explanation. And wherever he sees injustice, he is fearless to point his finger at it. He is not, however, a preacher, but a seer; instead of laying down narrow maxims for the guidance of all, he is broad-visioned enough to see that each of us has it in him to catch some glimpse of truth, however different may be our methods in seeking after it.

SONGS OF GODHEAD

By Samuel H. Marcus

In this book Marcus, already feeling the shadow of death that was impending over him, gave voice to a number of dithyrambs the like of which we see but once in a generation. They are the voice of Truth, of Death, of Life Everlasting. Here is one of these poems:

POSTLUDE

Be like a cloudless daybreak, breaking of my heart:
Crowned with the pale night's brightest stars,
And dawn's first flames of birth.
May no clouds come ere I depart
To realms that lie afar
Where love, some memory and tears will weigh my worth.

My joys were but as rainbows formed by morning rays
Torn by the mist of broken tears.
Now is my weeping done.
The rainbows fade, but morning stays
And grows into the years
I lived so gladly, making wings to reach the sun.

Like a bird that fills a hollow with a song at eve,—
One memory of morning joy,
Be thou, my passing on.
Go tell those loving me who grieve,
That death does not destroy;
That they may say, He is not far away though gone.

By John R. Mott. 12mo, 239 pp.; illustrations, map. Mission Study edition, paper, 40 cents; cloth, 60 cents.

This book is packed with reliable data on mission problems and it gives the conclusions of the author's long study of these questions. A reading of the book produces the inevitable conviction that conditions in the non-Christian nations are such as to warrant the belief that there never has been, and it is hard to see how there will be again, such an opportunity confronting the Church. The book is a powerful appeal for action, a veritable call to arms. It is especially adapted for use as a Mission Study textbook.

Educational Missions

By James L. Barton. 12mo, 268 pp., illustrations, index; paper, 50 cents; cloth, 75 cents.

This book has been prepared to meet a strong demand in the colleges; treats a subject of expanding interest and of the most pressing importance; written by one of the keenest students on the subject of missions.

Effective Workers in Needy Fields

By W. F. McDowell, R. P. McKay, W. F. Oldham, C. C. Creegan, and J. D. Davis. Bibliography, analytical index, illustrations. 12mo, 195 pp.; paper, 40 cents; cloth, 60 cents.

The reader is brought into a sympathetic knowledge of the lives and works of these modern missionaries: David Livingstone, Africa; George Leslie Mackay, Formosa; Isabella Thoburn, India; Cyrus Hamlin, Turkey; and Joseph Hardy Neesima, Japan.

Evangelization of the World in This Generation, The

By John R. Mott. Bibliography, analytical index. 12mo, 245 pp.; paper, 50 cents; cloth, decorated, gilt top, $1.00.

It is doubtful whether any missionary volume hitherto published can compare with it in strength of argument and in prophetic vision. It is stimulating, lucid, and convincing, addressing itself not to the emotions, but to the judgment; yet it is so spiritual in tone and purpose that it encourages and inspires the reader. No prospective leader of public sentiment in Church or State can afford to lose this course of study.—The Sunday School Times.

Findings of the Continuation Committee Conferences Held in Asia, 1912-1913, under the Chairmanship of John R. Mott.

Arranged by Topics. With General and Chapter Introductions by Harlan P. Beach. 432 pp. 1914. $1.75.

Of special value to students of missionary problems and policies. The practical experiences and judgment of 1,200 missionary statesmen of Asia lie back of the conclusions reached at these conferences. The arrangement of the material is by topics, so that the findings of all the conferences on a given subject are arranged together in the same chapter. Its carefully prepared index increases the usefulness of the volume.

A few of the vital questions dealt with are:

What type or phase of work should receive chief emphasis in the field?

What special preparation should missior have before leaving the home lands?

What Christian literature is most urg needed;

(1) for Christians,
(2) for the educated non-Christians,
(3) for the less educated non-Christians.

Foreign Missionary, The: An Incar tion of a World Movement

By A. J. Brown. 12mo, 400 pp.; cloth, 68 cents; cloth boards, $1.50.

Out of a long and intimate experience th thor deals with such questions as these: W the Missionary? What are his motives, and methods? What are his difficulties and the results of his work? How are the Mi Boards conducted? The volume is full of i mation which no one interested in the mis ary problem, and certainly no Student V teer, should fail to study.

Introduction to the Study of For Missions

By Edward A. Lawrence. B Chapters A. II., VII., VIII., IX "Modern Missions in the East." 1 143 pp.; paper, 25 cents; cloth, 40 c

It contains a striking historical survey is followed by an exceedingly valuable discussion of the aim, scope, motives, etc., underlying the missionary enterprise. Then come chapters on the various forms of missionary effort, the missionary on the field in his various relations, and the problems which confront him.

m: A Challenge to Faith

By Samuel M. Zwemer. Statistical tables, maps, charts, index, bibliography; Mission Study Class Edition, paper, 40 cents; cloth, 60 cents. Library Edition, $1.00.

This book, by a scholarly missionary, still in the vigor of youth, is excellent in every respect, a model in book-making, so far as introductory matter, text, illustrations, arrangement, bibliography, and indexing are concerned. It is an ideal handbook for study, with maps, statistics, and all the apparatus for a careful examination of the subject. The needs and opportunities of the Mohammedan world from the standpoint of Christian missions is shown, and a flood of light is shed, that dissipates much of the mystery and romance about the rise of Mohammed and the religion named after him, and which makes obsolete much matter in the old encyclopedias.
The Homiletic Review.

n and Its Regeneration

By Rev. Otis Cary. Bibliography, illustrations, statistics, index, and missionary map. 12mo, 159 pp.; paper, 35 cents; cloth, 50 cents.

The aim of the volume is to exhibit the interworking of the many agencies in this Oriental Renaissance, and their true relation, one to another, as well as to clearly depict the material, social, and religious environment of the Japanese missionary. The treatment is broad and catholic, and the attempt has been made to do equal justice to all leading elements that have entered into Japan's recent wonderful progress, including her relations with Russia.

A better manual upon the Japanese Empire and its evangelization could scarcely be produced.—Church Missionary Intelligencer.

Missions and Apostles of Mediaeval Europe

By Rev. G. F. Maclear, Warden of St. Augustine's College, Canterbury. 16mo, 149 pp.; paper, 25 cents.

A study of the mission fields of the Middle Ages and of the heroic Apostles who have been the makers of modern Europe.

Modern Apostles in Missionary Byways

By Rev. A. C. Thompson, Rev. H. P. Beach, Miss Abbie B. Child, Bishop Walsh, Rev. S. J. Humphrey, and Dr. A. T. Pierson. Bibliography, analytical index, portraits. 12mo, 108 pp.; paper, 25 cents; cloth, 40 cents.

In this book out-of-the-way mission fields that are little studied are brought under review. Greenland, Fuegia, Hawaii, Mongolia, Ceylon, and Arabia are the picturesque background against which stand out in clear relief the lives of Hans Egede, Allen Gardiner, Titus Coan, James Gilmour, Eliza Agnew, and Keith-Falconer.

New Testament Studies in Missions

Being outline studies covering the missionary teachings of the Four Gospels, the Acts and the Pauline Epistles. By Harlan P. Beach. 12mo, 80 pp.; interleaved for additional references and M.S. notes, outline map; paper, 25 cents.

An intelligent use of this book cannot fail to deepen interest in missions, and lead to efficient methods of work.—New York Observer.

It is full of good things for those who use it wisely.—Journal and Messenger.

New Voice in Race Adjustments

Edited by A. M. Trawick. 230 pp. (6 x 9); bibliography, index; paper, 50 cents; cloth, 75 cents.

"It is a well-edited collection of the addresses and reports presented at the Negro Christian Student Conference, Atlanta, Ga., May 14-18, 1914. They are of special value and significance because they are the expression of a truly new voice in race adjustments in the South. Practically every phase of the religious and social life of the Negro is considered, together with the coöperation now taking place between white and colored people for the improvement of conditions. The discussions are frank, critical, and in many cases highly suggestive of methods for remedying the evils freely exposed by both white and colored speakers."—The Southern Workman.

Pastor and Modern Missions, The: A Plea for Leadership in the World Evangelization

By John R. Mott. Missionary Bibliography. 12mo, 249 pp.; paper, 50 cents; cloth, gilt top, $1.00.

The volume is a reprint in enlarged form of a course of lectures delivered at Ohio Wesleyan University, Yale Divinity School, McCormick and Princeton Theological Seminaries. It deals with world conditions at the beginning of the twentieth century and with the pastor as he stands between his church and the world's need.

Present World Situation, The

By John R. Mott. 12mo, 249 pp., fully indexed; cloth, $1.00; paper, 50 cents; Library edition, gilt top, crown octavo, $1.25.

No more timely book could be offered to those interested in the world's evangelization. Broad questions of statesmanship and strategy are discussed as they relate not only to direct missionary operations, but also to the whole large problem of Christianizing all the relations between nations.

"It is a book by a man of thought for men of action. The style is the characteristic expression of the man who writes it: ardent, alert, virile, athletic, arraying facts and forces with a reach and command that belongs to the leaders of men."—Outlook of Missions.

Protestant Missions; Their Rise and Early Progress

By Augustus C. Thompson. Appendix, index. 12mo, 314 pp.; paper, 35 cents; cloth, 50 cents.

An excellent summary of early Protestant missions; mainly biographical, and describing fully a few great missionaries rather than referring to many of comparatively little importance. The author sketches the history from the Reformation to a little more than a century ago.

Religions of Mission Fields as Viewed by Missionaries

By ten prominent missionaries. Bibliographies and index. 12mo; paper, 40 cents; cloth, 60 cents.

The religions included in the volume and the writers upon each are as follows: African religion, E. H. Richards, D.D.; Shintoism, J. H. DeForrest, D.D.; Taoism, H. C. DuBose, D.D.; Confucianism, D. Z. Sheffield, D.D.; Buddhism of the Southern type, J. N. Cushing, D.D., of the Northern type, Rev. A. D. Gring; Hinduism, Rev. C. A. R. Janvier; Mohammedanism, S. M. Zwemer, D.D.; Judaism, Rev. L. Meyer; Catholicism, G. B. Winton, D.D.

This book is particularly valuable for intending missionaries, since the viewpoint of the writers is a practical rather than a theoretical one.

South American Problems

By Robert E. Speer. Illustrations, map, index. 256 pp.; paper, 50 cents; cloth, 75 cents.

An account of the present conditions, economic, educational, moral and religious, in South America; a straightforward, scholarly and constructive treatment of things as they are; the outcome of much study and a personal tour of investigation.

Bible Study

Amurru the Home of the Northern Semites

By Prof. A. T. Clay, Yale University. A study showing that the religion and culture of Israel are not of Babylonian origin. The views of the critics who would dissipate the Bible into Babylonian myths are not only proved to be without foundation, but the origin of Israel's religion as set forth in the Old Testament is substantiated. $1.25.

Ancestry of Our English Bible, The

By Prof. Ira M. Price, University of Chicago. A scholarly treatment of the story of the various versions of the Bible. Profusely illustrated. Widely used as a text-book. Equally suited to the reference library of the every-day Bible student. $1.50.

The Apostles as Everyday Men

By President Robert Ellis Thompson, S. T. D. President Thompson pictures the Twelve as real men, with their weaknesses and their noble characteristics sympathetically set forth. He devotes a chapter to each of the six pairs of apostles, and a chapter to what is known outside the New Testament about their life and death. The book is a graphic, vivid character study, and an invaluable reference manual in Bible study. 50 cents.

Archeology's Solution of Old Testament Puzzles

How Pick and Spade are Answering the Destructive Criticism of the Bible. By the Rev. John Urquhart. A book which brings within small compass some of the chief results of archæological work. Cloth covers; 60 pages, 30 cents.

Chronology in the Bible

By Prof. Willis J. Beecher, D. D. A brief study of the sources and principles of Bible chronology, with a comparative chart of the kings of Judah and Israel, Assyria and Babylon. Just the help needed to clear up confusion as to Bible dates and events. 25 cents.

Dated Events of the Old Testament

By Prof. Willis J. Beecher, D. D. A scholarly treatise. Chronological tables, accompanied by exhaustive explanatory notes. An indispensable hand-book for the careful student, teacher or preacher. $1.50.

Deity of Jesus Christ, The

By S. W. Pratt, D. D. The topic of the book is discussed from the standpoint of the Gospel according to John, and is a careful analysis of that Gospel. 50 cents.

From the Nile to Nebo

By Franklin E. Hoskins, D. D., Syria Mission, Beirut. A Discussion of the Problem and the Route of the Exodus. The book is the result of a 1900-mile journey, including the route of the Exodus from Egypt, through the Sinaitic Peninsula, Mount Seir, Edom and Moab, Ammon and the Jabbok, to the Jordan and Jericho. A residence of twenty-eight years in Syria has given the author exceptional knowledge of the people and customs, and afforded opportunities for extensive travel. Beautifully illustrated with 85 halftones, contains 366 pages of type matter, and will be of great interest to every Bible student. $3.00.

Light on the Old Testament from Babel

By the Rev. A. T. Clay, Ph. D. An authoritative statement of the results of recent archæological discoveries, and the light they throw on Old Testament history. The book is abundantly illustrated, many of the pictures never having been published before. $2.00.

Light on the Story of Jonah

By H. Clay Trumbull. There is light on that story from sources outside the Bible. Dr. H. Clay Trumbull in the course of his Oriental researches came upon certain facts which seemed to him worthy of the attention of Bible readers as bearing on the Bible narrative. His deductions from these facts are very suggestive. 20 cents.

Medical Men in the Time of Christ

By Dr. Robert N. Willson, gives a review of early medical history, a study of lay conditions in which medical men worked, a description of the Asklepian Temples of Health; a study of Luke the physician, and a crowning chapter on The Master Physician. Illustrated. $1.00.

Our Misunderstood Bible

By H. Clay Trumbull. This volume has gathered into compact form many of the comments resulting from Doctor Trumbull's critical study of well-known Scripture passages, and reverses some common notions about Bible meanings, while illuminating obscure passages that have puzzled many. $1.00.

Outline Harmony of the Gospels

By Prof. Matthew Brown Riddle. An eight-page pamphlet, printed on fine paper, showing the events of the Gospel story, places and dates and location in each Gospel, in parallel columns, 10 cents. Folded within stiff covers, 25 cents.

Pictures of the Apostolic Church

By Sir William M. Ramsay. The greatest living master of the history of Asia Minor and of the life of Paul has poured the wealth of his lifetime studies into this volume. It is a simple, popular, but richly revealing series of pictures of the life, conditions, events and characters of the early Christian Church as given in the Acts and certain of the epistles. $1.50.

Reasonable Biblical Critcism

By Willis J. Beecher, D. D. In this work Doctor Beecher gathered up the history of biblical criticism in recent years, selects the significant tendencies, analyzes them, and with utter fairness and full consideration of the value of both the higher critical and the ultra-conservative positions, brings the reader face to face with most reasonable conclusions with regard to the whole question. It is a book of great importance, and will undoubtedly do much to help the everyday Bible student to solid ground. $1.50.

Story of the Revised New Testament, The

By Prof. Matthew Brown Riddle, one of the Revisers. An account of the purpose, plan and methods of the Revisers, with comments on some of the important changes. 75 cents.

Studies in Oriental Social Life

By H. Clay Trumbull. A rich fund of side-lights on Bible characters and customs as studied in the life of the East by a keen-eyed American scholar who knew how to see and say the things that every one wants to know about Oriental customs. $1.50.

World - Wide Bible Study

By Clayton S. Cooper. Mr. Cooper knows the facts and methods of practised Bible study throughout the world as do few other men. Out of his rich experience in promoting Bible study in America and the Orient he has made a book which opens up a rare opportunity to those who would appropriate new treasures in Bible study and teaching. Literally the whole world has been searched out for its contribution to the kind of Bible study that grips. Cloth, $1.00; paper, 50 cents.

Methods

Analytical Outlines of the Old Testament

Compiled by Margaretta M. Haig, for twenty years a leader of teacher-training classes in Philadelphia.

A hand-book for Bible-training classes in schools, colleges, Sabbath-schools; also individual students in the home.

These lessons are designed to offer the scholar a broad, comprehensive, connected knowledge of the Holy Scriptures, but are in no sense intended to form an exhaustive analysis. They are planned especially for those who wish to become teachers of the Bible.

A clear summary, in compact, vivid form, of each book is given, with the history of the times; the purpose of each book; the relation of the books to each other, and the unity of the whole—the preparation of the world for Christ. 50 cents.

Boy's-Eye Views of the Sunday-school

By "Pucker." A series of shrewd comments from the boy's standpoint as to the strong and weak points in Sunday-schools he has visited. Full of keen constructive criticisms. 60 cents.

500 Bible Story Questions and Answers from the Old Testament

By Samuel Scoville, Jr. These questions will be found of real value for home and class study in bringing out some of the lesser known incidents of the Old Testament. 25 cents.

Guide Boards for Teachers

By W. H. Hall. By an apt use of illustrations drawn from country guideboards in different stages of legibility, directness, good condition and general usefulness, Mr. Hall points out some of the dangers that threaten the best work of the Sunday-school teacher, and shows how they may be avoided. 50 cents.

Hand-work in the Sunday-School

By the Rev. Milton S. Littlefield. A manual of methods for the use of note-books, sand table, map coloring and other activities in the Sunday-school. 30 illustrations. $1.00.

"How" Book, The

How to reach, hold and teach men, and how it has been done. By Marshall A. Hudson, Founder and President of the World's Baraca Bible Class Union. A book for adult Bible classes. 50 cents.

Illustrations on the Beatitudes

By Sadie Eastwood. Especially designed for the use of primary teachers and mothers who wish to present the Beatitudes in a series of lessons, with illustrations, stories and other teaching hints. 50 cents.

Making of a Teacher, The

By Martin G. Brumbaugh, Ph. D., LL. D., Governor of Pennsylvania. This is the text-book for special use in Sunday-school teacher-training classes, and it has also been adopted in many of the professional reading courses for secular teachers. $1.00.

Missionary Methods for Sunday-school Workers

By George H. Trull. Tested plans for stimulating missionary interest in the Sunday-school. In addition, many useful charts are given, and there is a choice list of missionary books, arranged for ready reference. Revised edition brought up to date. 50 cents.

Missionary Studies for the Sunday-school

Edited by George H. Trull. A greatly needed series of little, inexpensive books for mission study in the Sunday-school. Three series, and two grades in the Second and Third Series.

Each series, limp covers, 20 cents, postpaid; ten copies, 15 cents each, not postpaid; fifty copies at 10 cents each, not postpaid.

Philathea Bible Class, The

By Marshall A. Hudson, founder of the "Baraca" and "Philathea" world-wide movement of men and women. What it means, how it works, the secret service, constitution, and the teacher are all set forth in an interesting and instructive way. There is also a chapter on the Adult Bible Class Teacher by Henrietta Heron, vice-president of the World-wide Baraca and Philathea Union and editor of the "Adult Bible Class Monthly Teacher." The "Philathea" classes now number over five hundred thousand members. Every leader of organized work among young women will want to own a copy of this book. 50 cents.

Prayer Before the Lesson, A

By Philip E. Howard. Within the covers of a beautiful little book, Mr. Howard has gathered nearly one hundred and fifty of the brief prayers that have appeared in The Sunday School Times in his weekly article for superintendents. Not only superintendents, but teachers as well, have used these devotional utterances before the lesson study. With each prayer is a reference to the Scripture upon which the thought of the prayer centers. A welcome gift book for private, or class, or platform devotions. 50 cents.

The Students' Illustrated Historical Geography of the Holy Land

By the Rev. William Walter Smith, A. B., A. M., M.D. Author of "The History and the Use of the Prayer Book," "Christian Doctrine," "The Making of the Bible," "From Exile to Advent," "Sunday-school Teaching," "Religious Education," "The Ageless Hymns of the Church," etc.

This book is illustrated with about one hundred pictures of Bible places and thirty-five maps, many of them in colors. With foreword by the Rev. Milton S. Littlefield.

It is a popular reading manual and text-book for teachers and clergy, and an illuminating course of lessons for the Sunday-school, to be used in the history and geography ages. The book is designed for extensive use in private study, in supplemental work in classes above the elementary grades, and in teacher-training classes that desire to do especially careful work in the combined fields of history and geography.

One of the special features of this book is a very full list of Bible pictures and reference works, with definite information as to where they can be obtained. Price 75 cents.

Sunday-school Teacher-Training

By Prof. H. M. Hamill, for many years Superintendent of the Teacher-Training Work in the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Not a course in teacher-training, but a book full of suggestions for the starting and carrying on of teacher-training classes. A book to put into the hands of any one who doubts the value of that work or who wants to know how to go about it. Revised edition. 50 cents.

Supplemental Bible Question Course, A

By John B. Smith. Fourth edition, fully revised. A manual of Bible drill facts, places, etc. May be used for a platform drill five minutes each Sunday. 50 cents.

Timothy Stand-by, the Sunday-school Man

By Joseph Clark, D. D., Secretary of the New York State Sunday-school Association. Timothy has his own way of sizing up Sunday-school problems, and some very good ways of solving them. You ought to know him. Illustrated by Frank Beard. Coth, 50 cents; paper, 25 cents. Both editions fully and equally illustrated.

Training the Teacher

In four parts: (1) The Book, A. F. Schauffler, D. D.; (2) The Pupil, Mrs. A. A. Lamoreaux; (3) The Teacher, Martin G. Brumbaugh, LL. D.; (4) The Sunday-School, Mr. Marion Lawrance. Approved as a First Standard Course by the Committee on Education, International Sunday-School Association. Cloth, 50 cents; paper, 35 cents.

Teacher-Training with the Master Teacher

Studies of Christ in the act of teaching, as a means of learning how to teach. By C. S. Beardslee, D. D. 50 cents.

The "Times" Handbooks

City Sunday-school, The

Its Work, Growth, Possibilities. By Frank L. Brown. An appendix contains a large number of printed forms, records, letters and blanks which Mr. Brown has used successfully in his Sunday-school—now one of the three or four largest in the world. Limp cover. 25 cents.

Sunday-school and the Pastor, The

By John T. Faris. Practical hints for the pastor who wants to help his Sunday-school, telling what many pastors have actually done. 25 cents.

Sunday-school and the Home, The

By Frank L. Brown. A thoroughly practical discussion of the proper relationship between the home and the Sunday-school, with definite plans for creating and sustaining that relationship. Limp cover. 25 cents.

Primary Department, The

By Ethel J. Archibald. It discusses all the necessary phases of a primary teacher's problems and work; it also outlines programs for the various exercises of the class for special occasions, such as Christmas and Easter. Five illustrations. 50 cents.

Home Department of To-day, The

By Mrs. Flora V. Stebbins. Every essential thing—from the first step toward the organization of a new Home Department to the best method used in making the department a success. 25 cents.

Beginners' Department, The

By Angelina W. Wray. Practical Plans for the Beginners' Department of the Sunday-school—the little folks under six years of age. Room arrangements, occupations, songs, programs. 50 cents.

Knowing and Teaching the Scholar

By the Rev. A. F. Schauffler, D. D., Chairman of the International Lesson Committee. How to study the child; how to do blackboard work; how to use hand-work in teaching (a chapter by M. S. Littlefield); the teacher's work outside of the school; the conversion and culture of the scholar; all in brief, practical chapters in a hand-book that every teacher should have. 50 cents.

Getting and Holding

By WILLIAM H. HAMBY, is a little book of sound suggestions for gathering, entertaining and teaching a Sunday-school class. It has a freshness and definite usefulness quite out of the ordinary run of method books on the teacher's work. 50 cents.

Our Primary Department

By WILLIAM D. MURRAY. A little book which tells the story of what has actually been done in one Primary Department to teach God's Word to the children. 50 cents.

Inspirational Books

Faith of Abraham Lincoln, The

By WILLIAM H. LAMBERT. Long study of original material and an enthusiasm guided by sound judgment have enabled Major Lambert to set forth many evidences of Lincoln's religious beliefs and practices. Its compactness does not lessen, but rather emphasizes, the importance of this contribution to Lincoln literature. 35 cents.

500 Ways to Help Your Church

By THERESA H. WOLCOTT. Originally appearing in the Ladies' Home Journal, the chapters of this book offer a wealth of suggestions for wholesome entertainment, hints on making the instruction of young people interesting, financial plans that include neither sale nor barter, and all sorts of sensible ways of encouraging the social life of the church. A book for all church workers. $1.00.

For a Free Conscience

By L. C. WOOD. A new illustrated edition of an inspiring and absorbing story of the early persecutions of the Quakers in England, when they suffered for a free conscience. The trials of the imprisoned Friends during the London plague and fire are graphically portrayed. $1.00.

Four Princes of the Church

By JAMES A. B. SCHERER, Ph. D. A story of the Christian Church grouped around four types—Paul, Constantine, Bernard, Luther. $1.00.

How to Speak Without Notes

By ROBERT E. SPEER. A clear, brief, practical address by one of the strongest, most experienced public speakers of our time. 20 cents.

The Heresy of Mehetabel Clark

By ANNIE TRUMBULL SLOSSON. One of the most beautiful of Mrs. Slosson's New England stories is now issued in this special edition. It is the story of a girl in a mountain village, counted a heretic by her neighbors, but whose life reveals the reality of a strange and transforming vision that the country-folk could not understand. The story has all of the distinctive qualities that led one reviewer to write of other work of hers, "literary art in which we have had no master since the pen dropped from the faint and feeble fingers of Hawthorne, and which seems native to Mrs. Slosson." Price, 50 cents.

In Tribulation; or, The Blessing of Trials

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL. 150 pages. 50 cents.

Just a Minute!

A little book of daily readings by DR. CHARLES FREDERIC GOSS. Dr. Goss has a way of getting folks' thoughts out of ruts. 50 cents.

Lie Never Justifiable, A

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL. A critical study of the principles underlying truth-telling, and a practical consideration of the everyday application of those principles. 75 cents.

Life Story of Henry Clay Trumbull, The Missionary, Army Chaplain, Editor and Author. By PHILIP E. HOWARD. Illustrated, $1.00.

Little Shepherd of Bethlehem, A

By ANNIE TRUMBULL SLOSSON. Mrs. Slosson has written many New England stories that have found a place among our distinctively American literary treasures in the appreciative estimate of both British and American readers and critics.

This story, a Christian blessing to any one who reads it, tells of a lonely boy among the New Hampshire hills who was profoundly moved to prepare in his own way for our Lord's return on Christmas Day. But it is impossible to do more than suggest the story. The story is appropriately offered in artistic book form especially suitable for a Christmas gift, with a frontispiece by Charles Stephens. 50 cents.

Meditations on the Apostles' Creed

A devotional gift book. By Wm. Jones Gregory, D. D. Each phrase in the creed is accompanied by a suggestive "meditation"—devotional and searching—and on the opposite page are placed the words of one of the great hymns. Printed in two colors, on fine antique paper. 25 cents.

Men and Missions

By William T. Ellis. "Men and Missions" is a straight putting of present-day world conditions, and of those hitherto unpublished considerations concerning the greatest work in the world which appeals to men. The appendixes, full of methods and missionary data, supply a realized lack. A meaty volume, by a newspaper man who knows American men and who knows the mission field by actual observation. $1.00.

Message from Mt. Lebanon, A

By Layyah A. Barakat. The Story of a Syrian Girl. Mrs. Barakat's stirring life-story, written by herself, bears witness to the power of Christ. She has been wonderfully used in her public work as teacher and lecturer. The book has a helpful message for all who chafe over the obstacles in their way. Attractively bound in blue cloth, with gold cover stamping and photographs of the author. 167 pages. 75 cents.

My Life and the Story of the Gospel Hymns

By Ira D. Sankey. This book contains Mr. Sankey's story of his own life, and tells the stories of scores of gospel hymns—how they came to be written, or the incidents of their use all over the world. 75 cents.

Off the Rocks

Life-stories of the deep-sea fisher-folk of Labrador. By Wilfred T. Grenfell. 259 pages; 11 illustrations. $1.00.

"Principles and Practice" Series, The

By H. Clay Trumbull. The set, six volumes in a box, $3.00; each, 50 cents.
Ourselves and Others. 210 pages.
Aspirations and Influences. 188 pages.
Seeing and Being. 204 pages.
Practical Paradoxes. 192 pages.
Character Shaping and Character Showing. 201 pages.
Duty-Knowing and Duty-Doing. 208 pages.

Radio-Active Texts

By Bishop Henry W. Warren. Inspiring comments on a series of light-giving Scripture passages. Gift-book style, art cover, text in colors. 25 cents.

Simples from the Master's Garden

By Annie Trumbull Slosson. A series of short character sketches picturing people in humble walks of life who silently teach great lessons. Illustrated; gift-book style; colored border on text page. $1.00.

St. Jude's

By Dr. John Watson (Ian Maclaren), with an introduction by Ralph Connor. Strong character sketches, akin to those found in "Beside the Bonnie Brier Bush." $1.00.

Temptation

By Philip E. Howard, is a series of chapters on the nature and meaning of temptation, with a consideration of how to meet some of the most common temptations in daily life. 50 cents.

Trumbull Year Book

A book of daily readings, composed of striking paragraphs from the pen of the late Henry Clay Trumbull. Compiled by Caroline K. Herrick. These daily readings comprise 365 paragraphs which challenge attention and thought. leather, 60 cents.

Two Northfield Sermons

By H. Clay Trumbull. 1. Moral Color-Blindness. 2. Our Duty of Making the Past a Success. Paper cover, 30 cents.

Voice in the Night, A

By Frederick Hall. Bible stories that throw new light on the old settings. These are thrilling pictures of human life in the making quite different from the ordinarily retold Bible story. They are prose poems of intense and compelling interest. A beautiful gift book. Price, 75 cents.

White Christopher

By Annie Trumbull Slosson, author of "Fishin' Jimmy," "Story-Tell Lib," etc. Illustrations by Alice Barber Stephens. Heavy deckle-edge paper. A choice gift book. 75 cents.

Winning Men One by One

By H. Wellington Wood. How a consecrated business man has used his everyday opportunities to win men to Christ. A most quickening and enlightening book for every Christian. Cloth, 50 cents. (Revised and enlarged second edition, illustrated.)

What is Japanese Morality?

By James A. B. Scherer, Ph. D. A study of ethical conditions in Japan, especially with reference to the opportunity for the introduction of Christianity. Colored frontispiece. 75 cents.

Wise Man's Gold, The

By "Anthony Hobart." A charming Christmas booklet of 25 pages, bound in mauve and gold, with 5 illustrations. The story turns upon the experiences of a bit of gold through the centuries, and its observations of our varied human natures as influenced by the gold and what it represents in human desire and achievement. It is a most pointed allegory in application to the complex life of today. 35 cents.

Young People and the Church

By President Woodrow Wilson. One of the most significant and searching utterances on this theme that has yet appeared. A beautiful gift book. Bound in fine leather, 50 cents. In paper, 10 cents.

Maps and Charts

Byington's Chart of Jewish National History

Shows the progress and divisions and kings and prophets of Israel and Judah from the time of Abraham to the birth of Christ and after. Pocket size, 25 cents.

Chart of Christ's Journeyings, A

By C. E. Arnold, A. M. On map paper, 9¼x 19 inches, folded within stiff covers, 3½x6½ inches. Four clear outline journey maps, showing the various periods of Jesus' ministry, with the events, and the location of the Scripture passages in parallel columns. 20 cents.

Chart of Paul's Journeyings, A

By C. E. Arnold, A. M. On a sheet of map paper, folding within stiff cloth covers, 6¼x 3¼ inches. Five simple outline maps, showing the period of preparation, the first, second and third journey, and the voyage to Rome, with Scripture references and dates in parallel columns. 20 cents.

Historical Charts of the Life and Ministry of Christ

With an outline harmony of the Gospels. By George E. Croscup, B. A. Author of "A Synchronic Chart of United States History." The distinctive feature of this work is found in the two sheets of folding colored charts bound in at the back of the book. These charts make visible and real the earthly life of our Lord by localizing its historical facts and features, which are harmonized with the gospel story thereof, thus helpfully connecting time, place and event. Harmony and charts are interdependent, and make up the author's "visible method" of teaching history and applying it to the Gospel narratives.

There is also included an abundant bibliography of books to consult, a pronouncing and explanatory dictionary of proper names, lists of the miracles and parables of Jesus, an outline of the Jewish Calendar, a diagram of the Herodian Family, and a brief record of the Twelve Apostles.

This is destined to become a standard work, necessary to every Bible student's equipment. $1.00.

Wall Chart of the Life and Ministry of Christ

By George E. Croscup, B. A. Beautifully lithographed in colors. Size 44 x 64 inches. This chart is a wonderfully successful attempt to make the earthly life of our Lord more real by making visible the time and the place of the recorded events.

The Diagram of the Ministry is based upon the period of about three and a half years, and closely follows Prof. Matthew B. Riddle's Outline Harmony of the Gospels.

It also conforms to the well-known Harmony of the Gospels by Stevens and Burton, and with slight variations to the Outlines of the Life of Our Lord, by Dr. S. J. Andrews.

The chart contains three complete diagrams:
(1) A General View of the Life of Christ.
(2) The Ministry of Christ.
(3) The Passion Week.

It is hand-mounted on heavy muslin, with common rollers. $3.00.

The Boy and Girl Problem

Boy and the Church, The

By Eugene C. Foster. A study of the boy's religious life, habits, growth, and boyhood interests, with many plans for his best development under the leadership of parents and teachers; and a full list of books for workers with boys. 75 cents.

Happy Hours for the Boys and Girls

By the Rev. D. E. Lewis. A book for all who have wanted to teach children and young people by means of blackboard or slate work, and who have never had access to plain and easily workable suggestions for such teaching. STALL'S SELF & SEX SERIES

Are the Bookseller's Staples

The bookseller doesn't have to lie awake at night worrying whether or not these books will sell—He Knows They Will, just as surely as the grocer KNOWS that the sugar and flour in his stock are going to be carried away by anxious customers.

Just Display Them—keep them where the anxious eyes of the customers may see them, and they will come out of that book shop as if they had wings.

Then again, the bookseller who has pride in selling Character Making Books knows that he is in mighty good company when he recommends them to his customers —in the company of these good and great men who are ever ready, by pen or word, to endorse them.

Get in the Company of These Distinguished People, Mr. Bookseller:

"Your books deserve to be made accessible to thousands."—President Faunce, Brown University.

A Book About Our Wonderful Bodies.

Marvels of Our Bodily Dwelling

BY MARY WOOD-ALLEN, M.D.

Author of "What a Young Girl Ought to Know," etc.

This is a wonder-tale about this marvelous body of ours. It is a beautiful building, more exquisitely appointed than any structure of man's creation. Not only a dwelling, but a workshop, wherein are done wonderful things—a laboratory where many miraculous processes are carried on; a manufactory, where worn-out materials are destroyed and new substances created; a structure embodying marvels of mechanism and skill of engineering.

Cloth, with cover in four colors, stamped in gold. 328 pages with Five Half-Tone Pictures and 72 Line Drawings. Price, $1.20 Net.

OPINION OF A BIOLOGICAL EXPERT.

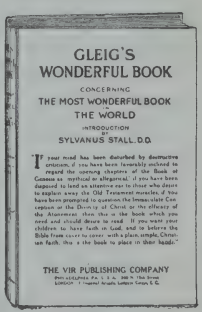
"This book tells a beautiful story, and in a wonderful way. It is full of information the right sort, and I regret that there are not more such books, and that they are not more nerally in the hands of the public."—William F. Craig, A.M., M.D., Professor of Biology, entral High School, Philadelphia, Pa.

Gleig's Wonderful Book Concerning the Most Wonderful Book in the World

BY REV. GEORGE ROBERT GLEIG, M.A.

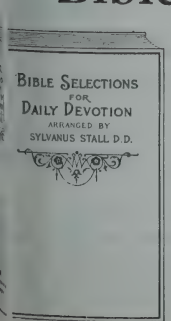
With Introduction by Sylvanus Stall, D.D.

711 Pages. $1.80 Net.



This book was written upon the theory that the Bible is all true or it is true at all. It presents the Bible as a whole, and in such a manner as to fy and centralize the 66 books, giving the reader that unity and comprehisiveness of view which the Bible student needs in order to make effective reading and study of the Bible itself, and it does two very important things; st, it creates an atmosphere in which doubt and unbelief cannot live; secIly, at the end of each chapter it answers the questions concerning the ble suggested by Satan to the mind of every intelligent Bible reader.

Bible Selections for Daily Devotion



Selected and Arranged by SYLVANUS STALL, D.D.

Cloth. 686 Pages. $1.20 Net.

This book brings to family worship 365 passages best suited in character and length to such service. It is intended to relieve the father or mother of perplexity and apprehension concerning the passages to be read, and to enable them to bring to the service that mental and spiritual frame of mind indispensable to the conduct of real worship. The selections are excellently suited for use not only in family worship, but also for the chapel services of colleges, universities and by teachers in the opening services of public schools.

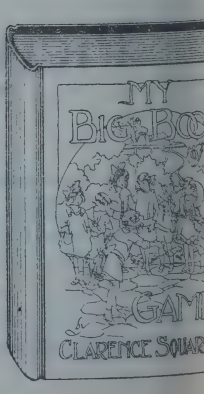
MY BOOK OF INDOOR GAMES. Cover by Hazel Frazee. . . .60



"Let the child imbibe in the full spirit of play. There is nothing like it to keep him on the path of health, right thinking and mind development."

The little reader will here find a delightful collection of all the good old games as well as the ones of the present day. These books will be a real godsend to the mother who is beset with the question, "What shall we do now?" Give the children these game books and you will find that they can amuse not only themselves but all the little folks in the neighborhood.

STORY BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE

Adapted from the French by Lawrence B. Franklin

"Why does it snow, Grandfather? Why do some of the clouds look like the camel in the k Zoo, others like enormous balls of cotton, and why are some nearer the earth than others?"
ese and a thousand other questions that are often in the minds of the little folks are here wered in such clever story-book fashion that the child never knows that it is really being ght while it is being entertained. Knowledge imparted in this manner makes a lasting pression on the childish brain. Text books will not teach the little ones half as much as s delightful "Story Book of Knowledge."

Colored frontispiece and many black and white illustrations.

Cloth. Size 9 x 6½. 254 pages. Price $1.00.

A NEW THRILL FOR CHILDLAND

ELIZABETH GORDON

In other words a brand new book—the best yet—by the well-know juvenile writer, Elizabeth Gordon.

Just imagine the delight of the children as they travel with Neddi in Candyland. From the time that Old John Barley Sugar opens th stick-candy gates to let Ned in to visit King Gum Drop, to the las minute of his delightful stay in the land of sweets, there is just on surprise after another.

Billy Banana Candy was leaning up against a sugar-plum tre when Neddie passed by. The tree bore a sign which read "Help your self, it's free." Said Ned, "This is the place for me." And it surel was. He visited Santa Claus' candy factory that was so busy it ha to work all year round. How noisy the candy whistles were. How surprised he was to meet all the candy children he had known and love since he was a baby. All Day Sucker was jolly even if he only did hav one leg to stand upon; so was his chum Rock Candy who had a weak back—you know it' only made of string. What a grand party King Gum Drop gave Ned! Even the Ten Littl Nigger Babies were on hand.

Queen Jelly Bean helped the children to have a good time, and best of all, gave Ned dozen of her candy receipts to take home. These are in the back of the book. Strange t say, when Ned reached home plain bread and meat tasted better than they ever had before

Miss Frazee's delightfully imaginative pictures of all these candy people will make th children stare with delight. The artist realized she was illustrating a book that was going t "make a hit" and she rose to the occasion.

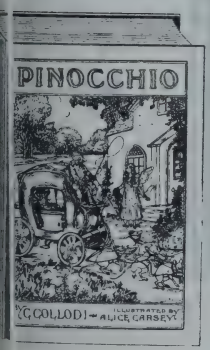
PINOCCHIO

The Tale of a Puppet

By C. Collodi

Illustrated with 42 color and black and white original drawings by Alice Carsey.



Here is a new edition of Pinocchio that will easily take first place. Printed in clear, big type, on enameled paper, newly illustrated with eight color plates, a hand-decorated title-page, and numerous half-page black and white drawings.

"Pinocchio" was written by an Italian, and has been translated into English, German, Spanish, etc., so great has been its popularity. No wonder, for it is a most unusual and mirth-provoking book for boys and girls.

An old cabinet maker carves a life-sized puppet out of a piece of wood. It must have been an extraordinary log of wood, for no sooner had the man finished shaping the feet than the boy became alive and ran away.

In the adventures which follow, none is more amusing than Pinocchio's meeting with the members of a puppet show who are giving a performance in a near-by town. They see Pinocchio in the audience and claim him as their long lost brother. This is a book that even the grown-ups admire, so clever is its style.

Bound in cloth, with cover printed in colors, and jacket to match. Decidedly inal, hand-decorated title-page. Six color plates. 32 half-page black and te drawings.

Size 9¼ x 6½. Coated paper. $1.00.

ROBIN HOOD

By Rosemary Kingston

Illustrated by Alice Carsey

Who has not heard of the celebrated Robin Hood? What bo or girl is there who will not thrill with the reading of his adventure in the greenwood? Outlawed at an early age, he became the leade of a band of gallant youths. He took it upon himself to readjus the distribution of property by robbing the rich and endowing th poor. His superior skill in archery, and his daring at all manl exercises gained him fame throughout Merry England. Even th king, at last, was willing to grant a pardon if Robin Hood woul give up his adventurous life and come join the royal archers.

The author has made a careful study of the Robin Hoo traditions and selected only the most interesting. These have bee woven into a new story that will delight the youthful reader wh enjoys knowing about a "real hero." Original full-page illustration in color and black and white. A superb edition for the price Bound in cloth, printed in extra large new type on enameled paper wrapped in colored jacket.

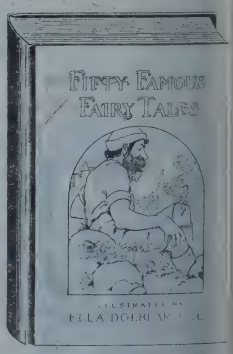
FIFTY FAMOUS FAIRY TALES

Selected and Adapted by Rosemary Kingston

Illustrated with 75 color and black and white pictures by the well-known artist Ella Dolbear Lee

Just think, fifty of the world's most famous Fairy Tales gathered together under one cover! No longer will the children have to hunt through Andersen, Grimm, Arabian Nights, etc., for their favorites. Here they all are—Sleeping Beauty, The Tinder Box, Chicken-Licken, The Robber-Bridegroom, Faithful John, Beauty and the Beast, The Flying Trunk, Cinderella, The Three Bears, Rapunzel, The Fisherman and his Wife, Red Riding Hood, Jack the Giant Killer, The Ugly Duckling, etc., etc.



The tiresome repetition so often found in the old Fairy Tales has been eliminated. In their new form, these well-chosen tales are even more interesting than before.

The artist seems to have lived over again her Fairy Tale days, while making the 75 pictures for this book. The very fairies themselves must have guided her pen, for the princesses, the giants, the witches, and fairy-godmothers show up in her clever drawings exactly as the little ones picture them in their own vivid imaginations.

Printed in big 14-point type on fine quality of enamel paper. Cloth bound. Cover i color. A most artistic hand-decorated title-page. Eight full-page color plates and 65 blac and white illustrations scattered throughout the fifty stories.

Size 9¼ x 6½. Cloth. 75 illustrations. 75 cents.

HEIDI

By Johanna Spyri, Wonderfully Illustrated with 33 Pictures in Color and Black and White by Alice Carsey

In this artfully written story by the celebrated Swiss authoress, the heroine is a little orphan child named Heidi, who is taken up to live on the high Alm-Mountain with a cross old hermit—her grandfather. She becomes at once alive to the beauties of the mountains. Her only youthful companion is Peter the goat-herd, who lives half-way down the mountain-side. Every day he takes his goats up on the high slopes where they frolic about and graze on the rarest herbs. Heidi knows no greater joy than to go along and roam among the wild flowers, and watch the great eagle circle over the rocks. She soon learns to love the grandfather's goats, Little Bear and Little Swan. Heidi is the spirit of good. She brings the light of love into an old blind woman's life, she softens the grandfather's heart, and teaches Peter to treat his goats kindly. The world is the better for the telling of this tale, for it is one that not only holds the reader but leaves a beautiful picture in the mind for memory to dwell upon.

Mother Hubbard's House Party

By Beryl Heflin Lightfoot
Illustrated by Elizabeth Rosenkrans

Here is a delightful Mother Hubbard—prosperous, plump and with plenty in her cupboard. She lives in a rambling old house in the country with her faithful dog Pom. She loves boys and girls, so she plans a wonderful house-party for Christmas week and invites ten of her little friends from far and near.

The old stage-coach rattles up to the door and out jump the merry guests—Little Miss Muffet who at first is afraid of Pom, Georgie Porgie, Boy Blue, the Ten O'Clock Scholar, Jumping Joan and all the rest. What fun they had cutting down the Christmas tree. What good things Mother Hubbard gave them to eat. Even Georgie Porgie had more than he wanted. The story so appealed to the artist, Elizabeth Rosenkrans, that she threw herself heart and soul into her work and made pictures that will more than delight the young readers. There are eight of them, full-page, half in color and the rest black and white.

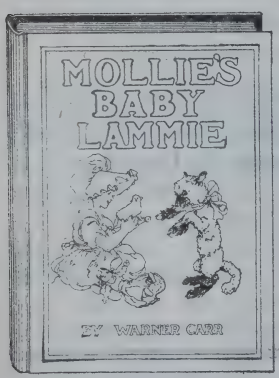
THE LAMBKIN SERIES

Written and Illustrated by Warner Carr

The Little Lost Lammie

"If you read this book written about me," said the Little Lost Lammie, "you will wish there were a hundred books to the Lambkin series instead of only three. You see Warner Carr has a sheep farm down in Indiana. I used to wonder what he was doing out in the pasture with his easel and brushes. Then again, I often saw him with his fountain pen taking down notes as he talked to old Mrs. Wise Sheep. But I wonder if he really knew how scared I was the day I was lost in the forest? Dear me! that was a day of adventures. But read the book. You'll just laugh at the pictures. Especially the one where I am riding the little wooden-legged squirrel on my back."

Cloth. Size 8¾ x 6½ inches. 35 cents.



Mollie's Baby Lammie

"Can you do tricks on a pumpkin, the way I can?" as Mollie's Baby Lammie. "If you don't believe I can do them, look at the picture that Warner Carr drew of me the day he cau me out in the garden. My, but I was having a good time u I happened to take a big mouthful of horse-radish. I don't why Mollie's mother became so angry when I ate the flowers her Easter bonnet. How was I to know that they were any dif ent from the kind Molly taught me to eat out in the fields?"

Cloth. Size 8¾ x 6½ inches. 35 cents

Little Frisky Lammie

"Doing tricks on a pumpkin is nothing compared to doing a buck-jump," said Little Frisky Lammie. "Just watch me," and he wheeled around on one toe and then jumped straight up in the air, kicking out all four feet at once. "Do you see that field over there? Well, that's where I go every day to eat white clover. I used to feel dreadfully bad about losing so much of my wool when I squeezed under the barbed wire fence. I don't any more though. Why, you ask? Because, one day I met Mr. and Mrs. Wren, and they were very sad because they couldn't find anything soft for their nest lining. My, but they were happy when I took them over and told them they could have all the wool sticking on the fence."

Cloth. Size 8¾ x 6½ inches. 35 cents.

he Montessori Manual

By Dorothy Canfield Fisher

n this valuable book, Dr. Montessori's teachings and educational occupations are ar- d in practical exercises or lessons for the mother and teacher.

Dr. Montesorri's own books eloquently speak for the philosophical and scientific side of reat work. Thousands of newspapers and magazine articles have told the American e of this wonderful Italian woman and her schools, but "The Montessori Manual" is st book that has attempted to deal with the "everyday" practical side of the "Method." Mrs. Dorothy Canfield Fisher was a co-worker with Dr. Montessori and gained an insight he great educator's life, and into the principles of her philosophy. Mrs. Fisher's clear ntechnical analysis of these principles; her remarkable use of language; her vision of r possibilities for the children of America all combine to make this "Manual" one that mother and teacher will find worth reading and assimilating.

WHEN BOSTON BRAVED THE KING. A story of tea party times. Illustrated. 314 pp. Cloth. $1.35.
This story is intended to be accurate in its representation of historic characters and events; to give a true picture of life and thought in Boston before the Revolution, and to bring to the front the young people of the time, together with their interesting seniors.
It brings into high relief the earnestness and patriotism of those who, in the destruction of the tea, led in the brilliant and historic protest against the aggressions of the British government.

THE PRAIRIE SCHOONER. A story of the Black Hawk War. Illustrated. 382 pp. Cloth. $1.35.
The scenes in this book are laid in and around Chicago about the year of 1831, and the story concerning the Black Hawk War is correct in its historical data. The author's knowledge of this locality in those days aids him in throwing an introspecting light on the early history of Chicago.

James Newton Baskett

SWEETBRIER AND THISTLEDOWN. A story. With colored illustration. 340 pp. Cloth. $1.35.
This is an exceedingly interesting story by the author of "At You-All's House." Its characters are the most pleasing which have been woven into modern fiction. Throughout the entire book the author has introduced many bits of nature study which add much to the interest and value of the book.

LIEUTENANT RALPH OSBORN ABOARD A TORPEDO BOAT DESTROYER. Illustrated. 342 pp. Cloth. $1.35 each

Commander E. L. Beach's stories for boys of the United States have helped immensely to explain the inner workings of an American man-of-war and to inspire patriotism and heroism in the young men of this generation. Mr. Beach writes of real events and true incidents in the Navy, and brings into play all the expert knowledge of the Navy which he has gained through years of experience.

Naval officers are one of the few classes of Americans who actually have interesting adventures now-a-days; consequently the navy appeals to the boy's imagination much as it did in the days of wooden ships. Commander Beach has put into his series of stories about Ralph Osborn some valuable information about the American navy, and much of his own life experience.

Revolutionary Series for Girls

Illustrated. 3 vols. $1.35 each.

A GIRL OF '76. About Colonial Boston. 331 pp. Cloth.

A REVOLUTIONARY MAID. A story of the middle period in the War for Independence. 321 pp. Cloth.

A DAUGHTER OF FREEDOM. A story of the latter period of the War for Independence. 312 pp. Cloth.

The first volume of this series treats of the early period of the Revolution; the second of the middle period, while the last deals with the closing events of the long and successful struggle for independence.

This series, as shown by its titles, covers the most important periods of our nation's Revolutionary history. The stories are primarily written for girls, and the homes and heroines depicted are drawn so as to give peculiar interest to their readers. The value of these books as real history and as an incentive for further historical study can hardly be overestimated. They are full of interest to young people and recommend themselves to every one who likes to see books that build characters in the hands of young readers.

ELIZABETH, BETSY AND BESS. Illustrated. 284 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

If there is one thing that Miss Amy E. Blanchard knows well it is the child's heart, and this knowledge stands her in good stead in her recent book. The story runs into just such conversation and escapades as three young girls are liable to indulge in.

ELIZABETH, BETSY AND BESS — SCHOOLMATES. Illustrated. 320 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

This is the story of the school days of the three girl chums and shows the individual development of each one. Every chapter is full of the interesting experiences dear to the hearts of girls of this age.

THE CAMP FIRE GIRLS OF BRIGHTWOOD. A story of how they kindled their fire and kept it burning. Colored frontispiece. 309 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

What the Boy Scout organization means to the boys, Camp Fire Girls means to their sisters. It is a well grounded organization, having high aims of helpfulness and personal service and this story shows the development in the character of those who made up the organization in the little town of Brightwood, their difficulties and triumphs in forming their organization; and the experiences and pleasures enjoyed by them are woven into an intensely interesting story by an author who is devoted to the work.

FAGOTS AND FLAMES. A story of winter camp fires, with colored frontispiece by Frank T. Merrill. 306 pp. $1.25.

This is a companion volume to "The Camp Fire Girls of Brightwood," but absolutely independent of it. The author has carried along the characters in the former story, bringing into prominence the true-hearted country girl, Kathleen Gilman. It is brightened with girlish fun and by the ceremonials of the Camp Fire Girls, and will be dear to the heart of every member of the Camp Fire organization.

IN CAMP WITH THE MUSKODAY CAMP FIRE GIRLS. A story of the Camp Fire by the Lake. Illustrated with colored frontispiece. 318 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

Readers of this volume will recognize many of the old characters of whom they have read in "The Camp Fire Girls of Brightwood" and "Fagots and Flames." When the opportunity came for a summer's outing, full of the pleasures and experiences of Camp Fire life, these Camp Fire Girls grasped it. The story is of their experiences which attended this life in the open. It is a pretty picture of wholesome out-of-door life surrounded by the spirit of the Camp Fire.

THE BALASTER BOYS. A story. Illustrated. Cloth. 294 pp. $1.25.

"The Balaster Boys" is based upon the home life of a professor's family which contains three wide-awake boys and their cousin, an orphan girl, who becomes their adopted sister. The portrayal of their individual characters and of the influence they exerted over one another in their work as well as their play furnishes the theme of a bright and wholesome story that can be read with interest by boys and girls alike.

WINIFRED WEST. A story. Illustrated. 371 pp. Cloth. $1.00.

"Winifred West" is a child of a simple country home in Massachusetts, well trained and cultivated as far as her surroundings permitted. She early developed a taste for the violin, and her parents decided to give her the advantage of a winter's study in Boston under one of the finest masters. Here, thrown upon her own resources, she attested the power of worthy training and of a noble character. Full of sunshine and devoting herself steadily and persistently to her work, she won recognition personally, as well as a player upon her favorite instrument.

Ellen Douglas Deland

MALVERN. A neighborhood story. Illustrated. 341 pp. Cloth.

The neighborhood in question is in New Jersey, and furnishes a queer assortment of boys and girls, whose plans and activities form the material for this entertaining story. Miss Deland understands boy and girl nature, and also how to tell a story. A visit to the World's Fair forms a considerable part of the book, recalling pleasantly many features of the Unique White City whose like probably will not be seen again.

A SUCCESSFUL VENTURE. Illustrated. 340 pp. Cloth.

Four girls, with a brother, left destitute by the death of their father, find that they must make their own way in the world. They scandalize their dignified aunt by deciding to earn their own living. They are refreshingly honest and natural, and their plans, as conceived and carried out, make an exceptionally fine story.

The author has displayed ability in planning the course of action of her agreeable young people and in working out her plot effectively. Its blending of good sense and entertainment will be appreciated.

THREE GIRLS OF HAZELMERE. A story. Illustrated. 360 pp. Cloth.

"Three Girls of Hazelmere" is a story of three young women living in a Massachusetts village who make a trip abroad to fit themselves for particular lines of work. Their experiences in England, France and Germany are entertainingly told. They learned much in which the ordinary reader will have an interest. The charm of the book is in its shifting scenes, amid which pleasant people come and go.

THE FRIENDSHIP OF ANNE. A story. Illustrated. 332 pp. Cloth.

"The Friendship of Anne" is founded on boarding school life that is full of activity. The author apparently knows girls well, their weaknesses, hopes and aims. Every girl will enjoy the enthusiasm which runs throughout the story, and as for the characters, one cannot but sympathize when sympathy would be appreciated, and rejoice with them in their triumphs.

KATRINA. Illustrated. 340 pp. Cloth.

The background of the story of "Katrina" is a New England village, with its quaint, oldtime people, the old Perkins home being the central point of interest. Katrina was reared there by an old aunt, cold and stern as the climate, but at heart devoted to the young girl.

THE BEACH PATROL. A story of the life saving service. 318 pp. Cloth.

THE YOUNG SUPERCARGO. A story of the merchant marine. 352 pp. Cloth.

"The Brain and Brawn Series" of books for boys, by William Drysdale, which the New York Sun called "the very best stories for young people we have ever seen," are four in number — "The Young Reporter," a story of Printing House Square; "The Fast Mail," a story of the railroad; "The Beach Patrol," a story of the life-saving service; and "The Young Supercargo," a story of the merchant marine.

"The Brain and Brawn Series" are of a higher moral tone and character than almost any books for young people we have read, and we hope they will be introduced freely into home circles and in all libraries. They are called by the New York Sun "The very best stories for young people we have ever seen."

CADET STANDISH OF THE ST. LOUIS. A story of our naval campaign in Cuban waters. Illustrated. 354 pp. Cloth. $1.35.

"Cadet Standish" is a story of our naval campaign in Cuban waters, the hero being a young cadet of the St. Louis, who was detailed for perilous work on shore. The author has been well acquainted with Cuba and Cuban customs, and with this knowledge and his skill as a writer he has produced a war story true to life, full of stirring adventure and that will be thoroughly relished by boys.

THE YOUNG CONSUL. A story of the State Department. 356 pp. Cloth. $1.35.

The purpose of these volumes is to give in story form a complete account of the present workings of our State and Treasury Departments. But they hardly need the aid of fiction to lend interest or novelty to the subjects.

These books are full of information, interesting alike to a boy or girl.

THE BOY SCOUTS IN THE DISMAL SWAMP. Colored frontispiece. 310 pp. Cloth.

Walter P. Eaton, whose boy scout story of Berkshire has already gained a popularity, has taken his little band far from their original camping ground in his new story, "The Boy Scouts in the Dismal Swamp." The Dismal Swamp of today is not what it was fifty years ago or the band of scouts would not have come out as well as they did. While in it, they saw sights enough to verify the name, but much strange beauty of vegetation, much geological development of unfamiliar kind. The adventures with the law and the lawless add spice to the story which keeps up the standard of the other books of the series.

BOY SCOUTS IN THE WHITE MOUNTAINS. The story of a hike over the Franconia and Presidential Ranges. Colored frontispiece. 320 pp. Cloth.

Intimate knowledge of the country as well as of the basic principles of Boy Scouting characterizes this new volume by Mr. Eaton. It is the third of the series and is interesting to all Boy Scouts, as well as those who contemplate becoming Boy Scouts, or who have not even thought of it yet.

BOY SCOUTS OF THE WILDCAT PATROL. Colored Frontispiece. 315 pp. Cloth.

This story is a continuation of the history of Peanut and the other characters which appeared in previous volumes by this author. Some of the former characters have developed into Scout Masters themselves and the story shows what they have learned in the way of Boy Scouting and how they passed it along to others.

PEANUT—CUB REPORTER. A Boy Scout's life and adventures on a newspaper. Colored illustration by Frank T. Merrill. 320 pp.

A rattling newspaper story with Peanut as the central character—he who has figured so prominently in the author's four Boy Scout books. The organization and management of a modern newspaper is carefully portrayed, developing the principles of loyalty and service which animates the best reporters, and Peanut, applying the principles learned in his Boy Scout work, shows his mettle.

WHAT GLADYS SAW. A nature story of farm and forest. Illustrated. 318 pp. Cloth. $1.00.
The story of a little girl who has a strong love of nature and out-of-door life. It is a nature study, with just enough of the thread of a story to make it attractive to the class of readers for whom it was written, and the author's thorough knowledge of her subject has enabled her to present a volume that is as instructive as it is entertaining. Gladys is a winning little heroine, and her keen interest in birds, insects and flowers sharpens her eyes and makes her life on a country farm a very enjoyable one.

THE RAINBOW BRIDGE. A story. Illustrated. 254 pp. Cloth. $1.00.
A unique story of a little girl in a charitable institution who was adopted by an aunt. There is an undertow of pathos in the story of Marion Lee's experiences, but a bright, beautiful, dominant note of love and happiness pervades the story, which is a most valuable one.

BARBARA'S HERITAGE. Or, Young Americans among the Old Italian Masters. Illustrated. 358 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

Books of travel, study and fiction are numerous enough, but books that combine all three as happily as "Barbara's Heritage" are very few. This book, describing the experiences of several young Americans among the old Italian masters, is full of high ideals of life and study. It abounds in description of travel and foreign scenes that the reader intuitively knows were born of intimate experience. It is rich with information regarding the best ways of studying the works of the old masters in the Italian cities where they may be found today, and gives a sympathetic interpretation of their meaning, the value of which is ensured by the art reputation of the author. We know of no better guide for those who are to study these old masters at home or abroad.

THE TEACHING OF CITIZENSHIP. 225 pp. Cloth. $1.25

For the purpose of guiding an instinct and training a sentiment, Bishop Hughes suggests certain natural and human starting points for the teaching of patriotism and citizenship. Following a discussion, "The need and the method," are nine chapters on the lesson of instinct, of breadth, of cost, of protection, of benefit, of democracy, of liberty, of character and of duty.

Citizenship is an important subject, one which may well be taught in our public schools, discussed from our pulpits, and made the theme for the greatest publicity. He who imbibes the truths taught by Bishop Hughes will become a better American citizen — more appreciative of his rights, privileges and duties.

Illustrated. 2 vols. $1.25 each.

JACK BENSON'S LOG. Or, Afloat with the Flag in '61. 276 pp. Cloth.

MIDSHIPMAN JACK. 290 pp. Cloth.

"Jack Benson's Log" is a story of the adventures of a young fellow who entered the United States Navy at the outbreak of the Civil War. He had many stirring adventures and he gained high honors by his courage and skill. The story will interest any boy.

"A Medal of Honor Man" is a veteran of the Civil War who has been given a medal (made from bronze cannon captured from the enemy) for bravery. The story is an entertaining one, having to do with naval service, blockade runners and the famous "Alabama."

"Midshipman Jack" is a sea story of the War of the Rebellion, and deals with the service under Rear Admiral Farragut in the Gulf Squadron.

THE QUEEN'S RANGERS. A story of Revolutionary times. Illustrated. 351 pp. Cloth. $1.35.

The time of the story is the Revolution, and the young heroes enjoy the remarkable distinction of having served their own country by means of experiences gained by them when, by stress of circumstances, they had to serve the foe. The story makes a singularly happy combination of an historical fact with praiseworthy fiction.

A SOLDIER OF THE LEGION. A story of the great Northwest. Illustrated. 291 pp. Cloth. $1.35.

This is virtually the story of William Henry Harrison as told by one very near to him. School and college life, life on a Virginia plantation, and fascinating tales of Indian warfare are all introduced in the course of the narrative. This, of course, is no biography, but really a story.

INDIAN FAIRY TALES. As told to the little children of the wigwam. 240 pp.

It may not be generally known that the red men possessed a large body of literature even though it existed in oral form, but as a matter of fact very many tales have been handed down from one generation to another. It has been the author's aim to present a number of these, particularly those which are similar to our fairy tales, in such a manner as to interest young readers, and at the same time to give an instructive lesson in Indian life and character. There can be no doubt that any boy or girl who has read the books of this series has a far better idea of the actual nature and history of the red man than before.

NEW LITTLE AMERICANS. Stories of and about the children living in our new possessions, and under the Stars and Stripes. Fully illustrated. 250 pp. $1.00.

These stories give graphic pictures of the life, the customs, the interests and the amusements of the children on the Hawaiian Islands, The Philippines, and the Islands of Porto Rico, Guam, Midway, the Samoan Islands, and around the Panama Canal.

Uncle Sam's Old-Time Stories Series

Illustrated. 3 vols. $ .75 each.

THE COMING OF THE WHITE MEN. Or, How Our Country Was Discovered. 183 pp. Cloth.

OLD COLONY DAYS. Stories of the first settlers and how our country grew. 190 pp. Cloth.

BUILDING THE NATION. Stories of how our forefathers lived, and what they did to make our country a united one. 207 pp. Cloth.

This series tells in story form the origin and development of the Nation. Each story is complete in itself and the author has been remarkably fortunate in her choice of words, for the younger readers can easily grasp them.

The character of Uncle Sam is one which will appeal to children, and his personality and his tremendous pride in the achievements of his own country cannot but impress the reader. For reading in the home or in school, these books are particularly fitted, and they cannot but awaken the spirit of patriotism.

LITTLE FOLKS OF NORTH AMERICA. Illustrated. 250 pp. Cloth. $1.00.

This is a very interesting and instructive book about the little people of Mexico, Canada, Alaska, Labrador, Greenland, Newfoundland, the United States and of other sections, showing their various characteristics, developments, dress, sports and occupations, and in order to more firmly fix these distinctive characteristics in the mind of the reader, the author has contrasted one group of people with another, showing how their environment has been in a great measure the cause of their different development.

WHITE BIRD — THE LITTLE INDIAN. A story of a little Indian and her white sister. Colored frontispiece. 127 pp. $ .75.

This is a dear little story of a little Indian girl, and of the affection which sprang up between her and the little white girl settler. It is a pretty picture of the home life of the Indians, introducing an insight into their domestic life which is seldom seen. It tells of the little Indian girl's life roaming around the fields, and when the first settlers arrived of how she at first feared them, and then when the little girl herself accompanied her elders on a peaceful mission to the settlement, of how she fell in love with the little white girl and of the friendship which developed between them. It is worthy a place in every child's library.

DOLLS OF MANY LANDS. Beautifully illustrated by colored plates. $1.00.

Little girls of every land and of every clime are fond of dolls, because from their earliest age girls have the mother instinct. In a striking, happy way, and with the aid of beautiful illustrations, the author of this book tells the story of the following dolls: The Japanese doll, the Eskimo doll, the Dutch doll, Mrs. Martha, Queen Victoria's doll, Viola May, the Parisian doll, the Korean doll, the Persian doll, the Egyptian doll, and Rippling Waters, the Indian doll.

Fascinating little stories and good illustrations of the dolls of nine different lands, make an interesting and instructive book for little people.

Hugh C. Weir

WITH THE FLAG IN PANAMA. A story of the building of the Panama Canal. Illustrated. 356 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

This is a timely story, full of adventure, but still conveying an accurate idea of the work of building the great Panama Canal. Few appreciate what the building of this canal really means, but from the author's own experience he has drawn the facts so as to give a pretty good idea of just what is really going on. Starting at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology on what he believed to be the technical engineering career, the young hero finds himself forced to abandon it and take up the practical side of his profession. His adventures and hardships through which he passed, the success which he met with, all have their places in what will be called one of the best stories for boys.

THE YOUNG SHIPPER OF THE GREAT LAKES. A story of the commerce of the Great Lakes. Colored frontispiece. 325 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

This story is based on the commerce of the Great Lakes, and will appeal to every boy, for it is full of thrilling incidents, and contains a large amount of information in relation to the lakes, their history, and how the great shipping industry is carried on. Few people appreciate what a vast amount of shipping is done upon the Great Lakes, and how vastly important to the commercial growth of the country the Great Lakes really are. It is a story which may well be counted in the industrial series.

"CINDERS"— THE YOUNG APPRENTICE OF THE STEEL MILLS. Colored frontispiece. 309 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

A wonderful story of the great steel industry, showing how a boy succeeded in working his way through the various departments. The story gives a clear and intensely interesting picture of this great industry.

Through the experiences of "Cinders," the young apprentice, one will learn how wonderful the making of steel really is and also learn the history of that industry in this country.

Much of the material has been gathered first hand and many of the characters have their counterparts in real life.

THE YOUNG WHEAT SCOUT. Being the story of the growth, harvesting and distribution of the great wheat crop of the United States. Colored frontispiece. 318 pp. Cloth. $1..25

This story shows the importance of the various great American commercial interests and this new volume shows the value of the wheat crop, how it is produced, how distributed and how great a value it is to the prosperity of the country. Intensely interesting and full of valuable information.

THE YOUNG TELEPHONE INVENTOR. Or, Following the Wire. (Industrial Series.) Illustrated with colored frontispiece. 320 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

The development of the telephone has been one of the most important factors in developing our industrial resources, and the opening up of the Transcontinental service has been one of the greatest and most wonderful of achievements. This is a story of how a boy worked his way up and became one of the links in the development of this service. Pluck, courage and mental alertness served to guide and encourage him and it is a pleasure to realize that although the story is fiction, yet the characters are today in the telephone service.

Amos R. Wells

FOREMAN JENNIE. A young woman of business. Illustrated. 268 pp. Cloth. $1.00.

This is a story of Christian endeavor and Christian achievement, the recital of beautiful effort and lofty ideal, which does so much to inspire faith and hope in the Christian life.

Claude H. Wetmore

FIGHTING UNDER THE SOUTHERN CROSS. A story of the Chile-Peruvian War. Illustrated. 333 pp. Cloth. $1.35.

This story deals with the war waged between Chile and Peru in 1879. It gives many vivid and convincing pictures of the interior life of these South American States.

INCALAND. A story of adventure in the interior of Peru. Illustrated. 309 pp. Cloth. $1.35.

"Incaland," the far-famed home of the Incas, is the title of a thrilling story of adventure in the interior of Peru, together with the closing chapters of the Chile-Peruvian war. Of historical interest and picturesque in its tropical setting, the story is sure to please young readers for whom it is written.

IN A BRAZILIAN JUNGLE. Being a story of adventure with an insight into Brazilian life and industries. Illustrated. 315 pp. Cloth. $1.35.

The author pictures in story form the characteristics of the South American people. It is notable chiefly for the interesting explanations scattered through the book of the methods of raising and preparing coffee. Careful attention has been given to this most important branch of Brazilian trade and the author has succeeded in molding fact and fancy into an instructive volume.

H. Phelps Whitmarsh

THE GOLDEN TALISMAN. 299 pp. Cloth. $1.35.

The narrative is based upon the adventures of a young Persian noble, who, forced to leave his own country, led an army against the mysterious mountain kingdom of Kaffiris. Though defeated and taken prisoner by the enemy, the hero's talisman saves his life and later leads him into kingly favor. Finding that the little realm is lacking in all that charms the sense of smell, he determines to remedy the defect. His search for perfume in all parts of the world, and the knowledge he gains in doing so, form the greater part of this fascinating tale.

John H. Whitson

A COURIER OF EMPIRE. Being a story of Marcus Whitman's ride to save Oregon. Illustrated. 315 pp. Cloth. $1.35.

This is a book for boys pre-eminently and a book that ought to interest people in home mission work. While it is a story of adventure—of adventure of the wildest sort, of fights between white men and Indians, and the discovery of gold and all that—it is far more. It tells one of the heroism of those early missionaries, of the way in which they rode in the face of appalling difficulties, and also it tells us of the noble and successful effort made by Marcus Whitman wherein, by a ride which was regarded by the people of that day as almost superhuman, he saved Oregon to the United States.

Charles S. Wood

ON THE FRONTIER WITH ST. CLAIR. A story of the early settlement of the Ohio country. Illustrated. 343 pp. Cloth.

An exciting story of the struggle of the American settlers over the possession of what is now known as Ohio and the final driving out of the red men, but not until after the terrible disaster of St. Clair's invasion. The opening scene of the story is in Pittsburgh in 1791.

CAMP-FIRES ON THE SCIOTO. Showing the courage and hardships of the Winners of the West. Illustrated. 319 pp. Cloth.

This story is not an imaginary narrative, but deals with the historical facts of the opening up of the Northwest and the conflicts of the early settlers with the savage Indians. It is represented to have been written by a boy, Morris Patterson, orphaned by the cruelty of the Indians, and making efforts to support himself and his little sister. There are many matters of interest, among them being the description of early Cincinnati — the first school taught in the place, the life and amusements of the children, and the homes built by the first settlers.

PHILIP LEICESTER. Illustrated. 264 pp. Cloth. $1.00.

The story deals with Philip Leicester, born in Boston of excellent parents, and lost in London when a baby. Philip goes through many trying scenes, comes to Boston from London, and finally is found and claimed by his parents.

Egerton R. Young

HECTOR, MY DOG; HIS AUTOBIOGRAPHY. Life in the Northland. Illustrated. 332 pp. Cloth. $1.35.

This volume tells all about the dogs of a Northern mission, and will especially appeal to the boys. "Hector" is supposed to tell his own story of his varied experiences, and he certainly tells it well. Besides skilfully revealing the many attractive traits of dog life, the author depicts the life of the Indians and settlers of the region, and the time, all viewed quaintly from the standpoint of an intelligent dog.

THE BATTLE OF THE BEARS. Life in the Northland. Beautifully illustrated by photographs and pen and ink drawings. 341 pp. Cloth. $1.35.

A series of sketches of life among the Indians in the Hudson Bay territories. The author, who was a missionary to these Indians, has given us interesting descriptions of their life, their picture writing, their personal characteristics.

THE BLACKBOARD CLASS FOR PRIMARY SUNDAY-SCHOOL TEACHERS.

$ .25 each.

The author of this little book has hit the happy medium between practice and theory, giving just enough of both to enable one to draw, freely and effectively, some of the common and most useful subjects of Sunday-school illustration, while the explanations of the theory are extremely clear.

"I would say that Miss Darnell's experience in giving directions for blackboards to primary Sunday-school teachers has enabled her to make a most practicable book for all teachers. It is just such a book as primary Sunday-school teachers desire to have, and greatly need."
—Mrs. Wilbur F. Crafts.

A CHILD'S STORY OF THE LIFE OF CHRIST.

Illustrated. 137 half-tones. 233 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

As the title indicates, this is a story of Christ's life from the annunciation to the ascension, adapted to a child's understanding and presented in an interesting story form. The text is presented in a simple and interesting style which will make this volume at once popular and valuable. The aim has been to tell the story so simply that the youngest child can enjoy it because he can understand it.

M. G. Kennedy

OUR BOYS AND GIRLS; How to Interest and Instruct Them in Bible Study. 128 pp. Cloth. $ .75.

This little book is designed to help teachers and parents to interest and to instruct children in Bible study. Mrs. Kennedy has written this book for the needs of the average teacher, hoping to save some of these teachers the perplexities and worries through which she herself has had to plow her way for many years.

Rev. F. N. Peloubet, D.D.

THE FRONT LINE OF THE SUNDAY SCHOOL MOVEMENT. 240 pp. Cloth. $1.00.

The aim of the book is to show the best that has yet been accomplished in the Sunday school, and help others to attain that standard. The character of the building, grading of the school, training teachers, preparation of the lessons, and methods of teaching are all discussed in an illuminating and practical manner, and no one can read these chapters without benefit.

SELECT NOTES. A commentary on the Sunday-school lessons. Cloth. $1.25. Delivered $1.35.

There is no other commentary made that begins to contain so much usable information, so many striking illustrations, or such judicious treatment of doctrinal questions as the "Select Notes," and it can be safely trusted to bring out most of the best points and teachings of the lessons in a manner that will commend itself to thoughtful men and women. Our younger readers will especially find it to be nearly indispensable, and their constant use of the "Select Notes" will tend to train their minds to work along those lines which will cause their teaching to become effective.

The suggestions to teachers, the maps and helps are decidedly good, and the collection of illustrative pictures is comprehensive and thoroughly interesting.

All of this abundant material is combined with the skill born of long training and experience, and placed before the teacher and student in the form that has been found most convenient and usable. These are the qualities that have commended "Peloubet's Notes" to a world-wide circle in the past, and that will continue to commend it in the years to come.

THE BIG CHRISTMAS BOOK FOR 1917

A LIFETIME OF CHILD JOY

MOTHER GOOSE RHYMES

—AND—

FAVORITE FAIRY TALES

500 PAGES AND 400 PICTURES
EIGHT PLATES IN COLORS

This beautiful big book will delight every child. It has all the favorite old fairy tales, told in simple language, with numerous pictures, and all the old nursery rhymes, as they are told today, with a picture to every page. It is really two big books in one large handsome volume.

Part One, MOTHER GOOSE, contains all the favorite rhymes. Many otherwise attractive editions give unfamiliar versions of these old favorites or present them in a form altered at the fancy of the editor. A sincere effort has been made in this book to give the best known and most popular form of each verse. 250 pages and 250 illustrations are comprised in this department of the book.

Part Two, FAVORITE FAIRY TALES, contains the fairy stories that children love best, told in simple language and lavishly illustrated. It contains probably more illustrations than any other similar book for young folks. The stories included are:

Cinderella	Little Red Riding Hood
The Three Bears	Tom Thumb
Snow White	Three Little Pigs
The Ugly Duckling	Jack and the Beanstalk
Sleeping Beauty	The Goose Girl
Puss in Boots	Hansel and Gretel
Jack the Giant Killer	Dick Whittington and His Cat
The Match Girl	Sinbad the Sailor
Beauty and the Beast	Blue Beard
Rip Van Winkle	Aladdin and the Wonderful Lamp

This department of the book contains 250 pages and 150 illustrations.

THE COMPLETE VOLUME is 7 x 9½ inches in size, contains 512 octavo pages, Eight Colored Plates, 400 Text Illustrations ..... PRICE Net $1.25

Children will be greatly attracted by the unusual number of beautiful pictures in this volume.

Dunne, Brian Boru
"CURED!" THE SEVENTY ADVENTURES OF A DYSPEPTIC

Foreword by H. G. Wells. This confession of a newspaperman who took seventy unavailing "cures" affords the reader a laugh cure from cover to cover. The spirit in which Mr. Dunne tells of his seventy unavailing cures is so genial and free from malice that the doctors as well as laymen are sure to enjoy it. Decorated cover. 224 pages. Eight cartoons by Doyle. Price.....Net $1.00

Ellis, Wm. T., LL.D.
"BILLY" SUNDAY: THE MAN AND HIS MESSAGE

Authorized by Mr. Sunday. Over 300,000 sold. The only book that explains "Billy" Sunday; as readable as fiction. It not only tells the story of Mr. Sunday's eventful life, and gives a keen analysis of his manner and methods, but it also contains the heart of his message, which has changed the lives of a quarter of a million. It reproduces his picturesque, heart-stirring phrases and sayings, and retains all of the wonderful appeal of his platform utterances. It will give any minister, teacher or other worker new ideas, new inspiration, new energy. For the great body of church members it provides a stimulus and vitality unequaled by anything else in current literature, while to the world at large it carries the same remarkable message with which Mr. Sunday has aroused the conscience of whole communities.

Fortescue, Granville

FORE-ARMED

An answer to the great question confronting our country as to what constitutes "preparedness" is valuable if it comes from one in position to know. Captain Fortescue has had exceptional opportunities during his long career in the United States Army to observe the working of our military system. He is a graduate of the Staff College, served in the Spanish-American War and in the Philippine campaign as a cavalry officer, and was Military Aid to the President. Furthermore, as Military Attaché with the Japanese Army before Port Arthur, and as a war correspondent with the different armies in Europe, on both the Western and Eastern fronts from the outbreak of the war, he has seen the world's chief military systems in action. He presents in this volume a description and analysis of the German, French, English, Swiss and Australian systems, and a well-considered plan by which an efficient army for the United States may be built up to guarantee our invulnerability and to assure our continued peace. 187 pages. Cloth. Price.....Net $1.00

HURLBUT'S STORY OF JESUS

Dr. Hurlbut's "Story of the Bible" has been so generally indorsed as the best book of its kind, that the "Story of Jesus" by the same author will be welcomed by a host of readers. In this book will be found the same beautiful, flowing style of description, the same simplicity of language that is so attractive to both young and old, and the same lucid unfolding of the story he has to tell, that characterize all of Dr. Hurlbut's writings. After drawing a perfect picture of the surroundings amid which Jesus was born, and of the circumstances under which he took the form of man, Dr. Hurlbut follows the life of Christ as a child, as a young man, as the greatest teacher and example of all ages, and finally as the Saviour of mankind. The story as told by Dr. Hurlbut is equally attractive to young children and to their elders, and will help many to know Jesus better, to love him more, and to follow him more closely. It should have a place in every home, and will prove a valuable aid to parents, teachers, clergymen and all who seek to know and understand the life of the Saviour. 500 pages. 16 colored plates. 200 illustrations. Cloth. Price.....Net $1.50

AMERICA AND THE GREAT WAR FOR HUMANITY AND FREEDOM

Answers those questions which are uppermost in the minds of the American people, and are the questions on which everybody is seeking light. The book contains the complete story of the causes and issues that led to the World War; what the European nations are fighting for; the history of the events that forced the United States into the conflict; facts and figures concerning the forces engaged; America's resources in industry, in agriculture, in men and munitions; methods and means of modern warfare; army and navy organizations and tactics. It is an encyclopedia of information and inspiration for every American.

From every part of America and the actual Battlefields of Europe have come the pictures for the illustrations. Cloth. Over 100 full-page half-tone plates, text engravings, etc. 400 pages. Price.....Net $1.50

Lynch, Arthur, M. P.

IRELAND: VITAL HOUR

The author has had an opportunity given to few of possessing essential knowledge of Irish organizations, and he has entered upon the work in that rare spirit of patriotism which seeks the weaknesses and the strength of the materials of which the Irish nation of the future must be built. Some of his criticisms of the existing state of affairs, particularly the influence of the clergy in politics, will produce a deep impression, and perhaps provoke fierce rejoinders; yet the book is both conciliatory and unifying, and the true way of Ireland's concord with England is pointed out. Altogether an original, bold sincere, and, above all, upbuilding book. Demy 8vo. Cloth, gilt edges. Price.....Net $2.50

A most acceptable gift for any young mother. Attractively illustrated; bound in pink, blue or white cloth. Price.....60 cents

Nearing, Scott, Ph.D. (Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, Toledo University)

POVERTY AND RICHES: A STUDY OF THE INDUSTRIAL REGIME

Scott Nearing undertakes to tell why the rich are getting richer and the poor poorer; he points out how the vast wealth produced in this country is controlled, and claims that the heaven of the rich is founded on the hell of the poor. He argues that when marvelous machines will do the work of many men, there is no valid reason why men should live in enforced poverty; no necessity for people to lose their homes and become anxious renters; no justice in the present distribution of wealth; no excuse for the man who owns for a living instead of working for it. And he points out a cure for the rising cost of living; he demands that honest, industrious men be spared the exhausted faces of their women and the sobs of their under-fed children.

A great book, built with science and conscience; packed with sympathy for the poor; crowded with facts, explanations and arguments that will arouse the interest of every lover of social justice. Illustrated with numerous photographs of actual conditions among both rich and poor, and other stirring pictures by celebrated artists. 293 pages. Cloth. Illustrated. Price.....Net $1.25

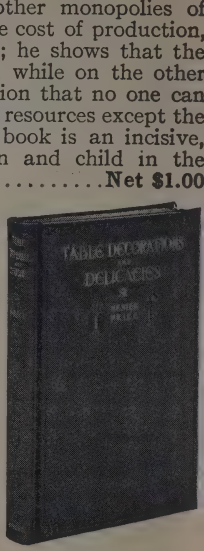
ANTHRACITE: AN INSTANCE OF NATURAL-RESOURCE MONOPOLY

Dr. Nearing uses the private ownership of the anthracite coal fields to show the way in which consumers and workers may expect to fare at the hands of other monopolies of natural resources. He shows that the price of coal is not based on the cost of production, but on the monopolistic principle of charging "all the traffic will bear"; he shows that the miners receive scarcely living wages, many of them less than that, while on the other hand the mine-owners pocket enormous profits; and draws the conclusion that no one can have an interest in the continuance of the private ownership of natural resources except the private owners themselves—with the consumers footing the bill. The book is an incisive, stimulating analysis of a problem that is vital to every man, woman and child in the country. 251 pages. Cloth. Price.....Net $1.00

Price, Hester (Mrs. John D. Follett)

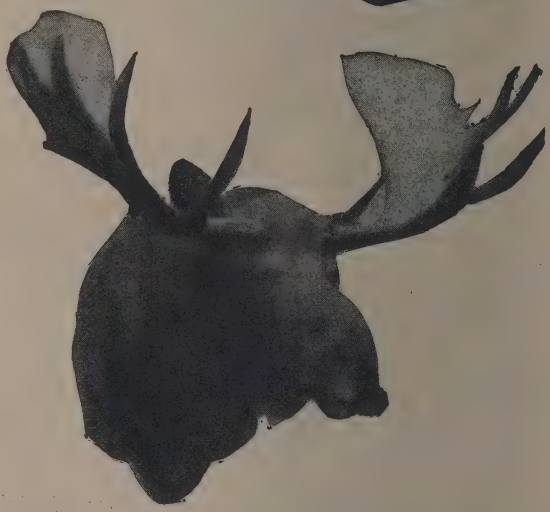
TABLE DECORATIONS AND DELICACIES



In this volume a well-known authority, "Hester Price," has brought together a wide variety of the freshest, most desirable ideas for the hostess who is anxious to have her dinners and luncheons distinctive without the extravagance of a caterer, and with the use of such materials as may readily be obtained. The first part of the book comprises a wide variety of schemes for table decoration, while the second part deals with unusual methods of preparing and serving tasteful dishes of many kinds. This is very much more than a recipe book. The ninety-six illustrations are full of inspiration for methods and menus, while the descriptive text offers a host of helpful hints for obtaining effects that are both striking and appealing. Octavo. Cloth. 96 half-tone engravings. Price.....Net $2.00

Scull, E. Marshall

HUNTING IN THE ARCTIC AND ALASKA



New Printing. This is the story of a summer cruise down the Yukon River, through Bering Strait to Herald Island and Northeastern Siberia, and by Bering Sea to the Alaska and Kenai Peninsulas. The book is of particular interest, because Mr. Scull's party was the first one successfully to accomplish a hunting trip into this part of the Arctic. Mr. Scull tells the story of a big game hunt, of which the trophies include specimens of practically all the game to be met with in Alaska, the western Arctic Ocean, and the shores of Siberia. The tales of adventures which befell the party, and Mr. Scull's personal impressions of the important places in the interior and around the coast of Alaska, add greatly to the book. Crown octavo. 304 pages. 136 illustrations and 11 new maps. Price.....Net $2.50

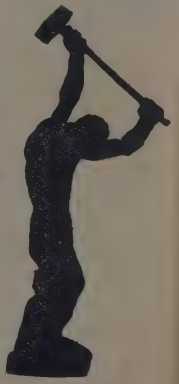
THE CRY FOR JUSTICE



An Anthology of the Literature of Social Protest, collected from twenty-five languages, covering a period of five thousand years, with an introduction by Jack London. We believe this is one of the most interesting books ever published. It is an attempt to cover the whole field of the literature of social protest, both in prose and poetry, and from all languages and times. It is a Gospel of the new hope of the race. It is in no way a propaganda, but appeals to the growing sense of social justice in industry, in politics, and in every walk of life. The illustrations repeat in the field of art what has been done in the field of literature. A volume which is unique of its kind, this anthology forms an invaluable work of reference and general interest to the great body of readers who are concerned with social problems. 950 pages, 6½ x 9 inches. Illustrated. Cloth; gold side and back titles. Price.....Net $2.00

Taylor, Charles Fremont

A CONCLUSIVE PEACE

Dr. Taylor advances a plan for a new and permanent political institution in the life of Europe, to co-ordinate and adjust international affairs so that the occasion for war will disappear. He shows that a conclusive peace, following the present war, cannot be found in the old formulas; and argues that this is the time to form world-opinion so that the delegates will go to the peace conference not to make a truce for greater military preparation, but intent on a constructive and workable program for permanent peace. 173 pages. THE BIBLICAL LIFE OF CHRIST

Introduction by Rev. Jesse Lyman Hurlbut, D.D. A biography of Christ incorporating only the words of the Scriptures, but containing every available detail of definite information, however minute, on that all-important theme. All of this material is analyzed and arranged, and presented in a typographical style that enables the student to follow chronologically this most authoritative biography, or to locate any desired incident. It presents a true harmony of the Gospels, but is not to be confused with ordinary compilations coming under that term. 322 pages. Cloth. Price.....Net $1.00

WEDDING ROSES

NAPOLEON IN EXILE AT ST. HELENA, 1815-1821

A history of Napoleon's exile on the island of St. Helena after his defeat at Waterloo, June 18, 1815. The author is a very thorough scholar and has spent four years' work on these two books on Napoleon in Exile. He has studied his subject on the spot as well as in France and England, and gives a very informative study of the least-known period of Napoleon's life. In two volumes. 715 pages. Demy 8vo. Two colored frontispieces, and one hundred illustrations from the collection of A. M. Broadley. Cloth; gilt edges. Price.....Net $7.00

NAPOLEON IN EXILE AT ELBA, 1814-1815.

To acquire information for this book Mr. Young made two special journeys to Elba and St. Helena. The work gives a most interesting account of Napoleon's residence in the Isle of Elba after his abdication at Fontainebleau on April 11, 1814, covering the eleven months of uneasy retirement spent in watching the progress of events and in awaiting that critical period in European affairs which was to recall him once more to the leadership of the armies of France. 350 pages. Demy 8vo. Colored frontispiece and 50 illustrations from the unrivaled collection of A. M. Broadley. Cloth. Price.....Net $3.50

GRACE BEFORE MEALS

Brief prayers for every day in the year collected from many sources and arranged. Additional forms for national feast days, so that the monotony of repetition of a single form of grace each day is happily avoided. It also provides a method by which the several members of the family, including the children, can alternate in saying grace by reading the prayer for the day. The book is printed from handsome black type, is attractive in appearance, and will appeal to all persons who customarily say grace before meals, as well as to those who do not make a practice of saying grace, and it is hoped to many who have not been accustomed to this beautiful and simple form of devotion. 16 mo. in size.

THE GULF BETWEEN

A novel by a brilliant author, describing the adventures of an American girl who is married to an Italian nobleman, the scene of the story being laid chiefly in Florence. Little is known of the life of American girls abroad and this revelation from one "on the inside" has met with very widespread interest in every part of the country. 12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Price.....75 cents

Duval, G. R.
WRITTEN IN THE SAND

The desert, ever changing, ever mysterious, is less a setting for than an actor in this dramatic story of love and adventure, wherein the eternal word of all romance is written in the sand by a beautiful English girl as her answer to a French captain of spahees. Their days together in the Sahara are described with all the power of one who knows the desert life intimately and has caught the spirit of its mystery and charm. 320 pages. Decorated jacket and frontispiece by George Gibbs. 12mo. Cloth. Price .....75 cents

Fisher, Jacob
THE MAN WHO SAW WRONG

An unusually strong story of genius, intrigue and love, introducing a new type of villain in fiction. A story of real life, yet completely out of the ordinary. Starting in a simple, easy fashion, the story develops to a whirlwind climax, and makes one of the most absorbing tales you have read in many a day. Decorated jacket and frontispiece by George Gibbs. Cloth. Price.....75 cents

Freeman, R. Austin
A SILENT WITNESS

The ordinary mystery story seems commonplace when compared with this new novel by Dr. Freeman. The plot is so buttressed by curious scientific facts, in the use of which Dr. Freeman is a past master, that it defies the most astute reader, and instructs while it fixes the interest. It is full of the thrill of perilous adventure, of fiendish conspiracy, and of hazardous attempts to ferret out a resourceful, unscrupulous criminal. How Thorndyke, medico-legal expert, pieces infinitesimal facts together with infinite care, how he bridges the gaps in his network, and triumphantly discovers the undiscoverable, makes him a classical figure among the great detectives of fiction. 8vo. 382 pages. Illustrations by H. Weston Taylor. Cloth. Price.....75 cents

THE MYSTERY OF 31, NEW INN

In John Thorndyke, Mr. Freeman has created one of the most fascinating characters of recent fiction. 340 pages, 4 illustrations. 8vo. Cloth, decorated. Price.....75 cents

THE UTTERMOST FARTHING

Mr. Freeman has created a curious and indescribable atmosphere not only so weird and real, but so irresistible to the reader, that one is strongly reminded of Edgar Allen Poe. 8vo. Cloth. Illustrated by H. Weston Taylor. Price.....75 cents

Gibbs, George
IN SEARCH OF MADEMOISELLE

The struggle vetween the Spanish and French Colonists in Florida furnish an interesting historical background for this stirring story. 12mo. Cloth. Price.....75 cents

Grimshaw, Beatrice
THE SORCERER'S STONE

Once you pick up the book you follow the feverish quest of the Sorcerer's Stone with unrelieved suspense until the end. The atmosphere of the tropic regions—the reality of life at the uttermost ends of the earth—the fantasies of genuine humor—and the spirit of the undaunted pursuit of wealth and adventure, all combine to make "The Sorcerer's Stone" an exceptional book. Illustrated. 12mo. Cloth. 320 pages. Price.....75 cents

Kelly, Florence Finch
THE FATE OF FELIX BRAND

A story which strikes a new note in the fascinating theme of dual personality. From start to finish the story teems with powerful and dramatic qualities. Decorated jacket and four illustrations by Edwin J. Prittie. 12mo. Cloth. Price.....75 cents

Mathews, Frances Aymar
FANNY OF THE FORTY FROCKS

A striking story of a winsome American girl, enmeshed in a great diplomatic scandal; a story of the keen battle of wits and Machiavellian methods of two notable European diplomats—a battle for supremacy and for the girl. Rich in surprises, and leaves one with the conviction that Fanny is one of the daintiest, cleverest and most lovable heroines who has lived between book covers in many a day. Decorated jacket and frontispiece by George Gibbs. 12mo. Cloth. Price .....75 cents

McKenna, Stephen
THE RELUCTANT LOVER

The Reluctant Lover is the most modern of modern young men, and still more advanced is the determined girl who sets out to capture his cool, chaste heart. In portraying her and her preference, for an unwilling rather than a willing lover, Mr. Stephen McKenna strikes a note of refreshing uuconventionality and shows a profound knowledge of modern feminine psychology that will especially delight his women readers. 320 pages. Decorated jacket by John R. Neill. 12mo. Cloth. Price .....75 cents

Moore, John Trotwood
JACK BALLINGTON, FORESTER

A very endearing love story with tender sentiment, in which Mr. Moore's writing excels, while at the same time there are plenty of dramatic and humorous situations. Four illustrations by George Gibbs. 12mo. Cloth. Price.....75 cents

UNCLE WASH: HIS STORIES

He is full of experiences and wise humorously worded comments. Each chapter of the book contains a story which "Uncle Wash" tells from his own experience. There is no reason why "Uncle Wash" should not take his place among the foremost American Humorists. 12 mo. Cloth Price.....75 cents.

THE BISHOP OF COTTONTOWN

One of the best selling novels published in recent years and now for the first time sold at a popular price. 12mo. Cloth. Price.....75 cents

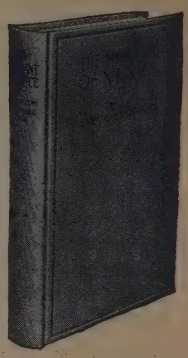
PEMBERTON, OR ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

Washington, Andre, Arnold and other prominent figures of the Revolution take part in the story, which is probably the best historical romance of Philadelphia. 12mo. Cloth. Price.....75 cents

Shakespeare, William (Adapted from)
THE MERCHANT OF VENICE
MACBETH



Founded on Shakespeare's Plays and Given Complete in the Form of Fiction.

These "Novels from Shakespeare" appeal to the undeniably large class of readers who have avoided Shakespeare because of the dramatic and poetic form of his work, and who are equally unsatisfied by Lamb's "Tales from Shakespeare" because of the inevitable fault to which Lamb confesses in his preface, namely, the restraint laid upon him by the necessity of brevity. In these novels the stories in the great plays are told at length; almost every character keeps his place and every incident is retained, only the dramatic and poetic setting giving place to the devices of the novelist. For those who look upon these old tales of Shakespeare's as worthy of being read for their own charm's sake, these novels offer the best of the world's stories told in prose, yet told as far as possible in Shakespeare's own words. 12 mo. Cloth. Each Volume illustrated with Eight Fine Color Plates. Price per Volume ..... 75 cents

Sinclair, Upton
DAMAGED GOODS

From the great play by Brieux, novelized by Upton Sinclair with Brieux's approval. The one work which all authorities agree chastely and adequately warns the new generation of the terrible penalty of sexual immorality. Highly indorsed everywhere. Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis, pastor of Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, says: "At last, thank God, this conspiracy of silence is ended." The New York Times pronounces it "epoch making." Illustrated with photographs from Richard Bennett's presentation of the play. 194 pages. Cloth. Price ..... 75 cents

Sinclair, Upton
SYLVIA

Appearing at the psychological moment when social questions are at the front, "Sylvia" is the "inside story of a great society wedding, and reveals the things the public never hears. In its picture of the old, fast-vanishing Southern life, and in the unfolding of the character of a charming girl, the book is surpassing, while in the final, startling scenes, it brings home to the individual reader the horror which is hidden in the phrase, "sowing his wild oats." 413 pages. Cloth. Price ... 75 cents

SYLVIA'S MARRIAGE

Upton Sinclair here tells the very human and convincing story of the married life of Sylvia Castleman, a socially-distinguished Southern girl of rare charm, who, against her own inclination, for family reasons married the scion of a great New York family. The story involves a vivid picture of the class system that sacrificed Sylvia. Her beauty and the purity of her character make all the more impressive the tumult of indignation and protest with which she contemplates her child's blindness—the consequence of the former misdeeds of her husband. "Sylvia's Marriage" utterly annihilates the curse of false modesty and reticence in vital sex matters. It is a vital story—a novel that men should read for their preservation, and women for their protection. Cloth, 348 pages. Price ..... 75 cents

Taylor, Mrs. Charles Tracy
A DAUGHTER OF THE MANSE

A pure, wholesome story, interestingly told. 400 pages. Cloth. Price ..... 75 cents

THE MESSAGE AND MISSION OF QUAKERISM

Published by Direction of the Five Years Meeting. "Here in this little book will be found in convenient form a fresh and illuminating expression of the truths, principles and ideals of present-day Quakerism and some of the practical problems confronting the modern world which the application of these truths, principles and ideals might solve. The reader will discover that the writers live in the Twentieth Century and that they are speaking to the condition of the age."—RUFUS M. JONES.

The work covers the following subjects: The Essentials of Quakerism. By William C. Braithwaite: The Early Quaker Movement—Quakerism a Religion of the Prophetic and Apostolic Type—The Supreme Question for the Church—Form and Life—A Religion of Earnestness and Sincerity—The Hopes Now Confronting Us. The Contribution of Friends to the Life and Work of the Church. By Henry T. Hodgkin, M.A., M.B.; Co-operation With Other Denominations—Contributions of Friends to Modern Life—The Quiet Heart—The Leadership of the Spirit—Idealism—Woman's Contribution—A Non-Professional Ministry—The Spirit of Tolerance—How the Message is to be Delivered. CLEARNUTYPE DICTIONARIES

ABSOLUTELY FLEXIBLE
The leather Boundings of the Universal CLEARNUTYPE Dictionaries are so flexible and so durable that they can be rolled without injury to binding or sewing.

The Universal CLEARNUTYPE Dictionaries are not called "Webster's" because no dictionary can claim to be modern or useful at the present time which has not been so much changed since the death of Webster in the year 1843 as to render the use of his name as the author of it a misnomer.

As the Language changes and grows Dictionaries must change and grow with it. Dictionaries made a few years ago, even with frequent revision, fail to meet the needs of to-day. It requires rebuilding to give the proper balance between the words and definitions in use to-day and those of yesterday.

The Unusual CLEARNUTYPE Dictionaries are based upon the foundation laid by NOAH WEBSTER and other lexicographers, modernized by CHARLES MORRIS.

In clearness of type and the ease with which the eye finds the word; in simplicity and accuracy of definition; in fullness of contents and logical arrangement Universal CLEARNUTYPE will be found to excel other works of like purpose.

Among the Noteworthy Features are the Following:

Words defined are printed in bold-face type with definitions in clear, easily read type.

Each word is divided into syllables to show the proper syllabication of words.

The capitalization of words. All proper words begin with capital letters, common words with small letters.

Compound words have a bold-face hyphen.

Synonyms and antonyms are given in the body of the dictionary following the definitions of the words.

The Pronunciation of words is shown by a clear and properly accented system of phonetic spelling with key to pronunciation at the bottom of each page.

The parts of speech are given.

All definitions are given in simple language that is easily understood.

Each word and its derivation are defined separately instead of the derivatives being crowded in with the definitions; an expedient which saves space but lacks utility.

Issued in five different forms each containing the largest possible type in a book of the size, and planned to meet the requirements of every variety of service.

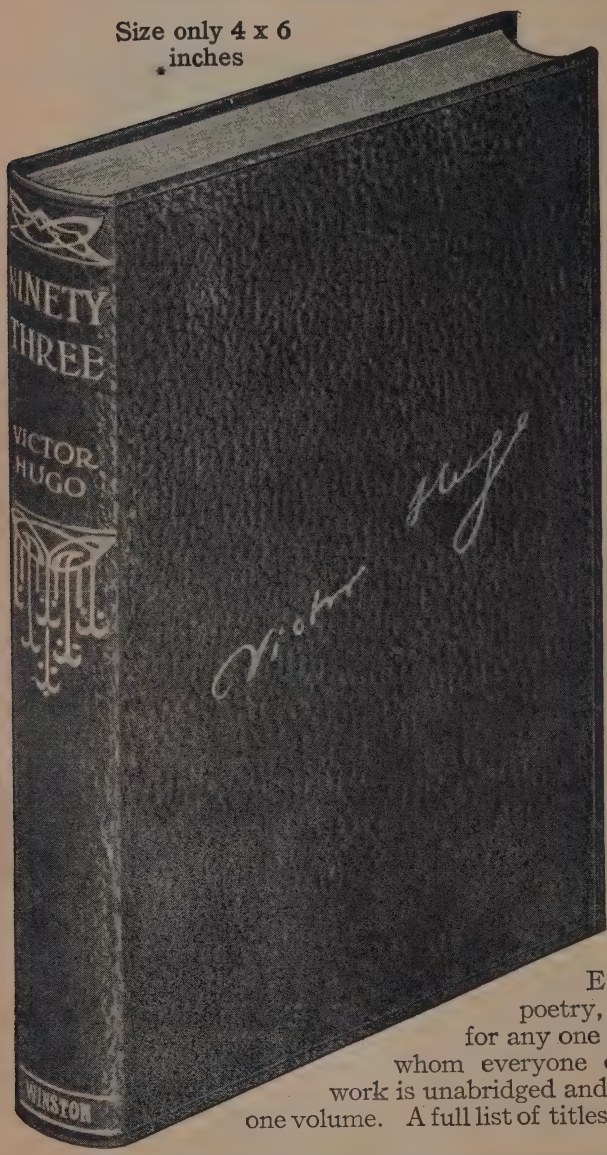
The Sensation of the Publishing World

WINSTON'S ILLUSTRATED HANDY CLASSICS

Bound in Flexible French Morocco at the Price of Cloth Books

Size only 4 x 6 inches



The Best Works of the Best Authors In Handy, Pocket Form

Large, Clear Type Thin, Opaque Paper

Winston's Illustrated Handy Classics supplant every other edition of the world's classics, because, while they are printed in type as large as that found in ordinary volumes, their small, compact size (4 x 6 inches) makes them light, convenient volumes to handle; they occupy only a fraction of the usual shelf-room; and they can readily be carried in the pocket or thrown in a hand-bag for reading at odd moments. Appreciative customers who have first bought a few volumes of the Handy Classics have followed this by replacing large portions of their libraries with these fine little books. The saving in space, the beautiful and uniform appearance of the flexible leather bindings, and the increased pleasure of handling and using these volumes have made the change well worth while.

THE CREAM OF ENGLISH LITERATURE

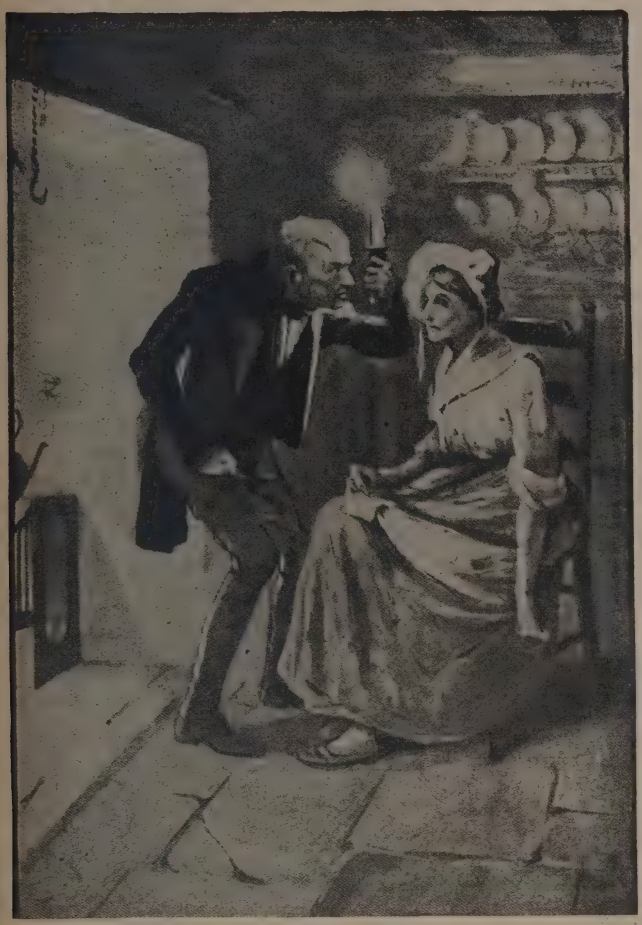
The titles included in Winston's Illustrated Handy Classics represent the very best work of standard English authors covering fiction, poetry, essays, etc., and make it possible for any one to own and read those authors with whom everyone desires a close acquaintance. Each work is unabridged and with a few exceptions complete in one volume. A full list of titles will be found on the succeeding pages.

YOUR CHANCE TO OWN ONE OR MANY of these DESIRABLE VOLUMES

Is made possible by the use of imported Bible paper in the larger works. This specially thin paper, which is strong and opaque, enables us to include in one of these volumes the same amount of matter that ordinarily requires a much larger compass, without decreasing the size or legibility of the type. It is far superior to India paper for this purpose because it makes the print clearer and blacker, and entirely eliminates the difficulty of turning the leaves of an India paper volume.

WINSTON'S ILLUSTRATED HANDY CLASSICS

Illustrated with 2,400 Artistic Engravings



"Mr. Flintwinch held the candle to her head"

Reproduction of mon ochrome illustration from Little Dorritt, by Charles Dickens.—Winston's Illustrated Handy Classics.

An additionally valuable feature of Winston's Illustrated Handy Classics is comprised in the 2,400 monochrome and three colored plates with which the volumes are fittingly illustrated. These illustrations are specially drawn from the original paintings of the foremost artists. They not only illumine the volumes artistically and appropriately, but what is of equal importance they interpret the stories with great fidelity.

BOUND IN FLEXIBLE POLISHED LEATHER

Each of the volumes contained in Winston's Illustrated Handy Classics is handsomely bound in flexible Polished Leather, with the author's autograph signature on the side; gilt tops and silk marker. The strength and durability of the binding recommend these volumes for long and constant use.

The New "Art" Birthday Books

BOUND IN SOFT LEATHER—WITH MANY ILLUSTRATIONS

End Papers, Title Pages and Borders Printed in Colors

These handsome and useful Birthday books contain a suitable Blank space for every day of the year. Each alternative page, decorated with a beautiful colored border, contains appropriate poetical quotations for the dates shown opposite. The whole book is interspersed with classic half-tone illustrations printed in monotone.

The increasing demand for this popular series is due largely to the several uses for which these books may be suggested, namely—

1. As a convenient record of the birthday anniversaries of relatives and friends.
2. As an autograph book which possesses a pleasant sentiment in addition to its record value.
3. As a diary in which is provided sufficient writing space for all ordinary purposes.

Bound in velvet kid, with overlapping edges, square corners, gilt edges, gold side and back stamp, assorted colors. Each volume in a handsome box. Size 4 x 5⅝ inches.

A MARVELOUS PRODUCTION

These masterpieces of literature were never offered in a format so rich, durable and convenient at anything like the price of this Series. Instead of the heavy, cumberous books usually found with these titles, the present featherweight volumes measure only 4 x 6 inches, and are printed on thin, opaque Bible paper, so that even "Les Miserables," with its 900 pages of large type, completely bound, is only one inch thick. They represent the highest skill in the art of book-binding, and for intimate use or for gift purposes, cannot be excelled. In extra half calf, hand-bound and hand-tooled. Superbly Illustrated.

WITH COLORED ILLUSTRATIONS

This entirely new series is unique in many respects. Although a much larger book than is usually offered at this price, neither quality or workmanship has been sacrificed in producing a volume of supreme value. Illustrations, end papers and title page are all in color reproductions of art of well known painters. By mounting the frontispiece and title page on brown art paper, an effective effect has been obtained, and the new clear type used makes the text easy and pleasant to the eye. Bound in velvet leather with overlapping edges, gilt top in slip case. Size 5⅝ x 3⅝.

TALES FROM SHAKESPEARE

These famous tales, to the number of twenty, were prepared for the purpose of putting into attractive prose the stories of Shakespeare's plays. They were constructed by weaving into the narrative the very words of Shakespeare wherever it seemed possible to bring them in—a method which the gifted brother and sister pursued with such success that this volume has taken a sure place in classical literature. There is no introduction to the study of Shakespeare at once so winning and so helpful as that supplied by these prose stories. 15 photogravures. Price ..... Net $1.50

Hughes, Thomas

TOM BROWN'S SCHOOL DAYS AT RUGBY

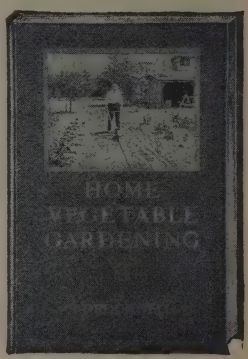
This story, which has justly fascinated hundreds of thousands, was never more attractively dressed than in the present volume. The character of the magnificent illustrations, portraying scenes in historic Rugby, lend it a special atmosphere of reality. 15 photogravures. Price ..... Net $1.50

NEW PRACTICAL
"House and Garden" Books
"BEST OF THEIR KIND"

In the preparation of the books described in these pages, the first consideration has been to give practical and dependable information, free from technical terms. They have also been more lavishly illustrated than similar books sold at the same price.

The descriptions of the volumes give an accurate idea of their value and utility, and the high reputation of the editors should in itself be sufficient warrant for the general opinion that they are the "best books of their kind."

Rockwell, F. F.
HOME VEGETABLE GARDENING



Size 5¼ x 7¾ inches

A concise book on home vegetable gardening that also includes the growing of berries and fruit. Books of this kind usually treat the subject in an encyclopedic way, telling what vegetables there are and what pests are likely to attack them, and so on, giving far too much information of this kind and not enough for the man who wants to establish a vegetable garden on his suburban lot for family use. Mr. Rockwell, the author of this work, is a practical gardener himself. From long experience he realizes just what the average layman wants to know in order to raise a successful and varied crop. He realizes also that this information must be presented in a logical sequence in order that it may be used to the best advantage.

The book tells: 1. How much space is necessary for a family of a given size; 2. How to divide the space in the proper proportions for the various vegetables and trees; 3. What varieties have been tried and found true; 4. How to plant, cultivate, spray, fertilize, and finally bring the crop to fruition. 12mo. Bound in dark green cloth decorated with inlaid illustration of an exquisite garden scene done in full color.

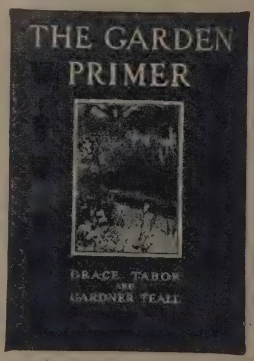
Tabor, Grace
THE GARDEN PRIMER



Size 5¼ x 7¾ inches

An indispensable book for every garden maker. It is a handbook of practical gardening information, covering every branch of the subject from preparing the soil to the gathering of the fruit and flowers. A profusion of illustrations, many of them of the most practical sort in explaining the various garden operations, make the text especially clear. The matter is supplemented by carefully prepared planting tables, an invaluable guide to every garden lover, as well as to the beginner in gardening. 12mo. Bound in dark green cloth, tastefully decorated with an inlaid illustration of an exquisite garden scene done in full colors.

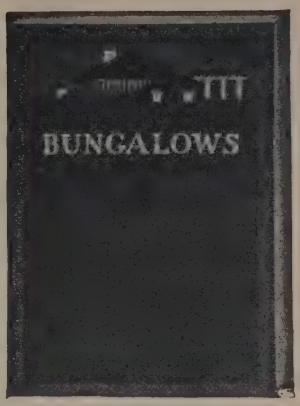
Tabor, Grace
THE LANDSCAPE GARDENING BOOK

Most garden books deal with the cultural side only—telling what flowers are attractive and how to grow them or how to succeed with the most popular vegetables. The larger subject embracing the whole setting of the country or suburban home, PARTICULARLY ONE OF MODERATE SIZE, has apparently been ignored. THE LANDSCAPE GARDENING BOOK clears up the whole difficult problem of making a house seem at home in its site. The subjects treated include the utilization of natural resources, the placing of trees, shrubbery, flowers and vines, the selection of varieties, the laying out of entrances, drives, walks, gardens, and buildings. There are also classified lists of plants and cultural directions covering the whole practical side of the subject. An essential book for the man who would have his home—house and grounds—something more than a mere building set on the earth. 180 pages. 118 illustrations. The illustrations are superb half-tone reproductions from representative gardens and homes, together with practical diagrams and planting plans. Bound in dark blue cloth, stamped in gold, with a garden in full color in the design. Price ..... Net $1.50

Saylor, Henry H.
BUNGALOWS



Size 7½ x 10¼ Inches

This work discusses the whole subject in a most practical and helpful manner. It treats of types of Bungalows suitable for summer homes, camps, mountain shacks, and various other types. Careful treatment is given to all departments of the subject, such as planning, building materials, interior finish, schemes for furnishing that are in harmony with the informal and comfortable character of the building, water supply, fire-places, lighting. Over 200 pages. Lavishly illustrated with plans and photographs of Bungalows that have been actually built. Bound in Art Linen with appropriate cover design. Price ..... Net $2.50

DISTINCTIVE HOMES OF MODERATE COST

New and revised edition. The illustrations, of which there are more than three hundred, both of the exterior of houses, their garden settings, and the principal rooms inside, are all from photographs of houses already built, ranging in cost from $3,000 to $20,000. The floor plans are also given. All architectural styles are represented: Colonial, English Half-timber Stucco, Cement, Dutch Colonial (the gambrel roof type), Swiss Chalet, etc. Chapters written by authorities cover all sides of the fascinating problem of house-building, interior decoration and furnishing. The relations between the home-builder and his architect, the matter of plans, specifications, contracts, the puzzling problem of extras and how to avoid them—all these subjects are clarified in a most comprehensive and interesting way. 4to. Cloth. Price.....Net $2.00

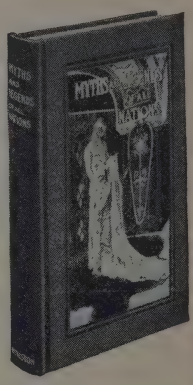
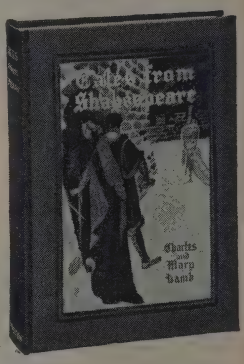
Marshall, Logan
MYTHS AND LEGENDS OF ALL NATIONS



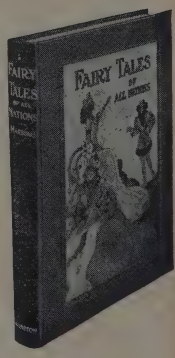
A book to win the heart of every child. Famous stories from Greek mythology and the legendary literature of Germany, England, Spain, Iceland, Scandinavia, Denmark, France, Russia, Bohemia, Servia, Italy and Poland—stories in which children, and men and women, too, have delighted through the centuries. They are told in simple, graphic style and each one is illustrated with a beautiful color plate. The work has considerable educational value, since an understanding of many of the stories here set forth is necessary to an appreciation of our own literature and civilization. 24 full-page color plates. 320 pages. Price....$2.00

Lamb, Charles and Mary
TALES FROM SHAKESPEARE



A superb edition of these famous tales has been prepared in similar style to "Fairy Tales of All Nations." Each of the twenty tales is illustrated with a magnificent color plate by a celebrated artist. It is one of the finest books ever published for children, telling them in simple language, which is as nearly like that of Shakespeare as possible, the stories of the great plays. The subjects for the illustrations were posed in costumes of the nation and time in which each story is set and are unrivaled in rich color, lively drawing and dramatic interest. 320 pages. 20 full-page color plates.
Price.....$2.00

Marshall, Logan
FAIRY TALES OF ALL NATONS



The most beautiful book of fairy tales ever published. Thirty superb colored plates are the most prominent feature of this new, copyrighted book. These plates are absolutely new and portray the times and customs of the subjects they illustrate. The subjects were posed in costumes of the nation and time in which each story is set, and are unrivaled in rich color, lively drawing and dramatic interest. The text is original and interesting in that the famous fairy tales are taken from the folk-lore and literature of a dozen principle countries, thus giving the book its name. Many old favorites and numerous interesting stories from far-away lands, which most children have never heard, are brought together in this charming book. 8vo. 314 pages. Price.....$2.00

Fillebrown, Mrs. Andrew Ross
RHYMES OF HAPPY CHILDHOOD

A handsome holiday book of homely verses beautifully illustrated with nearly 100 color plates and drawings in black and red. Verses that sing the irrepressible joy of children in their home and play life, many that touch the heart closely with their mother-love, and some not without pathos, have been made into a very handsome volume. Gilt top, uncut leaves. Price.....$2.00

MARY FRANCES STORY-INSTRUCTION BOOKS

FOR TEACHING CHILDREN USEFUL THINGS IN AN ENTERTAINING WAY

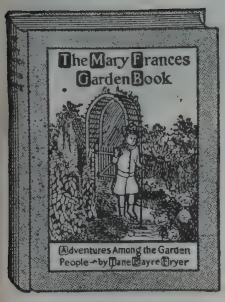
These are not mere story books to be read through and cast aside. They are instruction books in story form which the youthful readers joyfully study because they think it is play. But in this play they learn principles of usefulness which fascinate because of the manner in which these principles are presented.

NEW 1916

The Mary Frances Garden Book

Or Adventures Among the Garden People

By Jane Eayre Fryer



When the lure of Spring is in the air, and there is pure joy in simply being out of doors, every childish heart has a wish to "make a garden." For the boy or girl who has this desire there is nothing more appropriate than The Mary Frances Garden Book. This newest Mary Frances book will make Springtime happier for the children—and for grown-ups too.

HOW TO GROW FLOWERS AND VEGETABLES CLEARLY TOLD IN STORY FORM

The Mary Frances Garden Book actually teaches children how to grow all their favorite flowers and vegetables—how to prepare the soil, how to plant the seeds, how to plant bulbs, the names of parts of flowers, how plants grow by fertilization and reproduction, how to guard against insect enemies, how to care for growing plants, how to make a hotbed, what flowers and vegetables are best for children's gardens, etc., etc., and gives an outline of each month's work for a year. In brief, in the simplest possible words and style, and in the most fascinating kind of story, it gives the little reader a more intelligent knowledge of the processes of Nature than the majority of grown people possess. It also instils a love and appreciation of plant and animal life, and of all Nature.

COLORED ILLUSTRATIONS ON EVERY PAGE

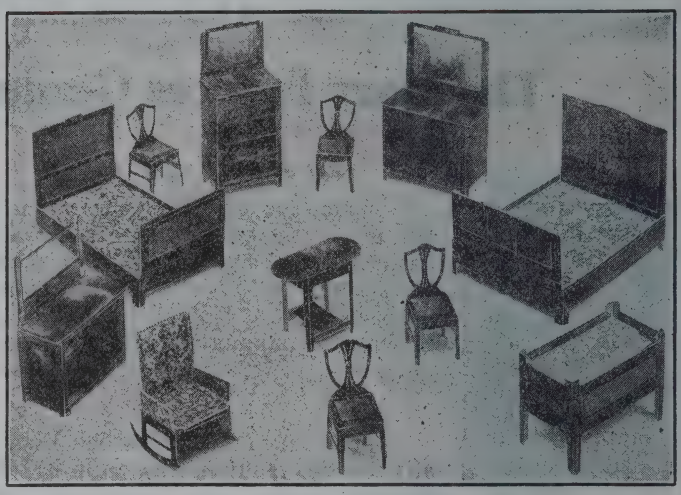
In addition to colored illustrations, on every page, there are a number of colored cut-out gardens painted direct from photographs to show the form and color of the flowers, and to prove that the garden plans in the book are not "ideals," but an actual working basis for little gardeners. 378 pages, 7 x 9½ inches. Attractive cloth binding. Price, $1.50 net.

The Mary Frances Housekeeper

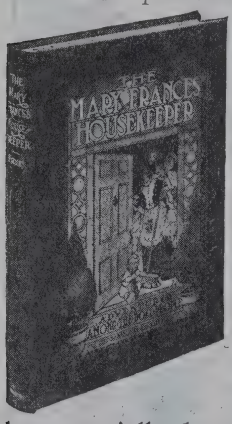
Or Adventures Among the Doll People

By Jane Eayre Fryer

It is doubtful whether any story more captivating than The Mary Frances Housekeeper has ever been written for girls. In the most skilful manner, it takes advantage of the natural childish instinct to "play house," and the opportunity to instil the fundamental principles of good housekeeping is improved through the medium of the delightful story of Mary Frances' experiences in teaching her dolls to keep house.



This reproduced photograph shows the bedroom furniture in the book cut out and set up, but it can give no idea of the realistic graining and beautiful coloring of the paper furniture itself. The book also contains suitable furniture for every room in the house.



36 SHEETS OF WONDERFUL PAPER DOLLS AND CUT-OUT FURNITURE

A glimpse into this book is enough to make a girl's heart leap. Here she finds not only the story of the Paper Doll Family of Sandpile Village, and how they acquired a home, but also the paper dolls themselves—thirty-six sheets of dolls and of the new, patented kind of cut-out furniture. Such paper dolls and furniture no little girl ever saw before! There is a whole family of dolls: Father and Mother Doll and five children, including the baby—besides "Cinda," the colored maid. Then there is a houseful of furniture—furniture for the bedrooms, library, dining-room and kitchen. Every piece has been specially drawn for the book by the designer for one of the largest furniture manufacturers in the United States. The furniture folds together with a patented, self-locking system that obviates the use of paste, pins, etc. The sheer delight of cutting out and playing with the furniture and dolls, whose fortunes are recounted in the story, creates an intense interest in the housekeeping instruction.

CONTAINS A PRACTICAL COURSE IN HOUSEKEEPING

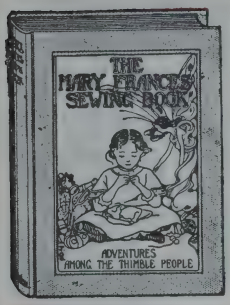
The exciting experiences of the Paper Doll Family of Sandpile Village in setting up housekeeping create in Mary Frances (the heroine of the story) a consuming desire to teach her French dolls how to keep house, and here, as well as in the first part of the story, are woven in the practical explanations of household duties and management. This is done in the most skilful manner, so that, as Mary Frances learns how to dust, or sweep, or iron, or make beds, or polish silver, or use stencils, or assume the duties of hostess or guest, the little reader takes it all in eagerly, and becomes just as anxious to put her knowledge into practice as Mary Frances was.

Size, 7 x 9½ inches; 280 pages; bound in cloth, with attractive cover design, colored frontispiece, and colored decorations on every page. Price, $1.50 net.

The Mary Frances Sewing Book

Or Adventures Among the Thimble People

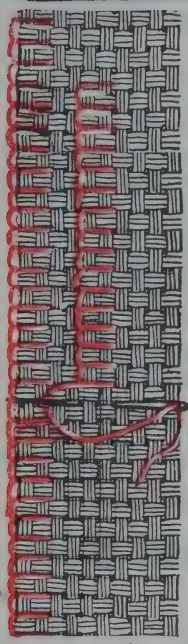
By Jane Eayre Fryer



The story of how the Thimble People taught Mary Frances to sew is as quaint and delightful a story as ever appealed to a child's imagination. It leads the reader irresistibly on to learn what Mary Frances learned, and to find out all the amusing experiences which she had with these comical little elves.

HOW THIS REMARKABLE BOOK TEACHES GIRLS TO SEW

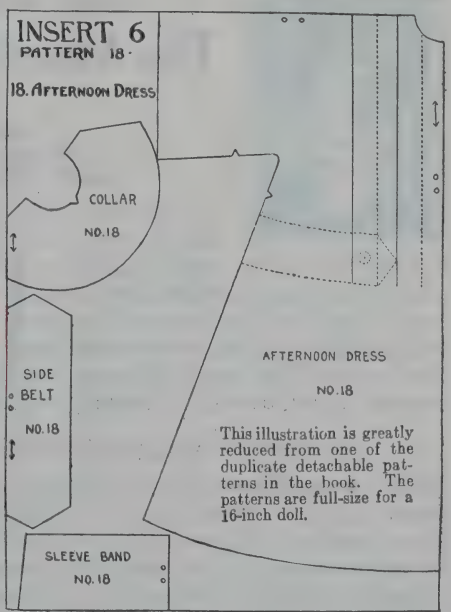
First the Thimble People teach Mary Frances the various "stitches" she needs to know—even and uneven basting, catch stitching, hemming, and all the rest. Then the Thimble People help her to make clothes for "Mary Marie"—her dolly. Here she learns how to use patterns and to bring into use all the progressive elements which she has been taught.



This diagram showing how to make the "blanket stitch" is an example of how everything is made plain in the book. Such diagrams, of which there are a great many, are printed in two colors, the thread, for instance, being shown in red to make it perfectly evident.

THE BOUND-IN AND DETACHABLE PATTERNS ARE WORTH THE PRICE OF THE BOOK

One of the most unique features of this book are the thirty-three patterns, which include everything to complete the doll's wardrobe—underclothes; morning, afternoon and party gowns; coats, bonnets, caps, night-gown, kimono, and all the dainty little things to delight a child's heart. The patterns are bound in the book in duplicate—one set on heavy paper to remain permanently in the book, with a second set on thin paper that can be detached for use. They are regular, full-size working-patterns with full directions for their use, and enable a girl to outfit her doll completely.



This illustration is greatly reduced from one of the duplicate detachable patterns in the book. The patterns are full-size for a 16-inch doll.

NEARLY 300 FASCINATING COLORED ILLUSTRATIONS

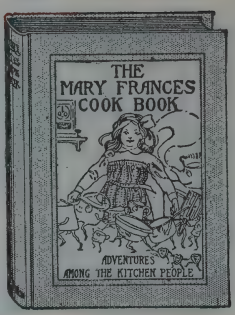
The illustrations in this book are of themselves of sufficient interest to hold a child's attention. Every page contains one or more of Mrs. Boyer's clever colored illustrations which are so popular a factor of the Mary Frances books.

Size 7 x 9½ inches; 320 pages; bound in cloth, with attractive cover design, colored frontispiece, and colored decorations on every page. Price, $1.50 net.

The Mary Frances Cook Book

Or Adventures Among the Kitchen People

By Jane Eayre Fryer



This winsome book tells in story form how Mary Frances learned to cook. It gives the recipes in the simplest, plainest words. It describes every operation clearly—just what she did, the mistakes she made (mistakes other little girls are apt to make at first) and how she learned to overcome them. The recipes are arranged in the order of their simplicity. The easiest comes first, and by gradual steps as experience gives confidence the young reader is led to the preparation of the more difficult dishes.

"A Sauce Pan is a funny thing."

TURNS DRUDGERY INTO PLEASURE AND CREATES A DESIRE TO BE HELPFUL

The book is attractive to children. It makes the use of common kitchen utensils a pleasure instead of drudgery. The pots and pans are made to talk, and what they say entertains as well as instructs. They become the Kitchen People, each with a personality of its own. No one who reads of "Aunty Rolling Pin" and her quaint speeches will ever again think of a rolling pin as a mere thing of wood. So with all the Kitchen People; their personalities are impressed on the young mind in such a way as to attract instead of repel.

Size, 7 x 9½ inches; 175 pages; bound in cloth, with attractive cover design, colored frontispiece, and colored decorations on every page. Price, $1.20 net.

THE NEW MARY FRANCES BOOK

The Mary Frances First Aid Book

By Jane Eayre Fryer

Member of the Red Cross Society
Member of the National Preparedness Society
Author of the Mary Frances Story-Instruction Series

As with all the other Mary Frances Story-Instruction books, the Mary Frances First Aid Book aims to interest children with a delightful story, which is used as a means for conveying information of great and lasting value, impressing it on their minds in such a way that it will always be remembered. The book tells what to do in case of accident or sudden illness, and teaches the value of presence of mind in accidents or emergencies in and outside the home. The story concerns the life of Mary Frances' dolls, and is full of humor, taking away the usual gruesomeness of the subject.

IT INSPIRES CHILDREN WITH A DESIRE TO RELIEVE SUFFERING

But is so skilfully written that they will not be tempted to use medicines or means beyond entire safety. It is also a simplified and handy reference book for grown people in cases of accident, and contains a ready-reference list of remedies for all emergencies, including directions for first aid in cases of burns, scalds, cuts, wounds, fainting, dislocations, broken bones, etc. Attractively and practically illustrated. Cloth. Price, $1.00 net.

TWO NEW 1917 TITLES IN A POPULAR SERIES FOR GIRLS

The "Red Cross Girls" Series

By MARGARET VANDERCOOK

Author of "Stories About Camp Fire Girls," the "Ranch Girls" Series, etc.

While Mrs. Vandercook is widely known, both in America and abroad, for her short stories, poems and other articles contributed to magazines, and more recently as a novelist, her enviable reputation rests chiefly on her popularity as a writer of girls' books. In her latest series, the "Red Cross Girls' Series, she has excelled all her previous achievements. These stories deal with four American girls of widely different education who enlist as Red Cross nurses in the European War. Mrs. Vandercook has avoided everything of a depressing or gruesome nature in the development of these stories, yet the elements of heroism and self-sacrifice are most commendably employed in the account of the services which the girls render on and near the great battle-field. More than that, the lighter and romantic aspects of these stories will endear them to a host of readers. The books are alive with plot and action. Handsomely bound in cloth. Fully illustrated. Attractive cover design. 12mo.

The "Ranch Girls" Series

By MARGARET VANDERCOOK

The first volume of this popular series tells the adventures of four charming girls who inherit a ranch in Wyoming, and of their solution of many difficulties which confront them. The second volume describes the adventures of the Ranch Girls while on a wagon trip to the Yellowstone. The third volume finds the Ranch Girls established in a fashionable boarding school in New York, and the fourth tells of their adventures under alien skies. In "The Ranch Girls at Home Again," the interest returns to the ranch, while in "The Ranch Girls and Their Great Adventure," published this year, the Ranch Girls meet with their happiest experiences, the story of their marriage bringing the series to a delightful conclusion. The rapid action and intense interest will hold the close attention of the old friends of this series and make many new ones. Handsomely bound in cloth and fully illustrated. 12mo.

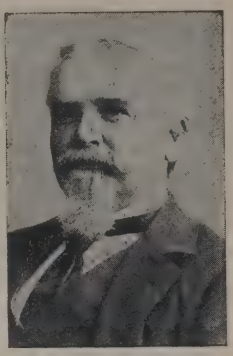
JIMMY KIRKLAND OF THE CASCADE COLLEGE TEAM

JIMMY KIRKLAND AND A PLOT FOR A PENNANT

A Word About Edward S. Ellis

Author of Many Popular Books for Boys and Girls Described on the Following Pages



Edward S. Ellis

The high moral character, the clean manly tendencies, and the admirable literary style of Mr. Ellis's stories have made him as popular on the other side of the Atlantic as in his own country. Critics uniformly agree that no parent need hesitate to place in the hands of his boy or girl any book written by Mr. Ellis. This cannot be said of the works of many of the present-day authors of juvenile literature. As may well be believed, his books are in wide demand by young readers and do much good by their sound wholesome lessons, and by the historical and educational facts which the reader absorbs. These qualities render them as acceptable to parents as to their children.

A Notable and Timely ELLIS Series for Boys

The "Alamo" Series By EDWARD S. ELLIS

For the subject of his latest, and in many respects his best, series of boys' books, Mr. Ellis has taken the picturesque and thrilling incidents that marked the struggle of Texas for independence from Mexican misrule. The books in this new series are especially timely in view of the present importance of Mexican subjects, and while they have a real and permanent value, they possess all the interest and glamor for boys which may be found in other books with a less worthy foundation.

Sold either separately or in boxed sets. Two volumes.

THE THREE ARROWS

"REMEMBER THE ALAMO"

The "Boy Patrol" Series By EDWARD S. ELLIS

Mr. Ellis has always believed in the open as the best and healthiest place for a young boy. Naturally the Boy Scout movement with its far-reaching benefits has attracted his close attention. We find the same characters who became so popular in the "Launch Boys Series" camping, hiking, learning to tie knots, to know the birds, to render first aid to the injured, to read the signs of the woods and follow trails. 12mo. Cloth. Illustrated.

Sold either separately or in sets boxed. Two volumes.

THE BOY PATROL ON GUARD

THE BOY PATROL AROUND THE COUNCIL FIRE

The "Launch Boys" Series By EDWARD S. ELLIS

The author has avoided too free use of technicalities, but has given a thorough description of all that pertains to the operation of a motor boat. The stories themselves are intensely interesting descriptions of the adventures of three attractive boys while cruising in Maine waters. The very low price at which these new Ellis books are sold is not the least of their attractions. Printed on an excellent quality of paper, fully illustrated. 12mo. Cloth.

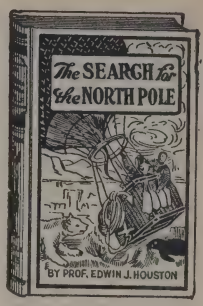
The North Pole Series

BY PROF. EDWIN J. HOUSTON



Dr. Houston has spent a lifetime in teaching boys the principles of physical and scientific phenomena and knows how to talk and write for them in a way that is most attractive. In the reading of these stories the most accurate scientific information will be absorbed.

HANDSOMELY BOUND—The volumes, 12mo. in size, are bound in Extra English Cloth and are attractively stamped in colors and full gold titles. Sold separately or in sets, boxed.

THE SEARCH FOR THE NORTH POLE

THE DISCOVERY OF THE NORTH POLE

CAST AWAY AT THE NORTH POLE

Recommended by Rear Admiral Melville, who commanded three Expeditions to the Arctic Regions:

I have read with a great deal of interest your three volumes of the Arctic Series, "The Search for the North Pole," "Cast Away," and the "Discovery of the North Pole," all of which are most vividly, though carefully, portrayed.

These volumes will, no doubt, be of great interest to the youth of our country, and at the same time be an incentive to the study of the physics of the earth, the air and the ocean.

I have made three Arctic voyages and compliment you on the accuracy of your work.

I am, sir,
Respectfully,
(Signed) GEO. MELVILLE,
Rear Admiral, U. S. Navy (Retired).

The Famous Jack Hazard Series

By J. T. TROWBRIDGE

Of the whole series it may be said that they are almost unrivaled of their class. They are faithful studies of character and life; wholesome, fascinating, inspiring—books that boys love to read—and that they may read with profit.—Boston Advertiser.

JOHN BURROUGHS

The Eminent Naturalist, writes of these books in Scribner's as follows:

"The Jack Hazard Series of stories is no doubt destined to hold a high place in this class of literature. The delight of the boys in them (and of their seniors, too) is well founded. They go to the right spot every time. Trowbridge knows the heart of a boy like a book, and the heart of a man too, and he has laid them both open in these books in a most successful manner. Apart from the qualities that render the series so attractive to all young readers, they have great value on account of their portraitures of American country life and character. The drawing is wonderfully accurate, and as spirited as it is true. The constable, Sellick, is an original character, and as minor figures where will we find anything better than Miss Wansey and P. Pipkin, Esq. The picture of Mr. Dink's school, too, is capital, and where else in fiction is there a better nickname than that the boys gave to poor little Stephen Treadwell, 'Step Hen,' as he himself pronounced his name in an unfortunate moment when he saw it in print for the first time in his lesson in school. On the whole these books are very satisfactory, and afford the critical reader the rare pleasure of the works that are just adequate, that easily fulfill themselves and accomplish all they set out to do." 12mo. Cloth, Sold separately or in sets boxed. 6 titles.

JACK HAZARD SERIES. 6 vols. Price.....$7.50

Trowbridge, J. T.

JACK HAZARD AND HIS FORTUNES

The scene is laid upon the line of the Erie Canal, and opens with Jack as a poor, ill-treated, profane little rascal of a canal-driver. It closes with Jack surrounded by friends, in a good home, with golden opportunities for the future. It is a book for boys, who will get a wholesome lesson while they follow the fortunes of Jack and his dog, Lion, with absorbing interest.—Portland Transcript.

A CHANCE FOR HIMSELF

The whole story breathes of the country in which its scenes are laid; and in its course, which nowhere passes the modesty of nature, there are marks of such honest study and thorough knowledge of farm life and farm folk, such delicate and true touches in the high motives of the plot, that one is not only entertained by this tale for boys, one is charmed and delightfully surprised.—W. D. Howells in Atlantic Monthly.

DOING HIS BEST

Mr. Trowbridge, who has written some of the best of our juvenile literature, contributes another volume of the story of the life of Jack Hazard, who is already well known to most of our young readers. The present volume takes him along through his school-days, coon-hunting, sugar-camping, boy-business on the farm to raise extra pocket-money, and so forth—a very eventful time of life for Jack.—Ohio State Journal.

FAST FRIENDS

As a story for boys, this ought to be ranked among the best. It deals in a fresh and captivating manner with a line of experience not by any means unfamiliar to readers of this class of books. Two boys set out for New York city—the one to find some trace of his relatives, from whom he was stolen when an infant; the other to make his fortune as a poet. The history of their adventures ends pleasantly, yet it will not foster any vain ambition.—The Churchman, Hartford.

THE YOUNG SURVEYOR

Mr. Trowbridge never wrote a more captivating work, and he will never write a better. He won't do it because he can't. It is one of the very best stories we ever read.—Providence Press.

LAWRENCE'S ADVENTURES AMONG THE ICE-CUTTERS, GLASS-MAKERS, COAL-MINERS, IRON-MEN AND SHIP-BUILDERS

A very successful attempt to convey instruction in several of the practical arts in a pleasing guise. The conceit is a pleasing one and very delightfully employed. Here is a book full of interesting situations and descriptions, and calculated to stimulate a curiosity that exists in almost every healthfully constituted boy, and to lead him to a love of the more practical pursuits—a thing to be encouraged in this day when the tendency is to rush into the professional and delicate arts of the desk and counter. Our boys should by all means have access to this good book.—Sunday-School Times.

Edward S. Ellis' Pioneer Series of Books for Boys

Edward S. Ellis has been constantly growing in favor as an author of Boys' Books, and he now has admirers in all parts of the world. His stories are largely founded on history, and portray stirring adventures of daring American boys on the prairies, mountains, forest and stream.

We are now enabled to offer this series of low-priced books, which have until recently been published only in editions at double the price. THEY ARE ALL COPYRIGHT TITLES, AND WILL NOT BE FOUND IN ANY OTHER PUBLISHER'S LIST. The books are printed on an excellent quality of paper, and have an entirely new and appropriate cover design. 12mo. Cloth. 30 Titles.

The Julia Greene Cut-Out Series of Famous Children's Stories

TOLD IN POETRY AND PROSE. ILLUSTRATED WITH ORIGINAL COLORED CUT-OUTS

Designed by HELEN PETTES and JULIA GREENE

This unique series provides in a new and doubly attractive form those stories of childhood which though generations or even centuries old, are always as new as the day they first took form. These stories are related in both poetry and prose and are made attractive in a new way by colored cut-out figures and furniture which enable the delighted little readers to reconstruct the stories and act them over and over in all possible variations to their hearts' content. In "Goldilocks and the Three Bears," for example, the cut-outs, printed on heavy, coated paper, include the four characters, with their clothing, and the chairs, beds and porridge bowls which are so real a part of the immortal story. These cut-outs are drawn in a spirit of sympathy and verity, with a real appreciation of childish imagination, and are beautifully colored. Without doubt these books will instantly take their place anywhere among the most attractive and popular of all books designed for little folks. Size, 11 x 8 inches. Bound in cloth, with inlaid front cover printed in colors.

Government Test Bindings

On "International" Divinity Circuit Bibles

This new material must not be confounded with the many unsatisfactory, foul-smelling substitutes for leather that have heretofore been used in binding Bibles. It is a new material that has never before been used for Bible bindings. It produces a result that matches the rich appearance of leather, that is flexible, and durable. It is used only on International Bibles. It meets the requirements of the Bureau of Standards of the United States Government for a material that is stronger than leather.

CLAIMS THAT CAN BE MADE FOR GOVERNMENT TEST BINDINGS

Absence of odors.
Exceptional strength and flexibility.
Resistance to mold or the attack of insects.
Moisture resisting qualities.
Fast color and freedom from scratching.

GOVERNMENT TEST BINDINGS

are used on divinity circuit styles only (with overlapping covers) and can be furnished in the following "International" Bibles:

Absolutely Flexible

The saints' resurrection. 1 CORINTHIANS, 15. The manner of it.

25 For he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet.
26 The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death.
27 For he hath put all things under his feet. But when he saith, All things are put under him, it is manifest that he is excepted which did put all things under him.
28 And when all things shall be subdued unto him, then shall the Son also himself be subject unto him that put all things under him, that God may be all in all.
29 Else what shall they do which are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? why are they then baptized for the dead?
30 And why stand we in jeopardy every hour?
31 I protest by your rejoicing which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, I die daily.
32 If after the manner of men I have fought with beasts at Ephesus, what advantageth it me, if the dead rise not? let us eat and drink; for to-morrow we die.
33 Be not deceived: evil communications corrupt good manners.
34 Awake to righteousness, and sin not; for some have not the knowledge of God: I speak this to your shame.
35 But some man will say, How are the dead raised up? and with what body do they come?
36 Thou fool, that which thou sowest is not quickened, except it die.
37 And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that body that shall be, but bare grain, it may chance of wheat, or of some other grain:
38 But God giveth it a body as it hath pleased him, and to every seed his own body.
39 All flesh is not the same flesh: but there is one kind of flesh of men, another flesh of beasts, another of fishes, and another of birds.
40 There are also celestial bodies, and bodies terrestrial: but the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestrial is another.
41 There is one glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars: for one star differeth from another star in glory.
42 So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption; it is raised in incorruption:
43 It is sown in dishonour; it is raised in glory: it is sown in weakness; it is raised in power:
44 It is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. There is a natural body, and there is a spiritual body.
45 And so it is written, The first man Adam was made a living soul; the last Adam was made a quickening spirit.
46 Howbeit that was not first which is spiritual, but that which is natural; and afterward that which is spiritual.
47 The first man is of the earth, earthy; the second man is the Lord from heaven.
48 As is the earthy, such are they also that are earthy; and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly.
49 And as we have borne the image of the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.
50 Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption.
51 Behold, I show you a mystery; We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed,
52 In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump: for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed.
53 For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality.
54 So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory.
55 O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?
56 The sting of death is sin; and the strength of sin is the law.
57 But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.
58 Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye stedfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord.

CHAPTER 16.

1 How to proceed for the relief of the brethren.
13 Admonitions, 19 and salutations.

NOW concerning the collection for the saints, as I have given order to the churches of Galatia, even so do ye.
2 Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him, that there be no gatherings when I come.
3 And when I come, whomsoever ye shall approve by your letters, them will I send to bring your liberality unto Jerusalem.
4 And if it be meet that I go also, they shall go with me.
5 Now I will come unto you, when I shall pass through Macedonia: for I do pass through Macedonia.
6 And it may be that I will abide, yea, and winter with you, that ye may bring me on my journey whithersoever I go.
7 For I will not see you now by the way; but I trust to tarry a while with you, if the Lord permit.
8 But I will tarry at Ephesus until Pentecost.
9 For a great door and effectual is opened unto me, and there are many adversaries.
10 Now if Timotheus come, see that he may be with you without fear: for he worketh the work of the Lord, as I also do.
11 Let no man therefore despise him: but conduct him forth in peace, that he may come unto me: for I look for him with the brethren.
12 As touching our brother Apollos, I greatly desire him to come unto you with the brethren: but his will was not at all to come at this time; but he will come when he shall have convenient time.
13 Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong.

In addition to these Features this Bible also contains the following New and Valuable Helps to Bible Study

1.—Bible Answers for Forty Difficult Questions Pertaining to Daily Living and Christian Life—Drawn from practical experience and wise knowledge of many people, thoroughly in sympathy with the needs of young people.
2.—Young People's Bible History and Doctrine—A Catechism and Series of Questions and Answers covering the History and Story of the Bible and the doctrines which are universally accepted and taught by the Bible.
3.—Special Text for Every Sunday in the Year—These fine selections are made with the view of giving the young people a quotation from Scripture for for every Sabbath Day.
4.—Story of How the Bible has been Translated into English in many Versions from the Old Anglo-Saxon Days to the Present Time.
5.—How they Measured Time in Bible Days as compared with the day and hour of the present custom.
6.—Weights and Measures of the Bible—Arranged for Ready Reference.
7.—The Money of the Bible.—Gives the corresponding value in dollars and cents.
8.—The Books of the Old Testament—Who their Authors were, when they were written, and the story to which they relate.
9.—The Books of the New Testament—The Story, the Author of each and its relative importance; in all a brief summary of the New Testament Books.
10.—The Miracles of Jesus—Arranged in the order in which they were performed.
11.—The Parables of Jesus—Arranged and grouped according to the Gospel in which they are found.
12.—Old Testament—Arranged to interest young readers to find remarkable passages in the Old Testament and good for Bible Readings.
13.—The Apostles' Creed—Every young person should know this Creed, which is so universally accepted as the best statement of Christian Doctrine.
14.—The Beatitudes of Jesus—These Sayings are arranged for memory purposes.
15.—The Lord's Prayer—Printed boldly for convenience of reference and memorizing.
16.—The Ten Commandments—These should be memorized, and for that reason are given a place in these Helps.
17.—Calendar for Daily Readings by which the Reading of the whole Bible can be completed in One Year or Three Hundred and Sixty-five Readings.

A WELCOME IMPROVEMENT

JUST ISSUED — "INTERNATIONAL" CLEARNUTYPE — JUST ISSUED

TEXT BIBLE

SELF-PRONOUNCING

Publishing and manufacturing over five hundred styles of "International" Bibles and Testaments (the largest line of Self-Pronouncing Bibles in the world), it would seem that there was no need for a new edition of the Bible; but this new Bible represents a distinct improvement over any form in which the Bible has hitherto been issued. In clearness of type, convenience of size, and logical arrangement, it is adapted to every class of Bible readers.

CLEARNUTYPE

While the text of the Bible does not change, modern methods of typography make possible the production of a type that is larger in size, more easily read, and more restful to the eyes, and yet makes a more convenient size, and a lighter weight book, than is ordinarily obtainable in a Bible printed from small type. The type used in this new Bible was moulded especially for the purpose. It is the largest, clearest type to be found in any Bible of like size.

Modern Arrangement That Makes This Bible More Usable

It has the books of the Bible printed on outer edge, which facilitates quick reference and overcomes the necessity of cutting an index on edge; has the chapter numbers of each of the Books of the Bible in Arabic numerals and also gives the sequential number of each chapter in the Bible; has all proper words accented and divided into syllables, making pronunciation easy; contains colored maps of the Holy Lands.

The Size Commends It For Many Uses

Notwithstanding the Clear Type used in this Bible the page measures but 5¼ x 7¼ inches. Its adaptability as a most usable hand Bible or a Bible that can be conveniently carried in the coat pocket is instantly apparent.

A Bible You Will Be Proud to Own

This Bible is printed on thin rag paper specially made for it. Jet black ink is used in the printing to make the type stand forth clearly. Handsome Flexible Leather Bindings, with overlapping covers, red-under-gold edges, head-bands and purple ribbon marker, all serve in making it the finest expression in Bible making.

Specimen Page and Explanation of CLEARNUTYPE Bible

The type is larger, clearer and more easily read than any other pronouncing Bible of same size.

☞ The books of the Bible are printed in this clear type on the outer edge, which enables one to find any book in the Bible quickly by simply bending over the upper corner. Many Bible-users prefer this to having an expensive index cut on the edge.

of the air, and over every living thing that moveth upon the earth.

29 ¶ And God said, Behold, I have given you every herb bearing seed, which is upon the face of all the earth, and every tree, in the which is the fruit of a tree yielding seed; to you it shall be for meat.

30 And to every beast of the earth, and to every fowl of the air, and to every thing that creepeth upon the earth, wherein there is life, I have given every green herb for meat: and it was so.

31 And God saw every thing that he had made, and, behold, it was very good. And the evening and the morning were the sixth day.

2 CHAPTER 2.

1 The first sabbath. 8 The garden of Eden. 21 The making of woman. 24 The institution of marriage.

THUS the heavens and the earth were finished, and all the host of them.

2 And on the seventh day God ended his work which he had made; and he rested on the seventh day from all his work which he had made.

3 And God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it: because that in it he had rested from all his work which God created and made.

4 ¶ These are the generations of the heavens and of the earth when they were created, in the day that the LORD God made the earth and the heavens,

5 And every plant of the field before it was in the earth, and every herb of the field before it grew: for the LORD God had not caused it to rain upon the earth, and there was not a man to till the ground.

6 But there went up a mist from the earth, and watered the whole face of the ground.

7 And the LORD God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul.

8 ¶ And the LORD God planted a garden eastward in Ē'dĕn; and there he put the man whom he had formed.

9 And out of the ground made the LORD God to grow every tree that is pleasant to the sight, and good for food; the tree of life also in the midst of the garden, and the tree of knowledge of good and evil.

10 And a river went out of Ē'dĕn to water the garden; and from thence it was parted, and became into four heads.

11 The name of the first is Pī'son: that is it which compasseth the whole land of Hăv'i-lah, where there is gold;

12 And the gold of that land is good: there is bdellium and the onyx stone.

13 And the name of the second river is Gī'hon: the same is it that compasseth the whole land of Ē-thĭ-ō'pĭ-à.

14 And the name of the third river is Hĭd'de-kĕl: that is it which goeth toward the east of Às-sŷr'ĭ-à. And the fourth river is Eū-phrā'tēs.

15 And the LORD God took the man, and put him into the garden of Ē'dĕn to dress it and to keep it.

16 And the LORD God commanded the man, saying, Of every tree of the garden thou mayest freely eat:

17 But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die.

18 ¶ And the LORD God said, It is not good that the man should be alone; I will make him an help meet for him.

19 And out of the ground the LORD God formed every beast of the field, and every fowl of the air; and brought them unto Ăd'ăm to see what he would call them: and whatsoever Ăd'ăm called every living creature, that was the name thereof.

20 And Ăd'ăm gave names to all cattle, and to the fowl of the air, and to every beast of the field; but for Ăd'ăm there was not found an help meet for him.

21 And the LORD God caused a deep sleep to fall upon Ăd'ăm, and he slept: and he took one of his ribs, and closed up the flesh instead thereof;

22 And the rib, which the LORD God had taken from man, made he a woman, and brought her unto the man.

23 And Ăd'ăm said, This is now bone of my bones, and flesh of my flesh: she shall be called Woman, because she was taken out of Man.

24 Therefore shall a man leave his father and his mother, and shall cleave unto his wife: and they shall be one flesh.

25 And they were both naked, the man and his wife, and were not ashamed.

CHAPTER 3. 3

1 Eve deceived. 6 The fall of man. 14 The curse. 22 Expulsion from the garden.

NOW the serpent was more subtil than any beast of the field

☞ All through the Bible proper words are accented and divided into syllables, which makes pronunciation easy. This feature is useful, especially in the Old Testament which abounds with difficult words.

☞ Gives the consecutive number of each chapter of the Bible, showing that there are 1189 chapters in the Bible

☞ Note the clearness of the type. ☜

Solomon's adversaries. I KINGS, 11.

Mō'ab, in the hill that is before Je-ru'sa-lĕm; and for Mō'lech, the abomination of the children of Am'mon.

8 And likewise did he for all his strange wives, which burnt incense, and sacrificed unto their gods.

9 And the LORD was angry with Sŏl'o-mon, because his heart was turned from the LORD God of Is'ra-el, which had appeared unto him twice,

10 And had commanded him concerning this thing, that he should not go after other gods: but he kept not that which the LORD commanded.

11 Wherefore the LORD said unto Sŏl'o-mon, Forasmuch as this is done of thee, and thou hast not kept my covenant and my statutes, which I have commanded thee, I will surely rend the kingdom from thee, and will give it to thy servant.

25 And he was an adversary to Is'ra-el all the days of Sŏl'o-mon, beside the mischief that Hā'dăd did: and he abhorred Is'ra-el, and reigned over Sȳr'i-a.

26 And Jĕr-o-bō'am the son of Nē'băt, an Ĕph'rath-īte of Zĕr'e-da, Sŏl'o-mon's servant, (whose mother's name was Ze-ru'ah, a widow woman,) even he lifted up his hand against the king.

27 And this was the cause that he lifted up his hand against the king: Sŏl'o-mon built Mil'lo, and repaired the breaches of the city of Dā'vid his father.

28 And the man Jĕr-o-bō'am was a mighty man of valour: and Sŏl'o-mon seeing the young man that he was industrious, he made him ruler over all the charge of the house of Jō'seph.

29 And it came to pass at that time, when Jĕr-o-bō'am went out of Je-ru'sa-

An unusually full CONCORDANCE TO THE SCRIPTURES; a SUBJECT DICTIONARY, showing where each topic in the Bible is found and how used; a BIBLICAL BIOGRAPHICAL DICTIONARY; a BIBLICAL GEOGRAPHICAL DICTIONARY, giving the location of places on the Maps; a Dictionary of ARCHAIC and OBSOLETE WORDS in the English Bible; Dictionary of BIBLICAL ANTIQUITIES, CUSTOMS, MUSICAL TERMS, PLANTS, ANIMALS and PRECIOUS STONES; the PRONUNCIATION OF WORDS; the TRANSLATION OF CLASSICAL WORDS, and ENCYCLOPEDIC DESCRIPTIONS of the books of the Bible, TRANSLATIONS OF THE BIBLE, and MANY OTHER IMPORTANT SUBJECTS OF INTEREST TO ALL BIBLE STUDENTS,

All Under One Alphabetical Arrangement
Prepared in Simple Language and Printed from Bold Face Type

It is confidently believed that this Teachers' Handy Bible Encyclopedia will be found to contain more practical aid to the students and teachers than the helps found in other Teachers' Bibles. The experience of recent years has brought much additional light upon many subjects of Biblical knowledge, has shown that the plan of Bible Aids could be improved, and has also revealed a need among teachers, ministers, and Bible readers for a more popular handbook with the information written in language free from the technicalties of scholars. The work of simplifying was assigned to Rev. Jesse Lyman Hurlbut, D.D., widely known as a Biblical scholar and as a TEACHER OF TEACHERS in the Sunday-school. Some of the improvements in this work over other Bible commentaries are noteworthy. (See full description on next page.)

A WELCOME IMPROVEMENT

JUST ISSUED — "INTERNATIONAL" CLEARNUTYPE — JUST ISSUED

TEACHERS' BIBLE

SELF-PRONOUNCING

Publishing and manufacturing over five hundred styles of "International" Bibles and Testaments (the largest line of Self-Pronouncing Bibles in the world), it would seem that there was no need for a new edition of the Bible; but this new Bible represents a distinct improvement over any form in which the Bible has hitherto been issued. In clearness of type, convenience of size, and logical arrangement, it is adapted to every class of Bible readers.

CLEARNUTYPE

While the text of the Bible does not change, modern methods of typography make possible the production of a type that is larger in size, more easily read, and more restful to the eyes, and yet makes a more convenient size, and a lighter weight book, than is ordinarily obtainable in a Bible printed from small type. The type used in this new Bible was moulded especially for the purpose. It is the largest, clearest type to be found in any Bible of like size.

The Highest Development of Modern Progress

In addition to the large clear type, the full contents also commend this Bible. It contains the Authorized Version of the Old and New Testaments, with sixty thousand references in the center column; has the books of the Bible printed on outer edge, which facilitates quick reference and overcomes the necessity of cutting an index on edge; has all proper words accented and divided into syllables, making pronunciation easy; has the most accurate, most usable aids to Bible study to be found in any Bible; and has seventeen colored maps of the Holy Lands.

New Type of Teachers' Aids to Bible Study

The logical arrangement of the helps is another improvement and a great convenience. All the aids (covering over 400 pages), including Complete Concordance, Subject Index, Dictionary, etc., etc., are under one Alphabetical Arrangement instead of separate headings as employed in the old type of Bible. Furthermore, these new helps are illustrated and are the only helps printed from black face type to be found in any Bible, which makes them more readable and useful.

A Bible You Will Be Proud to Own

This Bible is printed on thin rag paper specially made for it. Jet black ink is used in the printing to make the type stand forth clearly. Handsome Flexible Leather Bindings, with overlapping covers, red-under-gold edges, head-bands and purple ribbon marker, all serve in making it the finest expression in Bible making.

Specimen Page and Explanation of CLEARNUTYPE Bible

The type is larger, clearer and more easily read than any other pronouncing Bible of same size.

At the head of each page is given the approximate date of the incident referred to on that page

The Books of the Bible are printed in this clear type on the outer edge, which enables one to find any book in the Bible quickly by simply bending over the upper corner. Many Bible-users prefer this to having an expensive index cut on the edge.

22 ¶ And it came to pass at that time, that [z]Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch and Phĭ'chol the chief captain of his host spake unto Ā'bră-hăm, saying, [y]God is with thee in all that thou doest:

23 Now therefore [z]swear unto me here by God [1]that thou wilt not deal falsely with me, nor with my son, nor with my son's son: but according to the kindness that I have done unto thee, thou shalt do unto me, and to the land wherein thou hast sojourned.

24 And Ā'bră-hăm said, I will swear.

25 And Ā'bră-hăm reproved Ă-bĭm'-e-lĕch because of a well of water, which Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch's servants had violently [a]taken away.

26 And Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch said, I wot not who hath done this thing: neither didst thou tell me, neither yet heard I of it, but to day.

27 And Ā'bră-hăm took sheep and oxen, and gave them unto Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch; and both of them [b]made a covenant.

28 And Ā'bră-hăm set seven ewe lambs of the flock by themselves.

29 And Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch said unto Ā'bră-hăm, [c]What mean these seven ewe lambs which thou hast set by themselves?

30 And he said, For these seven ewe lambs shalt thou take of my hand, that [d]they may be a witness unto me, that I have digged this well.

31 Wherefore he [e]called that place [2]Bē'er–shē'bà; because there they sware both of them.

32 Thus they made a covenant at Bē'er–shē'bà: then Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch rose up, and Phĭ'chol the chief captain of his host, and they returned into the [f]land of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes.

33 ¶ And Ā'bră-hăm planted a [3]grove in Bē'er–shē'bà, and called there on the name of the LORD, the [g]everlasting God.

34 And Ā'bră-hăm sojourned in the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes' land many days.

22 CHAPTER 22.

1 Abraham offers Isaac. 13 A ram substituted. 15 Abraham blessed. 20 Nahor's offspring.

AND it came to pass after these things, that [a]God did tempt Ā'bră-hăm, and said unto him, Ă'bră-hăm: and he said, [1]Behold, here I am.

2 And he said, [b]Take now thy son, thine only son Ĭ'şaac, whom thou lovest, and get thee into the land [c]of Mō-rī'ah; and offer him there for a burnt offering upon one of the mountains which I will tell thee of.

3 ¶ And Ā'bră-hăm [d]rose up early in the morning, and saddled his ass, and took two of his young men with him, and Ĭ'şaac his son, and clave the wood for the burnt offering, and rose up, and went unto the place of which God had told him.

4 Then on the third day Ā'bră-hăm lifted up his eyes, and saw the place afar off.

5 And Ā'bră-hăm said unto his young men, Abide ye here with the ass; and I and the lad will go yonder and worship, and come again to you.

6 And Ā'bră-hăm took the wood of the burnt offering, and [c]laid it upon Ĭ'şaac his son; and he took the fire in his hand, and a knife; and they went both of them together.

7 And Ĭ'şaac spake unto Ā'bră-hăm his father, and said, My father: and he said, [2]Here am I, my son. And he said, Behold the fire and the wood: but where is the [3]lamb for a burnt offering?

8 And Ā'bră-hăm said, My son, God will provide himself [f]a lamb for a burnt offering: so they went both of them together.

9 And they came to the place which God had told him of; and Ā'bră-hăm built an altar there, and laid the wood in order, and [g]bound Ĭ'şaac his son, and laid him on the altar upon the wood.

10 And Ā'bră-hăm [h]stretched forth his hand, and took the knife to slay his son.

11 And the angel of the LORD called unto him out of heaven, and said, Ā'bră-hăm, Ā'bră-hăm: and he said, Here am I.

12 And he said, [i]Lay not thine hand upon the lad, neither do thou any thing unto him: for now [j]I know that thou fearest God, seeing thou hast not withheld thy son, thine only son from me.

13 And Ā'bră-hăm lifted up his eyes, and looked, and behold behind him a ram caught in a thicket by his horns: and Ā'bră-hăm went and took the ram, and offered him up for a burnt offering [k]in the stead of his son.

14 And Ā'bră-hăm called the name of that place [4]Jē-hō'vah–jĭ'reh: as it is said to this day, In the mount of the LORD it shall be seen.

15 ¶ And the angel of the LORD called unto Ā'bră-hăm out of heaven the second time,

16 And said, [l]By myself have I sworn, saith the LORD, for because thou hast done this thing, and hast not withheld thy son, thine only son:

17 That in blessing I will bless thee, and in multiplying I will multiply thy seed as the [m]stars of the heaven, and as the [n]sand which is upon the sea [5]shore; and thy seed shall [o]possess the gate of his enemies;

18 And [p]in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed; because [q]thou hast obeyed my voice.

19 So Ā'bră-hăm returned unto his young men, and they rose up and went together to Bē'er–shē'bà; and Ā'bră-hăm dwelt at Bē'er–shē'bà.

20 ¶ And it came to pass after these

INDIA PAPER BIBLE

SELF-PRONOUNCING

Containing the authorized version of the Old Testament and the New Testament, with all proper names accented and divided into syllables—and maps in colors.

While the text of the Bible does not change, modern methods of typography make possible the production of a type that is larger in size, more easily read, and more restful to the eyes, and yet makes a more convenient size, and a lighter weight book, than is ordinarily obtainable in a Bible printed from small type. The type used in this new Bible was moulded especially for the purpose. It is the largest, clearest type to be found in any self-pronouncing Bible of like size.

THE SIZE COMMENDS IT FOR MANY USES

Notwithstanding the Clear Type used in this Bible the page measures but 5¼ x 7¼ inches. Its adaptability as a most usable hand Bible or a Bible that can be conveniently carried in the coat pocket is instantly apparent.

A BIBLE THAT WILL PLEASE EVERYBODY

In addition to the large clear type, the full contents also commend this Bible. It contains the Authorized Version of the Old and New Testaments, with sixty thousand references in the center column; has the most accurate, most usable aids to Bible study to be found in any Bible; and has seventeen colored maps of the Holy Lands.

NEW TYPE OF HELPS TO BIBLE STUDY

The logical arrangement of the helps is another improvement and a great convenience. All the aids (covering over 400 pages), including Complete Concordance, Subject Index, Dictionary, etc., etc., are under one Alphabetical Arrangement instead of separate headings as employed in the old type of Bible. Furthermore, these new helps are illustrated and are the only helps printed from black-face type to be found in any Bible, which makes them more readable and useful.

The Red Letter Bible is the Bible that emphasizes Christ. The Old Testament, in types and prophecies, prefigured and foretold His coming. Christ, himself, endorsed and set His seal upon the Old Testament by continually referring to it and quoting from it. And He commanded us to "Search the Scriptures," for He said, "they testify of me." But how hard it is for the average reader to take the Bible and read it and know what refers to Christ. To such a reader the Red Letter Bible is a great help and benefit.

In the Red Letter Bible eminent scholars have carefully gone through and marked all those passages that point to Christ and all those passages that Jesus himself quoted. And in this volume all those passages and all the words of Jesus are printed in red ink. That is the story of the Red Letter Bible, which has proved so wonderfully popular.

Christian Worker's Bible

Indexed and marked in both Old and New Testamenst according to the best system of Bible marking on the

THEME OF SALVATION

To enable any person to turn rapidly to verses on these subjects, and to read in consecutive order all passages relating to any one of the topics chosen; to give Bible Readings at a moment's notice or to tell at a glance the subjects of any verse or passage marked

THREE THOUSAND SELECTED TEXTS

Are arranged on this plan in sequence for Bible Study and Teaching by

J. GILCHRIST LAWSON

REV. JESSE LYMAN HURLBUT, D.D.

With an interesting and helpful introduction on the many uses of this Christian Worker's Bible and suggestive hints on private study by

REV. JESSE LYMAN HURLBUT, D.D.

EXPLANATION OF MARKINGS

THE INDEX, OR KEY directs the reader to the first verse in the Bible on a subject, and, at the close of the first verse on that subject, there is a reference to the next verse on the same subject; so, that (though it may be fifty or one hundred pages away), the reader turns forward rapidly verse to verse, in regular order, until he reads everything in the whole Bible on that subject. Then he turns back, to the index or key, at the beginning, and takes up the next subject in the general plan of Salvation, with the first verse in the Bible on that subject, and reads straight through as before. And, so, one continues until the seventeen subjects, which complete the whole theme of Salvation, shall have been read through. This arrangement will enable anyone to conduct a Bible Reading on any of the following at a moment's notice.

SALVATION

Key Letter	Subject	First Reference
A	ALL unsaved people are sinners	Gen. 6. 5
B	The BIBLE God's message of life and salvation	Exod. 24. 4-7
C	CONDITION of sinners described	Gen. 2. 16, 17
D	Christ DIED to save sinners	Gen. 3. 15
E	EVERY secret thing is known of the Lord	Gen. 3. 9
F	We are saved through FAITH	Gen. 6. 13-14
G	"GOOD WORKS," etc., alone will not save	Gen. 4. 3-5
H	Punishment and HELL awaits sinners	Gen. 2. 17
J	The Lord is the JUDGE of all men	Gen. 18. 20-21
K	The Lord saves and KEEPS those who put their trust in Him	Gen. 8. 1
L	The Lord LOVES and is willing to save sinners	Gen. 12. 3
N	Danger of NEGLECTING or rejecting salvation	Gen. 6. 3
O	The Lord the ONLY way of salvation	Gen. 4. 7
P	The Lord is willing to PARDON backsliders	Lev. 26. 40-42
R	REPENTANCE, confession, restitution, reformation	Lev. 26. 40-42
T	TESTIFYING, or confessing the Lord	Gen. 28. 16-22
W	"WHOSOEVER WILL" may be saved	Gen. 12. 1-3

—THE— EASIEST READING BIBLE

It is believed that no form in which the Scripture has ever been published makes the reading of it so attractive to both old and young, nor are any Commentaries, voluminous and extensive as they may be, to be compared with this simple system of markings and indexing, in explaining and making easy the way of Salvation.

H 6 And it [g]repented the LORD that he had made man on the earth, and it [h]grieved him at his heart.

7 And the LORD said, I will destroy man whom I have created from the face of the earth; [3]both man, and beast, and the creeping thing, and the fowls of the air; for it repenteth me that I have made them. H. 19. 12, 13.

8 But Nō'ah [i]found grace in the eyes of the LORD.

9 ¶ These are the generations of Nō'ah: Nō'ah was a just man and [4]perfect in his generations, and Nō'ah walked with God.

10 And Nō'ah begat three sons, Shĕm, Hăm, and Jā'pheth.

11 The earth also was corrupt before God, and the earth was filled with violence.

C 12 And God looked [5]upon the earth, and, behold, it was corrupt; for all flesh had corrupted his way upon the earth. C. Exod. 20. 5.

F 13 And God said unto Nō'ah, The [k]end of all flesh is come before me; for the earth is filled with violence through them; and, behold, I will destroy them [5]with the earth.

14 Make thee an ark of gopher wood; [6]rooms shalt thou make in the ark, and shalt pitch it within and without with pitch. F. 6. 20.

15 And this is the fashion which thou shalt make it of: The length of the ark shall be three hundred cubits, the breadth of it fifty cubits, and the height of it thirty cubits.

16 A window shalt thou make to the ark, and in a cubit shalt thou finish it above; and the door of the ark shalt thou set in the side thereof; with lower, second, and third stories shalt thou make it.

17 And, [l]behold, I, even I, do bring a flood of waters upon the earth, to destroy all flesh, wherein is the breath of life, from under heaven; and every thing that is in the earth [m]shall die.

18 But with thee will I establish my covenant; and thou shalt come into the ark, thou, and thy sons, and thy wife, and thy sons' wives with thee.

19 And of every living thing of all flesh, two of every sort shalt thou bring into the ark, to keep them alive with thee; they shall be male and female.

F 20 Of fowls after their kind, and of cattle after their kind, of every creeping thing of the earth after his kind, two of every sort shall come unto thee, to keep them alive. F. 6. 22.

21 And take thou unto thee of all [n]food that is eaten, and thou shalt gather it to thee; and it shall be for food for thee, and for them.

Precious Promise Bible

Being the Authorized Version of the Scriptures with the Exceedingly Great and Precious Promises Indexed and Marked in Red

Size, 5½ x 8½ inches

That which inspires more searching of the Scriptures than any other of their varied contents is the promises In anxiety, in perplexity, in disappointment, in poverty, in loneliness, in sorrow, we turn to this book for guidance, for strength, for comfort, and for cheer. Imagine a Bible with all its promises stricken out, and blank spaces in their stead —would many people spend time in reading such a Bible?

Marks the Promises of Help for Every Human Need in Every Home

Even though one be a daily reader of the Bible, it is not always easy to find or to recall from so large a volume the text needed at some special hour. Profound scholars of the Bible have done this for us in the most simplified form in the PRECIOUS PROMISE BIBLE, and have brought the treasures of the Scriptures to light. Each promise is marked in red, and all the promises are divided into classes. Each class is so indicated and tied together that the reader can easily trace any class of promises through the Bible from text to text, and find for himself a wealth of promises upon any subject desired.

Precious Promise Subjects Marked in this Bible

- A. ALL THINGS Working Together for Good.
- B. The Lord's BLESSING on fields and flocks.
- C. CLOTHING Provided for God's Children.
- E. EVERLASTING LIFE and Heaven Promised.
- F. FOOD Provided for the Lord's Children.
- G. GIFTS and Fruits of the Spirit Promised.
- H. HEALTH and HEALING Promised.
- I. Pardon for Sins and INIQUITIES Promised.
- J. JOY and Peace and Rest Promised.
- K. God KNOWS Our Needs and Answers Prayer.
- L. The Lord's LOVE and Care for His Children.
- P. PROSPERITY in Business and Finance.
- R. Blessing for Children, RELATIVES, Friends.
- S. SAFETY from all Harm and Danger Promised.
- T. THE HOLY SPIRIT Promised.
- U. The UPRIGHT are Blessed and Prospered.

EXPLANATION

In the Precious Promise Bible is an Index (shown in reduced size above) in which the promises are classified under different subjects, and a letter is used to stand for the principal word of each subject.

After each subject in the Index there is a reference to the first verse in the Old Testament and also a reference to the first verse in the New Testament on that subject. Underneath each subject in the Index there are several references to the most important verses in the Scriptures on that subject.

The letter which stands for each subject is printed on the margin of every promise on that subject. The letter which stands for each subject is also used in front of every reference on that subject.

After every promise marked in this Bible there is a reference to the next promise on the same subject. This enables any person to go through the Bible and read every promise on any particular subject.

A. D. 31.

8 Be not ye therefore like unto them: for your [f]Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him. K. 7. 7–11.

9 After this manner therefore pray ye: [g]Our Father which art in heaven, [h]Hallowed be thy name.

10 Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, [i]as it is in heaven.

11 Give us this day our [j]daily bread.

12 And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors. F. verses 25–34.

13 And [k]lead us not into temptation, but deliver [l]us from evil: For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever. Ā-mĕn'.

14 For [m]if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you:

15 But [n]if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

16 ¶ Moreover [o]when ye fast, be not, as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance: for they disfigure their faces, that they may appear unto men to fast. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

17 But thou, when thou fastest, anoint thine head, and wash thy face;

18 That thou appear not unto men to fast, but unto thy Father which is in secret: and thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly. U. verse 33.

19 ¶ Lay [p]not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal:

20 But [q]lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal:

21 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

22 The [r]light of the body is the eye: if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light.

23 But if thine eye be evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, [s]how great is that darkness!

24 No [t]man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. [u]Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

25 Therefore I say unto you, [v]Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment?

26 Behold [w]the fowls of the air: for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better than they?

27 Which of you by taking thought can add one cubit unto his stature?

28 And why take ye thought for raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin:

29 And yet I say unto you, That even Sŏl'o-mon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

30 Wherefore, if God so clothe the grass of the field, which to day is, and to morrow is cast into the oven, shall he not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith?

31 Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed?

32 (For after all these things do the Gĕn'tīles seek:) for [x]your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things.

33 But [y]seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. U. 13. 8

34 Take therefore no [z]thought for the morrow: for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof. C. 10. 10.

L. 16. 18. P. 10. 10.*

CHAPTER 7.

Christ endeth his sermon on the mount.

JUDGE [a]not, that ye be not judged.

2 For with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged: [b]and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again.

3 And [c]why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye?

4 Or how wilt thou say to thy brother, Let me pull out the mote out of thine eye; and, behold, a beam is in thine own eye?

5 Thou hypocrite, first cast out the beam out of thine own eye; and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye.

6 ¶ Give [d]not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls

EXPLANATION OF MARKINGS THE INDEX OR KEY, directs the reader to the first verse in the Old Testament and the New Testament on a subject, and, at the close of the first verse on that subject, there is a reference to the next verse on the same subject; so, that (though it may be fifty or one hundred pages away), the reader turns forward rapidly verse to verse, in regular order, until he reads everything in the whole Bible on that subject. This same method is followed in the eighteen subjects, which complete the whole theme of Precious Promises.

Nearly 100 Illustrations—32 of which are Printed in Colors

This is an age of many pictures and of illustrated books. There is no book which has been so much illustrated as the Bible. There is no other subject upon which the art and genius of the painter has expended so much time, nor one on which he has wrought with such inspiring power upon the minds and hearts of all nations of the civilized world.

The storehouse of Sacred Art is inexhaustible in quantity, and rich beyond comparison in the quality of its treasures.

The publishers of these Bibles have drawn upon the world's treasury of Sacred Art for the most appropriate masterpieces with which to embellish the Art Edition of this great work. Historic events and notable scenes both in the Old Testament and the New have been chosen with a view to helping to illuminate the text and impress its teaching upon the mind of the reader.

As a gift Bible to parent, teacher, friend or child either of these Art Editions will prove particularly pleasing.

Each of the Bibles described below contains the "International" Teacher's Handy Bible Encyclopedia and Concordance, as described on pages 26-28. Family Record and Maps in Color.

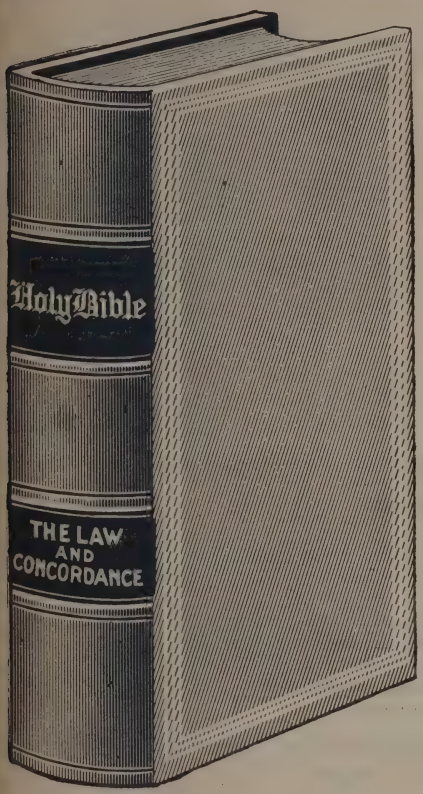
LAW LIBRARY BIBLE



The Bible, with the Handy Bible Encyclopedia and Concordance, Bound Especially for Lawyers in Law Library Binding

SELF-PRONOUNCING TEXT

COMPLETE RED-LETTER FEATURES

Clear Print Extra Quality Paper

The Old Testament is the basis of all law, and the New Testament is the foundation of all modern principals of social justice which are closely connected with present-day legislation; yet few lawyers possess a volume of The Law in their libraries. The new "International" Law Library Bible has been prepared particularly to supply this deficiency.

It is bound in Law Library Buckram, sheep style, with leather labels, to conform with the usual appearance of a law book. It indicates by the use of red ink all the types and prophecies in the Old Testament pointing to Christ, all the references in the center column of the Old Testament referring to the words uttered by Christ, all the passages in the Old Testament quoted by Christ, and all the words of Christ in the New Testament. It contains the Handy Bible Encyclopedia and Concordance, under one alphabetical arrangement, printed in bold-face type, as described on page 28 and the following insert, with seventeen maps of the Bible lands.

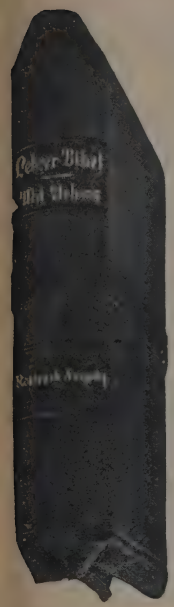
German Red Letter Bible

TEACHERS' EDITION

With the Words of Christ Printed in Red



All the New Testament story, its wonderful teachings and marvelous interest centers around the living Words of Jesus. It is therefore of the greatest importance to have these beautiful life-giving Words to stand out in bold relief, and to give them the prominence which they, above all other passages of the Bible, demand. These Words printed in red catch the eye, and carry the Words of Jesus to the heart of every reader. Every home should have a Red Letter Testament.

John's preaching. S. MATTHEW, 4. Christ is baptized.

6 And were baptized of him in Jordan, confessing their sins.

7 But when he saw many of the Pharisees and Sadducees come to his baptism, he said unto them, O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come?

8 Bring forth therefore fruits meet for repentance;

9 And think not to say within yourselves, We have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, that God is able of these stones to raise up children unto

15 And Jesus answering said unto him, Suffer it to be so now: for thus it becometh us to fulfil all righteousness. Then he suffered him.

16 And Jesus, when he was baptized, went up straightway out of the water: and, lo, the heavens were opened unto him, and he saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove, and lighting upon him:

17 And lo a voice from heaven, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

CHAPTER 13.

THERE were present at that season some that told him of the Galileans, whose blood Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices.
2 And Jesus answering said unto them, Suppose ye that these Galileans were sinners above all the Galileans, because they suffered such things?
3 I tell you, Nay: but, except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.
4 Or those eighteen, upon whom the tower in Siloam fell, and slew them, think ye that they were sinners above all men that dwelt in Jerusalem?
5 I tell you, Nay: but, except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.
6 ¶ He spake also this parable; A certain man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard; and he came and sought fruit thereon, and found none.
7 Then said he unto the dresser of his vineyard, Behold, these three years I come seeking fruit on this fig tree, and find none: cut it down; why cumbereth it the ground?
8 And he answering said unto him, Lord, let it alone this year also, till I shall dig about it, and dung it:
9 And if it bear fruit, well: and if not, then after that thou shalt cut it down.
10 ¶ And he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the sabbath.
11 And, behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself.
12 And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity.
13 And he laid his hands on her: and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God.

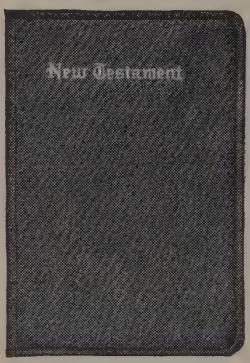
The New Bold Face Type Testament

WITH EXPLANATORY NOTES AND COMPLETE INDEX



Size, 4 x 6 inches

The specimen of type reproduced here shows the Bold Face type from which this Testament is printed. This type is large, clear, and restful to the eye—making this the easiest-reading Testament to be found anywhere. It also shows the foot-notes (printed right on the pages with the corresponding text) and the interpolated explanations which divide the gospel into logical, coherent sections without disturbing the old, but arbitrary, division into chapters and verses. These foot-notes and interpolations clear up obscure points in the text without the inconvenience and time-consuming task of referring to a commentary. Through the employment of this very latest developement of modern Bible-making, this Self-Interpreting Testament takes its place as the most understandable New Testament yet published.

A COPYRIGHTED INDEX FOR FINDING ANY WORD IN THE NEW TESTAMENT

A special feature of this Testament is the complete index by which any verse in the New Testament may be found by looking alphabetically for any important word contained in that verse. It is a combination concordance and subject index, and makes this edition of the New Testament of particular value to all who want to obtain the fullest value from the Scriptures.

Printed on the famous "thin Bible paper" used in many of the "International" Bibles, this Testament is only 4 x 6 inches in size.

The above is a specimen page from the Complete Index to the Precious Promise Testament. This index occupies 82 pages at the back of the Testament. It is a complete index to every important subject and word in the New Testament; and is more helpful than any set of references. It will enable any one to find verses on any subject, or to find any verse in the New Testament. This index makes the Precious Promise Testament the most helpful Testament yet published.

The "International"

Christian Worker's Testament

Indexed and marked by the best methods of Bible marking on all subjects connected with

THE THEME OF SALVATION

—so as to—

Enable any person to turn rapidly to verses on these subjects. To give Bible Readings at a moment's notice, or to tell at a glance the subject of any verse or passage marked

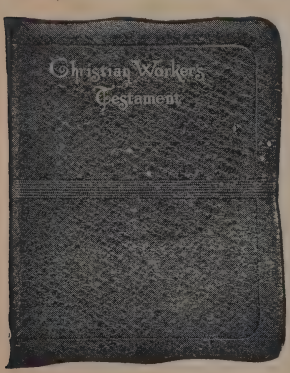
THE TESTAMENT MADE EASY TO READ

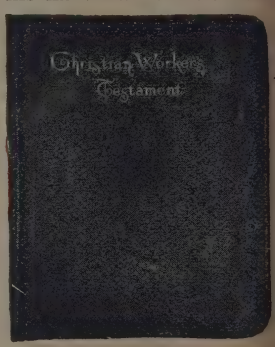
In the plan of this Testament Salvation is recognized as the dominant theme in the New Testament. Undoubtedly the greatest benefit in the reading of the Testament comes to the one who searches the Scriptures for himself and finds this stream of salvation running through its pages. But it is evident that the majority of people, even Bible readers and Bible-lovers have neither the time for such deep study nor the peculiar ability which it requires. People in general who would best understand their Bibles must depend upon those who have made a special study of these subjects and must receive the result of their labors. We cannot all be close students, but we can all be diligent readers of the Word of God.

Helpful to Every Class of Scripture Readers

Many methods have been devised for guiding Bible readers and of helping them to become Bible students, but the most ingenious and most helpful of these methods is that presented in this edition of the Testament.

Every class of Scripture students will find enjoyment and benefit in this system of marking. Ministers can use it to advantage. It will enable Lay Workers to interest and impress a company of listeners. The Sunday School Teacher will find it helpful. To the Y. M. C. A. Worker this is a marked Testament of which the key always hangs at the door. If anyone is inquiring the way of salvation what better plan can be suggested than to put this volume in his hands with the recommendation to read from it the texts on that topic which he most needs for his guidance.





In Handsome and Convenient Form

The Christian Worker's Testament is carefully printed from new type-set plates in red and black inks on extra quality of bright, rag Bible paper and is issued in a convenient size 3¾ x 4 inches.

For specimen of type and explanation of markings and exact size of Testament, see the following page.

EXPLANATION

This Testament is marked in red on every subject connected with the theme of Salvation.

A reference to the first verse on each subject is printed after the subject in this index (see above). After every verse or passage marked in this Testament there is a reference to the next verse or passage on the same subject. This will enable any one to give a Bible reading, at a moment's notice, on any subject marked in the Testament,

The capital letters used in this index, and on the margin of verses, and in front of the references, are to indicate the subjects; thus F stands for Faith, R for Repentance, etc., (see above).

Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand:

26 And if Satan cast out Satan, he is divided against himself; how shall then his kingdom stand?

27 And if I by Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom do your children cast them out? therefore they shall be your judges.

28 But if I cast out devils by the Spirit of God, then the kingdom of God is come unto you.

29 Or else how can one enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man? and then he will spoil his house.

A 30 He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad. A. Mark 9. 40.

L 31 Wherefore I say unto you, All manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men: but the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men. L. 18. 11-13.

H 32 And whosoever speaketh a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but whosoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, neither in the world to come. H. ver. 41, 42.

33 Either make the tree good, and his fruit good; or else make the tree corrupt, and his fruit corrupt: for the tree is known by his fruit.

34 O generation of vipers, how can ye, being evil, speak good things? for out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh. C T. Mark 6. 19.

35 A good man, out of the good treasure of the heart, bringeth forth good things: and an evil man, out of the evil treasure, bringeth forth evil things. C. 13. 14, 15.

J 36 But I say unto you, That every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment. J. ver. 41.

37 For by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned.

38 ¶ Then certain of the scribes and of the Pharisees answered, saying, Master, we would see a sign from thee.

39 But he answered and said unto them, An evil and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it, but the sign of the prophet Jonas:

40 For as Jonas was three days and three nights in the whale's belly, so shall the Son of man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth.

J H R N 41 The men of Nineveh shall rise in judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: because they repented at the preaching of Jonas; and, behold, a greater than Jonas is here. J. 20. 21-23; H. 13. 30; R. 19 14.

CHAPTER 11.

The rulers and the tenth part of the people dwell at Jerusalem. 3 A catalogue of their names. 20 The residue dwell in other cities.

AND the rulers of the people dwelt at Je-ru'sa-lem: the rest of the people also cast lots, to bring one of ten to dwell in Je-ru'sa-lem [a]the holy city, and nine parts to dwell in other cities.

2 And the people blessed all the men, that [b]willingly offered themselves to dwell at Je-ru'sa-lem.

3 ¶ [c]Now these are the chief of the province that dwelt in Je-ru'sa-lem: but in the cities of Ju'dah dwelt every one in his possession in their cities, to wit, Is'-ra-el, the priests, and the Le'vites, and [d]the Neth'i-nim and [e]the children of Sol'o-mon's servants.

4 And [f]at Je-ru'salem dwelt certain of the children of Ju'dah, and of the children of Ben'ja-min. Of the chil dren of Ju'dah; Ath-a-i'ah the son of Uz-zi'ah, the son of Zech-a-ri'ah, the son of Am-a-ri'ah, the son of Sheph-a-ti'ah, the son of Ma-ha'la-le-el, of the children of [g]Pe'rez;

5 And Ma-a-se'iah the son of Ba'ruch, the son of Col-ho'zeh, the son of Ha-za'iah, the son of Ad-a-i'ah, the son of Joi'a-rib, the son of Zech-a-ri'ah, the son of Shi-lo'ni.

people as the sand which is on the sea shore in multitude: and they came up, and [c] pitched in Mich'mash, eastward from Beth-a'ven.

6 When the men of Is'ra-el saw that they were in a strait, (for the people were distressed,) then the people [d] did hide themselves in caves, and in thickets, and in rocks, and in high places, and in pits.

7 And some of the He'brews went over Jor'dan to the land of Gad and Gil'e-ad. As for Saul, he was yet in Gil'gal, and all the people [e] followed him trembling.

8 ¶ [f] And he tarried seven days, according to the set time that Sam'u-el had appointed: but Sam'u-el came not to Gil'gal; and the people were scattered from him.

9 And Saul said, Bring hither a burnt [g] offering to me, and peace offerings. And he offered the burnt offering.

NEW SELF-PRONOUNCING TEXT—LARGE TYPE

The Words of Christ Printed in Red

Styles Nos. 5 R.L. and 6 R.L.

All the Bible story, its wonderful teaching and marvelous interest, center around the living Words of Jesus. It is therefore of the greatest importance to have these beautiful life-giving Words to stand out in bold relief, and to give them the prominence which they, above all other passages of the Bible demand. In the home where there are young people the pages of this book will be studied on account of the special emphasis given to the interesting and all-important Words Spoken by Jesus when on earth. These Words printed in red catch the eye and command interest, and so give to this Bible a value beyond all comparison.

PRINTED FROM NEW TYPE-SET PLATES——WITH WORDS OF JESUS IN RED

47 And if thine eye ‖offend thee, pluck it out: it is better for thee to enter into the kingdom of God with one eye, than having two eyes to be cast into hell fire:

48 Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

49 For every one shall be salted with fire, [c]and every sacrifice shall be salted with salt.

50 [d]Salt is good: but if the salt have lost his saltness, wherewith will ye season it? [e]Have salt in yourselves, and [f]have peace one with another.

‖Or, cause thee to offend.

[f]Rom. 12. 18. & 14. 19 2 Cor. 13. 11. Heb. 12. 14

CHAPTER 10.

Jesus answereth the Pharisees concerning divorce. 13 He blesseth little children; 17 answereth the rich young man; 23 and sheweth how hard it is for a rich man to enter the kingdom of God. 28 The reward of those who forsake all and follow him. 32 He again foretelleth his own death and resurrection. 35 The request of James and John. 42 Jesus exhorteth to humility. 46 He healeth blind Bartimeus at Jericho.

A.D. 33.

AND [a]he arose from thence, and cometh into the coasts of Ju-de'a by the farther side of Jor'dan: and the people resort unto him again; and, as he was wont, he taught them again.

[a]Matt. 19. 1 John 10. 40. & 11. 7.

2 ¶ [b]And the Phar'i-sees came to him, and asked him, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife? tempting

[b]Matt. 19. 3

A.D. 33.

[f]Ex. 20. Rom. 13. 9

18 And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is, God.

19 Thou knowest the commandments, [f]Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Defraud not, Honour thy father and mother.

20 And he answered and said unto him, Master, all these have I observed from my youth.

21 Then Jesus beholding him loved him, and said unto him, One thing thou lackest: go thy way, sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have [m]treasure in heaven: and come, take up the cross, and follow me.

[m]Matt. 6. 19, 20. & 19. 21. Luke 12. 33. & 16. 9.

22 And he was sad at that saying, and went away grieved: for he had great possessions.

23 ¶ [n]And Jesus looked round about, and saith unto his disciples, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God!

[n]Matt. 19. 23. Luke 18. 24

24 And the disciples were astonished at his words. But Jesus answereth again, and saith unto them, Children, how hard is it for them [o]that trust in riches to enter into the kingdom of God!

POETRY AND BELLES LETTRES

Bacon, Leonard
THE SONG OF ROLAND

THE SONG OF ROLAND. Translated into Metrical Verse by Leonard Bacon, Instructor in English, University of California.

"The rendering is both spirited and faithful. . . . The reader who takes up this volume will not, we venture to say, turn away disappointed."—The Nation.

8vo. Board binding. 164 pages. $1.50 net. (Out of print.)

Bailey, Nathan
DIVERS PROVERBS

DIVERS PROVERBS. Compil'd, Methodically Digested, and Explicated by Nathan Bailey, with Equivalents in the Original Hebrew, Greek, Latin, French, and Italian Tongues. Illustrated with woodcuts by Allen Lewis.

This unique volume consists of a number of old English proverbs by one Bailey, master of a boarding-school in London, and author of a dictionary published in 1721, which achieved the success of thirty editions. The proverbs are here collected for the first time in book form. For grandiloquence of expression, profound philosophy, quaint conceit, terse dogmatism, unconscious humor, and pat simile, the "explications" of the proverbs furnish an unending source of delight.

The book is printed in rubricated Old Style text with Black Letter captions.

12mo. Boards. 100 pages. Woodcuts. $1.00 net.

Barrés, Maurice
THE UNDYING SPIRIT OF FRANCE

THE UNDYING SPIRIT OF FRANCE (Les Traits Éternels de la France). By Maurice Barrés. An Address delivered before the British Academy. Translated by Margaret W. B. Corwin.

Tersely and vividly M. Barrés has drawn the spirit of devotion to France, and to traditions of bravery reaching back to the Song of Roland, which has stirred the French officers and soldiers entering the war. The most absorbing pages are those which contain the brief biographies of young soldiers who have exemplified this spirit in the present war.

(In preparation.)

Beegle, Mary Porter and Jack Randall Crawford

COMMUNITY DRAMA AND PAGEANTRY

COMMUNITY DRAMA AND PAGEANTRY. By Mary Porter Beegle, of Barnard College, Columbia University, and Jack Randall Crawford, M.A., Instructor in English in the Sheffield Scientific School, Yale University.

"All the factors in the writing and the production of pageants are carefully, interestingly and comprehensively considered."—Newark Evening News.

"Will hold a well-earned place of authority among the many books upon the subject of pageantry."—The Bellman.

"The historical material in their book will interest students of the drama, no less than the practical advice all those who have directed or taken part in spectacles of this sort."—Boston Transcript.

(Second Printing.) 8vo. Cloth, hand-made paper sides. Gilt top. End papers in color. 370 pages. Photogravure frontispiece. 15 illustrations. Index. $3.00 net.

Benét, William Rose

THE BURGLAR OF THE ZODIAC, AND OTHER POEMS

THE BURGLAR OF THE ZODIAC, AND OTHER POEMS. By William Rose Benét, Assistant Editor of The Century.

The use of words in unusual combinations, in which they give out their fullest meaning, is perhaps the most striking characteristic of the verse of Mr. Benét's new volume. Not only meaning, but the more elusive things, color and music in abundance, awaken response in the reader. Again, rich humor, a love of nature, and a lyric sense form a part of this as of all Mr. Benét's poetry.

(In preparation.)

THE GREAT WHITE WALL

THE GREAT WHITE WALL. A Poem. By William Rose Benét. With Illustrations by Douglas Duer.

"There is a distinct place in American poetry for Mr. Benét's jewelled stories, and it is to be hoped that he will give us more of them."—Poetry.

"An extraordinary sense of whimsy, a wayward fancy and deft juggling with the grotesque distinguish his work. . . . Never does his vivacity or invention flag. The poetic narrative of 'The Great White Wall' is one more proof of Mr. Benét's charm; a charm that is as convincing as it is colorful."—New York Evening Post.

Crown 8vo. Boards. 54 pages. 20 illustrations. $1.00 net.

THE FALCONER OF GOD, AND OTHER POEMS. By William Rose Benét.

"Mr. William Rose Benét is the comet that flashes across the firmament of contemporary American poetry. His latest book, 'The Falconer of God,' has the daring, the nobility, the wide range and insolent abundance of true poetic genius."—American Review of Reviews.

12mo. Boards. 122 pages. $1.25 net.

Benét, William Rose
THE FALCONER OF GOD, AND OTHER POEMS

THE POEMS OF JOHN CLEVELAND. Edited by John Milton Berdan, ph.d., Assistant Professor of Rhetoric, Yale College.

"It is creditable to the literary study of today that such a modern edition is forthcoming."—Current Literature.

"The whole volume represents the intelligent painstaking by which alone such works are rendered valuable."—New York Times.

12mo. Cloth binding. Gilt top. 270 pages. Index. $1.50 net.

Berdan, John Milton
THE POEMS OF JOHN CLEVELAND

COMMON CONDITIONS. Being the First Issue in the Elizabethan Club Reprints. Edited by Tucker Brooke, Assistant Professor of English, Yale College.

"Mr. Brooke proves himself throughout a cautious and expert guide, admirably handling his text, and providing indispensable help in his scholarly and suggestive notes."—Notes and Queries (London).

"He has not been content to rely solely on the printer's art, although the beautiful new quarto (with text in black letter) will win for him an appropriate share of appreciative thanks; but the results of his editorial acumen and scholarly industry will overtop the gratitude of the mere book-lover."—Modern Language Notes.

4to. Board binding. xv+90 pages. $2.50 net.

Brooke, Tucker
COMMON CONDITIONS

THERE'S PIPPINS AND CHEESE TO COME. By Charles S. Brooks. With illustrations by Theodore Diedricksen, Jr., Assistant in Drawing, Yale School of the Fine Arts.

Those who know "Journeys to Bagdad" will recognize at once how difficult and how pleasant a duty devolves upon the publisher in announcing a second volume of essays by the same author. The essays are truly indescribable and as one reviewer said of the first volume, "it is as difficult to quote from them as to name one's favorite Shakespearean play or to quote one's best-loved verse in the Bible."

Brooks, Charles S.
THERE'S PIPPINS AND CHEESE TO COME

Fortunately the very charm which prohibits description offers the publisher the pleasant task of announcing a delightful title, which he knows to be eagerly awaited. The volume is illustrated with pen and ink sketches by Theodore Diedricksen, Jr.

8vo. Boards. 144 pages. 26 illustrations. $2.00 net.

Brooks, Charles S.

JOURNEYS TO BAGDAD

JOURNEYS TO BAGDAD. By Charles S. Brooks. Illustrated with twenty-seven woodcuts by Allen Lewis.

"A book of essays which recalls in its whimsical study of little things no less an essayist than Elia, and in the long-sounding cadences of its prose, the writers of an older day."—Springfield Republican.

"About a dozen random essays which in their quiet humor and fancy, their intimacy and charm of style, their quaint woodcuts in keeping with the text, their whimsical titles even, are reminiscent of an earlier and less hurried generation."—American Library Association Booklist.

(Third Printing.) 8vo. Board binding. Gilt top. 140 pages. 27 illustrations. $2.00 net.

Clapp, Frederick Mortimer

ON THE OVERLAND AND OTHER POEMS

ON THE OVERLAND AND OTHER POEMS. By Frederick Mortimer Clapp.

"The poems display a fertile imagination, a command of words."—Springfield Republican.

"His verse pictures are done as with strong and vigorous strokes of vivid color, and to every effect he summons and marshals words with masterful skill."—Pittsburgh Post.

"It has freshness and vitality, informed by intellect, passion and style. We have called Mr. Clapp's poetry unusual; it might be more precise to call it distinguished."—Porter Garnett.

8vo. Board binding. 90 pages. $1.25 net.

Claudel, Paul

THE HOSTAGE

THE HOSTAGE (L'Otage). By Paul Claudel, Minister Plenipotentiary of France to Brazil. Translated under the direction of Pierre Chavannes, of the University College of Wales, with an Introduction by him.

"The Hostage," one of Claudel's best known and perhaps most characteristic plays, represents a conflict of ideas, of opposing faiths, of human beings, and also—and primarily—a conflict of conscience. This conflict lies in the opposition between the idea of the old monarchical and feudal order and the idea of the Revolution.

"Rooted firmly in the past, fed by vigorous thought, written in a language of incomparable richness, the material element counts for nothing in this drama, soul and true art count for everything."—From the Introduction by Pierre Chavannes.

Crown 8vo. Boards. $1.50 net.

Claudel, Paul

THE TIDINGS BROUGHT TO MARY

THE TIDINGS BROUGHT TO MARY (L'Annonce Faite à Marie). A Mystery. By Paul Claudel. Translated by Louise Morgan Sill.

"A strangely moving play, which holds one by its pathos, while at the same time it gives something of the impression of an illuminated page taken from a mediæval manuscript. . . . . 'The Tidings Brought to Mary' is that rare thing, a piece of genuine literature."—London Nation.

"It is the gesture of Paul Claudel that sets him apart from the literary figures of our time. He comes to lead us back to the conception of life as a fervid search for the great reality. With a superb gesture he has brushed aside from his consciousness all that leads away from his high purpose. And, like those Chinese priests who refuse to sing before robing themselves in their sacerdotal vestments, he shows us once again that art is the handmaiden of God. In that lies his chief glory."—New Republic.

Crown 8vo. Boards. 171 pages. $1.50 net.

THE EAST I KNOW

THE EAST I KNOW (La Connaissance de l'Est). By Paul Claudel. Translated by Teresa Frances and William Rose Benét. With an Introduction by Pierre Chavannes.

"As a recorder of the pathetic grace and squalor of the wonderful, vanishing East, the author stands, so far as the present writer's experience goes, without a rival."—The Athenæum.

"I know of no living writer of whom we may more confidently predict immortality for his work. . . . If any reader can set down this volume without realizing that a great new force in literature and life has been born into the world, he is incapable of imaginative appreciation."—Anthology of American Poetry for 1914.

THE MIDDLE MILES AND OTHER POEMS

THE MIDDLE MILES AND OTHER POEMS. By Lee Wilson Dodd.

"Represents the reflections of an eminently cultivated mind, phrased often with notably good taste. Many of the poems have the distinctive charm of a familiar essay."—The Dial.

"This book of quiet poems has a certain grace and charm. Its soft music conveys the soliloquies, the patterned meditations, of a man sensitive to the more delicate aspects of comedy and pathos. . . . The poet's light touch, his individual way of saying things, and his sense of the permeating and underlying humor of this earthly scheme, make him a good companion."—Poetry.

POEMS

POEMS. By Brian Hooker, M.A.

"A first volume of verse that more than fulfills the rich promise of his occasional published poems."—Review of Reviews.

"His imagination is incisive, but quiet, taking on frequently a glow full of dim figures like a gorgeous tapestry seen in the twilight. He is a modern romantic poet, and his heart and sympathies are in the nowadays of human motives. . . . What I have noticed particularly about Mr. Hooker's art is the cool, fragrant hushed movement of his words. His sonnets are very fine and perfect."—W. S. Braithwaite in the Boston Transcript.

A BOOK OF VERSE OF THE GREAT WAR. Edited by W. Reginald Wheeler.

Wheeler, W. Reginald

A BOOK OF VERSE OF THE GREAT WAR

We who have been born and reared in a country at peace have known war only to abhor it. Now that it has been forced upon us, we come to realize that while it is no less terrible than we imagined, it is accompanied by certain compensations. There is a spirit of self-sacrifice, of fellowship, and of high ideals that has been expressed in lives and in poetry.

When we cling to that which is good in the war, we shall always cherish the poetry to which it gave rise. In this collection, Mr. Wheeler has chosen the verse which is most likely to survive. Nothing that is bitter has found a place. The names of most of the contributors are already familiar to us. The fact that Wilfred Wilson Gibson, Maurice Hewlett, Cecil Chesterton, John Galsworthy, Amy Lowell, Edgar Lee Masters, Alfred Noyes, and Rabindranath Tagore are represented among the contributors is sufficient to recommend the collection.

THE TRAGEDY OF TRAGEDIES BY HENRY FIELDING

THE TRAGEDY OF TRAGEDIES BY HENRY FIELDING. EDITED, WITH AN INTRODUCTION, BY JAMES T. HILLHOUSE, PH.D., Instructor in Rhetoric, University of Minnesota.

"The Tragedy of Tragedies" by that master of satire, Fielding, needs little more than its title to commend it to those of us who enjoy a good-natured and very keen and searching burlesque.

"The Tragedy of Tom Thumb," in two acts, was first produced in 1730 with such marked success that in 1731 Fielding elaborated it into three acts with a preface and notes, containing further burlesque and poking fun at dramatic criticism. Both versions are included in Mr. Hillhouse's edition.

Williams, Stanley Thomas

RICHARD CUMBERLAND

RICHARD CUMBERLAND. His Life and Dramatic Works. By Stanley Thomas Williams, ph.d., Instructor in English, Yale College.

Richard Cumberland was an extraordinary personality whose sensitiveness led Sheridan to caricature him as "Sir Fretful Plagiary" and Garrick to term him "a man without a skin."

His life as described by Mr. Williams is more than a specialized study of the leader of the school of sentimental drama. It forms a contribution of value to the study of the times of Johnson, Goldsmith, and Garrick. Based upon exhaustive investigation, accurate, full of sound critical estimates of Cumberland's dramas, it has the further merit that it is readable.

YALE SHAKESPEARE

THE YALE SHAKESPEARE. Edited under the direction of the Department of English, Yale University.

This edition, to be complete in forty volumes, is edited under the general supervision of a committee consisting of Dean Wilbur Lucius Cross and Professors Tucker Brooke and Willard Higley Durham. The text is substantially that of Craig's Oxford Shakespeare and each volume contains a glossary, notes and appendices. Every effort has been made to give the edition an attractive format, not suggestive of the conventional text-book.

The following volumes of the series are to be issued during the fall of 1917:

MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING. Edited by Tucker Brooke, Assistant Professor of English, Yale College.

ROMEO AND JULIET. Edited by Willard Higley Durham, ph.d., Assistant Professor of English in the Sheffield Scientific School, Yale University.

HENRY IV, PART I. Edited by Samuel B. Hemingway, ph.d., Assistant Professor of English, Yale College.

HAMLET. Edited by Jack Randall Crawford, Instructor in English in the Sheffield Scientific School, Yale University.

KING LEAR. Edited by William Lyon Phelps, ph.d., Lampson Professor of English Literature, Yale University.

OTHELLO. Edited by John Chester Adams, ph.d., Assistant Professor of English, Yale College.

THE TEMPEST. Edited by Chauncey Brewster Tinker, ph.d., Professor of English Literature, Yale University.

THE WINTER'S TALE. Edited by Frederick E. Pierce, ph.d., Assistant Professor of English in the Sheffield Scientific School, Yale University.

*College Text-Book Edition. 16mo. Cloth. Paper label. About 140 pages each. 50 cents net per volume.

(*The publishers are prepared to supply interleaved copies of the College Text-Book Edition, in quantities, at 75 cents each.)

Library edition. 8vo. Cloth. Gold stamping. About 140 pages each. $1.00 net per volume.

A Subscribers' Edition of the Yale Shakespeare, limited to 250 sets, printed on hand-made paper, and to be numbered and signed by the publishers, is in preparation. These will be sold only in sets, although individual volumes will be delivered as they are completed. Particulars will be furnished on application.

EARLY BABYLONIAN LETTERS FROM LARSA

EARLY BABYLONIAN LETTERS FROM LARSA. By Henry F. Lutz, ph.d., Research Fellow, University of Pennsylvania. (Yale Oriental Series, Babylonian Texts, Vol. II.)

Nowhere in the growing mass of Babylonian and Assyrian literature does one come so close to the life of the early Babylonians as in their letters. While monuments record the deeds of monarchs, while the religious and astronomical literature preserve their philosophical concepts, and while their legal contracts show their formal methods, it is in their correspondence that we can come closest to individuals. In this collection the editor has selected letters covering the greatest variety of subjects. From them we may know the loves and hates of a number of citizens of Babylonia four thousand years ago.

THE SYRIAN TROUBLE OF 1860. By J. F. Scheltema, ph.d.

In the Landberg Collection at Yale University there is an Arabic manuscript containing an account of an outbreak of religious hatred between the Druzes and the Maronites, as told by an intelligent native Christian. In the present volume Mr. Scheltema has included a translation of this manuscript, with an introduction establishing its place in history and its relation to the Eastern question.

JACOPO CARUCCI DA PONTORMO. His Life and Work. By Frederick Mortimer Clapp, m.a. With a Foreword by Frank Jewett Mather, Jr., ph.d., l.h.d., Marquand Professor of Art and Archæology, Princeton University.

"Mr. Clapp's work is not only rich in matter and accurate in detail; it is also, as becomes a scholar of the French language, agreeable in form."—The Nation.

Clapp, Frederick Mortimer
JACOPO CARUCCI DA PONTORMO

"One of the most interesting and one of the finest art publications brought out in this country. . . . In his subject, Mr. Clapp represents authority. To authority the author adds a clear English style and easy readability. . . . The mechanics of the book, printing and illustrations, are excellent. GREEK REFINEMENTS. By William Henry Goodyear, M.A., Curator of Fine Arts, Brooklyn Institute Museum.

"It is the great distinction of Mr. Goodyear to have established the existence of these 'refinements' in a number of ancient and mediæval buildings. . . . It is quite true that he has been treated as a visionary, the attempt has been made to explain everything (as the Germans say wegerklaren) by the magical word 'settlement'; but, today, it is clear that Mr. Goodyear has won his case. . . . (There is an admirable index; the illustrations are excellent.)"—Salomon Reinach in Revue Archéologique.

LITERARY DIARY OF EZRA STILES

THE LITERARY DIARY OF EZRA STILES, D.D., LL.D. Edited by Franklin Bowditch Dexter, litt.d.

In bequeathing his manuscripts to his successor in the presidency of Yale College, Ezra Stiles probably did not realize that his diary would be the one among them to live long years after the other pages had been forgotten. Yet this detailed account of his life, covering the years between 1769 and 1795, has come to be recognized as an historical record of ever-growing importance.

It is significant of its value that the present edition has been prepared under the authority of the Corporation of Yale University, by an editor appointed by it.

"For something which did more than record the bare architectural facts, something which conveyed the spirit of the Campus, something which had independent value as a work of art, for anything of this sort Yale men have often looked in vain. Fortunately, this need no longer be true. Mr. Huc-Mazelet Luquiens, who has won reputation both for his etchings and his portraits, has been especially successful in choosing his points of view. The pictures have a charm which is wanting in any mere rendering of details of design and structure."—Willard H. Durham in the Yale News.

THE CAMPAIGN OF CHANCELLORSVILLE. A Strategic and Tactical Study. By John Bigelow, Major U. S. Cavalry, retired.

"This work by an experienced soldier who later became known as the teacher of military science in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and as the author of works on campaigns in Europe and America, is a notable contribution to strategic literature. We think that no campaign of our civil war has been more accurately, elaborately or ably described than is Chancellorsville in these pages, and soldiers in every land will thank the author for a technical study so satisfactory. . . . The presentation is always clear, and the maps numerous and careful. . . . An Annual Bibliography of Books and Articles on United States and Canadian History, with some Memoranda on Other Portions of America. Compiled by Grace Gardner Griffin. (Prepared under the Auspices of the American Historical Association.)

"The standard and invaluable bibliography prepared each year by Miss Grace Gardner Griffin. A volume listing more than three thousand titles of books, pamphlets, and articles, it is an indispensable manual for the worker in American history. Members of the association are reminded once more of the importance of giving it their support."—American Historical Review.

"The compilation has been carefully and intelligently prepared, and it is in every way creditable to its compiler."—New York Times.

LEGISLATIVE METHODS BEFORE 1825

THE HISTORY OF LEGISLATIVE METHODS IN THE PERIOD BEFORE 1825. By Ralph V. Harlow, ph.d., Instructor in History, Simmons College. (Yale Historical Publications, Miscellany, Vol. V.)

The aim of this volume is to trace the growth of legislative organizations during the late colonial and early medieval periods of our history, outlining the development of the standing committee, and of the party machine as far as it operated within and upon the legislature.

The unique value of the work lies in its exposition of influences upon legislation from factors unknown to assembly rules. It also preserves the unwritten aspects of early legislation in this country. The importance of party forces is illustrated and emphasized everywhere throughout the volume.

Hunt, Gaillard

DEPARTMENT OF STATE OF THE UNITED STATES

THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE OF THE UNITED STATES. Its History and Functions. By Gaillard Hunt, litt.d., ll.d.

"A careful study of the 'formation and development of the Department of State and what its chief duties are and have been.'"—American Library Association Booklist.

"Every detail necessary to an understanding of the machine of which the foreign service is a part seems to be included in this admirable work. . . . One may safely say that it is the final word on the subject covered. College and university teachers giving courses in diplomacy and national administration will find it a valuable aid; and the complete index renders it useful as a handbook of the State Department."—Karl F. NATHAN HALE

NATHAN HALE, 1776, BIOGRAPHY AND MEMORIALS. By Henry Phelps Johnston, Professor of History, College of the City of New York.

"The dominant note of intimacy which is found in so many of the letters to Hale runs through every page of Professor Johnston's book. There is a constant inspiration in its pages, and the recovery of these hidden memorials of the patriotic youth who faced the meanest of deaths without flinching, endows the volume with permanent interest."—Boston Transcript.

"The story is a simple one, but powerful and effective. . . . It is a scholarly piece of work, giving to the student of American history a valuable fund of source material, and to the lay-reader a most charming story, powerfully told."—Atlantic Educational Journal.

THE CHRONICLES OF AMERICA

In Preparation, Under the Editorial Direction of Allen Johnson, ph.d., Larned Professor of American History, Yale University

Mr. Roosevelt has said that "the great historian must be able to paint for us the life of the plain people, the ordinary men and women, of the time of which he writes."

The aim of "The Chronicles of America" is to present American History in such a way as to interest the average reader and exercise a more direct influence upon the thought and life of the ordinary citizen. The work will be issued in a series of fifty volumes of convenient size, so related and arranged that, when completed, they will form an organic history of the American people.

The editor has enlisted a body of skilful and competent writers whose narratives will fall under six large divisions: The Morning of America; The Winning of Independence; The Vision of the West; The Storm of Secession; The Noontide of America; Our Neighbors.

The series, of which several volumes are already completed in manuscript, will be attractively printed and bound, and furnished with maps and illustrations. Format and price will be announced later.

THEODORE THORNTON MUNGER, NEW ENGLAND MINISTER. By Benjamin Wisner Bacon, d.d., ll.d., Buckingham Professor of New Testament Criticism and Interpretation, Yale University.

"Has a special interest because it is the portraiture of a mind essentially poetic etched by a mind essentially analytical. The book might not inaptly be compared to a biography of Plato by Aristotle. The book is interesting as a biography, but it is more than that. It gives the new theology in a vital form as the inspiration of a noble life interpreted by a sympathetic but also a keen-minded historian."—The Outlook.

SOME MORAL PROBLEMS OF WAR

SOME MORAL PROBLEMS OF WAR. By Charles A. A. Bennett, PH.D., Assistant Professor of Philosophy, Yale University.

The moral problems which the war has made acute have been discussed so often that their presentation again in any ordinary form would require apology. Yet to the publishers and to those who heard the lectures from which the book developed, such an apology seems unnecessary in the present case.

Mr. Bennett has presented: The Effects of War on National Character, The Principle of Non-Resistance and Its Limits, Patriotism, The Dilemma of the Pacifist, and The Idea of International Government, with a new emphasis which sets them apart from earlier discussions, whether formal or informal.

VOICE FROM THE CROWD

A VOICE FROM THE CROWD. By George Wharton Pepper. (Lyman Beecher Lectures delivered at the Yale School of Religion.)

"Few utterances about the church or about the state of religion today are more sound or stimulating. . . . There are many laymen who will feel grateful for Mr. Pepper's clear and effective expression of the churchgoer's real desires and ideals.—North American Review.

"The work reveals a strong and highly cultured mind, clear and solid thinking, facility and charm of expression, and a winsome and brotherly spirit. The occasional direct or implied criticism of preachers is ever kindly, never trenchant, and invariably just." —Homiletic Review.

RELATIONS OF EDUCATION TO CITIZENSHIP

RELATIONS OF EDUCATION TO CITIZENSHIP. By Simeon E. Baldwin, Ex-Governor of Connecticut. (Dodge Lectures.)

"A thoughtful and well-balanced study of the duties and opportunities of the educated American."—The Athenæum.

"Just such rational sensible views as one would expect of Connecticut's able and patriotic governor are found in this ninth volume of Dodge Lectures delivered at Yale University. He touches no subject except to illuminate it. There are no dull pages. The lectures are so compact that they are impossible of review. There are no waste words. Every paragraph has a distinctive meaning."—Boston Transcript.

ECONOMIC ASPECTS OF THE WAR

ECONOMIC ASPECTS OF THE WAR; NEUTRAL RIGHTS, BELLIGERENT CLAIMS AND AMERICAN COMMERCE IN THE YEARS 1914-1915. BY EDWIN J. CLAPP, PH.D.

"The author is a master of the difficult subjects of commercial geography and commercial organization. He describes the flow of wares in trade with a concreteness of detail that fixes the attention, and yet he keeps always before the reader the broader aspects of the trade in its relations to the whole business structure. . . . He is qualified to do what has never yet been done, to describe the commercial relations of the United States with an intimate understanding of their significance in the economic life of the nation and of the outside world."—The Nation.

Farnam, Henry W.
ECONOMIC UTILIZATION OF HISTORY

By Henry W. Farnam, m.a., r.p.d., Professor of Economics, Yale University.

"The best thing that can be said of a book is that it is freshly written and stimulatingly conceived. The transatlantic breeze which blows through American books doesn't allow any gray academic ennui to get hold of the reading of this book; life burns too brightly in the walls of that study for metaphysical bias to find a foothold. Perhaps the little book, which is in fact composed of occasional addresses, will expand in a new edition. Its theme is capable of great expansion."—Stephen Bauer in Annals of Political Science and Jurisprudence.

UNDERCURRENTS IN AMERICAN POLITICS

UNDERCURRENTS IN AMERICAN POLITICS. By Arthur Twining Hadley, ph.d., ll.d., President of Yale University. (A Series of Lectures delivered at Oxford University, and the Barbour-Page Lectures delivered at the University of Virginia.)

"The treatment is characterized by broad, well-balanced judgment, and represents an order of political thinking and writing of which in the United States today there are too few examples."—Springfield Republican.

"It is always an experience to read Professor Hadley's books. What he says is said crisply and with a just sense of limitations. Professor Hadley has the gift of seeing things in the mass. The picture he draws is not blurred with irrelevant detail. As I read his books I experience the intellectual shock which comes with the sense of a discovery. . . . It begins where the majority of educated Americans will find a beginning desirable—at very elementary facts. For ignorance of Canadian affairs is general on this side of the border. Reading this book, Americans will learn much about the government of the Dominion to the north and of political ideas as embodied in institutions; for Justice Riddell is a student, and keeps a firm grasp on principles as well as structural details."—Springfield Republican.

Yale School of Law

Publications of the Yale School of Law

The School of Law of Yale University has announced its intention of publishing through the Yale University Press a series of works bearing upon the history and development of the Common Law under the general title of

PUBLICATIONS OF THE YALE SCHOOL OF LAW
EARLY ENGLISH LAW TEXTS

This series will be under the general editorship of Dr. George E. Woodbine, whose qualifications for the task have already been amply demonstrated in his scholarly editions of "Four Thirteenth Century Law Tracts," and "Bracton: De Legibus et Consuetudinibus Angliæ"—the former having been published by the Yale University Press in 1910 and the first volume of the Bracton having appeared in 1915.

The first volumes of the series now announced will be devoted to new editions of early legal treatises. Dr. Woodbine already has two volumes in preparation:

RANULF DE GLANVILLE. Tractatus de Legibus et Consuetudinibus Regni Angliæ.

RALPH DE HENGHAM. Summæ, Magna et Parva. (Together with several shorter tracts from the same period.)

A new edition of "Fleta" is contemplated, as well as Fortescue's "De Laudibus."

Through the medium of this series it is planned to meet the long-felt want of legal scholars and historians for more accurate and better-edited texts of most of the early treatises. It is also planned to render accessible by publication a part of the almost untouched stores of valuable and as yet unpublished material dealing with early English Law.

THEORIES OF SOLUTIONS

THEORIES OF SOLUTIONS. By Svante Arrhenius, ph.d., m.d., sc.d., Director of the Physico-Chemical Department of the Nobel Institute, Stockholm, Sweden. (Silliman Memorial Lectures.)

"The lectures included in this volume are not a repetition of facts already found in text-books on chemistry, but rather a review of recent work and a definition of our present position on various topics concerning theories of solutions, most particularly those topics which are at present in a state of rapid development. . . . To the busy chemist who desires to keep pace with recent advances made by the many workers in this field the book will be of great value. "All that is really known about Diet can be contained in a very small book, and one of the most encouraging signs of the times is that books on Diet are getting smaller. The man who probably knows as much about it as anybody in the United States is Dr. Graham Lusk. He has published a book of sixty-two pages—a most refreshing contrast to the Old Wives' Tales that are so numerous and so dull in long books on this subject. LIST OF NEWSPAPERS

A LIST OF NEWSPAPERS IN THE LIBRARY OF YALE UNIVERSITY. (YALE HISTORICAL PUBLICATIONS, MISCELLANY, VOL. II.)

"A manual ranking alongside the catalogues of newspapers published by the Library of Congress and the Wisconsin Historical Society."—American Historical Review.

"Students of history and other subjects who ever have occasion to refer to the files of newspapers in a great university library will recognize the value of such a book. . . . The cataloguing of a library's collection of newspapers is a real aid to students, and this work has been expertly done."—Springfield Republican.

EARLY PRINTED BOOKS

CATALOGUE OF THE WILLIAM LORING ANDREWS COLLECTIONS OF EARLY PRINTED BOOKS IN THE LIBRARY OF YALE UNIVERSITY.

"In a model preface Addison Van Name, Yale Librarian Emeritus, makes clear the value of this 'selection rather than collection' for illustrating the first century of printing. . . . Perhaps conjecturing that a catalogue will naturally be in constant comparison with the books it lists, the publishers have typed this catalogue in a manner to bear sixteenth century companionship without blushing."—Hartford Courant.

Angel of the Downs, The.

White enameled stiff paper cover, .40; by mail .45; very handsome cloth binding, .60; by mail .67.

The book is for children, and is dedicated "To All the Holy Guardian Angels, especially my own, forgotten often but forgetful never." This sweetly expresses that it is a story of Guardian Angels, but particularly of how one protected "Nelly and Marjory"—a true incident. The story is wholesome and interesting, and incidentally emphasizes the Church's teaching regarding protecting care of our Angel guardians. Either edition will make a very pretty gift book.

The Rider Press

As printers of the Trade List Annual, as well as the Publishers' Weekly, Library Journal, International Military Digest, Business Digest, and other bibliographical publications, we are experts in bibliographical composition.

Catalogs, with their finicky composition and extra-accurate proof-reading are an every-day matter with us; we have special equipment to handle them and can keep our charges moderate.

Last year we did work for nine well known book publishers. Why not let us estimate on your catalog or book circular matter?

On long runs of press work which is not immediate, but may be "fitted in" between our periodical publications, we are able to quote prices that will surprise you.
